The section was agreed to as amended.

The tenth to the eighteenth sections inclusive were separately read and agreed to.

The nineteenth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. CHERVENAK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 19, page 13, lines 14 and 15 by striking out all of said lines and inserting the following: "ing a superannuation retirement allowance or an involuntary retirement allowance or a total disability retirement allow-".

The amendment was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The twentieth and twenty-first sections were separately read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SHERVENAK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 4 of title, by striking out the word "and".

Amend title, page 1, last line of title, by inserting after the word "counties" the following: "and fixing penalties".

The amendments were agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 834, entitled:

An Act requiring persons selling "merchandise" as herein defined to place weighing and measuring devices in full view of the purchasers imposing certain duties on the Department of Internal Affairs and the several county and city inspectors of weights and measures and providing penalties.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. PAUL A. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 4, by inserting after the word measurement" the following: "at a fixed place of business".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Paul A. Brunner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PAUL A. BRUNNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of these amendments to explain their effect and their reason.

Mr. PAUL A. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Dauphin, I yield to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the amendments are being proposed to eliminate the possibility of the bill as it is now drawn being construed to apply to the sale of solid fuel. It could be so construed, I believe, and for that reason the words "at a fixed place of business" were inserted in the clause defining merchandising. The intention of the bill is to provide that merchants who have stores place their scales in such a position before weighing the merchandise that the customer may read the indicator. We do not want to include in this hucksters, and so forth.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I saw the gentleman talking to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, who has charge of the enforcement of this legislation, I believe. I am wondering whether he discussed this bill with him this morning, and if so, what his opinion of these amendments was.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, we did not discuss this bill at all.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, do you know the opinion of the Department on it?

Mr. READINGER. No, Mr. Speaker, I am not the sponsor of the bill and I don't know whether the sponsors have contacted the Department or not. I do know that various officials connected with weights and measures are interested in the bill and I believe it emanates because of difficulties they have had due to the lack of such legislation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. PAUL A. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 17, by inserting after the word "merchandise" the following: "at a fixed place of business".

The amendment was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1257, entitled:

An Act to add section three and one-tenth to the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 532, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand and forty-seven of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 519), entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" as amended limiting the number of days for the completion of borough audits.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1284, Printer's No. 541, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. HARKINS.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1156, as follows:

An Act to add section one thousand six hundred and seven and one-tenth to article sixteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" requiring teaching in the public and private schools of principles of democratic government and patriotism and imposing certain duties on the Superintendent of Public Instruction

Section 1 Article sixteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended by adding thereto after section one thousand six hundred and seven a new section to read as follows

Section 1607.1 Sub-section 1 The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall prepare and adopt before February 1 1942 for every grade in the public and private schools courses of study in patriotism and in the principles of democratic government

Sub-section 2 These courses of study shall include the development of the concept of the principles of democratic government the responsibilities of citizenship in a democracy love of country the historical background of the growth of freedom in America an appreciation of the nature and aims of democracy and an understanding of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States of America with special emphasis on the Bill of Rights

Sub-section 3 These courses of study shall immediately upon being adopted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction become a compulsory part of the curriculum of every grade of every public and private school in this Commonwealth

Sub-section 4 It shall be the duty of every principal and supervising principal of every public and private school in this Commonwealth to include in the curriculum of the school or schools under his or her administrative control the teaching of the courses of study to be adopted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction as required in subsections 1 and 2 of this Act

Sub-section 5 The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall submit to the next regular session of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a report setting forth all of the courses of study which he has prepared and adopted as required in sub-sections 1 and 2 of this Act

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1156 is a bill which proposes that the principles of democratic government shall be affirmatively and positively taught within the public and private schools in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

There are today in our school code references to the teaching of the Constitution and to the teaching of the Bill of Rights, but those references are vague and I don't know of any single standard of interpretation of those great documents that exists throughout the Commonwealth as taught in the various schools. This bill will place in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Instruction the responsibility for the development of suitable courses in each grade of the schools of our Commonwealth and in the high schools of the state. It was prepared in collaboration with the school district of the city of Philadelphia and is patterned after a course which is now being given in the schools of Philadelphia. In the schools of Philadelphia today, the school authorities are using a book which is called, "Our Schools and the American Way of Life," which is a handbook written, I understand, by various principals and school authorities throughout the city of Philadelphia, in order that the pupils of the city of Philadelphia shall better know the principles upon which our government is founded.

I would like to read a brief paragraph from the foreword to this book. It is as follows:

> "The goal of democracy is not merely to construct a system of truth, a form of government, a pattern of behavior. It aims at the living truth, a means of living together, a basis for realizing two magnificent purposes—the sanctity of human personality and the brotherhood of man. The efforts of our great people in this direction are inscribed heroically on the pages of our history. While today in public assemblies and other avenues of expression, in humanitarian tendencies in community life, in various occupational areas, in the inviolability of family life, in educational institutions, in places of worship, as well as in government, democracy is at work ever reaching out toward these two lofty ideals in the good life—self-respect and respect for others.
> "It remains for us to interpret the far-flung implications of this sublime faith and to utilize our human resources in devotion to this impelling cause. It remains for us, as we face ominous days, to scrutinize and strengthen our moral bulwarks to meet the threats of a totally diverse ideology. During this critical period in world affairs, fraught with forebodings of catastrophic proportions, it behooves us to re-study the profound inner meaning of democracy and to examine the extent to which our schools are contributing to the American way of life."

Mr. Speaker, I believe as a result of the passage of this bill a positive impetus in the study of the history of our nation and particularly the part which the State of Pennsylvania and its early settlers played in the development of that history, will be given throughout the schools of Pennsylvania. In addition the bill provides that the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall report to the Legislature the courses which he has promulgated to be taught in the schools. In other words, we will have at our fingers' tips in 1942 a report from the Superintendent of Public Instruction which will indicate the progress that these courses will have made at that time. I believe this is the proper approach to many of the things that are concerning us today. Those who in eradicating the fifth columnists will find if the pupils of the Commonwealth are instructed in a positive, direct and forceful manner, in the privileges and benefits which they enjoy under our flag and in our Commonwealth, those same pupils will have inculcated in them so deeply and firmly the principles of patriotism and of love of democracy that they will go forward and upward in that love of democracy and in that faith of freedom that they will not be easily subjected to the false principles that the fifth columnists have tried to spread.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I urge every member of the House to vote affirmatively on this bill.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, this bill has amused me and caused me to look at it more than once since its introduction in the House. This bill brings several facts to my mind concerning the teachings of Democratic ideals in the schools of Pennsylvania. After all when you get to the foundation and the fundamental principle underlying the establishment of the school system I think you will find the very thing you are now trying to legislate there. It has always seemed strange to me when we went to the trouble and expense of setting up a school system in Pennsylvania such as ours is, for the purpose of perpetuating American ideals, American form of government, that we must come in here and legislate that teachers must teach these fundamental things.

As a teacher in the public schools of this state I have always considered it a fundamental thing for which I should stand, that when I accept the certificate of a teacher under the laws of Pennsylvania, I automatically accept the absolute, definite obligation to teach the boys and girls of this state that this is the only country, this is the only place where boys and girls have an unlimited opportunity for personal advancement; that this country is the only place where the average man has the opportunity and the privilege of taking part in his government. If he does not like the things I do he has the opportunity of taking the privilege away from me, in the ballot. I cannot understand for the life of me why, if these things are necessary, that we should come in here and legislate that the teachers of Pennsylvania shall teach this thing. What in the world have they been teaching, I ask you? I understand that this may have come from Philadelphia and I understand that they need some such legislation perhaps against some of the teachers in Philadelphia. I say to you if any teacher in Pennsylvania has not been teaching the things this bill calls for, he has no right and has no place in the public schools of Pennsylvania. I say to you if he or she has the guts to stand up and say these things openly, then the people who send their children to that teacher ought to have the intestinal fortitude to say that that teacher no longer has a job.

These schools of ours were instituted for the purpose of perpetuating the type of government we enjoy. I have always wondered about this thing. The bill itself is fine in theory I suppose, but it looks to me as though it is a direct insult to the sincere teachers of the state of Pennsylvania, the teachers who take their obligations seriously. Over and above everything else we teach in these schools I have always felt that the teachers tried to leave with the children the thought, "Here I have a free school; I have all the opportunity; I have all the chance to become, even if you want to put it, President of the United States; I may become the president of a great corporation; I may become the leader of any group that it is within my power to do so." I sometimes wonder. You can legislate these things but can you force them? Even when you have legislated these teachers into the position that this bill puts them, will they continue to teach the things they have been teaching or will they right about face and teach the things set forth in the manual that you give them? I can take any manual that the State Department of Public Instruction gives me as a teacher in a school, and I can twist it and work it to suit my own thoughts and my own ideas. Why, gentlemen you cannot legislate this kind of thing! It has always seemed to me that deep down in the heart of every individual there is a keen desire and a keen appreciation of the things for which America stands, you cannot make an American citizen out of him by passing this bill. It is impossible. As a matter of fact some of those things have crept into the teacher's professions. You cannot make them teach Americanism, you cannot make them teach patriotism, you cannot make them teach the fundamental principles underlying this country, it is impossible. I just can't see the point of this bill.

Another thing we cannot legislate. We cannot say they must teach the things we want in Pennsylvania. We have a Constitution in Pennsylvania, we have a Constitution in the United States. We elect men to come down here and make laws. They are sincere, they are men who put forth effort to teach. They are outstanding men; they are the ones who have the destiny of our lives in their hands, yet I wonder if sometimes their actions live up to that. There is a question here for us to think about on our own side of this matter. Every individual who is a citizen of Pennsylvania or a citizen of the United States is daily a teacher of the democratic principles, democratic ideas we live under. Are we as individuals teachers of these principles? Are the fathers and the mothers of these boys and girls teaching them through their daily actions, their daily words, teaching these things? You can not bring children into a school four or five hours a day and then take them home to undemocratic parents and expect to bring up good American citizens. We have got to start this thing in a different manner. Let us start some place else and get this thought into the hearts and minds of the fathers and mothers.

I do not like to disagree particularly, and do not disagree with the fact behind this thing, that we should teach and must teach these things in our schools. There is no other place to do it and that is why schools were established. I do not see how under a bill of this kind you can succeed in getting the things done you are trying to do.

I am going to leave it to your judgment. I will not suggest to the members how to vote on this bill. I shall not ask the Members to vote one way or the other. You are free, white, and twenty-one and you can make up your own minds, but I cannot see, for the life of me, how you are going to accomplish this Americanization of Americans through this bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, apparently House Bill No. 1156, Printer's No. 571, is designed to accomplish a very, very fine and high purpose. However, I believe the bill defeats itself.

The purpose of the bill is to teach students in our public and private schools courses in patriotism, and the principles of democratic government. To me it is difficult to understand how we can teach patriotism. Patriotism is love of country and loyalty to that country, which grows out of belief in the way of living afforded by that country. It is very difficult for me to understand how that can be the subject of curricular activities. That is a question almost as sacred as religion. It is the thing to which we have become converted after we have had sufficient knowledge to distinguish between our way of life and the way of life in other parts of the world. You cannot sit down and study a course in patriotism. Those of us who oppose this bill might be misunderstood, because at this particular time we should all wave the flag, as was said on the floor of the House, and vote affirmatively for any bill which on its face seems to be a bill to preserve the democratic form of government. This bill will not do that. I asked the sponsor of this bill how it is possible to teach a love of country without contrasting the laws and the form of government of this country with that of other countries? It seems to me we immediately defeat the purpose of the bill by compelling the teaching of the democratic principles of this country because if we are to know what is good for us, we know it because we know that here we have a great form of government and in other places they do not have. What is happening there?

It seems to be the bill is badly worded. The bill does not place the emphasis where it should be, although I am heartily in favor of the principles of the bill. We all know that those who are well versed on the Constitution of Pennsylvania and in the Constitution of the United States who do not believe in those principles. It seems to me if you teach a person something and he becomes experienced in it that does not mean because that alone he is going to believe in it. What we are after here is to have our children—I believe that is the ultimate purpose of the bill—believe and know and grow in the strength of our Republican form of government. I say to you that cannot be done by the simple process of teaching it from text books. It is a question of growth it is a question of experience. It is a question that should be taken into our homes and into our churches and into every walk of life. As I said in the beginning it might be unpatriotic to oppose a bill of this kind, yet I do not believe it will accomplish the purpose the sponsor hoped it would accomplish.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to take issue with my friend, Mr. McMillen, when he says, what was the use of teaching these things in the schools if the children return to an undemocratic home? I am sure that my children daily return to an undemocratic home, but to the home of one who believes in the government of the United States and the Constitution and the principles upon which it is founded. I do not believe this is a question particularly of legislation. I believe there is a fundamental difference. I have the utmost respect for the gentleman from Allegheny, the distinguished chairman of the Judiciary General committee, for his belief that you cannot legislate people to be patriotic, nor can you legislate them to be good. The gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen, has said that the teachers in our schools are patriotic and that they are teaching the American form of government. We often legislate here on problems where we do not mean that all of the people or the majority of the people are bad. We have laws against murder, we have laws against larceny. It is only to prevent a group within the community who may be bad from committing crimes, that we legislate.

I do not think anyone who has listened to the great amount of publicity that has been given in recent months to this question of teaching in our public schools, and to the kind of textbooks that are used can but feel that there ought to be something done to emphasize the opinion of the government that this kind of teaching should not be permitted, and that we do not place our stamp of approval upon it.

I said a few minutes ago that I felt there was a fundamental difference between us. I agree with the gentleman from Allegheny that after all you must have love of country instilled in many ways. It must come not only from the knowledge you have of the things for which your country stands, but, you must not only have knowledge of our glorious history, you must not only have knowledge of our objectives, but you must in yourself form an intelligent respect for the kind of government you have. The difference between us is this: you are approaching this from the adult standpoint. I believe in the utmost freedom in teaching. I believe we ought to understand our form of government; I believe there comes a time in education when there ought to be study of all other forms of government, and we ought to be able to convince youth and the students in our institutions that the kind of government we have in America is the finest government in the world. It can not be perfect because it is human, and human things are never perfect. There is only one perfect thing in the world and we certainly are not that thing. On the other hand we can teach the children who are in a formative stage, we ought to be teaching them about the things that are good in our government and not stressing those things which are bad.

I took occasion recently to read a history written by an author of text books, whose books have been under very severe criticism throughout the country, and I noticed the emphasis he placed upon certain things. Those text books are being used in the lower grades, and in junior high schools, where it does not seem to me the student has the mentality, or the breadth of understanding to know at what they are driving. They must take the literal meaning from the language in the text books. I can conceive that the proper kind of teacher might lead that child's mind in the proper direction, but the trouble is that in recent months we have discovered in our high schools and in our educational institutions, as has been proven in New York, Philadelphia and elsewhere, that we have men and women whose minds are not attuned to our American form of government and to our American ideals, for the reason that they are in favor of some other kind of government, or some other system of government. So too while I do not like legislation of this kind, I am of the opinion, in the first place, that emphasis at this time is worth while even though the legislation may not be of the best. In the second place, we say to the teachers, to the school boards and to those in charge that we want a different kind of teaching in our schools; we want to be certain that the kind of teaching we are giving to the small children in the lower grades is the kind of teaching that will give them a concept of the American form of government. Let them get that instilled in their hearts and minds first, and then when they go into the upper grades, or if they want to go to college, and study other types and other forms of government, let them do that after they have had placed in their minds the proper concept of the American form of government, so that they will not be confused by the "isms" they are taught in regard to other forms of government, and taught in a cynical way, that points out all the defects in our economic system, that harps upon the small black spots by those who are too eager to point out the defects in our system of government. Our system is the best system in the world. It must be because it has raised the standard of living which is higher than the standard of living of any other people ever known. Once having gotten that in our minds let us build upon that. I think we need no greater concept than that of one of the greatest religious organizations in the world, which believes in taking the youth in their organization, in their church, among their people, and leading them in their early years in the ways of the teachings of that church and then build upon that their future lives.

We have seen examples of fraud in the reports and articles that are written on the conditions in Europe. Constantly they are showing us in the expression of the young men in the German Army, and the young men in German life, that they have since their youth had bred in them certain ideas concerning government that concurred with the ideas of the Nazi leaders, with the National Socialist form of government as they call it; they are so inbued with those ideas that they think the rest of us in the world are wrong; they cannot see that there is anything right except that which they are doing. I do not say that I believe in that form of government, but I say that that is a concrete illustration to us of what it means to take youth in its formative years and bring it up in a belief in our government in such a way that he has a firm foundation.

I can conceive if we do not believe that the American form of government is the best form of government, that we do not want our youth brought up and fed with that idea.

The people who are writing me against this bill, say that teachers who are teaching un-American principles cannot be fired by means of an amendment to the Tenure Act. The people who have written me are not in favor of and are opposed to the American form of government. Of course, I do not mean my colleagues when I refer to the people who are opposed to this bill, I mean the people on the outside who are not approaching this as a legislative problem, but are approaching it from the view point of those who do not believe in our American form of government and want to teach some other kind of government.

I want to say to you that I have come to the conclusion while I have stood here on the floor many times in the past and have opposed anything that would curtail the freedom of education and the freedom of speech, that if we are to defend this republic of ours, if we are to defend the form of government we have, if we are to place it higher upon the face of the earth and in this country, we must take stock in it, and take account of the fact that we are determined to see that the youth of America understand our government from the beginning, that they will have an appreciation of that government in their minds during their formative years, and that they do not have the cynical opinion of some writer who does not agree with us.

I think we have a right to define the form of government that was given to us by our forefathers in our formative years, and hand it down to posterity as it was given to us. We who are in charge of government and who are now in the adult years of our lives ought to be willing to sacrifice some other things; we should say to ourselves that while we do not entirely like this system in a world constituted such as ours, where we have enemies who are digging from underneath and trying to destroy the very foundation of this government, we ought to do the things this bill aims to do. Therefore if it does not entirely enforce yet the emphasis will be well worth while.

My only regret is that this bill does not go far enough, that the Educational Committee has not seen fit to report out the bill that amends the Teacher's Tenure Act because I think that bill is necessary. I think the parents of America ought to get down into the school districts and look into the books that are being used. You have heard about the controversy in Philadelphia where three prominent educators told the parents certain textbooks were all right, yet the American Legion, it seems to me, in its nation wide study have clearly proven that these books taken in toto are not the proper kind of books that our children ought to have in their formative years. Yes, you and I know how to read them; you and I know how to evaluate the statements made there. The emphasis is always placed on the dark side, on the defects in our American system and not on the side which would tend to build up that which has been wrong and which perhaps has been defective in our system of government.

Again I say I am in favor of this bill, and my only regret, is that the Educational Committee has not seen fit to put this into the tenure act. I have received postal cards which show on their face that they come from a group who are detrimental to the best principles and ideals of our government, and who are attempting to keep this legislation from being passed. A postal card, yet I can say from the very tenor of the postal card that the men who sent these cards, come from a group who are not in accord with our American system of government, and who are not in accord with the ideals of the government for which we stand. So at this time more than ever America must keep alive the flame of patriotism. America does not seem to have been aroused sufficiently to defend our Constitution and in a time like this it cannot hurt to put upon our statute books things that emphasize what we as true Americans, I hope in this House, are going to stand for.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I feel what I have to say now will be more or less superfulous following up the wonderful talk just given by my colleague, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, who in his own brilliant way has given us something really to think about. I only wish the remarks he has just made could be printed and distributed to every school house, every household and to every Parent-Teacher's Association not only in this state but in every home and Parent-Teacher's Association and every school board throughout the nation.

Early in this session there was introduced in this House a bill known as House Bill 206, which asked for a committee to investigate the subversive activities, teachings and teachers in public schools in our State endowed colleges and universities. Mr. Jones and myself felt that there was really and actually a great need for such an investigation. That bill was drawn after Coudert resolution which was passed in New York State and which has done such wonderful work in that state and in the city of New York, and which has conclusively proven that investigation was needed there. I think that if bill had ever been reported out of committee, which I do not believe it will—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Monroe will state his point of order.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is speaking on a resolution not before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine himself to the merits of the bill before the House. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, the bill before the House takes in the educational field and what I am saying is directed to the educational field. If the gentleman from Monroe would have left me alone for two more minutes I believe he would have realized that I was speaking on this bill which is before the House now for final vote

I am very much in favor of this bill, but I feel, as Mr. Turner feels, it does not go far enough. Yet I definitely believe it is a step in the right direction, that it will act as a direct counter irritant or anectode to what we know has been taught in our public schools in Pennsylvania. In view of these conditions, in view of the fact that these children are in the formative stage from the time they first enter the school until they graduate, and in view of the fact that I believe this bill will very greatly tend to the teachings that will be inaugurated under this bill, that when the boy or girl reaches a voting age, they will feel it to be a solemn, moral and legal duty to go to the polls and vote. If that were the case today, I feel confident we would not be in the position we are in today, and I ask the Members of the House to vote for this bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the indulgence of the House to rise and speak on one point that might have been confusing in my remarks.

I do not want the gentleman from Delaware to feel that I objected to the teaching of the Constitution or the Bill of Rights in our public school curricula. I am absolutely in accord with that. The only part of the bill that I object to is the teaching of patriotism. I objected to that notwithstanding the very eloquent remarks of the gentleman from Delaware. I do feel before we can teach patriotism to our children, we ought to be patriotic ourselves, we ought to know what type of patriotism is going to be taught. I have very vividly in mind a very large patriotic organization in Pennsylvania, as a matter of fact, they claim to go back further than any other organization in the state, and this organization thought it was their patriotic duty to protest against the appointment of a negro school director in the city of Philadelphia, Dr. Turner. They thought they were patriotic in that stand; they thought that was the stand they should take, and they did take it and they did protest. Therefore, it is pretty hard for me to understand what this word "patriotism" is going to embrace.

I recall very vividly about a national organization of people who hold themselves out to be patriotic beyond whom there would be none other, who protested to allowing Marian Anderson to give a recital in the city of Washington. They say they were patriotic, but it seems to me that that word is so indefinite and so obsolutely devoid of any definition that it should not be put into a bill because some of these people who protested against Marian Anderson and Dr. Turner becoming a member of the Board of Education in Philadelphia, may want to go into our schools and teach that type of patriotism. That is the thing I oppose. It is very definite as to what they are going to teach, and I say we ought to strike the word "patriotism" out of this act. I say for the benefit of the Members of the House, the thing that gets me somewhat confused is how are we going to teach patriotism when we can not define it and when we ourselves do not practice it? I could go on and cite many instances.

Concerning the very fine remarks of the gentleman from Delaware I could say, "Very fine, very good." Right here and now in these particularly crucial times, we are denied certain rights, certain fundamental rights, fundamental principles. We are denied work in places where we could help materially in our defense program. We can not serve in the armed forces of our state. Would you say that is patriotic? Would you say that is an example of patriotism that will embrace the things that ought to be embraced in it? You may see that these people who call themselves patriotic are going to enforce their point of view on our children, and yet feel that they are patriotic so far as the teaching in schools is concerned, so far as the teaching of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights is concerned.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I shall not delay the House very long I promise you, but to one who has taught school in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for ten years it is rather interesting to hear the legislators define the erminology. Patriotism, as has been said, is the ruling passion of a man's life. I would like to see any Legislature in the land who could develop a ruling passion in a man's life. I came down here from the school halls of the Commonwealth, and if I should go back today to those high school boys and girls whom I taught, I would porbably go down on my knees and apologize to them for the things I had taught to them. We have an old saying back in our little Dutch community which goes like this. "First cast the mote from thine own eye." If my school children would come down here and see the political bosses lining up men and marching them in groups to vote enmasse on bills, they would lose the symbol and picture of representative government that I taught.

I am heartily in accord with the principles of this bill but I feel as the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, feels that we cannot legislate love of country into a person's mind, soul and body. I will vote in favor of the bill because the harmful effects are negligible but at this particular time when men of great emotions are running around, and sometimes reason is trampled under foot, we should approach this thing with a calm and reasonable attitude.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I happen to have been a teacher for seventeen years, teaching the problems of democracy, and I believe that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown and the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare, are right in regard to patriotism. I think this bill should be amended. The word "patriotism" should be taken out on the first page and from section 1607.1, and the course of study in patriotism taken out. Then the bill will be all right because it simply does this, it permits the school boards, the Superintendent of Public Instruction to have a course of teaching the contents and background of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, which are part of the Constitution, and that can be done in the first six or eight grades, and it should be done there. Someone objected to teaching what other governments are isms stand for in America today as well as in Europe. That can be done and done well in the high school or in the secondary schools without any danger, provided the teacher is what he should be. So the first few grades can be taught under this bill the American form of government. The other grades can be taught the American form of government contrasted to other forms and no harm is done provided the teacher is the type of an American he should be. The bill is not wrong, the bill is a good one but I still think that the word "patriotism" should be deleted from it, because you cannot teach patriotism, you can only teach the underlying principles which may lead to patriotism.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to have with us this afternoon a former member of the House, the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Charles B. Coakley.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, yesterday this House passed House Bill 124, Printer's No. 526. Is that bill still in the possession of the House.

The SPEAKER. It is on the desk and still in the possession of the House.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 124

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 124, Printer's No. 507, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and the act approved the twenty-eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 417), entitled "'An act relating to milk and the products thereof; creating a Milk Control Commission; establishing its jurisdiction, powers and duties; regulating the production, transportation, manufacturing, processing, storage, distribution, delivery and sale of milk and certain products thereof; providing for the licensing of milk dealers and the payment of fees therefor; requiring milk dealers to file bonds to secure payment for milk to producers and certain milk dealers; authorizing the holding of hearings and the issuance of subpoenas by the commission; conferring jurisdiction upon courts to punish contempts and to prohibit violations of this act and of rules, regulations and orders of the commission; authorizing the commission to adopt rules, regulations and orders, and to enter into interstate and Federal compacts; requiring persons who weigh, measure, sample or test milk to procure permits or certificates, to take examinations, to pay fees therefor, to furnish certain notices, records and statements, and to use certain methods of weighing, measuring, sampling and testing; authorizing the commission to examine the business, papers and premises of milk dealers and procedures, requiring the keeping of records and the filing of reports by milk dealers, and permitting, with limitations, the use of information obtained thereby; authorizing the commission to fix prices for milk and certain milk products subject to the approval of the Governor, and conferring certain powers upon the Governor with respect thereto; providing for appeals to the courts from decisions of the commission, and for the burden of proof upon such appeals; prescribing penalties, fines and imprisonment for violations of this act and rules, regulations and orders of the commission; defining perjury; defining remedies; repealing legislation supplied and superseded by this act, and saving rights, duties and proceeding thereunder; and making appropriations," by adding the term "handler" as a synonym for the term "milk dealer"; defining the terms "handle" and "handler"; extending the provisions of the act to those who handle milk by bailment, brokerage, consignment or purchase and by giving certain additional rights to producers' and farmers' unions or organizations producing milk setting-up a price fixing procedure restricting powers of the Governor and providing for the payment of funds in the hands of the commission owing to producers and handlers passed finally on May 12, 1941, be reconsidered.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Monroe Mr. Achterman vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I am a very modest fellow. I have demonstrated that, and my colleague over here, Bill Habbyshaw, has demonstrated that he is modest by the number of times he has spoken on the floor of the House in the last nine years, and I hope that the House will bear with me just a moment as a very modest fellow if I attempt to blow the horn of Bill Habbyshaw and myself for just a minute.

It sometimes takes a pretty long time to demonstrate that you are right. About six years ago or a little more, Bill Habbyshaw and I introduced a bill to change the date when the license fees would expire on motor licenses. It took about six years before the Legislature and the Governor agreed we were right about that. Then a little later we introduced a party raiding bill, a pretty good bill, which was voted down in the House and it took about four years for the Legislature to find out we were right about that by finally putting it on the statute books. Then we had an amendment to the Uniform Firearms Act and it took about two years for the Legislature to finally agree we were right about that and to place it upon the statute books. So we just feel a little bit cocky today in that the Legislature is beginning to wake up and finding out within twenty-four hours that we are right about some things. I tried to tell some of these fellows around here that the milk bill was not so good. Bill Habbyshaw is the one who kept advising me on it. He was telling me, "That bill is not so hot, you had better watch it pretty carefully." There were only two Members who yelled out "No," and that was Bill Habbyshaw and myself. So we just like to "toot" a little bit and take a little credit for being right and that the House discovered we were right so soon.

I want to complement the House too for "wiseing" up more quickly; first it was six years, then four years, then two years, and now they are beginning to find out that we are right within twenty-four hours. As a matter of fact, today we did a little better than that, because some amendments came over here to my colleague, Bill Habbyshaw, and me and he immediately caught something on it. He went to the sponsor of the amendment and said, "We don't want that in here," and in two minutes it was stricken out. It was agreed there was an error that ought to be corrected. All the credit for that goes to my good friend and colleague, Bill Habbyshaw. You will just excuse us for "tooting" our own horn about this bill and for taking a little credit for being on the right side of the fence, as well as being the only Members on the right side of the fence.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am curious to learn what portion of House Bill 124 the gentleman objected to because he voted "no."

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Habbyshaw tells me there are a lot of things wrong with the bill. I could point them all out as I have a copy of the amendments.

You will find the joker in the amendment. The amendment is to page 12, section 304. If the gentleman would go down into my hotel room he will find there a folded calendar which I had yesterday and he will find on the back of it written at the bottom several notations and one of those is "bottom of page 12." He will find those notations in relation to the milk bill.

If he will take his amendments which I have before me, he will find what is wrong with that amendment. Page 12—wait until I find it, I will tell you—

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, shall I read it to the gentleman?

Mr. WOODSIDE. No, Mr. Speaker, I will find it. The gentleman strikes out all of lines 16 to 29 inclusive on page 12. I think that is a good idea, but the real joker in that is not so much in the whole business as it is down at the end where it subjects him to penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any acts or transactions or matter or thing, and so forth. The gentleman could probably strike out only those words, but he is going to play safe and strike out the whole thing. I am not going to object to that but that is the real joker in it.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the gentleman from Dauphin for his cooperation. It is certainly too bad that this House has not had the benefit of the mature, careful consideration of the two gentlemen from Dauphin up until this moment.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary injury.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Monroe will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, will the chair advise whether the bill has passed third reading?

The SPEAKER. The bill has passed third reading. A motion to re-consider is necessary.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I am wondering whether the gentleman would not consider it advisable to put the bill on the postponed calendar and go over it carefully before he submits his amendments to the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe Permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE, Mr. Speaker, I am only making a suggestion that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar instead of immediately being considered.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I can answer the gentleman's question more intelligently if I be permitted to ask him a question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman from Dauphin to say that perhaps he and Mr. Habbyshaw have some other very substantial points that they desire to submit?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I am advised by my very able colleague, Mr. Habbyshaw, there are some very important amendments that might be suggested to the bill, which would be very helpful and that he has them in mind.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I thank the gentleman Mr. Speaker.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. WEISS asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1284, Printer's No. 541, on page 11 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1284, entitled:

An Act requiring owners and lessees of real property in counties of the third class whenever making any improvements thereon or additions thereto costing more than five hundred dollars ($500) to file a report of such improvements or additions with the county board for the assessment and revision of taxes and providing penalties

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Weiss, vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Westmoreland Mr. Maxwell vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 1, first line of title by inserting after the word "Requiring" the word: "certain"

Amend sec. 1, page 1, line 4 by inserting after the word "estate" the following: "subject to taxation under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania".

Amend sec. 2, page 2, lines 28 and 29 by striking out the words "less than nor".

Amend sec. 2, page 2, line 29 by inserting after the word "than" the words and figures: "one hundred dollars ($100)".

Amend sec. 2, page 3, lines 1 and 2 by striking out the words "less than or".

Amend sec. 2, page 3, line 2, by inserting after the word "than" the words and figures: "thirty (30) days".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. HERING and EDWIN A. LEE,

HOUSE BILL No. 1588

An Act to amend and reenact section five hundred and twenty-four of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended, by limiting to eleven and three-quarter mills the total annual school tax for any one year in school districts of the first class; and prescribing the method of fixing the levy of school taxes in such districts.

Referred to the Committee on Cities-First Class.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. BRETH,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 891, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by requiring the Department of Revenue to establish a system for the permanent registration of hunters revising the provisions of said act relating to the issuance of licenses and eliminating the power of justices of the peace magistrates and notaries public to receive applications therefore

Section 1 Sections three hundred and two and three hundred and three of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1454, Printer's No. 516, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

There being no objection House Bill No. 1455, Printer's No. 515, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILL ON THIRD READIN

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1413, as follows:

An Act requiring the Department of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania after the use of any highway as a detour has been discontinued to restore promptly such highway to substantially the same condition as it was prior to its use as a detour

Section 1 Whenever as a result of construction or repairs along or to any State highway it has proved necessary or advisable to designate any other highway as a detour and to divert traffic over such other highway it shall be the duty of the Department of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania promptly after the use of such highway as a detour shall have been discontinued to restore it to substantially the same condition as it was prior to its use as a detour

Section 2 In order to carry out the provisions of this act the Department of Highways is hereby authorized to expend any of the moneys appropriated to it from time to time for highway purposes

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1188, Printer's No. 511, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 986, as follows:

An Act to amend section two thousand one of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" by fixing the minimum compensation for patrolmen in such cities

Section 1 Section two thousand one of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2001 Appointment Number Rank Compensation and Qualifications of Policemen The council shall fix by ordinance the number rank and compensation of the members of the city police force who shall be appointed in accordance with the civil service provisions of this act No policeman shall after his appointment and qualification hold at the same time the office of constable Council shall prescribe all necessary rules and regulations for the organization and government of the police force The compensation of patrolmen shall in no case be less than the following amounts

Fourteen hundred dollars ($1,400) per annum for the first year of service and an additional annual increment of ninety-five dollars ($95) for each year of service after the first year not however exceeding seven such annual increments All patrolmen employed in any city shall from the time this act becomes effective be entitled to compensation in accordance with this act including the increment credits accrued for service prior to the effective date of this act Provided That compensation of a patrolman shall not after the effective date of this act be reduced below the amount he is receiving at the time this act becomes effective for the reason that he has not sufficient annual increment credits to entitle him according to the preceding provisions of this act to the compensation he is then receiving or be reduced for any other reason whatsoever

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-two.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Tarr.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Fayette permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TARR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Fayette explain the salaries provided in this bill for policemen?

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have a copy of the bill there?

Mr. DIX. I think I have.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Wayne, the salary range is very clearly set forth in the bill. The bill starts the policemen in third class cities at an annual salary of $1400, and has seven increments of $95 each.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, are the increments retroactive?

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will read lines 16 and 17 of the bill, he will find, "After the first year, not however exceeding seven such annual increments. All the patrolmen employed in any city shall from the time this act becomes effective be entitled to compensation in accordance with this act including the increment credits accrued for service prior to the effective date of this act."

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, then I understand that the bill includes increments for years prior to the passage of this bill?

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, it does for seven years.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I understand the gentleman from Fayette is an educator, a school teacher.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I have been called that, sir.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire what salary the gentleman gets at the present time, if I am not a little bit personal?

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, that is rather personal but I will say that I make, when I am teaching school, more than the policemen get when they get all their increments. May I state that I work for a good Democratic school board.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire what the gentleman's starting salary was?

Mr. TARR. My starting salary was not in the state of Pennsylvania but my salary was $175 per month.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Fayette think that a policeman is worth more to aid safety and to regulate traffic than one who teaches our children the American way of life, and how to use his faculties for the best interests of himself and his family?

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Wayne, I would say that I cannot compare the teacher and the policemen in the matter of salary. I might answer the gentleman by asking him this question, "Do you think a technician in some of our industries who receive five six or seven thousand dollars a year are worth more than the teacher or the policeman?" I believe both the policeman and the school teacher have a definite part to play in our society, and I say further I think that they both should be adequately paid.

MR. WOODSIDE IN THE CHAIR

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, is not the gentleman from Fayette the sponsor of this bill?

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I am the sponsor of this bill.

Mr. DIX. Did not the gentleman from Fayette support a bill which provided for teachers' starting salary to be one thousand dollars a few days ago?

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I supported a bill and I also supported a bill to start the teachers. If you will look back in your history, you will notice that I have there a bill starting the teachers in the fourth class districts at fourteen hundred dollars and having four one hundred dollar increments. That bill is in print under my name but I have not been able as yet to get it moved from any committee.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman from Fayette add an amendment to this bill which was passed a few days ago, starting teachers at one thousand dollars? Did the gentleman offer any amendment to that bill?

Mr. TARR. I did not, Mr. Speaker.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, the interrogation is not on the bill before the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the question before the House.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I am comparing the salaries of policemen with the salaries of teachers and I think that is perfectly proper. Mr. Tarr comes in here with a bill starting the policemen's salary at fourteen hundred dollars a year with increments bringing their final salary up to two thousand dollars, but when the teacher's bill came up here providing for a starting salary of one thousand dollars with two increments of fifty dollars each, or a total of eleven hundred dollars, the gentleman from Fayette did not offer an amendment to that bill.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Fayette will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that every time a bill is sponsored by me or has any part of my name on it, certain Members of the House seem to rise to their feet to express the poison that seems to be in their system concerning me. Now, I am not a bad fellow and if you do not believe me, ask my mother. It seems to me that every time anything comes up. I am asked all sorts of questions as to when I started to teach school, how long ago, which was fifteen years ago, and how much money I make. I, therefore, ask the Chair to request the gentleman to confine his remarks to the bill now before us.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I am not as squeamish as that—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Tarr, is not required to answer any questions which relate to his personal conduct. He has the right to refuse to answer any questions that are put to him. The gentleman romf Wayne will confine his remarke to the bill before the House.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I am not so squeamish and I would be very glad to answer any questions the gentleman wishes to ask me.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne Mr. Dix.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wayne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DIX. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Wayne the same question I asked a couple of weeks ago. First, does the gentleman represent any third class city?

Mr. DIX. No, I do not. But I think I represent the taxpayers of Pennsylvania to a certain extent as a state Representative.

Mr. TARR. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker. Does the gentleman from Wayne have any taxpayers in his county who will be affected by the passage of this bill?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, we are likely to have that very soon, we are approaching a city stature and that is the only reason why I am opposing this bill. Just as soon as this bill is passed they will be asking the same thing for boroughs.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know the amount of money that is returned to third class cities by the Commonwealth for law enforcement each year?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I must say I am not familiar with the amount returned to the cities for law enforcement.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know whether or not the state of Pennsylvania pays any part of the law enforcement bill to third clas cities?

Mr. DIX. I understand the state does Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Wayne tell me any way that they do contribute the money directly to law enforcement in third class cities?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to answer that question to the best of my ability. I imagine that the cities get some refunds from traffic violations and things of that sort.

Mr. TARR. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I have here before me letters from half of the third class cities of Pennsylvania. I do not intend to read the contents of these letters but I would like to read a few brief extracts and then ask permission to file certain portions of these letters of record.

Mr. Speaker, I sent a questionnaire to every mayor of all third class cities of Pennsylvania and I received a reply to ninety percent of those questionnaires and there is not one of those questionnaires except possibly one, where the mayor and the council are in favor of raising the salaries of third class city policemen. All these councilmen and mayors are elected by the people and there is no reason why these duly elected officers should not be the ones to set the salaries. This bill is definitely an anti-home rule bill and I for one am going to speak every time a bill of this kind comes up. I think it is an imposition upon the taxpayers for the legislature to set the salaries of policemen of third class cities when they have officials elected for that purpose. I would therefore like to just read a few extracts from these letters and then turn the letters over for the record if I may do so.

Here is a letter from city number one, which says:

> "There are seventy-three patrolmen who are each receiving $1,800 salary a year and seven patrolmen each receiving $650 per year making the total to be extended for patrolmen for the year $142,950. Under the system as proposed by the new act the total to be extended for the year for patrolmen would be $184,100, or an increase of $41,150".
> "Should this bill be passed I believe we would be obliged to increase our tax rate one mill and this would most certainly be a burden to the taxpayer to pay this additional tax".

For your information I will read a letter from City No. 2 which is as follows:

> "For your information, if the salaries of the Police Officers are increased as contemplated by the Act of the Legislature, the Police Payroll will be increased approximately $30,000."
> "We do not believe it would be fair for the Legislators to set the salaries for men for whom they are not responsible. There is nobody in a better position to judge the salaries than the public officials who are responsible for the affairs of the City."

Here is an excerpt from a letter received from City No 3:

"I am very much opposed to the legislature fixing a minimum salary for police and firemen as was proposed at a former session. It seems to me that that denies the city the right to control its financial affairs and would unquestionably work a serious hardship."

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I have just looked at a map I have here in my desk and I cannot find City No. 1, City No. 2 or City No. 3.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, these letters are confidential.

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). The gentleman from Wayne is talking about cities 1, 2 and 3.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, these letters are confidential and a newspaperman never violates a confidence.

Mr. Speaker, may I read for the benefit of the House the following from a letter received from City No. 4:

"Please let me say that I am unalterably opposed to to the proposed bill whereby the salaries of policemen would be set by the legislature."

I will quote an excerpt from a letter received from City No. 6 which is as follows:

"I wish to first congratulate you and the other members of the House that opposed this police bill two years, and I feel you showed a keen sense of business ability in so doing.

"I feel that the State has no right to take from the local communities the right of setting the salaries of our policemen. Each community knows best what they can afford to pay.

"We as officials of our city have tried to run it on a business like basis, one in which industry would be glad to locate in Pennsylvania in, so please do not spoil this by taking away any more local rights."

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I just noticed the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, skipping over one or two cities. The gentleman first mentioned cities 1, 2 and 3 and then he jumped over City No. 5 and took up City No. 6. I think this House is entitled to know where these letters are coming from. I think it is foolish for us to sit here and listen to Cities 1, 2 and 3 and then jump over 5 and then come to City No. 6. I think the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix has been in the House long enough to know better.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I could read all these letters but I know that nobody wants to hear everything that is in the letters. If the gentleman insists I will read them all.

Mr. MIHM. Mr. Speaker, I want to hear about City No. 7.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I will read from a letter received from City No. 7 as follows.

"I do not believe it to be the best interest of the taxpayers and citizens to abolish the local rights of setting up salaries and to have that done by the legislature.

"I believe very much in home rule and that the city should be allowed to make its own budget and I would very much favor our city patrolmen having the above increases as suggested."

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne, Mr Dix.

The SPEAKER (pro tempore) Will the gentleman from Wayne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. Dix. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAKER. Will the gentleman from Wayne tell this House where City No. 7 is, east, west, north, or south?

Mr. DIX. I will tell the gentleman where it is, it is in the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, the state of Pennsylvania covers a lot of territory. Will the gentleman tell us what the name of the city is?

Mr. DIX. No I will not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAKER. Will the gentleman tell us what county it is in?

Mr. DIX. No, I will not Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAKER. Will the gentleman tell us the name of the Mayor of that city?

Mr. DIX. No, I will not, Mr. Speaker, because this is confidential.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, does not know where these cities exist, I move that they be expunged from the record, those cities exist only on paper.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I do know where they exist, they exist in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). If the gentleman desires to make that motion, he may make it after the vote is taken on the bill.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, if I had not been delayed by the opposition, by the tactics of the gentleman on the other side, I would have been through with this long ago.

The following is an excerpt from City No. 11:

"I am opposed to interference with the present local right of setting salaries of all municipal employes as the legislation intended for all third class cities cannot comprehend the problems of this city. We are not only unable to increase the present salaries but we are also unable to increase the police force, although such increase is really necessary because of traffic conditions."

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix.

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). Will the gentleman from Wayne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DIX. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, due to the fact that I have five third class cities in my county it has always been my principle to vote intelligently on these bills, and not having any communication from them, I would like to have the gentleman read the data from his letters from the cities of Monessen, Jeannette, Greensburg, Arnold and New Kensington in Westmoreland County. I believe that courtesy should be shown to the members so that they can vote intelligently. If the gentleman will show letters such as he has been reading, from the cities I have named, then I will be in favor of opposing this bill, and not until then.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, that is exactly what I am going to do. I have here a survey of practically every third class city in Pennsylvania and the data relating to them and I will be glad to answer anyone's question from this data.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Wayne tell me the status of the letters from the city of New Kensington in Westmoreland County.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I will give the gentleman the status of the questionnaire from what I have listed here. I cannot give the gentleman these letters because they are confidential.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Wayne have the data of the city of New Kensington?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will bear with me just a moment, I will get down to the data which I have collected. The gentlemen on the other side have taken up far more time than I have and I would like to continue with my statement with reading excerpts from these third class cities.

Mr. Speaker, I will now read for the benefit of the members a portion of a letter received from City No. 13 which is as follows:

"Our City Council have gone on record opposing the bill for the reason that it will mean an increase of the cost of maintaining our police department the first year of $12,500, and our city is not in a financial condition to stand an increase of that kind.

"I would say that the police are well paid considering everything. They have one day a week off, with pay, ten days sick leave with pay, and in addition fourteen days vacation with pay, and we pay our patrolmen $140 a month.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Westmoreland will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, being from a third class city, the great city of Monessen, I object to that city being labeled, as one, two, three, four, five or six. I would like the gentleman to enumerate the names of these cities that he has on those letters.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER, pro tempore. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER, pro tempore. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, these interruptions are getting on my nerves.

The SPEAKER, pro tempore. The gentleman from Wayne will keep his nerves.

Mr DIX. Mr. Speaker, if I have any more interruptions, I am going to say something that perhaps I should not say.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Wayne has stated that the interruptions are getting on his nerves. He also stated——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is speaking and addressing the House during the time the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix has the floor.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix has the floor and will proceed.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I want to repeat again that there are certain gentlemen on the other side—

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like the consent of the gentleman from Delaware to make a motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. What is the nature of the motion?

Mr ACHTERMAN. I desire to recommit to the committee on Health and Welfare the frayed nerves of the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The motion should be delayed until it covers all of the gentleman's remarks.

Mr. DIX. I thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to interrogate the majority floor-leader, the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, how are the conditions of the nerves of the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, at the present time?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Will the gentleman from Wayne please repeat his question?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, what is the condition of the gentleman's nerves at the present time?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am still managing to bear up even with the impressive comments on the other side.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman can bear up with the comments, I think I can bear up with the more impressive comments from the other side.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Wayne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DIX. I shall be delighted, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAKER. Can the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Speaker, tell this House whether or not this is one of those bills that we saw so well portrayed the other night, "Somebody stole my bill"?

Mr. DIX. Well, Mr. Speaker, I certainly did not steal this one. I would not acknowledge ownership of it.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker will the gentleman tell this House how much they pay policemen in Honesdale, where I spent some months ago the sum of twenty or thirty dollars?

Mr. DIX. Mr Speaker, they pay them a pretty good salary, more than they pay the teachers, I am sorry to say.

Mr BAKER Mr Speaker that is another one of those answers, one, two, three and four. How much do they pay the police in Honesdale?

Mr. DIX. Mr Speaker we have various scales of wages —they run all the way from $1,000 to $1,200 or $1,400.

Mr BAKER. Mr. Speaker, since the nerves of the gentleman in this debate have been shattered, along with the nerves of Mr. Achterman. I refer both of the gentlemen to the doctor back here Doctor Sarraf.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker I will add one more letter.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will read the last letter.

Mr. DIX. Mr Speaker, this is from City No. 14, which reads as follows

"Our city has a police force of about 100 men and it pays our patrolmen the same amount; $1,890 each per annum."

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. READINGER. Mr Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry

The SPEAKER pro tempore The gentleman from Berks will state his question of parliamentary inquiry .

Mr. READINGER. Are we Mr. Speaker in the midst of an anonymous filibuster?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair believes so. The gentleman will proceed with the final letter.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I will continue with reading the excerpts from the letter from City No. 14:

> "We have figured that this would increase the pay of our police force $42,660 or more than half a mill additional levy on our property taxes."
> "Conditions are such in our city that this would be a very great burden on our taxpayers who are demanding a reduction rather than an increase."

Mr. Speaker, I would have been through with my entire talk in regard to this police bill if it had not been for so many interruptions from the other side, but at the present time I would like to introduce here a copy of a tax bill, a tax advertisement that was put in the papers this morning. This is from a Harrisburg newspaper. I find here that there are around three hundred tax sales advertised in the city of Harrisburg. Some of the taxes only run a few cents and up to as high as $500. I contend that any city, and there are many of the third class cities that are in worse shape than Harrisburg, I contend that any city that has hundreds of tax sales for delinquent taxes is in no shape to pay the policemen additional sums of money at the present time.

I have here now, Mr. Speaker, a survey of all of the third class cities in the state of Pennsylvania and if there is any gentleman who would like to get some information in regard to any particular city I will be glad to answer his question.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to remind the Members of the House that the No. 1 City in the State of Pennsylvania is the city of Uniontown.

In all seriousness we have had quite a bit of fun this afternoon but we have a question before us which we must decide. I think if the figures are properly presented and if the towns are called by name, as I am going to call them, we will find that it is not so much a question of taxes for police purposes as it is for other purposes.

Let me illustrate with the city of Uniontown which employs only twenty-two policemen? The city of Uniontown according to the figures I have from the Liquor Control Board received last year $18,840 for law enforcement. The city of Uniontown took in on its various fines during the past year or $14,000. The city of Uniontown also received from the parking meters, and this will apply to parking meters in all third class cities in the state of Pennsylvania, they received an average of one dollar per person in the city. In other words, the city of Uniontown received, exclusive of the real estate taxes, a sum which was $20,000 in excess of the amount required to run its police department. Let me explain that further by saying that in the city of Uniontown the policemen receive $140 a month after they have worked one year, then salaries stay at $140. This is after having worked the first year when they receive $120 a month.

I am sincere in saying that the problem of the policeman is a very serious problem. He is one of those persons who must be taken care of, not by the local politicians, not by the local councilmen or mayors who are elected by some political group, but they are the men who we call when we are in trouble. As long as we pay our policemen the sum of $120 or $130 a month, just so long we will have fat gangsters and number writers riding the streets and eating in the best of restaurants, and just so long are we going to have this problem of helping our policemen out, and we will have the battle of juvenile delinquency. The policeman must put up a good front. He has to buy his own uniform, he must even buy the bullets that are sometimes taken from him and pumped into his own body. We quibble here and have a lot of fun about the police department, yet we are not paying the policemen enough. My bill only starts the policemen at a salary of $1,400 a year. That is, of course, subject to the retirement tax. Again let me point out the dangers that are attendant upon being a policeman in any third class city. I know there are very few men in this House who would have the intestinal fortitude to walk up to a parked car on a dark street and open the door of that car to see who was in there, knowing that any time someone might pull a gun on him. We have the opposition of some members who purport to represent certain leagues of cities of first, second and third class, but I say, gentlemen, in all fairness the policemen who protect our homes, my wife and my children and my parents, should give them a decent living wage by voting for this bill at this time.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, the only persons that tried to make a joke out of this bill are the members of the majority party. I would just like to summarize so long as no one has asked me that question as to my own city. I hope that the Members of the House will not interrupt me again. I might say that the number of third class cities is forty-six, I have statistics here from thirty-eight of these cities. The councils and mayors of the cities who are in favor of increasing the salaries are to the extent of one; those who are opposed to the legislature setting the salaries are thirty-three; those who do not send any data are four. In 1940 the population of all these cities ran into a tremendous figure, up into the millions. The largest city is the city of Erie with 116,243 population, and the smallest city is the city of Titusville with a population of 8055. I am just wondering if the Members of this House who are thinking of voting for this bill know that there is only one policeman in every thousand population. In other words, you are voting to take money away from one thousand people and to hand it over to one person. That is all there is to it.

There is a waiting list of from two hundred and seventy-four to none in these cities. A high school education is required in only two cities. No high school education is required in 36 of the 38 The policemen are satisfied with their salaries in 35 of the cities; only two cities are dissatisfied with the salaries paid to their policemen. Uniforms are furnished by nine cities and by contributions by six—

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Wayne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DIX. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman for this bill or against it?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to question the intelligence of the gentleman from Fayette. The gentleman from Fayette certainly knows that I am against the bill.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think by holding this House here for another couple of hours it will make any difference in the result?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I do not know that it will make any difference, but I would have been through some time ago if I had not had these constant interruptions on the part of the gentlemen of the majority party.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, the cities that have a retirement system are 31. The maximum salary, and I want each Member of the House to note this, as there is absolutely no need for this bill, because the policemen are already getting practically what this bill calls for, there are only two cities that I can find which have a salary of twelve hundred dollars. I say that under those circumstances there is no need for this bill at all. The number of cities who have salaries of fifteen hundred dollars run from Lock Haven up to New Kensington, which has a salary of $2,220. As to minimum salaries, there are two cities, one is York, which has a salary of $1,200, and that is practically the only city in the state that has a $1,200 starting salary. The tax rate in the cities runs from 6 mills to 22 mills

MR. MATTHEW J. WELSH IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baker, who moves the previous question. All those in favor of the motion for the previous question will please arise.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I appeal from the ruling of the Chair. I still have the floor.

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). The Chair regrets to say he does not see enough seconders. The gentleman from Wayne has the floor. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. DIX. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You are more courteous as a Speaker than you are as a Member of the House.

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). Will the gentleman please repeat the remark.

Mr. DIX. I said, Thank you, you are more courteous as a Speaker of the House than you are as a Member of the House.

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). The presiding officer at this time thanks the gentleman for the kind remarks, and suggests that he confine his remarks. Most of us have not had our lunch.

Mr. DIX. Neither have I, Mr. Speaker. I just have a few more words to say.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix.

The SPEAKER (pro tempore). Will the gentleman from Wayne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DIX. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Wayne has been mentioning City No. 1, No. 2, No. 3, No. 4, No. 5 and so on, and in his last remark he referred to the City of York. In behalf of myself and my colleagues who come from the City of York, since the City of York was mentioned specificially, I would like to know what correspondence the gentleman has from the City of York. I think that is a fair question as long as the gentleman has mentioned particularly the City of York as one that stood out by itself.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, as I said before, when I wrote and sent out these questionnaires I told each Mayor that the information conveyed was absolutely confidential and it will be confidential.

THE SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside and the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Welsh, for presiding.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, did not the gentleman violate that confidence when he singled out the city of York a minute ago and said something about the city of York? He mentioned cities by numbers, City No. 1, No. 2, 3 and 4 but he mentioned specifically the city of York.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I would be very glad if the gentleman wants to take up the time to take the questionnaire and read it. I was giving my information from the questionaire and not from the letters.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, we are going to be asked to vote on this question and since the city of York has been specifically mentioned by the gentleman from Wayne. I would like to know what information the gentleman has when he mentioned the city of York. I think that is a fair question, if the information supplied by the gentleman is to be used as a basis to decide this vote.

Mr. DIX. That is a perfectly fair question and I will give him the information I have. The population is 56,666, the number of officers without the chief is given as 52; the waiting list is 50; high school education is not required; satisfied with their salary, the majority of them; uniforms, I understand are not furnished. I think that is the way to answer that. Retirement system, yes, they have their retirement system. Maximum salary is $2,000 and the minimum salary is $1,200 and the tax rate is .0105.

Mr. MOUL: Since the gentleman from Wayne has given out that much information we are entitled to know what was the recommendation of the gentleman who wrote the letter. The gentleman has given us the major portion of the information and we are entitled to know what the recommendation was, are they for or against the increase in salary?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I see no necessity for giving out the entire contents of these letters.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Wayne has given out at least some portion of them and therefore we are entitled to know whether or not they were given as being in favor or as being against the increase in salaries.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, a member of the House having stated a fact which he had received in a confidential communication, is he compelled to disclose the fact of that confidential communication?

The SPEAKER. In answer to the question of parliamentary inquiry he is not compelled to do so.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, then it seems to me it is highly unfair to continue this interrogation. Mr Dix has stated that he has communications which he considers confidential. There can be no purpose in disclosing what is in these confidential communications. He has given the facts. It seems to me in consideration of the Members of the House, this sort of tactics should be discontinued, and Mr. Dix should be allowed to close as quickly as possible.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, is it permissible for a member to use anonymous information in an effort to swing votes in this House, to convince us that we should vote for or against the bill? We are being quoted a lot of anonymous information. If we have no names and the gentleman refuses to give them, except No. 1, No 2, No 3, No. 4, No. 5 and so on, if that is to be a part of the record to convince us, is the gentleman permitted to use anonymous information in order to influence our minds as representatives?

The SPEAKER. Each individual Member will determine for himself whether he will permit such information to influence his vote.

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DIX. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, whether he has received any communication from the city of Chester, Pennsylvania, concerning this bill?

Mr. DIX. I have, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I understood Mr. Dix to say that there is one City in the state of Pennsylvania that approved an increase in wages to the policemen of that city. Was that city the City of Chester, Pennsylvania.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, that would be violating a confidence again. I think the gentlemen on the other side are more imbused with curiosity than they are with justice

The SPEAKER Will the gentleman please confine his remarks to the bill. The Chair has given him plenty of latitude.

Mr. DIX. I will do that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have that information, if the gentleman from Wayne will give it to us.

Mr. TARR. Mr. Speaker, the information which is being given out by the gentleman from Wayne is taken from a questionnaire about satisfaction with wages, and so forth, and does not deal directly with the bill before us. The bill before us is, whether or not we shall vote to set a minimum wage for policemen and set a salary schedule. The only thing in that is whether the policemen are satisfied, which is a statement by the Mayor; also whether they buy uniforms or not. I do not think it has any bearing on the bill, and I think the gentleman is out of order.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, this is a tax measure as well as a salary grab and the taxpayer will have to foot the bill, and I submit that anything that is pertinent to the salaries of policemen is certainly pertinent to this bill

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, within the period of the last six weeks the mayor and council of our city have definitely made a statement to the Police Association of the city of Chester that they do favor an increase in wages and it would be provided for in the next budget which is to be set up at the beginning of next year.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is speaking on the measure and not interrogating.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman asked permission to have the floor and the Speaker granted it—

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, if you will just give me two minutes—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wayne yield? The gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix had the floor. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Rush, asked permission to interrogate the gentleman and then addressed the House. Therefore, the point of order of the gentleman from Delaware is not well taken.

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I thought that the gentleman from Wayne was through and I asked permission to make a statement and was granted permission.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Wayne has the floor.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, if those Members of the House on the other side—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order. The gentleman will have to confine himself to the bill before the House.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question. tion.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Marks, Wright, McDermott, Rausch, Leonard, Finestone, Hering, Hersch, Malloy, Melchiorre, Reynolds, Polaski, Cochran, O'Mullen, Bentzel, Stine, Moul, Gryskewicz, Gallagher, Komorofski, and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. RANK filed the following reason for his vote:

My reason for voting against House Bill 986, is that I object to the delegation from Allegheny and Philadelphia Counties telling the Cities of the 3rd Class what they shall pay their police officers. Its our city officials problems and not one of the Legislature. Home rule should apply here.

Mr. WOODRING filed the following reason for his vote:

On Tuesday, April 22, 1941, this House voted upon House Bill 571, Printer's No. 264. At that time I caused reasons to be filed explaining my thoughts concerning the type of legislation now proposed by House Bill 986, Printer's No. 512. Those reasons which appear in the Legislative Journal, page 1597, are equally applicable to the instant Bill. I therefore am compelled to vote in the negative on House Bill 986. I do so with the greatest reluctance, with the utmost sympathy for the policemen's cause, and with the sincere hope that local consideration will be afforded them; or, that a proper Bill, whereby the increases to salaries would be provided by State funds, will be speedily introduced and enacted.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 139, Printer's No. 514, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1094, entitled:

An Act to protect the public health and safety by requiring registration with and the securing of permits from the State Board of Pharmacy by persons, copartnerships, associations and corporations engaged in the manufacture, producing and dealing in drugs and medical supplies, regulating the manufacture of drugs and medical supplies, prescribing permit, providing for inspections and the suspension and revocation of permits, conferring powers on the State Board of Pharmacy, and courts and providing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 3, page 4, line 5, by inserting after the word "supplies" the following: "or such other person."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1265, as follows:

An Act to amend section sixty-five of the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 594) entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways authorizing their construction maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities persons associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act" by changing a certain route

Section 1 The following route established by section sixty-five of the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 594) entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways authorizing their construction maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities persons associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 65 The township roads to be taken over under the provisions of this act in the County of Westmoreland are those situate and described as follows.

* * * * *

Route 64060 Beginning at a county improved road in Waterford and extending in a southerly direction to Willow Grove School thence in a southwesterly direction to the village of Laughlintown on Route 119 [and from Route 119 in a general westerly direction to intersect with Route 64062 thence] thence along and coincident with Route 119 in a general westerly direction to the Hanover Farm School thence intersecting with and coincident with Route 64062 in a general southwesterly direction to a road intersection near Speedwell School thence in a southwesterly direction to the village of Rector thence westerly to and across Route 302 thence in a general northwesterly direction by way of Fairview School to intersection with Route 64075 thence in a general northerly direction down Four Mile Run to the west side of Loyalhanna Creek and thence down said creek to Route 119 at McCane in Westmoreland County a distance of about [13.7] 12.5 miles

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

HOUSE BILL NO. 692 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 692, together with the message from the Senate, which was laid on the table May 8, 1941, be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

The message was read by the Clerk as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 692.

An Act to amend clauses (k) and (l) and to add clause (n) to section two thousand four hundred two of the act, approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof, and the administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers thereof; including the board of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges, abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions, defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers, providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," authorizing the leasing of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation to the United States.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives, is requested:

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments:

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 1, by striking out after the word "amend" the words "clauses (k) and (l) and to add clause (n) to section two thousand four hundred two of"; also on page 2, by inserting after the word "determined" in the third from the last line of the title, the following: "as amended by making further provisions for the granting of easements or rights-of-way upon across over under or along lands and waters of the Commonwealth making further provision for the granting of commissions to certain air pilots authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical Commission to charge certain admission fees conferring power upon the Department of Property and Supplies to control and supervise certain buildings devised to the Commonwealth authorizing the micro filming of records in the various administrative departments boards or commissions and"; also in the next to the last line, by inserting after the word "Reservation" the words "and certain other real estate of the Commonwealth."

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out after the figure "1" the words "Clause (k) of section two thousand four hundred two" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Section five hundred fourteen"; also on page 3, line 8, by striking out after the word "as" the words "added by the act approved the twenty-first" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"last amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred forty-one) and the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred ninety-one) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 514. Sale of Real Estate and Grants of Rights of Way or Other Rights Over or in Real Estate Tapping Water Lines of Institutions and Sanatoria (a) Except as otherwise in this act expressly provided a department board or commission shall not sell or exchange any real estate belonging to the Comonwealth or grant any easement right of way or other interest over or in such real estate without specific authority from the General Assembly so [to do but a department board or commission may with the approval of the Governor grant a license to any public service corporation to place upon in or over any dry or submerged land or bridge of or maintained by the Commonwealth any public service line if such line will enable any State building or State institution to receive better service or if such line is necessary for the service of [persons living adjacent to the Commonwealth's land upon in or over which it is proposed to run the line] the public and it is necessary or reasonably required to cross the Commonwealth's land to afford such service or if the running of such line over a bridge will be more economical than the erection of a separate bridge for the line. Every such license shall be revocable for reasonable cause upon six months' written notice by the Commonwealth and [upon] also after like notice for violation of such [other] proper terms and conditions as the department board or commission with the approval of the Governor shall prescribe when the license issues [and unless] Unless any such line is primarily for the benefit of a State building or State institution the license shall provide for the payment to the Commonwealth of compensation for the use of its property in such amount as the department board or commission granting it shall with the approval of the Governor prescribe

But nothing herein contained shall authorize the Commonwealth to impose and collect from any municipality or township any compensation for a license granted to such municipality or township for the running of a public service line over any such bridge

This section shall be deemed the exclusive system for the granting of licenses consents and permits to place public service lines upon in or over any dry or submerged lands of the Commonwealth In the case of submerged lands such licenses shall be granted only by the Water and Power Resources Board and the permit shall prescribe such terms and conditions as shall be deemed necessary by the board to protect the interests of the public In the case of dry lands licenses shall be issued by the department board or commission having the management of such lands

Vol. 25. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 1941. No. 53,

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 14, 1941.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS offered the following prayer:

For Thy protection during the hours of rest and sleep for the replenishing of our physical strength, we are truly grateful, our Heavenly Father, and we pray Thy continued providential care over us throughout the day.

As Thy children seeking their Father's will it is expedient and necessary that we be found in prayer and that our thoughts be turned Heavenward for these brief moment. May our prayer never cease to ascend unto Thee just as Thy blessings never cease to descend upon us.

We have a goodly heritage and our lines have fallen in pleasant places. Accept both our profound gratitude and thanksgiving as well as our humble petitions for Divine Guidance this day. For Thy name's sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HOMSHER and Mr. GELTZ, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SCARLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from the committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING CERTAIN PERSONNEL INFORMATION OF THE SECRETARY OF HEALTH

Mr. SCARLETT, from the Committee on County Government, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. WADE and TAYLOR on May 5, 1941, reported the same without amendment as follows:

In the Senate, May 5, 1941.

Whereas, The administration of various social security laws within the Commonwealth in which the Federal government assumes a portion of the cost, has resulted in the practice of having the names of employes appear on both State and Federal payrolls; and

Whereas, Employes who heretofore received a good wage from the Commonwealth for their entire employable time have now had their compensation materially increased, and render no additional service for such increase; and

Whereas, The receipt of payment for services from two employers results in a divided allegiance and is contrary to the age-old biblical admonition to the effect that "man cannot serve two masters"; and

Whereas, This Senate should have full knowledge of the extent to which such practice has developed so that a study can be made of the actual appropriations necessary for administrative purposes; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is hereby instructed to request the Secretary of the Department of Health to forthwith furnish to the Senate the following information:

1. Total number of employes in the Department of Health.

2. Total number of employes in the Department of Health who receive compensation only from the Commonwealth.

3. Total number of employes in the Department of Health who receive compensation only from the Federal Government together with their names and addresses, the date of their appointment and the amount of salary received by each.

4. Total number of employes in the Department of Health who receive compensation from the Commonwealth and from the Federal Government together with their names and addresses, the date of their appointment, the date of the commencement of dual payments of compensation and the amount received from each the Commonwealth and the Federal Government.

Resolution will lay over one day.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I ask permission to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the gentleman from Somerset will proceed.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, inquiry has been made by some of the members of the Senate as to whether or not the Senate would sit four days next week. We feel our Thursday sessions should now begin and I believe the Senators should arrange to stay here Thursday of next week.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALKER. Senate Resolution No. 20, which was cosponsored by the gentlemen from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro and Senator Jaspan, was introduced in the Senate February 4, 1941, and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary General. As the history of the Senate shows, there was a sub-committee appointed and that subcommittee of the Committee on Judiciary General has made report to the committee as a whole and I am instructed at this time to read to the Senate the report of the sub-committee on that resolution, which is as follows:

"TO THE JUDICIARY GENERAL COMMITTEE OF THE SENATE OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

"The sub-committee appointed to study and consider the Jaspan-DiSilvestro Resolution reports as follows:

"That it has met at various times and has carefully considered the resolution, and has heard the sponsors of it.

The sub-committee finds:

1. "That the sponsors of the resolution in appearing before your sub-committee brought out that they were unable, under the terms of the resolution, to force the appearance of witnesses on their behalf by subpoena or otherwise.

2. "That no persons, other than the sponsors of the resolution, did appear before the sub-committee.

3. "That the matter heard by the committee indicated fault-finding by the sponsors of the resolution against boxing in general.

4. "That no testimony or other matter was produced before your sub-committee to substantiate the charges contained in the resolution.

"Wherefore, the sub-committee respectfully recommends that the Committee on Judiciary General indefinitely postpone the said Resolution."

I might state, Mr. President, this sub-committee report is signed by all the members of the sub-committee and was unanimously approved by the Judiciary General Committee. This report is made to advise the members of the Senate that Senate Resolution No. 20 has been indefinitely postponed.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, when Senator DiSilvestro and I introduced Senate Resolution Serial No. 20, we did so because, upon information we deemed reliable and from observation, we were firmly convinced that the boxing and wrestling sports in Pennsylvania needed thorough investigation and their regulation required substantial revision.

In the interest of these sports and of the millions of citizens who derive enjoyment and benefit from them, we brought into the open on the floor of this Chamber certain charges, which we hoped would be the spearhead of an intensive and thorough investigation into the entire situation.

At that time, as the members of this Chamber will recall, the Louis-Dorazio bout had not been held. We made certain charges in connection with that prospective fiasco. The results spoke for themselves.

Other charges were set forth in the resolution. All of them emanated from sources we considered reliable or observations we deemed accurate. Nothing has occurred to alter our opinions then expressed.

However, subsequent events have convinced us that this matter cannot be adequately handled by mere resolution. For example, it is now apparent that the power of subpoena over witnesses would be essential to the conduct of such an investigation. In addition, nothing could be accomplished without a substantial appropriation which of course would require concurrence of the House of Representatives. Promoters, fighters, gamblers, and others throughout the country would be involved. Individuals residing thousands of miles from the city would have to be interviewed. A haphazard or casual investigation would probably do more harm than good.

We recognize that there are now before this body questions of transcending importance to the people of Pennsylvania—indeed, to the entire nation. They demand our diligent and individual attention. We fear that in the light of the urgency of these questions, and in view of the fact that we are already in the month of May, time is too short to undertake the intensive and thorough-going investigation which the importance of the subjects covered by Resolution No. 20 warrants.

Under these circumstances we do not desire to stand in the way of our colleagues in connection with the pending executive nominations of members of the Boxing Commission, and accordingly we release them to vote as they may see fit in this connection.

However, we serve notice upon all parties connected with the boxing and wrestling sports—whether as promoters, as participants in regulatory capacity, or in any other role—that we shall keep careful and ceaseless watch upon the conduct of these sports. If, as we hope, the searchlight of publicity which this resolution has focused upon the conduct of these sports in Pennsylvania serves to inspire those in control to put their own houses in order, no one will be more pleased than we.

We seek no victim. We are after no one's scalp. We are impelled solely by an overwhelming desire that the sports be conducted upon a lofty basis and be regulated in a manner which serves the interest, not of any small group, and certainly not of any of the sinister elements which like leeches attach themselves to these sports but rather in the interests of all of the people of Pennsylvania.

Accordingly, we now announce formally that when this body next convenes and at the very outset of the session—be it Regular or Special—we intend to rise and summarize the events which have transpired in connection with these sports between this time and that. If substantial steps have been taken to improve the situation and real progress has been made, we shall be the first to commend those responsible. However, if the reverse is true, the investigation which shortness of time now prevents will proceed vigorously and fearlessly. In that circumstance, we shall ask the House to concur with us in providing for a joint Legislative investigation in which the investigators will be granted the widest latitudes, including the power of subpoena, and will have at their command an adequate appropriation to support an intensive and courageous investigation.

If, in the meantime, some flagrant violation is committed, we shall immediately seek a Grand Jury investigation or request the Attorney-General's office to take the initiative in tracking down the sinister elements that are ruining the good name of boxing and wrestling.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 38 SUSPENDED

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. JAMES and Mr. GELTZ

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported at to-day's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. JAMES and Mr. GELTZ

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Letzler,	Stevenson,
Bartlett,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Stiefel,
Becker,	Edmonds,	McCreesh,	Tallman,

Dent,	Kephart,	Snowden,	Woodward,

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. JAMES, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, also reported with a favorable recommendation the following nominations, made by His Excellency, the Governor, of the Commonwealth:

APPOINTMENT AS MEMBERS OF THE STATE ATHLETIC COMMISSION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 24, 1941.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following persons for reappointment as members of the State Athletic Commission, for terms of two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified:

PHILADELPHIA COUNTY

Leon L. Rains, Rittenhouse Plaza, Philadelphia.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY

Harvey J. Boyle, 3 Wynoka Street, Pittsburgh.

LYCOMING COUNTY

George J. Jones, Williamsport.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

On the question,

Will the Senate advise and consent to the nominations?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President and members of the Senate, you will recall, several months ago I happened to be a guest of my good friends, Senators Jaspan and DiSilvestro, and attended a so-called fight staged by the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission, held between Joe Louis and Gus Dorazio. I went down to that fight in good faith and thought I might enjoy the evening, and you all recall when I returned I gave you my version of that fight, I gave you my honest opinion as to how I felt. There was no malice in my heart towards the boxing commission, the promoters or even the boxers. However, unfortunately, I noticed by the press the following day that Commissioner Rains, one of the men whom we are called upon to confirm, took it upon himself to make a blast; he stated I had made those remarks upon the floor of this Senate because I failed to obtain free tickets for the fight. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I never asked for a free ticket to any fight in my life. True enough, I did not pay for this ticket; my friend Senator Jaspan, paid for the ticket in my presence.

The gentleman further quoted that my mind was made up when I went down to Philadelphia, that I had my mind made up to one of three ways—imagine that—first, if Louis knocked out Dorazio in the first round, I was going to say it was a set-up; second, if the fight went four or five rounds I was going to say Louis was carrying Dorazio; and, third, if it went ten rounds or more I was going to say Louis was slipping. Now, Mr. President, imagine those words coming from a Boxing Commissioner of this Commonwealth.

However, Mr. President, it is not my intention to prolong the confirmation of these men. I only wish to approve and show that we in the Senate are real sportsmen and I am going to vote for Leon Rains because I think he should be pitied more than censured.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I know little or nothing about the trouble in Philadelphia in connection with that episode but I know in Western Pennsylvania in Harvey Boyle, of the opposite political party, we have a very fine Boxing Commissioner.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr President, I intend to vote in favor of the confirmation of Leon Rains because I believe in giving a man another chance. I feel we have shaken the fans to a point where they will watch them and I know the members of the Senate and House of Pennsylvania will keep a pretty good eye on the Athletic Commission. The man is sixty-seven years of age and I do not think we should withhold confirmation because of what has happened. I say let us give him another chance. I am going to vote in favor of the confirmation of Leon Rains as a member of the Boxing Commission.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate advise and consent to the nominations to the State Boxing Commission?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Letzler,	Stevenson,
Bartlett,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Stiefel,
Becker,	Edmonds,	McCreesh,	Tallman,

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

NOMINATIONS RECALLED BY THE GOVERNOR

Mr. JAMES. On behalf of the Committee of Executive Nominations, I am instructed to return the following nominations by the Governor, with the recommendations that the Senate advise and consent to returning the nominations to the Governor as requested.

Mr. EALY. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The motion was agreed to.

Dickey, New Castle, as a member of the Board of Trustees of Slippery Rock State Teachers College, Judge Dickey now being deceased.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

Will the Senate advise and consent to returning the nominations to the Governor?

It was agreed to.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. COX. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am very happy and very proud at this time to welcome to the Senate Chamber, Professor Dana Peterson and the social study class of the Mt. Lebanon High School. These young men and these young women are tremendously interested in the government of their great country and they have come over two hundred miles to have a visual exhibition of how government works. During the day they have had an audience with the Governor and they have been introduced in the House. Mr. President, I congratulate them on their American spirit.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY SENATE TO HOUSE BILL No. 481

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has non-concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 481, entitled:

An Act to amend section eighteen of the act approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 589), entitled "Milk Sanitation Law" requiring local ordinances in certain cases to conform to this act and the regulations made thereunder.

MOTION THAT THE SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS TO THE FOREGOING BILL

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insist upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KEPHART from the Committee on Public Utilities reported as committed Senate Bill No. 789, entitled:

An Act to amend section eleven of the act approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 160), entitled "An act creating a commission to be known as the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission; defining in part the powers and duties of such commission; abolishing The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, terminating the terms of the members thereof, and transferring to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the records employes, property, and equipment of The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; authorizing the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to appear in and complete all pending proceedings, legal or otherwise, instituted before, by or against The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; providing that all certificates of public convenience, contracts, orders, and rules and regulations of the latter commission shall remain effective until repealed, changed or modified by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, and transferring and appropriating to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission any unexpended balance of any existing appropriation to The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," by expressly providing for administration of the Public Utility Law of June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1053), by the Public Utility Commission; and directing said commission to certify certain questions of fact as to the purity of water to the Department of Health.

He also, from the Committee on Public Utilities reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 787, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1053), entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities; defining as public utilities certain corporations, companies, associations, and persons; providing for the regulation of public utilities, including, to a limited extent, municipalities engaging in public utility business, by prescribing, defining, and limiting their duties, powers, and liabilities, and regulating the exercise, surrender or abandonment of their powers, privileges, and franchises; defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle; conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons, associations, companies, and corporations, including, to a limited extent, municipal corporations subject to this act, and administering the provisions of this act; authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates; placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters; authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates; providing for the supervision of financial and contractural relations between public utilities and affiliated interests, and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued, assumed, or kept by persons, associations, companies, corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act; conferring upon the commission power to vary, reform, or revise certain contracts; conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction, alternation, relocation, protection, or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities, and of such facilities by or over public highways, to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings, and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages; authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages; providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings; conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities; imposing upon persons, associations, companies, and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation, the cost of administering this act; prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action; giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission, and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties; and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act," by further defining the terms "common carrier by motor vehicle" and "contract carrier by motor vehicle"; giving the commission additional authority over the alteration, relocation or abolition of crossings; further regulating the right to render scervice as a contract carrier by motor vehicle; prohibiting the imposition of costs upon the commission in appeals to the Superior Court; subjecting persons and corporations to certain civil penalties for violating the act; prohibiting motor carriers, common carriers, by airplane and any operator or employe of such carriers, and brokers from exceeding the authority of the certificate of public convenience granted such carriers and brokers; and changing the penalty with respect thereto; and eliminating the requirement that certain attempts to evade or defeat regulation for carriers or brokers must be fraudulent in order to be punishable.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON., from the Committee on Public Utilities, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 788, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act, approved the eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1647), entitled "An act relating to the registration of motor vehicles, and the licensing of certain operators thereofffi and providing for the suspension of the registration of any motor vehicle, or of the operator's license of any operator of a motor vehicle, by the Secretary of Revenue, for violation of the provisions of the public service company law; authorizing the rescission of such suspension; and providing for the disposition of fees," by extending the provisions thereof to contract carriers by motor vehicle.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELTZ, from the Committee on Public Utilities, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 782, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsections (a), (b) and (c), of section one thousand two hundred and one of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1053), entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities; defining as public utilities certain corporations, companies, associations, and persons; providing for the regulation of public utilities, including, to a limited extent, municipalities engaging in public utility business, by prescribing, defining, and limiting their duties, powers, and liabilities, and regulating the exercise, surrender or abandonment of their powers, privileges, and franchises; defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle; conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons, associations, companies, and corporations including, to a limited extent, municipal corporations subject to this act, and administering the provisions of this act; authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates; placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters; authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates; providing for the supervision of financial and contractual relations between public utilities and affiliated interests, and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued, assumed, or kept by persons, associations, companies, corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act; conferring upon the commission power to vary, reform, or revise certain contracts; conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction, alteration, relocation, protection, or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities, and of such facilities by or over public highways, to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings; and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages; authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages; providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings; conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities; imposing upon persons, associations, companies, and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation, the cost of administering this act; prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action; giving the court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission, and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties; and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act," further providing for assessment of regulatory expenses upon public utilities.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 402, (House Bill No. 376), entitled:

An Act to amend section eight hundred sixty-five of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," by prohibiting the sale exposing for sale and offering for sale of certain lubricants in a manner to deceive the purchaser and the disguising and camouflaging of equipment used for marketing liquid fuels, lubricating oils and similar products.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 86, as follows:

An Act requiring the court in imposing sentence to include in such sentence the costs of keeping the person in the institution to which he is sentenced for the term as fixed by the court providing such person is or shall become during such term financially able to pay for the same

Section 1 The court in imposing sentence upon any person to serve time in any penal institution within this Commonwealth shall provide in such sentence that the person shall or shall not defray the costs in whole or in part to the county or Commonwealth liable for the costs of the operation of the penal institution to which such person is sentenced The court in making its determination as to the imposiion of the costs of maintaining the person in the institution shall inquire as to the financial status of each person to be sentenced and if upon inquiry it appears that the person is financially able to pay for the costs incurred in keeping him in the institution during the term for which he is sentenced it shall impose the costs in whole or in part upon such person as part of the sentence

Section 2 The court in any case in which it did not impose the cost of keeping such person in the penal institution to which he was sentenced shall impose such costs when it has been brought to the attention of the court that such person is able to pay in whole or in part and the sentence shall be so changed accordingly

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 141, entitled:

An Act providing that a juvenile court adjudication against a juvenile shall not bar his appointment to a position with the Commonwealth or its political subdivisions.

And said bill having been read at length the third time

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, with the consent of the sponsor, in order that this bill may be in proper form and so that the Senate will not be at least guilty of passing legislation which is of no effect, I ask unanimous consent to present an amendment which is merely a strike-out amendment; it merely strikes out the word "murder"; under the laws of Pennsylvania a provision so that murder is not under the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court. Therefore, Mr. President, I am asking permission to introduce this strike out amendment, which will allow the bill to be voted on now.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows: Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 5, by striking out after the word "treason" the following: "murder".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

Mr. President, can we not vote on the bill now? It is only a strike-out amendment.

The PRESIDENT. It must be printed again.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. The Chair is, of course, a much better authority than I am, but it has been my understanding, Mr. President, that in offering a strike out amendment we comply with the provisions of the Constitution, because the bill is still on the desks of the members of the Senate.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it has been the practice in the past to permit an immediate vote on bills of this character, but in my opinion that is bad precedent and unless there is some very urgent reason for voting on the bill at this time, it would be better to allow the bill to go over until Monday.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I yield to the wishes and the suggestion of both the President of this Senate and the President Pro Tempore, but I do not recind from my position it is perfectly good practice. In a strike out amendment the constitutional provision is complied with, the members having copies of the bill on their desks. The amendment merely strikes out the word "murder" and it is my opinion we comply with the provisions of the Constitution. However, Mr. President, I am glad to have the bill go over.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has no interest in the bill; his function is to preside here and enforce the rules which were adopted at the beginning of this Session. Rule No. 17 precludes immediate consideration; at the same time the Chair is of the opinion that by obtaining unanimous consent a vote could be taken at this time.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I think the Chair is right and probably the better practice would be to put the bill over.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 316 on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (b) of section five of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance, providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from, the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board," by providing that the judge of the court of common pleas, the president of the board of county commissioners, and the coroner shall constitute the county board of assistance in certain cases.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. It there objection?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, this bill has been put over at least three or four times now and it has been in committee and as I understand it this bill is presented to correct a situation in the district of the genleman from Northumberland, Dr. Deitrick. May I ask the gentleman from Allegheny the reason this bill is constantly being put over in its order.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, this bill is being put over in its order because we want it put over, and that is with the consent of the gentleman from Northumberland.

Mr. MUNDY. Then it is all right with me, Mr. President

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have been waiting to find out why this bill has been put over in its order and now I understand it has been put over because the Republicans want it to be put over.

Mr. GELTZ. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I am glad to find that out, Mr. President, but I should like to make my comments on this bill. As I understand it the public assistance law, requires that there shall be appointed by the Governor a certain number of persons who shall act as the local board for public assistance. I understand that this Senate on one or two occasions rejected, did not act, refused to act or refused to give their consent to the appointment of persons nominated by the Governor for that particular county.

Now, I understand since that time there has been no appointment made by the Governor and that in that county the functions of the county are carried out through the administrative office in Harrisburg.

I am glad to find that what is happening now is that the constitutional provision with regard to nominations by the Governor is being ignored and abused, as it has been for years by the Governor appointing those persons whom we refuse to consent to and whose appointment we will not advise the Governor that they should be confirmed; in addition to that when we do refuse to consent the Governor appoints them after we adjourn.

Mr. President, we now have another situation. The Governor refuses to perform a mandatory duty imposed upon him by this Legislature, namely, that he shall appoint, and the Governor finds a way of avoiding coming in to ask us for our consent, by transferring those functions to someone other than the persons whom the Legislature designated shall be the ones to act.

Now, if this Senate wants to consent to that kind of procedure and give up their prerogatives, then I wonder what these school children are doing up here listening to us I want to know why we had bills on the Calendar, and which we have had in committee, in which we have stated we shall teach the children respect for the Constitution; it is high time that we understand just what we are doing

We are making the thing look ridiculous by telling everybody how patriotic we are and how we love the Constitution and telling our teachers, that they shall teach the children to love and respect the Constitution, to love and respect American traditions and now we permit constitutional provisions to be violated. The first is something about which we can do nothing, allowing the Governor to appoint after we adjourn those persons whom we would not agree to, and, secondly, allowing the Governor to neglect the duty imposed upon him by the law, to appoint in counties a public assistance board so that at least in a county in which relief is being administered, there will be somebody who knows something about the county

As I understand it, Mr. President, in a particular county they have roving visitors or persons coming in when they can or will and taking care of the situation as best they possibly can, a situation about which they know nothing as far as the locality is concerned, and day after day the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, since this bill has been reported from committee by proper action of the committee, has calmly risen in his seat and said, "Mr. President, I ask that this bill go over in its order" I agree that it will go over in order because the Republicans want it and, of course, because they have the votes, but I propose for myself to place on record my objection to that kind of a system and to continue to object to it until possibly we will be successful in getting a majority.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think we should, if we are going to speak to the children in the gallery, explain to them that under the two party system under which Pennsylvania is operating at the present time, when the genleman from Philadelphia, who is a Democrat, sees what he feels to be an opportunity to get up and attempt to castigate the Republican Party and the Republican Governor, that is done under the heading of politics and not statesmanship, and they should not take too seriously the veiled accusations made by a Democrat against the Republican Governor.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr President, I need not say that every time the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, speaks that I am alarmed. Probably the gentleman from Allegheny has forgotten the beginning of this session when he voted to abolish the two party system in the Senate of Pennsylvania. The gentleman from Allegheny forgets that he is one of those who voted for rules which abolish the voice of the minority of this Senate, and it only requires twenty-six votes to shut the minority up and they have got the twenty-six votes. Prior to this time, when we did have a two party system, it took two-thirds of the members of the Senate to shut the minority out, but with the vote of this gentleman, who believes so implicitly in a two party system, we are now shut out by the majority of this Senate and not a two-thirds vote.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, it seems to me a few years ago, when I was an onlooker from the outside of the State Senate of Pennsylvania, that I read something about an army marching on the Capitol. I was not here to see it but I read about it in the papers and I have heard since that it required simply the wielding of the gavel by the President of the Senate at that time to rule out the entire minority. That was rule by one individual; that was dictatorship. What we have here seems to me to be majority rule and not dictatorship.

I should like to ask, Mr. President, if when the Governor of Pennsylvania has made his nominations and the nominations have been negelcted or rejected by the Senate on whose shoulders the responsibility falls? That action rests not upon the Governor, who in good faith made those nominations, and his motives should not be impuned or challenged because he did perform his constitutional duty, and if the Senate failed to agree to advise and consent and to those nominations, that is not the fault of the Governor of Pennsylvania.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I am rather surprised that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr Shapiro, would lend his talents to as poor an argument as he made on this floor. There is no constitutional provision, nor any law, nor any custom that requires the Governor or the President of United States or any other executive to make nominations on a particular day. We have at the present time in the Supreme Court of the United States a vacancy, and the Senate of the United States is in session and the Court is in session, and nobody, Republican or Democrat is criticising the President of the United States for not filling that vacancy until he sees fit to fill it. The Senator from Philadelphia certainly knows better than the argument which he made on this floor, because it is the duty of the Chief Executive of this Commonwealth to fill this vacancy and he has tried to do it, and the time when he shall send another nomination to this Senate is wholly in the hands of the Governor of Pennsylvania and neither he nor the President of the United States is subject to criticism because they do not do it on a particular day

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, being somewhat confused, I rise on a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will state his point of information.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, are we speaking in relation to Senate Bill No. 316 or under the heading of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. It that the point of information?

Mr. HALUSKA. Yes, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands the discussion is concerning Senate Bill No. 316. There is really nothing before the Senate. A request was made that Senate Bill No. 316 go over in its order, which is usually complied with; then the Chair recognized certain gentlemen who wished to speak, so there is really nothing before the Senate excepting the request that Senate Bill No. 316 go over in its order. A motion is now in order to put the bill over in its order, if any of the Senators see fit to do so

There is nothing before the Senate at this time excepting consideration of Senate Bill No. 316; the Senate can do whatever it desires with the bill.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I requested that Senate Bill No. 316 go over in its order and I do not believe there was objection.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I objected, Mr President.

MOTION THAT SENATE BILL No. 316 GO OVER IN ITS ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, then I move that Senate Bill No. 316 go over in its order.

Mr. MILLER. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, am I in order at this time to interrogate the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Deitrick?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Northumberland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DEITRICK. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Northumberland, in originally asking that this bill be released from committee, if he did not state a serious situation existed in his own County of Northumberland; that there was a board appointed there by the Governor of Pennsylvania, who had not consulted him—the appointments had been made without his consent—and that board had failed of approval, and that that board as appointed was not acceptable to the gentleman from Northumberlnd and that the board, having not been qualified by being approved by the Senate, that there is at present no board functioning in Northumberland County? Also this question: that Northumberland County is now functioning, relief is functioning by direction of people who are far removed from Northumberland County, a group of outsiders trying to conduct the affairs there which they are not familiar and of which they know nothing? Is that correct?

Mr. DEITRICK. I say that is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. May I inquire, Mr. President, whether that situation has been altered at all in the last week, since he made that last pronouncement.

Mr. DEITRICK. No, it has not, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Is it with the consent of the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr President, that this bill is constantly being put over in its order.

Mr. DEITRICK. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have been charged by the gentleman from McKean with having made a very poor argument. Before I made my objection, I made statements which have now been affirmed by the interrogation through the questions offered by the gentleman from Luzerne and the answers of the gentleman from Northumberland.

I suggest that when there are three members of a court on the bench and there is a vacancy of one, there are two to function. I suggest it was a very good argument to say that where there are three, four or five members of a board required to perform duties of importance in a community, when no members of the board are available and the fact they are not available is due to the fact that the Governor does not perform a function imposed upon him by the Legislature, I contend that the argument I made is a good one and that the Senate ought to do something about it.

Dictatorship, of course, can occur, as we see without positive action but by passively doing nothing. In this particular case there is passive action. We have refused to confirm twice. The Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania must submit names and he will not submit names because he anticipates apparently that the names he will submit will be submitted without the approval of the gentleman who knows more about the situation than anyone else, because he lives in that community, and the Governor therefore will not make appointments.

Now, Mr. President, I read the act to which this is a proposed amendment: "Every board shall be composed of eleven members in counties of the first or second classes and of seven members in other counties. In each county having a board of seven the Governor shall with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate appoint two members to serve for the term ending December 31, 1938," and so on.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I suggest my colleague from Philadelphia is out of order. There is a motion before the Senate that Senate Bill No. 316 go over in its order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am discussing the motion and not the bill; I am discussing why this bill should not go over in its order, not the merits of the bill.

Now, Mr. President, if that is the law and this bill continues to be thrown back into committee and back and forth and remain on this Calendar, as the gentleman from the county in question has stated, there is chaos, there are important matters that should be attended to and the functions of the board are not being carried out. I protest against such action and say it is a good argument and I say to the members of this Senate we are giving up prerogatives, we are passing laws which are being ignored and we ought to do something about it, and you certainly do not do anything about it by allowing this bill to go over in its order day after day, and if the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, thinks a facetious remark such as his solves the problem, then I hope he is satisfied; I am not.

Mr. WALKER. I am, Mr. President.

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, I feel in this particular case I should have something to say, because I do feel the responsibility that Northumberland County does not have a board for the direction of public assistance.

In the regular session two years ago the Governor appointed a board, as I have stated before, without any consideration for my regards as to the personnel of the board, and after it was appointed I, for certain reasons, took exception to the board and asked the Senate not to confirm the appointments.

The Senate itself is not responsible; neither is the Governor; I feel that I am responsible because the Governor did really make the appointments but out of senatorial courtesy the appointments were not confirmed.

Immediately ater the 1939 regular session was over the Governor did re-afppoint, as was his prerogative, the same members of the board who had theretofore served.

Of the original seven members of the board, one resigned immediately; two attended one or two meetings and then resigned; a fourth member resigned soon after. In other words, Mr. President, of the seven members of the board, four resigned; there were still three members of the original board when the Special Session convened. Their places were refilled by people who to me seemed to be just as politically inclined as was the original board.

It was my thought perhaps, as a so-called independent Republican, that the relief system should not be put into the hands of politicians. That, of course, is my personal opinion. For that reason, when the Special Session convened in 1940, I still felt the appointees to the Northumberland County Board of Public Assistance should not be confirmed and so I asked the members of the Senate, not to confirm them.

After the end of the 1940 Special Session the Governor did not see fit to re-appoint the board. That again was his prerogative, because as one of the previous speakers said, there is no time set as to the time the Governor should appoint a board, so from the end of the Special Session up until the present time, the Governor has not seen fit to appoint a board. Whether or not he will appoint a board between now and the end of this session I do not know, but if he does I hope he will appoint a board which will be an independent board and a board which will function for the good of the poor citizens and the needy of my particular community.

As the matter stands now, Mr. President, the Secretary of the State Public Assistance System can appoint a temporary board to function in Northumberland County, but up until this time he has not appointed such a board. In my opinion, the reason he has not appointed such a board is that such a board would be only temporarily appointed and I can see why nobody would put themselves in a position to render some important decisions that would have to be made in Northumberland County while serving on a temporary board, and soon after a permanent board would be appointed and they would be dropped out. In fact, Mr. President, I think those problems which will come before the Northumberland County Board should be decided by a regularly appointed board.

I personally think we should have a board in Northumberland County, the same as the other counties, and for that reason I think that local people should control the different problems we have, because our problems are local. At the present time if any relief recipient, no matter whether it be public assistance, old age, dependent children or the blind, if he has any complaint to make he must make it to the people who originally made the decision. In accordance with the law as we have enacted it, they have a right to appeal, but in our county the judges in the court which would hear the appeal are the same people that made the original decision. In other words, we have practically nobody to go to on an appeal from the decision as made by the original people who are supposed to make those decisions in our county. Personally I do not think that is correct because we should have somebody to whom we could go, with whom we could talk, and before whom we could at least put our side up to, should we feel some person is being neglected or some person is not getting what he really and justly deserves.

It is true the county supervisor of public assistance in our county was sent over by the state supervisor of public assistance. In other words, he works out of the office of the state supervisor Some people may think that is more effective but personally I think it is not.

I am anxious that a board be appointed and I do feel the Governor should appoint a board, but I also want the Senate to know I have gone along the last two or three days with the thought of this bill going over in its order, and I do request that the members of the Senate should go along and acquiesce in this motion that Senate Bill No. 316 go over in its order until next week, at least, because I feel by that time we will be in a position to think more favorably on this matter and perhaps do something that will really be helpful to my local community up home. Thank you.

And the question, recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(During the calling of the roll:)

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to inquire how the gentleman from Northumberland voted?

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, then I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GELTZ and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 327, as follows:

An Act to further amend paragraph six of section thirteen of article nineteen of the Act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen P. L. 581) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" as heretofore amended by an act approved the twelfth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 25) by authorizing the Civil Service Commission of such cities to make and establish regulations governing the reinstatement of persons who without fault or delinquency have resigned or have been separated from the service

Section 1 The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

That paragraph six of section thirteen of article nineteen of the Act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 581) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" as heretofore amended by an act approved the twelfth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 25) be and the same is hereby further amended to read as follows

6 Regulations governing the reinstatement within one year of persons who without fault or delinquency on their part have resigned or have been separated from the service Provided That persons who have voluntarily resigned from the service shall not be reinstated within six months

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FARRELL. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in connection with this bill will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell us the purpose of this amendment?

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, the purpose of this amendment is that quite some years ago when Mr. Schofield was Director of Public Safety in Philadelphia they had a Grand Jury investigation and Mr. Schofield discharged three or four hundred policemen.

Some years afterwards Mayor Wilson of Philadelphia came here before a Democratic House and a Democratic Senate—those things happen once in a while—and they changed the law to read that those policemen must be restored before the civil service bureau could appoint from the civil service list. This act restores the act to just where it was before it was changed by a Democratic House and a Democratic Senate some years ago. I do not know when that was, Mr. President, but I think it was the act of 1935.

Mr. SHAPIRO. In 1935, Mr. President, this bill amended the act of 1919. In 1935 there was a Democratic House and a Republican Senate. This bill was adopted by a Republican Senate a the request of the Republican Mayor of Philadelphia. The amendment was framed originally, to prevent the reinstatement of those persons who had refused to testify before a Grand Jury proceeding on the ground it would incriminate them and they were therefore dismissed.

This bill was framed to take care of those firemen and policemen who when called upon to disclose facts necessary to conserve the property of public government, refused to do so and they said they were protected by the constitutional provision calling for protection against self-incriminating evidence. It also covered a number of other people who after hearing failed to appear at a hearing before the Civil Service Commission when charges were made against them and they were discharged.

The provision in the law as it now exists specifically says no list shall be excluded for the purpose of giving these people the right to be reinstated.

This bill takes out that provision and says these men can be reinstated ahead of those who have since passed examinations and are entitled to appointment first.

If that is the kind of a bill you want to vote for you may do so, but I propose to vote "no" and ask my colleagues to do likewise.

Mr. FARRELL. As the act stands today, Mr. President, nobody can be appointed from a Civil Service list until the list of employes who have been dropped years ago—some of them are even beyond the age limit—is exhausted.

This bill was drawn at the request of the Mayor of Philadelphia and the President of the Civil Service Bureau, Mr. Walnut. I believe it was drawn by Mr. Lohengrin, of the City Solicitor's office.

I should like to quote an article appearing in one of our Philadelphia newspapers. If the Philadelphia papers print things as I think they do, this is not such a bad bill as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is trying to make the members of the Senate believe.

This is at the head of the editorial page and is entitled "Philadelphia Group Backs Reinstatement Curb," and reads as follows:

The Philadelphia Committee on Public Affairs, through its chairman, Karl Scholz, yesterday gave its full support to a bill now before the State Senate, limiting to one year the period in which former employes of the various city departments would be eligible for reinstatement.

The bill, introduced by Senator Louis H. Farrell of Philadelphia, further amends Article 19, Section 13, Paragraph 5 of the City Charter of 1919 by restoring the section to its original form. The section was changed by the act of April 12, 1935, to provide for reinstatement of former city employes regardless of the length of time they had been off the payroll.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. FARRELL. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia state whether I did not understand him correctly when I said he said this bill was designed to reinstate people who had been dismissed by Major Schofield during the grand jury investigation.

Mr. FARRELL. Yes, Mr. President, that is true but these men were only discharged for cause and now if they want to be reinstated, according to the act as it stands today, these men must be reinstated regardless of charges against them, regardless of their age, and as the act stands today, the Civil Service Bureau cannot appoint younger and eligible men until this list of men that have been dropped for cause expires.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

An Act enabling city county poor institution district ward school borough and township tax collectors their executors and administrators if they are deceased or either surety or sureties to collect taxes for the payment of which they have become personally liable without having collected the same by the expiration of the authority of their respective warrants or by the expiration of their terms of office extending the time for the collection of the same for a period of two years from the passage of this act and validating collections and proceedings for collections made or commenced without previous authority.

be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 696.

(House Bill No. 1205) as follows:

An Act to amend subsections (b) and (c) of section two of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 626) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review imposing duties on certain county and city officers abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties and prescribing penalties" to provide for the appointment of the members of the Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review in second class counties by the county commissioners

Section 1 Subsections (b) and (c) of section two of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 626) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review imposing duties on certain county and city officers abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties and prescribing penalties" are hereby amended to read as follows

(b) The members of the board shall be appointed by the county commissioners

(c) The terms of the members first appointed shall begin on the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-two Of such members first appointed [the member to be appointed on the nomination of the court of common pleas one of the members to be appointed on the nomination of the mayor or mayors of the city or cities of the second class if any and one of the members to be appointed without nomination] three shall be appointed for terms of six years two shall be appointed for terms of five years and the two remaining members shall be appointed for terms of four years Thereafter all appointments to fill vacancies happening by the expiration of a term shall be for terms of six years All appointments to fill vacancies happening in any manner other than by the expiration of a term shall be filled for the unexpired term only In each case whether or not the vacancy happens by the expiration of a term the appointment shall be made subject to the same requirements as in the case of the member whose vacancy is to be filled

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-two

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I might state this is an amendment to a bill which we passed in the 1939 session, relative to appointments of members of the joint commission. In the original bill it consolidated the boards; the appointments were distributed around among a number of individuals or office holders, some were appointed by the county commissioners, some were appointed by the mayor of the City of Pittsburgh and some were appointed by the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County. This amendent, which just came over from the House, consolidated the appointments in the Board of County Commissioners and, as the sponsor of the bill in 1939, I wish to say that this amendment meets with my approval and I think it is a worthy amendment and should receive the support of my colleague.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The years and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 714, as follows:

An Act to further amend section fifteen of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 522) entitled "An act relating to dogs and the protection of live stock and poultry from damage by dogs providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors; regulating the keeping of dogs and authorizing their destruction in certain cases providing for the protection of licensed dogs and for dogs temporarily imported for trial show and breeding purposes prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners providing for the assessment of damages done to live stock and poultry by dogs and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth imposing powers and duties on certain State county city borough town and township officers and employes directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury and making an appropriation thereof and providing penalties" by providing for the return of a portion of moneys received for licenses to the counties for use by Societies for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and specifically appropriating the same for such purpose

Section 1 Section fifteen of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 522) entitled "An act relating to dogs and the protection of live stock and poultry from damage by dogs providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors regulating the keeping of dogs and authorizing their destruction in certain cases providing for the protection of licensed dogs and for dogs temporarily imported for trial show and breeding purposes prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners providing for the assessment of damages done to live stock and poultry by dogs and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth imposing powers and duties on certain State county city borough town and township officers and employes directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury and making an appropriation thereof and providing penalties" as last amended by section five of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 456) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 15 The county treasurer shall keep an acurate record of all license fees and fines collected by him or paid over to him by any justice of the peace alderman magistrate or notary public and of all money received from the sale of dogs Such record shall be a public record and open to persons interested during business hours All such moneys received by the county treasurer shall be remitted to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue on the first Monday of each calendar month together with a report in duplicate of each payor on forms furnished by the Department of Revenue One copy of each such report shall be transmitted by the Department of Revenue to the Department of Agriculture on and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-two and annually thereafter there shall be paid by the State Treasurer to the treasurers of the several counties of the Commonwealth fifteen per centum of the net amount paid into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue by the treasurer of each of said counties based upon the returns filed pursuant to the provisions of this section Each county treasurer receiving such payment from the State Treasurer hereunder shall forthwith pay the amount so received to the treasurer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals now existing or hereafter organized within such county for use by such society for the carrying out of the purposes for which it was organized and for such use such moneys are hereby speciffcally appropriated In the event that more than one such society exists in any county then such money shall be paid to the treasurer of such societies in such proportions as may be determined by the county treasurer based upon the dog licenses issued in the districts of the county served or represented by such societies In case no such society exists in any county the amount payable to the county treasurer of such county shall not be paid and the appropriation thereof shall lapse Warrants for the above purposes shall be drawn by the Audtior General and payable to the treasurers of the several counties

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

And the question recurring,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The negative vote will stand as verified.

The votes in the affirmative—32; negative—9.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand this bill carries with it an appropriation and therefore requires a two-thirds vote.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I question that statement. I have had some advice on it and there is a question as to whether or not it requires a vote of thirty-four members of the Senate. I had some very good legal advice and I am advised it does not require a vote of thirty-four.

POINT OF ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if it is legal advice I withdraw my objection.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia has been withdrawn and the announcement of the vote as made will stand.

SENATE BILL NO. 529 CALLED UP FROM THIRD READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 529, on third reading postponed, Page 5 of the Calendar.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 529, entitled:

An Act relating to taxation in counties of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth classes; designating the subjects, property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes; creating a board for the assessment and revision of taxes; defining the powers and duties of such boards; providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons, property and subjects of taxation for county, borough, town, township, school and institution district purposes; regulating the office of ward, borough, town and township assessors; authorizing the appointment of a chief assessor, assistants and other employes; providing for their compensation payable by such counties; eliminating the triennial assessment; and abolishing the distinction between seated and unseated lands for the purpose of taxation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 529

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 529, passed second reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

The "Table of Contents" was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the "Table of Contents?"

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I desire to offer amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend TABLE OF CONTENTS, page 2, Article VI "Assessments" by striking out the number "611" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "623;" Amend section 302, sub-section 5, page 10, line 23 by inserting after the word "roll" at the end of the line the following: "Such assessment roll shall be issued to the assessors on or before May 15 of each triennial assessment year;" Amend section 501, page 14, by striking out in lines 4 and 5 the following: "in the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-three" and insert in lieu thereof the following; "preceding the expiration of the term of any assessor now in office;" Amend section 501, page 14, line 11, by striking out the following: "ward in each town an assessor" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "town two assessors;" Amend section 501, page 14, by striking out all of lines 18 to 27 inclusive and insert in lieu thereof the following paragraph: "(b) The office of assistant triennial assessor in townships of the first class is hereby abolished;" Amend section 505, page 16, lines 17 and 18 by striking out the following: "six dollars for each day of six hours or;" Amend section 505, page 16, lines 18 and 19 by striking out the following: "for any lessor period" and insert in lieu thereof: "for the time;" Amend section 505, page 16, line 19 by striking out the words "by him;" Amend section 505, page 16, line 20 by inserting after the word "duties" the following: "not exceeding eight hours in any one day;" Amend bill page 17, by inserting immediately underneath the word "Assessment" which appears on line thirteen, a new sub-heading as follows: "(a) Triennial Assessments;" Amend section 601, page 17, line 15 by striking out the word "Annually" which appears at the beginning of the line and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Triennially;" Amend section

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1284, as follows:

An Act requiring certain owners and lessees of real property in counties of the third class whenever making any improvements thereon or additions thereto costing more than five hundred dollars ($500) to file a report of such improvements or additions with the county board for the assessment and revision of taxes and providing penalties

Section 1 Hereafter in all counties of the third class whenever construction improvements or additions costing more than five hundred dollars ($500) have been made on or to any real estate subject to taxation under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the owner or lessee of such real estate shall within thirty days after the completion of the construction additions or improvements file a report thereof with the county board for the assessment and revision of taxes Such reports shall be submitted under oath or affirmation on forms prescribed by that board and furnished at the cost of the county

In addition to such other information as the board may require every report of construction improvement or addition on or to real property shall set forth

(a) The location of the property

(b) The owner or owners thereof

(c) The use being made of the property

(d) The nature and purpose of the improvement addition or construction

(e) The total cost of the improvement addition or construction

(f) The date on which the improvement addition or construction was completed

Whenever any construction improvements or additions on or to real estate are made in any political subdivision where a building permit is required the report hereinbefore directed to be filed shall contain such reference to the number or other designation of the permit involved as to facilitate ready location and identification thereof by the board in case it desires to examine such permit

Section 2 Any person firm association or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100) or to undergo imprisonment for a term of not more than thirty (30) days or both in the discretion of the court

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 13 Effective Date This act shall become effective on the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-one No prosecutions shall be brought under the provisions of this act until ninety days after the effective date of this act

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, the measure now before us, House Bill 1094 has brought much comment from the members of the House on both sides. In all my experience as a legislator I have never found so many persons eager and anxious to understand exactly what this bill does. I have met with all groups that have presented themselves, I have accepted their objections with good grace and I have incorporated in this bill such amendments as they have suggested. In many cases I have permitted them to write their own amendments.

The bill in itself, in its prime motivation, relates to the manufacture of drugs. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has a Board of Pharmacy which is vested with the power to regulate and supervise the manufacture of drugs, but in spite of that we find that the general public in many instances has suffered as a result of oversight, as a result of errors on the part of those who manufacture that most vital product, that product which you and all of your family at sometime or other are obliged to use. It seems to me that main objection to this bill has been the question as to whether or not those who deal in proprietary drugs are interferred with. If you will consult the bill, page three, you will find, starting at line 21, that there is a provision, and this provision has been incorporated in the bill after the pink sheet had been printed, which gives every consideration to those who deal in proprietary and patent medicines. It makes no restriction whatsoever in the manufacturing clause of the bill. It deals directly with the same type of product. Similar exceptions have been made and the only restriction remaining in the bill is that those who manufacture drugs, those who manufacture medicinal products, and have been manufacturing them for five years must show the State board of Pharmacy that they have been manufacturing or supervising the manufacturing of these commodities for five years.

This in my estimation is a fair requirement, and I believe if you will read the bill you will get a comprehensive idea as to exactly what its intention is.

House Bill No. 1094 extends and broadens the powers of the present State Board of Pharmacy. It requires registration with and the securing of permits from the present board, by persons, co-partnerships, associations and corporations engaged in the manufacture, producing and dealing in drugs and medicinal supplies. It gives to the State Board of Pharmacy powers which it sorely needs to enforce and regulate the production of drugs.

House Bill No. 1094 seeks to protect you from the handiwork of those who are ill trained in the production of drugs and medicinal supplies and makes general allowance for those who, even though they are not registered pharmacists, but who can show that they have sufficient experience in the production of such drugs and medicinal supplies as are permitted by the State Board of Pharmacy, after an investigation and determination by the board that such persons are qualified by scientific, or technical training or experience to perform such duties of supervision as may be necessary to protect the public health and safety.

To carry out the provisions of this act, the State Board of Pharmacy shall have power through its duly authorized and qualified agents to inspect at all reasonable hours in a lawful manner the drugs and medicinal supplies produced under the provisions of this act.

If you will but read the reports issued by the State Pharmacy Laboratory you will gain a sound understanding of the work and accomplishments of the State Board. You will find that its prime aim is to provide the citizens of this Commonwealth with pure drugs.

Samples of drugs are purchased in the open market by Investigators affiliated with the Bureau of Professional Licensing. These drugs are tested by competent chemists in the State Laboratory, located at 114 Walnut Street, right here in Harrisburg.

These drug samples are of a great variety and last years' report showed that a total of seven hundred and six samples were tested. A goodly number of commonly used products as well as some which are not so commonly used, are sent to the State Laboratory by the investigators. Each year the laboratory is attempting to enlarge its service by running a greater number of tests and of a more complicated nature.

Disinfectants, Liniments, Milks (Magmas), Mixtures, Oils, Ointments, Pills, Tablets, Lozenges, solutions, tincture and many other miscellaneous products are constantly under the watchful eyes of your tried and trusted chemists. In addition to this, in the year I mention, 706 Proprietary Medicines were carefully analyzed and examined. Samples of these were obtained from 27 different sources, as follows:

Pharmacies, Cut Rate Stores, Food Distributors, Groceries, Candy and Confectionery Stores, Groceries and Meats, Luncheonettes, Meat Markets, Peddlers, 5 and 10 cent stores, Fairs, Manufacturers, Individual Consumers, Department Stores, General Wholesale Jobbers, Herb Doctors, Canvassers, Wholesale Druggists, Physicians, Midwives, Perfume Stores, Gift Shops, Notion and Novelty Stores, Inns, Cigar Stores, News Stands and one was taken from a Pool Room.

It is interesting to note that of the 706 Proprietary samples tested, 229 were found to be produced in violation of the present laws.

In the group tested was the usual collection of therapeutically superfluous nostrums. The group included a sampling project of proprietary cold remedies, and sampling from county fairs.

The samples from one Antiseptic Powder, for example, consisting of merely a mixture of carbonates and a borate were sold for the treatment of such ills as wounds, snakebite, gastric ulcers, diabetes, diphtheria, amoebic dysentery and constipation, and even to be inhaled for influenza, pneumonia, and tuberculosis.

I commend the State Board for its work thus far and I am in sympathy with any measure that will strengthen its hand as it stands guard between the health of the general public and that unthinking minority of persons who would profit by the sale of fake products and who are not sufficiently honest and willing to submit their articles to the careful, unbiased and capable examination of our State Board of Pharmacy.

For your sake, and for the general good of all who must use drugs, I ask you to vote to enact the bill now under consideration.

House Bill No. 1094 would give an even and complete control by our present State Board, and I urge every member of this House to give his earnest consideration to this measure. I feel that it would benefit one and all, and I ask you to vote for House Bill 1094.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Welsh.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HUNTLEY. I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker, if this bill will prevent little country stores from selling iodine, carbolic acid and other drugs of that kind which are often needed as a disinfectant to wash stores or something of that kind, on a horse or man.

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I would say in answer to the gentleman that there is nothing in this measure that will interfere with this group whatsoever. The only provision is that the contents of the original packages may not be taken out, no mixing may take place or no division of the contents of the real original package.

Mr. HUNTLEY. The original package, as I understand, Mr. Speaker, will have to be bought from some wholesaler who has the good graces of the State Board of Pharmacy.

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Well, I wouldn't say that would be a necessary qualification, Mr. Speaker. It might happen that it would come from manufacturers outside of the state, from reputable manufacturing concerns who would have no relations with our State Board.

Mr. HUNTLEY. I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker, I think experience is the best teacher, and from past experience I am suspicious of this kind of bill. You know the fox never tells the goose that he is going to devour him until he gets him by the neck. These people always come around and tell you how they are going to protect your health and do a lot of nice things for you, and generally after they get what they want you are disappointed with their promises.

I have had experiences running a commissionery back in the sticks where you couldn't get to a pharmacy without traveling as far as forty-five miles over dirt roads. The law passed through the influence of the State Board of Pharmacy prohibits these little out of the way stores from selling carbolic acid and iodine and other disinfectants without an order from a pharmacy. The result was that if a horse was hurt and you wanted a little carbolic acid to wash the sore or the injury, or if they wanted some iodine to make a little salve to put on the horse you had to go forty-five miles to get it. It would be the same way if a man were injured. The very things that these little stores ought to carry that are very necessary for the community are the things that are prohibited by this law. It is not a new law nor a new idea; it has been incorporated in many states where I have lived and had experiences, and it is simply giving the pharmacists a monopoly and forcing people to come to the pharmacy to get what they might want instead of at a little country drug store. The result has been, according to my experience, that the little fellow that could not pay a fine is indicted, and the big fellow out of whom they might get something does not have to walk the chalk line.

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I think Mr. Huntley's main objection is covered by section two of the bill, which I would especially invite him to read. Line 21 reads as follows:

> "That nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to the sale of patent or proprietary medicines or commonly used household drugs, medical or dental supplies at wholesale or retail when in either the original package of the manufacturer or in the manufacturer's consumer unit sale package."

It seems to me that is very definite and very understandable, and I trust the gentleman upon reading that will have his doubts wiped away.

On the question recurring,

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 364.

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 566), entitled "A supplement to the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736), entitled as amended 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder and prescribing penalties' as reenacted and amended providing for the payment of compensation to volunteer firemen or their dependents" amplifying the provisions thereof as to persons entitled to such payments.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives, is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 9, by inserting after the syllable "panies" the words "authorized by such cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1257, as follows:

An Act to add section three and one-tenth to the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 134) entitled "An act relating to fireworks defining fireworks prohibiting the sale offering or exposing for sale and use of fireworks except in certain cases authorizing cities boroughs towns and townships to issue permits for fireworks displays and to regulate the same imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Motor Police sheriffs police officers and constables and providing penalties" providing for an extension of time on permits for such displays when not made on the day designated in the permit

Section 1 The act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 134) entitled "An act relating to fireworks defining fireworks prohibiting the sale offering or exposing for sale and use of fireworks except in certain cases authorizing cities boroughs towns and townships to issue permits for firework displays and to regulate the same imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Motor Police sheriffs police officers and constables and providing penalties" is hereby amended by adding thereto after section three a new section to read as follows

Section 3.1 If by reason of unfavorable weather the display for which a permit has been granted does not take place at the time so authorized the person to whom such permit was issued may within twenty-four hours apply to the authority having granted the same setting forth under oath the fact that such display was not made giving the reason therefor and requesting a continuance of such permit for a day designated therein not later than one week after the day fixed originally in said permit Upon receiving such application for a continuance the said authority if it believes the facts stated therein are true shall extend the provisions of said permit to the day fixed in said application not later than one week after the original day designated in the permit and such extension of time shall be granted without the payment of any additional fee and without requiring any bond other than the one given for the original permit the provisions of which shall extend to and cover all damages which may be caused by reason of the said display taking place at such extended date in the same manner and to the same extent as if such display had taken place at the date originally fixed in the permit

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return it to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1213, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 600) entitled "An act providing that appointive officers and employes employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its civil service or by any department bureau commission or office thereof or by any county municipality township or school district shall not be deemed or held to have resigned or abandoned their offices or employments by reason of enlistment enrollment or draft in the military or naval service of the United States or any branch or unit thereof in time of war or contemplated war prohibiting the removal from their offices or employments of such officers and employes during the period of their service in the Army or Navy directing that one-half of the salaries or wages of such officers or employes as have dependent wives children or parents and not exceeding two thousand dollars per annum be paid during the term of their service in the Army or Navy to such dependents authorizing the employment during said term of substitutes to perform the duties theretofore performed by such officers or employes respectively and providing for the compensation of such substitutes" by more fully defining the times during which the benefits shall be payable and the amounts thereof and to whom payable

Section 1 The act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 600) entitled "An act providing that appointive officers and employes employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its civil service or by any department bureau commission or office thereof or by any county municipality township or school district shall not be deemed or held to have resigned or abandoned their offices or employments by reason of enlistment enrollment or draft in the military or naval service of the United States or any branch or unit thereof in time of war or contemplated war prohibiting the removal from their offices or employments of such officers and employes during the period of their service in the Army or Navy directing that one-half of the salaries or wages of such officers or employes as have dependent wives children or parents and not exceeding two thousand dollars per annum be paid during the term of their service in the Army or Navy to such dependents authorizing the employment during said term of substitutes to perform the duties theretofore performed by such officers or employes respectively and providing for the compensation of such substitutes" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 That whenever any appointive officer or employe regularly employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its civil service or by any department bureau commission or office thereof or by any county municipality township or school district within the Commonwealth and who shall have been regularly employed thereby for a period of not less than one year prior thereto shall in time of war or [contemplated war] emergency declared by the President of the United States or by the Governor of this Commonwealth enlist enroll or be called or drafted [in] into the active military or naval service of the United States or any branch or unit thereof he shall not be deemed or held to have thereby resigned from or abandoned his said office or employment nor shall he be removed therefrom during the period of his said service during such war or emergency as hereinafter defined but the duties of his said office or employment shall if there is no other person authorized by law to perform the powers and duties of such officer or employe during said period be performed by a substitute who shall be appointed by the same authority who appointed such officer or employe if authority shall deem the employment of such substitute necessary Such substitute shall receive so much of the salary or wages attached to said office or employment as shall not be paid to the dependent or dependents of said officer or employe as hereinafter provided and such substitute may receive such further compensation from appropriations made for that purpose [or otherwise] as may be required when added to the amount received under the provisions of this act to constitute a reasonable compensation for his services in the opinion of the authority appointing him Provided however that in the case of any County municipality township or school district the number and compensation of such substitutes shall be fixed by the body authorized by law to legislate for such county municipality township or school district

Section 2 And said officer or employe so enlisting enrolling called or drafted and having a dependent or dependents as aforesaid may at the time of his enlistment enrollment call or draft or immediately thereafter file with the head or chief of the department bureau commission or office in which he is employed a statement in writing executed under oath setting forth the fact and date of his enlistment enrollment call or draft his intention to retain his said office or employment and to resume the duties thereof after the expiration of his active service in the military or naval service or any branch or unit thereof and the names and addresses of his wife children and dependent parent or parents if any such he have and requesting and directing that one-half of the salary or wages of his said office or employment not exceeding two thousand ($2,000) dollars per annum shall be paid during his active service in the military or naval service or any branch or unit thereof as follows [If he have a wife to his wife for her use and that of his children if he have children and no wife then to such person as he may designate for the use and benefit of his children If he have a dependent parent or parents then he shall direct such sum as he has theretofore been accustomed to contribute to their support to be paid to them and the sum not payable to his wife or children if any he have shall be proportionately decreased If he have no wife or children he may direct the entire one-half of his said salary or wages not exceeding two thousand ($2,000) dollars per annum to be paid to his dependent parent or parents if any such he have]

If he has a wife and no children or dependent parents to his wife for her use provided however that if he is living separate and apart from his wife at the time of his entry into service the payment to her shall not exceed the amount contributed by him to her voluntarily or by order of Court prior to his entry into service

If he has a wife and minor children and no dependent parents to his wife for her use and that of the said children

If he has no wife or dependent parents but has minor children to a person designated by him for the use and benefit of such children

If he has no wife or minor children but has a dependent parent or parents to such parent or parents for their use provided however that the payment to such parent or parents shall not exceed the amount contributed by him to them prior to his entry into service

If he has a dependent parent or parents and a wife or minor children then the benefits shall be allocated among them in proportion of his contribution to them prior to his entry into service provided however that the payment to any dependent parent or parents and to any wife living separate and apart from such officer or employe shall not exceed the amount contributed by him prior to his entry into service And provided further that the amount of benefits paid under this act shall in no case exceed an amount which added to the aggregate amount paid to such officer or employe by the United States as compensation commutation and other allowances totals more than the salary or wages paid to such officer or employe by the Commonwealth or by any County municipality township or school district within the Commonwealth at the time of his entry into such military or naval service all sums so directed to be paid shall be paid to the person designated in the same proportional instalments as nearly as may be as the salary or wages of such person were theretofore paid to him With such statement he shall also file powers of attorney authorizing the proper dependents to receive their proportion of said salary or wages as aforesaid

Section 3 The statement required to be filed by section two of this act shall be prima facie evidence of the dependency of any person named as a dependent in said statement but the head of [any] the department bureau commission or office [may in the case of doubt satisfy himself] shall investigate and certify his findings as to the fact of such dependency and if the person so [nominated] named as a dependent was not in fact dependent upon the officer or employe enlisting enrolling called or drafted in the active military or naval service or any branch or unit thereof at the time of his enlistment enrollment call or draft shall refuse to make any payment to such person on account of the salary or wages of such officer or employe Such head of a department bureau commission or office shall also satisfy himself before making payments to dependents under the provisions of this act that the officer or employe was alive during the period for which any payment is made No payment shall be made under the provisions of this act to any officer or employe enlisting enrolling called or drafted as aforesaid and so much of the salary or wages of such officer employe as is not paid under the provisions of this act to his dependents and his substitute shall [be recovered back into the fund] remain to the credit of the appropriation fund or item from which said salary or wages is paid

Section 4 As used in this act the term "war" shall mean the period between the opening and ending of hostilities and shall not include the period after the ending of hostilities notwithstanding the fact that no treaty of peace has been negotiated or concluded and the term "emergency" shall mean the period between a declaration that a state of emergency exists and a declaration that the state of emergency has been terminated

Section 5 The benefits of this act shall apply to any officer or employe entitled thereto until one month after the termination of the term of service or training in which the said officer or employe shall be engaged at the conclusion of such hostilities or state of emergency but shall not apply to any term of service voluntarily entered into by the said officer or employe after the conclusion of such hostilities or emergency

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1295, as follows:

An Act to amend section four thousand four hundred two of the act approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" providing for additional members of certain civil service boards

Section 1 Section four thousand four hundred two of the act approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 4402 Appointment of Examining Boards There shall be the following civil service boards in each city (a) A board for the examination of applicants for appointment to any position in the police department (b) a board for the examination of applicants for appointment to any salaried position in the fire department (except volunteer departments) or health officers other than registered physicians or as sanitary policemen or inspectors of the health department (c) a board for the examination of applicants for appointment to any position in the engineering or electrical departments or to the position of building inspectors

Each of said boards shall consist of three citizens who shall be elected by council for terms of four years or until their successors are elected and qualified One of the members of the boards provided for in clauses (a) and (b) of this section shall be an educator and one shall be a physician Any person may be appointed to one or more of said boards In addition to the three members hereinbefore provided for who shall have full power to vote on all questions coming before the board the board for examination of applicants for appointment of any position in the police department under clause (a) above shall have a fourth member who shall be a paid policeman of the city but who shall have no right to vote on any question coming before the board and in cities having a paid fire department only the board for the examination of applicants for appointment to any salaried position in the fire department (except volunteer departments) or health officers other than registered physicians or as sanitary policemen or inspectors of the health department under clause (b) above shall have a fourth member who shall be a paid fireman of the city but who shall have no right to vote on any question coming before the board Such additional members shall be elected by council for terms of four years or until their successors are elected and qualified.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Polaski.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLASKI. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill what the purpose is in putting firemen and policemen on the Civil Service Boards of third class cities when they do not have a vote.

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to give the policemen and firemen a chance to serve as advisors on these Civil Service Boards. That is the only purpose of the bill.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, what good would they be on the board, even in an advisory capacity, if they do not have any vote?

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, the police and firemen contend that they are better able to determine the fitness of men who are applying for positions, and therefore would like to have the opportunity to pass judgment on any applications.

Mr. AUKER. Will the sponsor of the bill answer me whether or not the Civil Service Boards do not now have the prerogative to consult the policemen and firemen before any appointments are made?

Mr. POLASKI. The law does not specify anything about that fact, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. There isn't anything in the law to prevent it, is there, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, no, there is not. I admit that.

Mr. AUKER. That is all, Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Erie. I would like to debate the bill. I can't see any purpose in the bill at all, inasmuch as there is no voting power in the representatives of the policemen and firemen who might be placed on the Civil Service Board in an advisory capacity. There is no juestion now that the Civil Service Board has the power and authority to consult the policemen and firemen, and we are not giving them anything today that they do not already have. I think it is superfluous legislation, and therefore bad. I ask the members to vote against the bill.

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, the bill as originally written specified that a fourth member policeman be placed on the Policemen's Civil Service Board, and a fourth member fireman be placed on the Firemen's Civil Service Board. The original bill specified that these members would have voting power. When this bill came on the calendar various members objected to the fact that these fourth members would have voting power, because in case they voted with four members on the Board there might be a deadlock of two and two. Therefore, as a compromise measure we suggested an amendment to make these fourth members non-voting members, which means that there will never be a possibility of a deadlock.

I think the bill has certain merits. It gives the policeman and firemen a chance to say something in regard to the applicant as to his fitness and his aptness for the position applied for, and it does not necessarily give them the power to sway the board in its consideration of an applicant. I suggest that the House vote for the bill.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not the other municipal employes have any representation on these boards?

Mr. POLASKI. No, they have not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Doesn't the gentleman think, Mr. Speaker, that it is being unfair to the other municipal employes in not giving them any representation on the board when the policemen and firemen have representation?

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, we might introduce a bill to the effect that the engineers might also have an engineer on the Board, so that there would be representation on all three boards.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, if we follow that out to its logical conclusion, every particular department in the city would possibly be entitled to a member on the Board in an advisory capacity.

Mr. POLASKI. There are only three boards at the present time. This will provide for firemen and policemen on two boards, leaving out the one board.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, how are the other municipal employes going to be taken care of?

Mr. POLASKI. The other municipal employes, Mr. Speaker, do not have a Civil Service Board, outside of the engineers.

Mr. AUKER. Are there not bills pending here now that will give civil service tenure status to all municipal employes, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. POLASKI. I believe there are, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. One such bill, Mr. Speaker, has already passed the Senate, isn't that correct?

Mr. POLASKI. I believe it is, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, what will be the status then if that bill becomes law and this bill becomes law?

Mr. POLASKI. I haven't proved that question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Doesn't the gentleman think, Mr. Speaker, that it would be a good idea to hold this bill up until we see what happens to that bill?

Mr. POLASKI. I ask that the bill be voted on, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. That is all, and I thank the sponsor.

Mr. Speaker, this legislation in my opinion is very superfluous,—Mr. Rose gave me that word yesterday and I think it is a good one. I believe it is going to throw the Civil Service Board and the regulation of such boards in third class cities more or less into confusion, so that they will not be able to regulate in nearly as good a manner as they are now capable of doing. Furthermore, if these other municipal employes come under the Civil Service Board under the act now pending in the House which has already passed the Senate, then we will have the odd situation of two classes of municipal employes being recognized by a Civil Service Board in the capacity of advisors and the other municipal employes will not be recognized. It will be unfair to all the other municipal employes.

I am not against representation on the Civil Service Board by either policemen or firemen or municipal employes, but I do believe that this bill should be held up until we see whether or not this other act is going to pass the House, and then have a bill passed which will give representation upon the board, perhaps, of two members elected from the municipal employes. Then we would have a well-balanced bill. I feel that they should have representation possibly on the board,—I am not against it, but I am against legislation being passed at this time which will only create a hodge podge and be superfluous.

In view of legislation now passed and in view of the fact that the sponsor will not agree to hold the bill over until third reading and final passage I ask the members of the House to vote against the bill with the hope that we can get another tenure bill passed.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 295:

An Act to amend sections seven and eight of the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight (P. L. 201) entitled "An act to provide for the publication of the decisions of the supreme court and the appointment of a state reporter" requiring the publication of advance sheets of such reports requiring printing and publication in this Commonwealth by a responsible person having a plant and facilities and place of business therein and further regulating the basis upon which bids shall be submitted and provisions of the contract for publication of such reports and advance sheets

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 532, as follows:

An Act to amend section one thousand and forty-seven of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" as amended limiting the number of days for the completion of borough audits

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section one thousand and forty-seven of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1254, entitled:

An Act regulating in cities of the first class the enforcement of any provisions in any ordinance relating to building codes in connection with the erection enlargement alteration repair moving removal demolition and inspection of buildings and other structures and the erection encroachment extension repair inspection and use of party walls as provided for in any ordinance and providing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. FINESTONE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 364

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 566) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled as amended 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder and prescribing penalties' as reenacted and amended providing for the payment of compensation to volunteer firemen or their dependents" amplifying the provisions thereof as to persons entitled to such payments

HOUSE BILL No. 610

An Act to amend clause forty-seven of section two thousand four hundred three of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" changing the qualifications of historical societies to receive appropriations

An Act to add section six hundred seventeen and one-tenth to the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" authorizing school districts under certain conditions to appropriate money to non-profit corporations established for the purpose of constructing school buildings for the use of the district

Whereupon,

The Speaker, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 666

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 14, 1941.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the House of Representatives and Senate recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 666, Printer's No. 208, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 87

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 87, Printer's No. 442.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 24, 1941.

Whereas, It is the duty of the Department of Health and the Bureau of Vital Statistics, under the provisions of the acts approved the 7th day of June, 1915, (P. L. 900), and the 9th day of April, 1929, (P. L. 177), to supply certified copies of the birth, death, and marriage records maintained by that Department, upon the payment of the prescribed fee; and

Whereas, The effect of the present National Defense Program, together with the requirements of certain new legislation, has given rise to a greatly increased demand for certified copies of birth, death, and marriage records; and

Whereas, The Department of Health and the Bureau of Vital Statistics have apparently been unable to meet the increased demand for such certified copies, thereby depriving the Commonwealth of considerable revenues and greatly and unnecessarily inconveniencing the large number of persons to whom a certified copy of a birth or death record is an immediate necessity; now therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the General Assembly, that the Speaker of the House shall appoint a legislative committee consisting of five members whose duty it shall be to investigate the reasons for the failure or inability of the Department of Health and the Bureau of Vital Statistics to supply, promptly on request, certified copies of birth, death, and marriage records, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such conditions are due to lack of adequate funds, insufficient personnel or equipment, or to administrative inefficiency; and be it further

Resolved, That said committee report the results of its investigation to this House as speedily as possible, together with its recommendations as to the steps which should be taken to clear up this situation.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to ask the gentlemen on both sides of this House to support House Resolution 87. In the many instances that I have had an opportunity to contact the Bureau of Vital Statistics for certificates or certified copies of birth certificates I have found that due to a number of causes they were very hard to obtain. I am much concerned over this resolution and over an investigation that would possibly eliminate the bottle-neck that now exists in obtaining certified copies of births. My interest in this is due to the fact that in the western part of the state of Pennsylvania it is an absolute essential item to have a certified copy of birth certificates before a person can obtain employment in any industry engaged in national defense work.

I say to those Members who come from the centralized area of Philadelphia and Allegheny that they may not know of the hardships that are placed upon the shoulders of the members of this Legislature from the rural areas, but we do have a job on our hands when our constituency asks us to plead for them in obtaining certified copies of birth certificates from the Bureau. In my mind I believe there is a great inefficiency in the administration in that department, and I think it is a gross maladministration of the Bureau.

Inasmuch as the resolution is so essential to the National Defense Program that is now under way I wish to ask and appeal to all Members to support this resolution so that we may in some manner obtain a medium for getting the certified copies of birth certificates when they are really needed. In many instances I have had people come to me who have been kept out of employment for a period of not only one or two or six months,— in instances I say to you that I have had people who have had applications with the Bureau of Vital Statistics for certified copies of records of birth for as long as a year and three months.

This condition should not exist in the Department of Health and the Bureau of Vital Statistics, and I certainly would appreciate receiving the findings of the investigating committee if this House chooses to select one and bring before the legislative body proper recommendations to eliminate the bottle-neck that now exists.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I didn't care particularly to be recognized at this time, but I was going to say that after the resolution is adopted, if it is adopted, I think the Speaker on all these investigating committees should be careful not to appoint anybody who has made statements on the floor of the House which would indicate that he could not be an impartial judge.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will follow the suggestion of the gentleman from Dauphin.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 92

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 92, Printer's No. 544,

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 6, 1941.

Whereas There has been in existence in the City of Philadelphia since 1934 an organization known as the Philadelphia Youth Movement and

Whereas That organization was formed for the purpose of establishing a more direct personal contact with youth in crowded slum areas where conditions are conducive to a life of crime and delinquency and against good wholesome moral and spiritual training and

Whereas Since its inception in 1934 against enormous odds the movement has grown from a group of ten to forty-two hundred members achieving in the meantime great success in securing positions providing recreational activities increasing educational opportunities and generally providing opportunities lacking to youth in such areas and

Whereas This movement similar in its operation to Father Flanagan's Boys Town has fostered the processes and ideals of Democratic Government by electing its own officers enacting its own laws and impressing youth with the necessity of becoming active and cooperative members of a wholesome society and

Whereas This movement was initiated by Samuel L Evans and has been under his direction and supervision since its inception and

Whereas The said Samuel L Evans has given of his time energy and finances to the success of this movement without regard to personal reward and

Whereas In the course of human progress such sacrifice by individuals for the benefit of society is often unheralded and unrewarded therefore be it

Resolved That the House of Representatives hereby acknowledges and commends the said Samuel L Evans for his personal sacrifices and inspiring efforts in contributing to the cultural moral spiritual and physical development of youth in his community by endorsing the activities of the Philadelphia Youth Movement which he conceived and supervises and by wishing it continued success and be it further

Resolved That the Chief Clerk of the House be directed to mail a copy of this resolution to the Philadelphia Youth Movement in order to apprise the members thereof of the esteem in which the membership of this House hold the organization and its founder

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, this is a bad "d" resolution; not that the gentleman who is complimented is not doing a splendid piece of work according to the information that I have received, nor that we should refuse to compliment him for the work he is doing. The Members on this side of the House would like to vote for this resolution, if the word Democrat is spelled with a capital D we might have a little difficulty in doing it. If you will refer to the last line on the first page you will find the word "Democratic". Now, if that word were spelled with a small "d" I do not believe we would have any trouble in voting for it, but the gentleman put it in there with a big "D". I wonder whether the sponsors of this resolution are complimenting the gentleman in this resolution for carrying out the "big D" Democratic party principles and policies, or whether they are complimenting him for carrying out the "small d" democratic principles or policies. I believe the sponsors really mean a "small d" and if they do we will be willing to go along with it.

I hope the Clerk when he sends the resolution to the gentleman, does make it a small "d", so that we can wholeheartedly go along with it, which would be somewhat difficult if we had the "D" because we are a little bit worried about complimenting these fellows who are fostering big "D" Democratic ideas.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, if he is responsible for putting the big "D" in.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am partly responsible for putting the big "D" in the resolution, but Mr. Evans is responsible for putting the "small d" in a marvelous movement.

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I am sure the minority floor leader and the Members on the other side of the House will be with us in supporting this resolution since they know it is going to be a small "d".

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Messrs. ROONEY and KOLANKIEWICZ offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 14, 1941.

Whereas, Today marks the third anniversary on which the Honorable Joseph Hersch entered into the bonds of holy matrimony; said event being signalized on May 14, 1938; and

Whereas, The married life of this happy pair is a shining example to those Members of the House who have recently entered into such contracts, or who have pledged themselves to do so; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives felicitates the Honorable Joseph Hersch and his wife, Mary Elizabeth, on this, their third wedding anniversary and wishes them many, many more filled to the brim with happiness throughout the ensuing years; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives will mail a copy of this resolution to the said Joseph Hersch and his wife, Mary Elizabeth, on this their third wedding anniversary.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hersch.

Mr. HERSCH. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank you for that resolution, but I am going to condemn the men that put it up there today. I will possibly meet them some place else. I am very sorry that I did not know about it or I would have had my wife up here in the General Assembly. She is sick, our dog caught cold last night, and she is resting at home. I thank you.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SARGE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it is the duty of the General Assembly in these critical days to offer every cooperation to our National Defense Program. There is more than one way in which we can be of assistance. The establishment of the State Council of Defense, the elimination of subversive activities, arousing of the people into feeling of interest, cooperation and enthusiasm for the defense of our American form of government and freedom are illustrations of action taken by the Administration and the Legislature. Additional steps can be taken in such matters as health, industry and the extension of our road system to make the products purchased move over these roads quickly and aid in the movement of our soldiers, tanks and military equipment.

As a part of improving our transportation facilities, I recommend the taking over by the Commonwealth of a road which comes out at the eastern end of Ono, in Lebanon County, on to Route 22 and goes past Cavalry Hill where the Cavalry Brigade is located. The road is approximately 2.7 miles, of which 1.2 miles is township road. This bill which will carry out this recommendation, would permit the Commonwealth to take over the 1.2 miles of township road, and would relieve the movement of traffic in and out of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

It may appear as a small insignificant road; it may appear quite unimportant to the average person, but when we realize the thousands and thousands of machines that move in and out of the Gap onto the main highway, especially on Sundays, and the congestion which so often is found on the main road, and when we further consider the necessity of moving soldiers, tanks and military equipment along the highway to and from the Gap, in addition to thousands of visitors, it is apparent that this small road becomes of major importance because it would make another avenue of approach to the Indiantown Gap Reservation.

General Martin and Colonel Stackpole have emphasized the importance of this road and it is at their request that the same is being introduced.

I, therefore, urge that the request for taking over of this township road by the Commonwealth be given favorable consideration and that the General Assembly should not lose any time on the passage of this measure.

I have today introduced this bill.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 709

Mr. CULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 709, Printer's number 456, entitled An Act to further amend section four hundred and twelve of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 15 1933-1934) entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale manufacture possession transportation importation traffic in and use of alcohol and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents the Department of Public Instruction other officers of the State government courts and district attorneys authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises and the granting of licenses subject to local option to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided prohibiting certain sales or practices in connection with and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others providing for the forfeiture of certain property making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees and imposing penalties" by further defining the sales of malt or brewed beverages, was defeated on final passage on Tuesday, May 13, 1941, be reconsidered.

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cullen, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. CULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Rush, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "nays" appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for, eighty members having voted in the affirmative and thirty-six in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. CULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Messrs. SAMUEL ROSE, SHEPARD AND CHUDOFF offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 14, 1941.

Whereas, The Honorable John Finnerty today celebrates another birthday, and

Whereas, The Honorable John Finnerty in his long legislative career has devoted himself to making Pennsylvania a better place to live in and incidentally a better place to be shaved in, and

Whereas, It is fitting and proper that the House signalize another year of this veteran legislator's terrestrial existence, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives congratulates the Honorable John Finnerty on this another birthday in his brilliant career, and by this resolution wishes him continued success in his terrestrial and tonsorial activities.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Finnerty.

Mr. FINNERTY. Mr. Speaker, another birthday is here. I notice the gentleman did not put my age in the resolution. Of course, I am not going forward; I am going backwards. I am glad for one thing in introducing this resolution; my friend, Mr. Woodside, over there has said he is going to create "Days." Now he may create a Finnerty Day. I thank the gentleman who introduced the resolution and I hope I will be able to be here on my next birthday to celebrate with everybody in this House. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair knows how old the gentleman is.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McMILLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I brought a group of high school students here just at the beginning of the Session today, and if I infringed on any of the rules of the House in taking them through,—I am not sure whether we had had the prayer or not or whether we had gone into session, but if I infringed in any way I wish to apologize to the Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Indiana. We were not in Session when the gentleman's guests came through the House. The Chair appreciates the courtesy extended by the gentleman from Indiana.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate that the Chair has a difficult task and I do not wish to take advantage in any way.

Now, I have a short statement to make. You know the old saying that you shouldn't explain anything; you don't need to explain to your friends, and your enemies won't believe you, but I do have one thing that I would like to have threshed out here. A man handed me a piece of paper taken from the Philadelphia Ledger; I think it was an AP dispatch of yesterday stating that McMillen opposed the bill presented by Mr. Harkins, and had me listed as a Democrat. Well, gentlemen, I don't intend to explain or make apologies, nor say anything about what I did on the floor, but for goodness sake, I would ask that I be reported as a Republican, because I don't want to be thrown over to that group. I know, coming from a county that has never gone Democratic in its history, that they don't want me over there, and I know that my people back home are going to wonder what this is all about. I ask the boys up front to note that McMillen from Indiana, the county that never went Democratic, is still a Republican.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Indiana, there is always a first time.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentleman from Indiana if he is bragging.

WILLIAMSON GRAMMAR SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. We have as guests today the fourth class district graduating class from the grammar school at Williamson, Franklin County. This class is on a short tour of "Seeing Pennsylvania First." They are the guests of Representative Gillan of St. Thomas, Pennsylvania.

There will be a caucus meeting of the Republican members at the Harrisburg Republican Club, third floor, 26 North Second Street at 6:30 p. m., Daylight Saving Time, today, May 14.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Thursday, May 15, 1941, at 10 a. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 2:36 p. m.) the House adjourned.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1941. 135th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 25. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MAY 15, 1941. No. 54,

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, May 15, 1941.

The House met at 10 a. m.
The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall, offered the following prayer:

Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, help each one of us, O God, to think on these things. Help us to think well of others because they are Thy children, and because by so doing we show ourselves as the disciples of Thy Son who believed in us and, while we were yet sinners, died for us. Help us to restrain the unkind thought and the destroying word. May we ever be slow to condemn but quick to praise, seeing and seeking the good in others as we meet them daily on the highway of life. This we pray, in Thy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. BALTHASER, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. HOUSE BILL No. 1594.

An Act to amend the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by providing for the compensation of persons employed in the public school system of this Commonwealth during absence in military service.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

By Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. HOUSE BILL No. 1595

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is it permissible under the Rules of the House to ask the House to act on the question of the constitutionality of a bill that has just passed first reading on today's calendar?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under Rule 4 of the House it is permissible.

CONSTITUTIONAL POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a constitutional point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state his constitutional point of order.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, on page 9 of today's calendar House Bill 1025, Printer's No. 608, which has just passed first reading, I raise the point of order that the bill is unconstitutional.

I raise this point of order, Mr. Speaker, because I do not believe we should clutter up the calendar at this time, since we will have a very heavy calendar next week. I believe if the bill is returned to the Committee it will clutter up the calendar of the Committee and we can in a very short space of time dispose of this bill at this time by voting on this Constitutional point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will read the title of the bill for the information of the House.

The Clerk read the title of House Bill No. 1025, Printer's No. 608, as follows:

An Act relating to attorneys-at-law; regulating the admission of persons to said office, by prescribing the conditions upon which, and the method by which law colleges and schools shall be entitled to receive certificates of approval as institutions of learning, properly qualified to prepare registered law students for admission to any final examination for the practice of law in this Commonwealth, and the effect thereof upon such law students and upon examing boards or commissions; authorizing the collection of fees for services to be rendered hereunder; prohibiting certain acts or omissions; and imposing penalties; prescribing the procedure by which such approval may be enforced, suspended, revoked and reinstated; limiting the construction of this act; and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, has raised the constitutional point of order with reference to this bill.

The Chair under Rule 4 is required to submit questions affecting the constitutionality of a bill to the House for decision which the Chair now does.

On the question,

Will the House sustain the constitutional point of order?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to debate this bill in full but just briefly. The title of the bill repeals all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith. The body of the bill sets up certain standards for law colleges and certain standards for law students, and requires that those law students who meet certain standards be permitted to take final examination and upon passing the same they would have to be admitted to practice as attorneys.

This bill and the procedure under it would be inconsistent with our present rules as laid down by the Supreme Court of this State and administered by the State Board of Law Examiners and the Law Examiners of the various counties. Therefore, because this act provides for the striking down of all acts, laws and rules that are inconsistent with the bill, it is my opinion that this bill is unconstitutional.

Without going into detail as to the full import of the bill I should like to read a leading case in Pennsylvania which is directly in point, and which I believe will convince this House that this bill should be declared unconstitutional.

I quote from the leading case of Joseph P. Splane, reported in Pennsylvania State Reports 123, page 527. I quote from the decision by Chief Justice Paxon, who handed down the decision of the court:

> "If there is anything in the constitution that is clear beyond controversy, it is that the legislature does not possess judicial powers. They are lodged exclusively in the judiciary as a co-ordinate department of the government. The executive and legislative departments can no more encroach upon the judicial department, than the latter can encroach upon them. Each department in our beautiful system of government has its own appropriate sphere, and so long as it confines itself to its own orbit the machinery of government moves without friction.
> "We have too much respect for the legislature to suppose it would ever intentionally step over the line which divides the different departments, but slight encroachments may sometimes occur through inadvertence. In such cases it is the province of the judiciary to correct them. It is our duty to see that the checks and balances provided by the constitution are preserved. We are clearly of opinion that the act of 1887, though probably not so intended, is an encroachment upon the judiciary department of the government."

The court declared the act of 1887, which was an amendment of the act of 1885 unconstitutional. The act of 1887 provided in substance the same things provided in House Bill 1025, setting up certain standards and requiring that a person who wants to become a member of the bar should by a writ of mandamus compel his admission. That is the same thing House Bill 1025 does and I, therefore, ask the House to declare the bill unconstitutional.

I do that, Mr. Speaker, because I do not feel that we ought to clutter up the calendar or return this bill to the committee. I think we should act on the bill at this time and declare it unconstitutional so that the bill will be off the calendar and we can expedite the business of the House.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the sub-committee that agreed to have this bill reported out I want to join with Mr. Brown in asking this House to declare the bill unconstitutional.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will have to admit that I m not quite prepared this morning to discuss the constitutionality of this proposed bill. I might say also that I was wholly unaware of the existence of the act of 1887 or the opinion of the court which declared it unconstitutional, and therefore, I have had no opportunity to read the particular decision, because as some Members of the House have often said we lawyers can also disagree.

However, I want to make it rather clear that the purpose of the bill was not to assault the citadels of justice of Pennsylvania. The Legislature many years ago set up the courts of Pennsylvania and gave the judiciary many of the powers which it now enjoys. Even as late as 1937 we gave the judiciary almost unlimited power in determining the rules of procedure which many of our lawyer friends in the House today can tell you more about. However, in this particular bill what we are trying to do is not to leave the recognition of law schools, the determination of attendance at schools, who shall or who shall not study law, or who shall or who shall not become a lawyer, but we are attempting to place that on a basis where there shall be some place for citizens to bring their complaints and as the question has been stated, protect them from the possible caprice of the courts themselves. This is not being said with any intention of being derogatory to the courts, but my thought in introducing the bill was to have some medium and some way for just one citizen who may feel that he has been aggrieved by the set up as it exists today, to be able to go into court and have his day. That is the entire purpose of the bill.

In do not know that the act of 1887 is on all fours with this bill. The Supreme Court in its infinite wisdom might be able to find sufficient distinction between the conditions as they exist today and as they existed at that time to be able to declare the bill unconstitutional. There it is possible that while that act was unconstitutional at that time this bill is constitutional.

I want that statement to be on the record so that my position is clear. As I said in the beginning I was unprepared to discuss the question of constitutionality, and I want the Members to give us the benefit of their common sense in trying to put common sense into the law.

On the question recurring,

Will the House sustain the Constitutional point of order?

The question was determined in the affirmative and the Constitutional point of order was sustained.

THE SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, for presiding.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Westmoreland will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if it is constitutional to act upon a bill that is not on file.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman the constitution requires the printing of bills. The bill has been printed for the information of the Members.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, is it not necessary that the bill be on file when we take action of any kind on it?

The SPEAKER. If it was the desire of the Members that the bill should be on file that question should have been raised before the question of constitutionality was raised. The question comes too late.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I just want to make clear that I feel the action of this House a few minutes ago was unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not agree with the gentleman. Neither the Constitution nor the Rules of the House require bills to be on file.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I answer the gentleman very briefly and call his attention to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, Article 3, Section 2, which reads as follows:

> "No bill shall be considered unless referred to Committee and returned therefrom and printed for the use of the Members."

This bill was printed for the use of the Members, it has been returned from Committee and was properly introduced. I think the gentleman's question of constitutionality is wholly out of order.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do not the Rules of this House provide that this House shall not act on a bill unless it is on file on each member's desk.

The SPEAKER. The Rules of the House do not so provide. It is simply a matter of custom.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Article II

General Obligation Bonds

Section 201 Limitation on Municipal Debt Whenever the net debt of any municipality shall be equal to ten per centum in the case of municipalities authorized by the provisions of section fifteen article nine of the Constitution to incur debt to said amount and seven per centum in the case of all other municipalities (except school districts of the first class which shall be limited to two per centum) of the assessed valuation it shall be unlawful to increase the same by borrowing money (except in the case of issuing evidences of debt in anticipation of current revenues) and any such increase shall be void and any general obligation bonds issued to evidence such increase of debt shall be of no binding force upon such municipality Each of the officers thereof wilfully authorizing such increase or executing any general obligation bond therefor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars or undergo imprisonment not exceeding one year or both

Section 202 Determination of Existing Net Debt The net debt of a municipality shall be the net debt determined as follows

From the gross liabilities of the municipality which shall be the total amount of the following items (1) the principal of all bonds authorized or outstanding for whatever purpose issued (2) the amount of any overdue interest and state tax assumed on account of any general obligation bonds and (3) all other debts of the municipality there may be deducted the following items

(a) The amount of any cash and bonds of the municipality held in any sinking fund for the payment of the principal of any outstanding debt

(b) The par value of all legal investments other than bonds of the municipality held in any sinking fund unless such par value shall be in excess of the actual value in which case the actual value shall be used It is the legislative intent of this clause that since legal investments in any sinking fund may be converted into cash and such cash used as a deduction that such investments having been legally authorized should be deductible in like manner as cash and bonds of the municipality held in any sinking fund

(c) The amount of undisputed municipal liens other than tax liens actually filed against property (other than such as are pledged for the redemption of assessment bonds deductible under clause (f)) in such proportion as such liens are certain to be collected

(d) The amount of the preliminary estimates of benefits costs and expenses which may be assessed against the owners of property and for which liens may be legally filed in any case where a public improvement has been or is about to be made by any municipality and general obligation bonds have been or are to be issued for the payment of the same in whole or in part Such estimates of assessable benefits costs and expenses shall be signed and verified by the engineer or other proper officer of the municipality in case the municipality has no engineer and shall state that they are in his opinion fair amounts of benefits costs and expenses which may be lawfully assessed in such proceedings

(e) The amount of surplus cash not specifically appropriated to any purpose other than the payment of any item of debt

(f) The amount of assessment bonds outstanding heretofore issued for the construction of any project where the cost of such project has been assessed on property specially benefited which bonds purport to impose no municipality liability to the extent that such bonds are supported by cash in the sinking fund held for such assessment bonds and by undisputed valid liens against the property benefited in such proportion as such liens are certain to be collected but this clause shall not apply to assessment bonds where the courts have held the same to be general obligations of the municipality

(g) The amount of all delinquent taxes on real estate in such proportion as such taxes are certain to be collected except such amount thereof as may have been appropriated as current revenues in the current year's budget

(h) The amount of current revenues which are applicable within the current fiscal year to the payment of the principal of any debt

(i) The amount of any utility bonds issued for the construction or acquisition of waterworks subways underground railways or the appurtenances thereof where it shall be determined in the manner provided in article six of this act that the net revenue derived from said property for a period of five years either before or after acquisition thereof or where constructed by the municipality after the completion thereof shall have been sufficient to pay interest and sinking fund charges upon said obligations or if the said obligations shall be secured solely by liens upon the respective properties and shall impose no municipal liability but the amount of such utility bonds so deductible shall be the total amount of such bonds outstanding less the amount of cash and investments held in any sinking fund applicable to the payment of such utility bonds as are general obligations

(j) The amount of any bonds legally issued under this act or any other act of Assembly which impose no municipal liability other than such bonds as may have been defined as deductible under the provisions of other clauses of this section

(k) All other solvent debts due the municipality directly payment of which it can enforce as one of its quick assets for the liquidation of any of its debt

Section 203 Increase of Debt by Issuance of General Obligation Bonds by Corporate Authorities and With the Assent of Electors (a) Any municipality may incur debt or increase its debt by the issue of general obligation bonds by vote of the corporate authorities thereof without the assent of the electors to an amount in the aggregate not exceeding two per centum of the assessed valuation

(b) The debt of any municipality except a school district of the first class may be authorized to be increased by the corporate authorities thereof by the issue of general obligation bonds with the assent of a majority of the electors thereof voting on the question submitted at a public election to be held in the municipality to an amount not exceeding seven per centum of the assessed valuation

(c) The debt of any municipality authorized by the provisions of section fifteen article nine of the Constitution to incur debt not exceeding ten per centum may be authorized to be increased by the corporate authorities thereof by the issue of general obligation bonds with the assent of three-fifths of the electors thereof voting on the question submitted at a public election to be held in the municipality to an amount not exceeding ten per centum of the assessed valuation

Section 204 Determination of Amount of Debt Authorized and Issued by Corporate Authorities Without Assent of Electors The amount of the debt authorized or issued and outstanding by the corporate authorities of a municipality without the assent of the electors shall be determined by deducting from the net debt ascertained as provided in this article the amount of the debt authorized or issued and outstanding with the assent of the electors

In determining the amount of debt authorized or issued and outstanding with the assent of the electors for the purposes of this section there shall be deducted from the aggregate of such debt cash and investments in the sinking fund pledged for the payment of such debt and any other deductions under the provisions of section 202 of this article specifically applicable to the payment thereof

Section 205 Desire Ordinance Elections to Authorize an Increase or Indebtedness (a) Whenever the corporate authorities of any municipality by their ordinance shall have signified a desire to make an increase of debt where the assent of the electors is required and shall have called an election for the purpose of obtaining such assent they shall give notice of an election to be held at the places of holding elections in said municipality on a day to be by them fixed for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors thereof to such increase of debt Such notice shall be given in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation not exceeding two published in said municipality and in the legal journal if any designated by the rules of court for the publication of legal notices and advertisements and if no such newspaper is published therein the notice shall be given in at least one newspaper of general circulation circulating generally in the municipality Such election notice shall be published three times at intervals of not less than three days where daily newspapers of general circulation are available for such publication and in the case of weekly newspapers of general circulation and legal journals shall be published only twice once a week for two successive weeks The first publication of such notice shall be not less than fourteen nor more than twenty-one days before the day of the election Such notice may be published at any time after the ordinance shall have become effective

b) The election notice shall contain and state

(1) The date upon which the election is to be held

(2) The amount of the assessed valuation of the municipality

(3) The sum of the gross liabilities the sum of the allowable deductions which are claimed and the amount of the net debt of the municipality

(4) The amount of the proposed increase of debt and

General obligation bonds may mature in other than annual installments in the event that

(a) The last installment of principal shall mature more than twenty-five years and not more than thirty years from the date of the bonds and the aggregate principal amount of the bonds is less than One Hundred Twenty Thousand Dollars ($120,000) Provided that not less than ten (10) per centum of the principal amount of the bonds shall mature by the end of the fifth year after the date of the bonds twenty-five (25) per centum by the end of the tenth year forty (40) per centum by the end of the fifteenth year sixty (60) per centum by the end of the twentieth year and eighty (80) per centum by the end of the twenty-fifth year

(b) The last installment of principal shall mature more than twenty years and not more than twenty-five years from the date of the bonds and the aggregate principal amount of the bonds is less than One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000) Provided that not less than ten (10) per centum of the principal amount of the bonds shall mature by the end of the fifth year after the date of the bonds twenty-five (25) per centum by the end of the tenth year forty-five (45) per centum by the end of the fifteenth year and seventy (70) per centum by the end of the twentieth year

(c) The last installment of principal shall mature more than fifteen years and not more than twenty years from the date of the bonds and the aggregate principal amount of the bonds is less than Eighty Thousand Dollars ($80,000) Provided that not less than fifteen (15) per centum of the principal amount of the bonds shall mature by the end of the fifth year after the date of the bonds forty (40) per centum by the end of the tenth year and seventy (70) per centum by the end of the fifteenth year

(d) The last installment of principal shall mature more than ten years and not more than fifteen years from the date of the bonds and the aggregate principal amount of the bonds is less than Sixty Thousand Dollars ($60,000) Provided that not less than twenty-five (25) per centum of the principal amount of the bonds shall mature by the end of the fifth year after the date of the bonds and sixty (60) per centum by the end of the tenth year

(e) The last installment of principal shall mature more than five years and not more than ten years from the date of the bonds and the aggregate principal amount of the bonds is less than Forty Thousand Dollars ($40,000) Provided that not less than forty (40) per centum of the principal amount of the bonds shall mature by the end of the fifth year after the date of the bonds

(f) The last installment of principal shall mature not more than five years from the date of the bonds and the aggregate principal amount of the bonds is less than Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000)

The purpose of this section is to require serial bonds and to encourage annual maturities without impairing the marketability of the bonds and nothing herein contained shall limit the power of municipalities to authorize bonds maturing at periods earlier than are required hereby

Section 211 Redemption of General Obligation Bonds Prior to Maturity Any general obligation bonds issued pursuant to this article may be made callable in whole or in part at par or at par and a premium or premiums upon such interest date or dates as may be specified in the ordinance When general obligation bonds have been made callable they shall state on their face the date on which or subsequent to which such call may be made and the method of giving notice thereof and the terms upon which such bonds may be called Such notice shall specify if less than all the bonds are to be called for redemption the numbers of the bonds to be called and the place where such bonds shall be presented by the holders thereof for redemption Interest shall cease to run on all bonds specified in said notice after the date fixed in said notice as the callable date

Whenever the municipality shall call for redemption less than the whole amount of any issue of general obligation bonds remaining outstanding the bonds to be called shall be those last maturing of such issue

The municipality may from any funds not otherwise pledged at any time redeem and cancel any general obligation bonds tendered for redemption at not more than par and accrued interest

Section 212 Regulations for Sale of General Obligation Bonds (a) When any municipality shall desire to borrow money and issue general obligation bonds therefor the municipality shall sell such bonds to the highest responsible bidder or bidders after public notice by advertisement in at least one and not more than two newspapers of general circulation published in the county in which such municipality shall be situated and in the legal journal if any designated by the rules of court for the publication of legal notices and advertisements Such notice shall be published three times at intervals of not less than three days where daily newspapers of general circulation are available for such publication and in the case of weekly newspapers and legal journals shall be published only twice once a week for two successive weeks The first advertisement shall be published not less than fifteen days before the day fixed for the opening of bids

(b) General obligation bonds may be advertised for sale in accordance with this section and may be conditionally sold before or after the ordinance authorizing the issue of such bonds has been adopted by the corporate authorities thereof but if advertised for sale prior to the adoption of such ordinance such advertisement shall first be authorized by a proper resolution of the council or corporate authorities as the case may be

(c) The notice shall contain (1) a general description of the general obligation bonds to be sold (2) the manner place and time of the sale or the time limit for the receipt of proposals (3) the name of the officer to whom bids or proposals shall be delivered (4) a statement that bidders must accompany their bids or proposals with a certified check cashiers check or treasurer's check drawn to the order of the municipality or its treasurer or a sum of money equal to not less than two per centum of the face amount of the general obligation bonds offered for sale to secure the municipality against any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid or proposal and (5) a statement that the general obligation bonds will be sold and delivered to the purchaser only if and after the proceedings authorizing the issuance of such bonds have been approved by the department as required by article three of this act where such approval is required

(d) Every bid or proposal shall be in writing and shall be placed in a sealed envelope sufficiently labelled to indicate that it is a bid or proposal for general obligation bonds by the bidder before being delivered to the officer designated to receive the same

(e) At the time and place fixed in the notice the bids or proposals shall be publicly opened in the presence of such officer or officers of the municipality as may have been designated for such purposes

(f) The highest responsible bidder shall be the one who having complied with the conditions of sale offers to take the whole amount of general obligation bonds offered for sale at the least interest cost to the municipality which shall be determined by deducting from the total amount of interest to be paid on account of such bonds during the life thereof the amount of the premium offered if any over and above the face amount of the bonds offered for sale In the case of callable bonds the life of the bonds shall be figured to the respective maturity dates rather than to the call date or dates In the event that two or more bidders offer to take an identical return the one proposing the lowest rate of interest shall be deemed the highest responsible bidder and if two or more bidders having offered to take an identical return also propose the same rate of interest the bonds may be awarded and sold to either or with the consent of the bidders to them jointly

(g) The council in the case of cities and boroughs and the corporate authorities in the case of other municipalities shall have the right to reject all bids or proposals and advertise the sale anew by the publication of a notice in manner and form as provided in this section

(h) No bids for general obligation bonds at less than par value and accrued interest shall be accepted

(i) The deposit required of each bidder shall be returned to each unsuccessful bidder immediately upon the award of the general obligation bonds or the rejection of all bids In the case of the successful bidder the deposit shall be held by the treasurer and be applied on the purchase price when the bonds are actually delivered and paid for

(j) No municipality and no officer thereof shall enter into any agreement in connection with the issuance or sale of bonds purporting to bind the municipality to deposit or leave on deposit in any bank bank and trust company or trust company any sum of money and all such agreements shall be null and void and of no effect

(k) Where general obligation bonds shall be advertised for sale and no legal bid has been received then it shall be lawful for such municipality to sell the same or any part thereof at private sale for not less than par and accrued interest at any time within six months from the date of sale in accordance with the terms originally advertised and at a rate of interest not exceeding the maximum rate originally advertised

Section 213 Application of Bond Proceeds The proceeds of the sale of general obligation bonds shall be used for the purpose or purposes specified in the ordinance authorizing said bonds except where a change of purpose has been authorized under the provisions of section 216 of this article If for any reason any part of the proceeds is not applied to or is not necessary for such purpose or purposes such unexpended part of the proceeds shall be paid into the sinking fund for such issue of bonds unless otherwise applied under the provisions of section 216 of this article

The cost of preparing issuing and marketing general obligation bonds shall be deemed to be one of the purposes for which the bonds are issued

Each municipality shall keep such accounts as will readily show the proceeds of each issue of bonds hereafter marketed and the application of the proceeds thereof

Section 214 Assessment Bonds to be General Obligations All bonds hereafter issued by any municipality for the payment of the principal and interest of which assessments of benefits against property are pledged shall be general obligation bonds and shall pledge the full faith and credit of the municipality Such general obligation bonds shall be supported by a tax levy as required by this article but the amount of assessments received and deposited in the sinking fund may be applied against the amount of the annual tax levied for any succeeding year or years

No assessment bonds shall hereafter be issued which rest alone on special assessments of benefits and purport to impose no municipal liability

Section 215 Annual Statement of Indebtedness The council in the case of cities and boroughs and the corporate authorities in the case of other municipalities shall at the end of each fiscal year cause to be prepared and published in at least one and not more than two newspapers of said municipality or of the county if so many are printed therein a statement showing in detail (a) the gross liability and net debt of the municipality ascertained as provided in this act (b) the amount of the assessed valuation (c) the assets of the municipality with the character and value thereof (d) the date of last maturity of the respective forms of funded debt thereof (e) the assets in each sinking fund and a neglect or failure so to do shall be a misdemeanor punishable by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr Speaker, as one of the co-sponsors of this bill I feel it is only proper to rise at this time and compliment the gentlemen of the sub-committee of the standing committee on State Government. Those gentlemen who put in many hours of work upon a measure which was drawn up for the benefit of those who were born in this Commonwealth prior to 1906. They should be complimented because of the necessity of this type of legislation. This legislation will enable those born previous to 1906 to receive a certified copy of birth upon presentation of satisfactory evidence to the Clerk of the Orphan's Court for determination by the judge of the Orphan's Court in each respective county. It will also benefit those who must have sufficient evidence to obtain old age pension and other gratuities which are given to them through federal or state grants.

I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that the many hours that were put upon this bill by the gentlemen who were on the sub-committee are appreciated and they should be complimented for placing in my opinion, I would say, the finest legislation that has been placed before this House during this session.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. HAMILTON, from the Committee on Townships, reported as amended, House Bill No. 828, entitled:

An Act to further amend section eight hundred two of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103), entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," further regulating the making of contracts and purchases by the townships.

Mr. GRYSKEWICZ, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as amended, House Bill No. 788, entitled:

An Act to promote the general public health and welfare by regulating the business of "strip mining" or mining coal by removing the overlying soil or strata therefrom; authorizing the Department of Mines to issue permits for "strip mining" operations; requiring those proposing to engage in strip mining operations to file a bond with the Department of Mines to secure the leveling and replacement of the surface soil; imposing certain additional duties upon the Department of Mines and the various mine inspectors; and providing penalties.

INTERROGATION

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, in this morning's issue of the Philadelphia Inquirer appears the following quotation from the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman:

"We have completed our studies of taxes and appropriations," the Democratic leader said. "I want to impress that it was a difficult task due to the fact that the budget as presented by the Governor was inaccurate."

I would like to ask the gentleman from Monroe whether he is properly quoted?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. I would like to ask the gentleman from Monroe in what respect was the budget inaccurate.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. As to revenues, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Monroe tell us what studies the Appropriations Committee has made as to the revenues?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. The studies, Mr. Speaker, consisted of a constant and regular check of the receipts of the various taxes during the biennium, keeping in touch daily; a comparison of the last eleven months of this fiscal year with the comparable period in the preceding fiscal year; a study of the income of Pennsylvania in relation either to increased or decreased income, with the resultant correlation of taxes collected to income; a projection of the income of the United States in relation to the State of Pennsylvania to determine if the income of Pennsylvania was more or less constant as compared with the income of the United States; ascertaining of what we feel is a constant percentage of return; an effort to compute the income of Pennsylvania over the coming two years of the biennium, with the resultant study of the anticipated revenues from taxes now on the books with those contemplated.

Mr. TURNER. Will the gentleman tell us whether from those studies he believes the estimates are too high or too low?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Without hesitancy, Mr. Speaker, they are too low.

Mr. TURNER. Will the gentleman tell us, Mr. Speaker, in the taxes what estimates are too low?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. In practically every field, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Well, "practically every field" is not an answer. Will the gentleman tell us what taxes?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I am not prepared, Mr. Speaker, I do not have the information at my desk. As a matter of fact, my office is now working, getting that typed up, and as I stated in the same release that the gentleman quoted from, it will be available later in the week.

Mr. TURNER. The article that I have before me, Mr. Speaker, does not have that quotation.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Then I am sorry, Mr. Speaker; apparently they do not quote me in full.

Mr. TURNER. Will the gentleman tell us, Mr. Speaker, the total amount that his estimates show of an increase?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, those figures are not completed and are not available at the moment.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will the Appropriations Committee prepare a tabulation with a statement of its reasons and prepare that for the Members of the House, so that they may have it available next week?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. It will be available next week to the Members of the House, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman give us the approximate totals?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would say somewhere between twenty-five and twenty-eight million dollars.

Mr. TURNER. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House adjourn until Monday, May 19, 1941, at 8 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 11:23 a. m.) the House adjourned.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1941. 135th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 25. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 19, 1941. No. 55,

SENATE

MONDAY, May 19, 1941

The Senate met at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS offered the following prayer:

With the spirit of the day but yesterday celebrated, our Father, in which our nation repledged her faith in the American way of life, we would pray that that spirit may continue to captivate our imagination each day and in all sincerity and pride we my ever say: "I am an Amercan."

To review before the public consciousness the fundamentals of our government, the sacrifices and patriotic devotion exemplified by its founders, the struggle for the preservation of our integrity, the goodly heritage which is ours and the benefactions which accrue to a representative government, should cause our gratitude to be unparalleled unto Thee the Giver of all good gifts.

We commend unto Thy Fatherly care and keeping Senator Jaspan as he passes through these moments of sorrow at the passing of his brother unto his eternal reward.

May our concentration upon things eternal produce a consecration of self to be outstanding in our continued conquest of life's great struggle, that as Americans we may be workmen for Thee who are unashamed.

Do Thou quicken our minds and consecrate our hearts in preparation for the faithful discharge of our duties here this day. We pray in the Redeemer's Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SCARLETT and Mr. COLEMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr DiSILVESTRO asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. JASPAN, on account of the death of his brother.

Mr. CAVALCANTE asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Washington. Mr. REED.

EXTENDING SYMPATHY TO SENATOR JASPAN ON THE DEATH OF HIS BROTHER

Mr. DiSILVESTRO offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, agreed to:

In the Senate, May 19, 1941.

Herbert S. Jaspan, known affectionately to thousands of devotees of tennis as "Herb," and brother of the Honorable H. Jerome Jaspan, died Saturday, May 17, 1941, at his home in Philadelphia.

"Herb," at fifty-two was one of the most respected and admired sports writers in the City of Philadelphia. His entire adult life was devoted to sports and sports reporting and during the thirty years he acted as a reporter he served on the Philadelphia Inquirer, North American, Evening Bulletin, Associated Press, New York Sun, New York Tribune and since 1925 with the Philadelphia Evening Ledger.

During these thirty years all who knew him, and this embraced all outstanding tennis players in the United States and all tennis enthusiasts in the eastern United States, grew to love and admire Herb for his innate sense of fair play, his love of the net game, and his hatred of everything unsportsmanslike and unfair.

The newspaper profession, especially in Philadelphia, has lost a member who throughout his distinguished career maintained the highest traditions of the profession.

Herb was an outstanding national as well as international authority on tennis. He covered all national and international matches, his rating of players was final and authoritative and he was always consulted by the United States Tennis Association relative to the merit of players, the site of tournaments and in all other important matters relative to the net game.

The Senate of Pennsylvania mourns the passing of this distinguished citizens of the Commonwealth and hereby directs the Secretary of the Senate to mail copies of this resolution to the widow and children of the deceased, as well as to all other members of his family conveying thereby the heartfelt sympathy of the Senate to them in their great bereavement.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, when this resolution was presented, were we on the regular order of resolutions?

The PRESIDENT. The resolution just presented was by unanimous consent. It was simply because of the nature of the resolution that it was taken out of its regular order.

REPORT FROM STATE PLANNING BOARD

The PRESIDENT. The Chair lays before the Senate a communication forwarding copies of report of the Pennsylvania State Planning Board, of the Department of Commerce. Copies of the report have been distributed to the Senators. The communication and notice of receipt of the report will be noted in the Journal.

COMMUNICATION EXPRESSING GRATITUDE ON BEHALF OF 28TH DIVISION AND 104TH CAVALRY

The PRESIDENT. The Chair lay before the Senate communication from Edward Martin, Major General, Commanding, at Indiantown Gap, addressed to the Members of the General Assembly, which the Clerk will read and which will be spread upon the Journal.

"HEADQUARTERS 28TH DIVISION
INDIANTOWN GAP MILITARY RESERVATION

Pennsylvania, May 19, 1941.

"Members of the General Assembly,
"Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
"Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

"My dear Sirs:

"May I express the gratitude of all of the officers and men of the 28th Division and of the 104th Cavalry now in training at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation for your action in making appropriation of $125,000, for the construction of an auditorium at the Reservation.

"There has been evident through these early months of the training year of the troops now at the Reservation a great need for such a building. Its construction will permit the assembly of an entire brigade in one place in any kind of weather for instructional or recreational purposes. It will as well permit the assembly for similar purposes of all officers or of all non-commissioned officers on duty at the Reservation. When this building is completed it will be an ornament to the Reservation, a facility of great service to the troops, and a credit to the Commonwealth

Most sincerely,

(Signed) EDWARD MARTIN,
Major General, Commanding"

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, on page 221 of the Senate history there appears House Concurrent Resolution, Serial Number 207. I was informed last week in connection with this resolution that it has been lost. I desire to inquire from the gentleman from Allegheny whether a diligent search has been made and a diligent effort made to find that resolution. That is the resolution which deals with the investigation of state hospitals.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I do not understand what my colleague from Philadelphia means by "being lost."

Mr. SHAPIRO. I was informed last week, Mr. President, that this resolution was lost or mislaid. I only used two words, not three, in my inquiry.

Mr. GELTZ. Let me answer that question, Mr. President, by saying I never heard anything about that resolution being lost, mislaid, strayed or stolen, as a matter of fact.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I suppose then, Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny was not here when the statement was made when the resolution appeared to have been lost, or was lost.

Mr. GELTZ. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia mean here on the Senate floor?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Yes, Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. GELTZ. My attention must have been engaged elsewhere, Mr. President, at the time; I do not recall that statement.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should now like to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Ealy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I repeat the question to the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Ealy: is it not true that at the last session of the Senate last week it was stated that Resolution No. 207, which deals with the appointment of a joint legislative investigating committee to investigate state hospitals, had been lost or mislaid?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I remember a statement of that nature, but whether it was made by the Senator from Philadelphia or some other member of the Senate I do not recall.

Mr SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Somerset.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the gentleman from Philadelphia may proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman state whether it is not true that there have been either one or two meetings of the Republican Caucus in connection with that resolution.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, there have been meetings of the Republican Caucus each week. For the last couple of weeks we have had a couple of meetings each week. I think this question was discussed but I do not believe any final, definite action was taken on it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in view of the fact that this resolution has been on our Calendar and History since the 25th of March, when it came to the Senate after having been approved by the House, and since there can be no question about it that there has been plenty of time for the members of the Senate to consider it, and since, as has been stated by the gentleman from Somerset, the matter has been discussed in the Caucus of the Republican Party, and since I have been informed on the floor of this Senate, not by myself but by some one else, in the presence of the rest of the Senators in public session of the Senate, that the resolution appears to have been lost, I now offer the following resolution, which I propose to read myself so that the gentlemen of the Senate may follow it. It is on page 221 of the History of House Concurrent Resolutions in the Senate, and it is, word for word, a copy of the resolution introduced in the House by Mr. Achterman. The only difference between that resolution and the one I now present is its sponsorship, for which I apologize.

Mr. SHAPIRO offered the following resolution which was twice read.

In the Senate, May 19, 1941.

Whereas, Newspapers have carried reports concerning the operation of certain state hospitals within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which, if true, show an extremely reprehensible situation existing in such state hospitals; and

Whereas, There have been charges made that certain trustees and supervisory officials have committed criminal acts; and

Whereas, Certain state hospitals have lost their official standing and rating with the American Medical Association; and

Whereas, The conduct of certain trustees of state hospitals has resulted in unfavorable criticism of the operation of said hospitals; and

Whereas, If these charges are true, the situation calls for immediate attention by the legislative branch of the government to remedy such a condition; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House concur), That is another change; in the original resolution it said "If the Senate concur" That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint a committee of three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a committee of three members of the House to act as a legislative committee to investigate the maintenance, operation and conduct of all state hospitals within this Commonwealth, and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee, because of the urgency of the situation, report to the General Assembly as speedily as possible, with appropriate recommendations.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 39

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I object.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. GELTZ. I object, Mr. President, to immediate consideration.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire further to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO Will the gentleman from Allegheny state the reason for his objection?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, my colleague from Philadelphia himself states there was such a resolution introduced in the House and sent to the Senate for concurrence, which was referred to Committee, and until such time as it is established it is not in the committee's possession, I think this resolution, which is similar, is entirely out of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the gentleman from Philadelphia may proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will be gentleman state whether it is not true that such a resolution may be adopted, if no objection is made, without reference to any committee?

Mr. GELTZ. Certainly that is true, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman agree, Mr. President, that the subject matter of this resolution is a matter of importance to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to the citizens?

Mr. GELTZ. If, Mr. President, the statements contained in the resolution be true, then it would be a matter of importance to the Commonwealth. That is one of the matters for consideration by a committee and the reason why such resolutions are referred to committee.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Allegheny advance the reason for the fact that the original resolution has been in committee since March 25, 1941, as I have just read.

Mr. GELTZ. I have nothing to do with that, Mr. President; that is a matter for the committee.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman state whether it is not true that the resolution and the subject matter of the resolution has been a matter of discussion by the members of the Senate, at least on the Republican side, in Caucus and otherwise.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I will state nothing to my colleague from Philadelphia about what has been a matter of discussion in the Republican Caucus, because I think he is out of order when he makes such an inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair does not think the inquiry is out of order. However, it is not necessary for the gentleman from Allegheny to answer.

Mr. GELTZ. Then, Mr. President, I refuse to answer any question relating to what was discussed in the Republican caucus.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Warren, Dr. Chapman, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Warren permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHAPMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman from Warren state whether it is or is not true that House Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 207, which was passed by the House of Representatives and sent to the Senate, has been lost by his committee.

Mr. CHAPMAN. No, Mr. President, I do not recall it is in my committee. It has probably been lost.

Mr. SHAPIRO. According to the History of the Senate, Mr. President, it was referred to the Committee on Public Health March 25, 1941. Will the gentleman from Warren state whether that resolution is in his committee?

Mr. CHAPMAN. I do not think it is, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The gentleman from Warren does not think the resolution is in his committee?

Mr. CHAPMAN. No, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman from Warren state whether or not there has been a meeting of the committee concerning that resolution?

Mr. CHAPMAN. There has been, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. There has been, Mr. President?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Has there been any action taken?

Mr. CHAPMAN. I do not wish to discuss that matter, Mr. President, openly on the floor of the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not asking the gentleman from Warren what action was taken, I merely asked whether there was any action taken?

Mr. CHAPMAN. I think there was action taken. Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. There was action taken?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Yes, Mr. President. May I explain my answer to the members of the Senate?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Warren may proceed.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Perhaps I know as much as any one in the Senate about these various hospital investigations. I am a member of the committee investigating the Shamokin Hospital, which we have been investigating since the beginning of the Session, and it is a big problem to investigate one hospital. How much larger a proposition would it be to investigate all the hospitals of the state? I have investigated a number of hospitals, Mr. President, and as I have investigated various hospitals I find nothing especially wrong with the other hospitals of this state. I am not making a report on the Shamokin Hospital investigation at the present time, but I think the investigation proposed by the gentleman from Philadelphia is purely political and I find no basis for further action in the matter of this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. There has been objection to immediate consideration and the resolution is referred to the Committee on Public Health.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the matter of reference of bills or resolutions, to committees is a matter purely for the Chair to decide, but may I merely suggest I think it is unfair to the gentleman from Warren to burden him with two similar resolutions. I think also it is unfair to burden the gentleman from Warren with the full responsibility of this matter. However, if the Chair feels that is where the resolution belongs, after what has developed here, I am perfectly satisfied the Chair is using his good judgment.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion it should be referred to the Committee on Public Health, as this resolution is identical with the one which has not been reported out.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING UNITED MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA

Mr. COLEMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, May 19, 1941.

Whereas, The newspapers of this Commonwealth carried the foreboding news last week that all the anthracite coal miners would go on strike, effective sometime this week; and

Whereas, This ominous news created great anxiety and mental distress in the hard coal regions of this Commonwealht, because of the great hardship and sacrifice such a strike would impose on all citizens of the hard coal areas, irrespective of their station in life; and

Whereas, Many residents of the hard coal regions felt a walk-out at this time would be even more disastrous than the strike held in 1925, which was almost fatal to this great industry; and

Whereas, It was announced today that an amicable agreement had been entered into between the United Mine Workers of America and the anthracite coal operators which would stave off the imminent walk-out for at least a two year period; and

Whereas, Under the terms of this agreement, the pay of the mine workers has been increased, and they have been given paid vacations for the first time in eighteen years; and

Whereas, Under the terms of this contract the coal operators are now cooperating with the mine workers, so that there shall be no interruption in the mining operations, so necessary and vital to the national defense; and

Whereas, The ability of both capital and labor in the anthracite region to reach an amicable understanding presages a new and glorious era for anthracite, one of the world's greatest fuels; and

Whereas, This development is of great importance to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which is the greatest anthracite producing state in the Union; be it therefore

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania congratulates the United Mine Workers of America for their great victory, and felicitates the coal operators of this Commonwealth for their conciliatory and friendly attitude toward labor, and for their cooperation with the President of the United States in his plea for a better understanding between labor and capital in the interests of national defense; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed by the Secretary of the Senate to the President of the United Mine Workers of America and to the president of the anthracite coal operators' association.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution,

(The following occurred during the reading of the resolution:)

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this resolution, the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COLEMAN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. CARR. Do I understand, Mr. President, that passage of this resolution will brand anthracite coal as the greatest fuel in the world.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, the interrogation of the gentleman from Butler carries with it the subtle suggestion that myself and the distinguished gentleman from the western part of the state may become involved in a controversy over the merits of oil and anthracite as a fuel.

Mr. CARR. Not anthracite—bituminous, Mr. President.

Mr. COLEMAN. I am sorry, Mr. President. Personally, I believe, and that is the purpose of the resolution, that anthracite has for a long period of years proven it is the greatest fuel in the Commonwealth. However, Mr. President, rather than have the Senate refuse immediate consideration, if the gentleman from Butler feels that is stretching it just a bit too far, I shall be delighted to have that portion of the resolution deleted and thus preclude the possibility of rejection of unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the resolution.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, if the gentleman from Lackawanna will change the wording of the resolution to the effect that anthracite coal is a wonderful fuel or a great fuel, and eliminate the stated superiority over bituminous, I will agree to immediate adoption of the resolution.

Mr. COLEMAN. In line with the tenor of the resolution, which is of a conciliatory nature, in which we point out the friendship existing between capital and labor, as evidenced by this agreement, and imbued with the same spirit which brought about this agreement, I shall be delighted if the reading clerk will so arrange to have incorporated the change suggested by my friend from Butler.

Mr. DENT. I suggest that in the amendment we use the word "hardest fuel."

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, a simple amendment would be to say, "anthracite is one of the world's greatest fuels," and I think we could go along with that wording.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, in order to avoid a lot of writing on the part of the clerk, I think the insertion of just that one word or two will carry out the suggestion of the gentleman from Butler and I very kindly thank the gentleman and shall accept that suggestion.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the clerk will correct the resolution in line with the suggestion of the gentleman from Butler. After the correction has been made the clerk will read the particular section in order that there may be no misunderstanding as to the true meaning of the resolution.

The resolution, corrected as appears above, was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 141, entitled:

An Act providing that a juvenile court adjudication against a juvenile shall not bar his appointment to a position with the Commonwealth or its political subdivisions.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 207, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsections (a) and (b) of section one thousand two hundred five of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by further regulating the employment, suspension, and retirement of professional employes go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 296, as follows:

An Act to re-enact and amend the title and act approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 748), entitled "For the registration and regulation of certain individuals and entities selling contracting to sell or dispose of attempting or offering to dispose of soliciting offers to buy or inducing holders thereof to exchange securities defined herein including securities issued by them or engaging in the business of inducing holders of securities to effect the sale thereof in order to produce funds to pay for other investments sold by them or in the business of buying securities directly from individuals who are not registered thereunder providing for the revocation and suspension of registrations conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Securities Commission and otherwise providing for the administration of this act providing for appeals to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania conferring jurisdiction upon the several courts of common pleas to issue injunctions against violations of this act and prescribing fees and penalties" providing for the regulation and registration of persons and entities engaged in the business of investment advisers and of solicitors of investment advisers and for the revocation and suspension of such registrations conferring additional jurisdictions upon the courts of common pleas and further regulating the business of buying and selling securities

Section 1 The title of and the entire act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine entitled "An act for the registration and regulation of certain individuals and entities selling contracting to sell or dispose of attempting or offering to dispose of soliciting offers to buy or inducing holders thereof to exchange securities defined herein including securities issued by them or engaging in the business of inducing holders of securities to effect the sale thereof in order to produce funds to pay for other investments sold by them or in the business of buying securities directly from the individuals who are not registered thereunder providing for the revocation and suspension of registrations conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Securities Commission and otherwise providing for the administration of this act providing for appeals to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania conferring jurisdiction upon the several courts of common pleas to issue injunctions against violations of this act and prescribing fees and penalties" are hereby reenacted and amended to read as follows

NAYS—2

Mallery,	Shapiro,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 624, as follows:

An Act to further amend clause seven of section one thousand two hundred ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L.

309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" increasing the minimum salaries of teachers in school districts of the fourth class and providing for the payment of the whole of such increase by the State for a period of two years

Section 1 Clause seven of section one thousand two hundred ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 328) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1210 One The minimum salaries of all teachers supervisors principals and superintendents in the public schools of the Commonwealth except as otherwise hereinafter provided shall be paid by the several classes of districts in which such persons are employed in accordance with the following schedules

* * * *

Seven Districts of the fourth class Elementary teachers minimum annual salary one thousand dollars ($1,000) high school teachers minimum annual salary of one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200)

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one For the school years one thousand nine hundred forty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-two and one thousand nine hundred forty-three the Commonwealth shall pay to each school district of the fourth class the full amount of the difference between the minimum salaries heretofore prescribed and the minimum salaries prescribed by these amendments

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Homsher.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOMSHER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Lancaster state whether this bill raises or lowers the minimum standards as heretofore set by the school code.

Mr. HOMSHER. It raises the salaries, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Does it raise the salaries as to high school teachers?

Mr. HOMSHER. It raises the salaries of high school teachers, making the minimum of $1,200.

Mr. COX. It was $130 a month before, was it not, Mr. President.

Mr. HOMSHER. It was $130 before, yes.

Mr. COX. And the minimum salary of grade teachers was $900, was it not?

Mr. HOMSHER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. That is, $100 a month based on the basis of a nine months school term?

Mr. HOMSHER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, if the bill introduced by the gentleman from Lancaster were passed, would it have the effect of cutting out the increments that have formerly been prescribed by law.

Mr. HOMSHER. I do not think so, Mr. President. I can not find anything in the school code which permits the board to reduce salaries which have been already fixed.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, from my examination of the school code, I would be inclined to agree with the gentleman from Lancaster, but it seems that Section 7 of the school code of Pennsylvania, page 139, permitting such minimum salaries, is the section the gentleman from Lancaster wishes to amend. Is that true, Mr. President? I am not talking about the pamphlet laws; I have the code here. I am using this so that it will be easier for the purpose of reference.

Mr. HOMSHER. To which section is the gentleman from Allegheny referring, Mr. President?

Mr. COX. To page 139, section 7, districts of the fourth class.

Mr. HOMSHER. Yes, Mr. President, and what is the question?

Mr. COX. Would the bill of the gentleman from Lancaster have the effect of cutting out increments previously prescribed by law?

Mr. HOMSHER. No, Mr. President, I can not find any such provision and I do not think it affects the increments which have already been given to teachers and who now command a higher salary.

Mr. COX. On page 3 of the bill, Mr. President, it specifically states "the provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July, 1941" and it goes on to state that the difference between minimum salaries heretofore prescribed and the minimum salaries prescribed by these amendments is to be paid by the Commonwealth. Mr. President, is that based on this minimum of $1,200 which the gentleman has stated is to be paid high school teachers and $1,000 to elementary teachers plus the increments provided by law?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr President, it is simply based on the increased amount of money which it will be necessary to pay by reason of enactment of this bill.

Mr. COX. I have asked a question, Mr. President, and I would like to have it answered. If the gentleman from Lancaster is not certain as to the provisions I would appreciate it if the bill could go over in its order until we can talk the matter over.

Mr. HOMSHER. I think I answered the question, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. I am very much concerned with this, as is the gentleman from Lancaster, and the question that came to my mind, after study of the bill, is that the gentleman has increased the salary of elementary teachers, that is true, but it is not true the gentleman has increased the salary of high school teachers; he has cut them down.

Secondly, Mr. President, in determining the amount to be paid by the state, I would like to know if the state would be paying the difference between the minimum salaries, as stated. For instance, Mr. President, as I understand it the minimum salary for high school teachers I understand, is $1,200 under the law as it stands at the present time, and it contains an annual increment of $50 for each of four years.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, if a teacher receives increments paid by the Board of Directors over and above the amount of $1,200 the state does not have to bear more than its proportionate share under the subsidy plan.

Mr. COX. I perhaps am very dense, Mr. President, but I still do not know whether this bill would apply in the case of a teacher who has taught five years and who would be entitled to an annual salary of $1,400.

Mr. HOMSHER. It does not apply to that teacher, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. I would appreciate it if the gentleman would permit the bill to go over in its order. I do not want to vote against the bill, if my interpretation of it is wrong.

Mr. HOMSHER. I am rather anxious that the bill be passed and be sent over to the House for concurrence.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, the skillful interrogation by my colleague from Allegheny has brought out what appears to some of us to be an admission of a flaw in the bill and in order that we may have the matter clear in our minds I wish to make a motion.

MOTION THAT BILL GO OVER IN ITS ORDER

Mr. COLEMAN. Therefore, Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 624 go over in its order.

Mr. COX. I second the motion, Mr. President.

Mr. GELTZ. I object, Mr. President, and ask for a roll call.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GELTZ and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15

Barr,	Dent,	Lanius,	Ruth,
Cavalcante,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Coleman,	Frey,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Cox,	Haluska,	McQuiddy,

Deitrick,	Letzler,	Thomas,	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,	Mallery,

So the question was determined in the negative

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I might state I am very much disappointed with the action of the Senate on this bill at this time. There has always been a certain senatorial courtesy in a matter of this kind, when it is obvious the individual who asks the courtesy is sincere about it. I think it would have been little enough for the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, to have permitted the bill to go over in its order for one day, until we could have studied it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not usually depend on the legal viewpoint on an act but I look at the practical viewpoint and from what I can see after looking the bill over there is no question in my mind whatsoever the bill does not provide in any way, shape, or form for any increment.

It does not take into consideration the fact that the Democratic House, in conjunction with a great many Republican members over there, voted to pass a bill over here to the Senate and it is over here and in the Education Committee, and provides practically the same salary, if not the same salary basis, as is contained in this bill now. However, it did give an increment for service and I do not see any difference in a teacher who graduates from the same school teaching in a third class city, for instance, and living in the township, and a teacher who lives in a city of the third class and teaches in a township. I can see no reason why there should be any difference whatsoever in the annual income, and I think the question is one which deserves more consideration than it is being given now.

Certainly we will all have to vote for it—I do not see how anyone present can vote against the bill, but the question is whether the increase is enough, and whether we are being fair to those teachers. Regarding the question whether the bill should go over in its order, we are in the position now where we have to vote for the bill regardless of what the bill looks like.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, there has been a bill introduced previously in the Senate, which is now in the Appropriations Committee, which was introduced in accordance with the Governor's budget, providing an appropriation of fifty thousand dollars for the appointment of a commission to study the school situation in Pennsylvania. Among other things to be considered is the subsidy plan, which we know today is out of date; it does not work well.

Today, Mr. President, we have fourth class districts which are distressed, we have third class districts which are distressed and we also have in both classes districts that are not distressed and have a very low tax rate. Therefore at this time if we pass a bill with increments and put any of the burden on those districts we are going to create more distressed districts, and it is apparent to me if we put a provision for increments in this bill we are going to create a troublesome situation, and to me it seems we should by all means pass this bill and then at the next regular session of the Legislature we should await the report of this joint commission and the matter can be adjusted and teachers given proper salaries, which they should have.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not believe the question of whether fifty thousand dollars ought to be spent for an investigation of the school system of Pennsylvania has any bearing at all on the argument before us now. We had better take that fifty thousand dollars and pay the underpaid school teachers

I have been here for seven years, Mr. President, and have witnessed a great many studies, particularly in connection with school matters, and I think in 1937 and in 1939 there were studies made and recommendations made and none of them have ever been followed or carried out by the members of the Legislature.

Suppose we do now spend fifty thousand dollars and study the problem. In 1943 perhaps the complexion of the House and the Senate may be changed a little and they will not pay any attention to that study at all and they might want to go out and spend fifty thousand or a hundred thousand dollars more.

Mr. President, you have a State Government Commission set up to do exactly what this resolution calling for fifty thousand dollars is supposed to do, that is, make a study of various state functions and make recommendations to the Legislature. It is not necessary to spend fifty thousand dollars to find out that teachers in fourth class school districts are underpaid.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, we wanted this bill to go over in its order for a day in order that we might offer amendments to make sure increments were provided in the bill. By the vote already taken they have shown that if we did offer amendments they would be voted down. I am well aware of that.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, it seems to me there is quite a lot of misconception as to what might be accomplished by this bill. The gentleman from Westmoreland says he does not think any Senator should vote against the bill. I agree with him; I agree with him one hundred per cent.

Mr. President, this bill provides that $2,400,000 each year be taken out of the state treasury and added to the salaries of teachers in fourth class districts. That to my mind is most commendable and it ought to be done. We have all recognized for a number of years that teachers in fourth class districts do not get proper remuneration. There was an attempt some years ago to give them an increase in salary, which was tied to an unconstitutional tax bill. This is no attempt to give them a myth instead of a reality, this is an attempt to take money out of the treasury of the state by direct appropriation to cover this entire expense and that to my mind seems to be entirely commendable.

Now, Mr. President, some of the gentlemen seem to think it is a mistake to make further study of the subsidy question. The subsidy question is one that personally I have lived with for twenty years now and I claim to have some little knowledge of its history. You can never get a proper basis for adjusting expenses between the state and the school districts except by a very careful study of conditions in all parts of Pennsylvania. We have too many school districts; we have too many school districts with different conditions and a rule that might work well in one would not work well in another.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think a study ought to be made, and I hope it will be made with the unanimous support of every member of the Legislature, and when it is made then I would be very glad to see something more done for these fourth class districts teachers, but at the present time it is a real question; here is $2,400,000 a year and it affects a very large number of teachers, thirty or forty thousand teachers, I think the total would be, and it affects a number of school teachers who in past years have not shared in the prosperity of the state to anything like the same degree others have done.

Now, Mr. President, if there is an opportunity to do something for them, let us do it with a will and let us do it cheerfully; it seems to me it is much better statesmanship to give them something we know we can give them than to give them a promise of something when we do not know how it can be fulfilled.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I might state that my concern over school teachers of Pennsylvania is because of the fact I am a former school teacher. I taught school for thirteen years; I was principal of a high school; there is not any member of this Senate who has been closer nor is closer today to school teachers and the school teaching profession than I am myself.

Last week our colleague from Lackawanna, Senator Coleman, delivered one of the most beautiful speeches I have ever heard. You will recall that he used a trilogy in which he set forth that the Church, the Home and Mother were three of the dominating forces, constructive forces, in our civilization, and I would like to add a fourth, the school teachers of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, when I read this bill there were several things I did not understand and for that reason I wanted to have an opportunity to talk with the sponsor, which has been denied to me, but it did do this, I got hold of the school code and I studied the salaries, the minimum and the maximum salaries, as determined by previous sessions of this Assembly, which was a very interesting study.

I found, for instance, Mr. President, the maximum salary of elementary school teachers in first class cities was $2,200; the maximum salary of high school teachers in first class cities is $3,200; I find that the maximum salary of elementary teachers in second class districts was $1,800; that the maximum salary of high school teachers in second class districts was $2,200; I found in third class districts the maximum salary of elementary school teachers was $1,400 and the maximum salary of high school teachers in third class districts was $1,600.

I find today that these gentlemen who are so sincerely concerned over teachers in fourth class districts are satisfied that the maximum salary of the elementary school teachers shall be one thousand dollars and that the maximum salary for high school teachers shall be twelve hundred dollars.

I do not think there is any more I can say, except that there can be no reason for such a great discrepancy between first class and fourth class school districts.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just want to say again from a practical viewpoint, I was going to use the word "measly" in connection with the raise being given to school teachers that it will only make up the difference between what they paid for food and shelter last year, in fact, I should say it will hardly make up the difference between what they paid last year and what they are going to have to pay this year.

Any person who is watching the food market or the clothing market or the rental market knows very well the increase in clothing, the increase in food prices, the increase in rents will be far above the amount which is contained in this bill as an increase in wages or salaries to school teachers.

There is no use in men sitting around and kidding themselves into thinking they are giving anything to the school teachers because at the end of the year they will not have any more left than they had last year or the year before.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman fom Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. I will, Mr. President; perhaps that will give me an opportunity to say what I wanted to say. Go ahead.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Will the gentleman from Montgomery definitely anwer, yes or no, the question of whether or not this bill disturbs the system of increments for fourth class district teachers as it is now provided by the laws on the statute books?

Mr. EDMONDS. This bill does not touch the question of increments at all; it deals with the minimum, and the minimum alone.

What I wanted to say a moment ago, Mr. President, was that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cox, has proven my case as to the necessity for this school survey commission. It is perfectly true that salaries fixed in 1921 were so fixed after the best study that was had at that time and they were done with a very fine spirit of loyalty to the public school system, but twenty years have elapsed since that time and there ought to be a new study conducted along precisely the same lines as the Finnegan Study made in 1921.

If any attempt is made by anybody to play politics with an inquiry of this kind, he ought to be booted out of civilization by unanimous consent of both parties. This ought to be a movement which will be studied, and studied with great care, with the idea of getting the best school system for Pennsylvania it is possible for us to get, and when the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cox, says there are inequalities in subsidies at the present time, I agree with him, but I say further we are trying our level best to work out a plan of changing them and I think it can be done.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provision of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

REQUEST THAT SENATE BILL 653 GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. McQUIDDY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 653, on second reading, entitled:

An Act regulating and improving the civil service departments and agencies of the Commonwealth, vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing for classification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls, imposing duties upon certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth, authorizing service to political sub-divisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making an appropriation and repealing certain acts and parts thereof.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I object.

MOTION THAT SENATE BILL NO. 653 GO OVER IN ITS ORDER

Mr. McQUIDDY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 653, go over in its order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I second the motion, Mr. President.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I should like to be instructed in a matter of parliamentary procedure.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, as I understand procedure, when a member rises and asks unanimous consent that a bill go over in its order, if one Senator objects, that is the end of it and we do not have to go through with a roll call.

The PRESIDENT. A motion is always in order. According to the Chair's understanding, the gentleman from Lawrence, Senator McQuiddy, asked unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 653 go over in its order; there was objection; then the gentleman from Lawrence moved, seconded by a number of Senators, among whom was the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that the bill go over in its order.

The Senate is now about to act on the motion, that the bill go over in its order, and a roll call has been requested thereon.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TALLMAN and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14

Barr,	Dent,	Lanius,	McQuiddy,
Cavalcante,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Coleman,	Frey.	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
Cox,	Haluska,

Crider,	Homsher,	Tallman,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crowe,	Kephart,	Taylor,	Woodward,
Deitrick,	Letzler,	Thomas,	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. McQUIDDY. Mr. President, on April 15 I introduced Senate Bill No. 623 in this Senate and two-thirds of the language of this bill, Senate Bill No. 655, is a direct copy of the lauguage of the other bill. I have asked the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Tallman, for a hearing or a conference on this matter concerning the matter which was brought out in my bill, which provided far more safeguards for civil service, creating a real civil service bill. This bill has been entirely ignored by the committee and the reason I asked that this bill go over in its order was that we might get together either with the committee or a sub-committee, in order to consider the merits of the two bills, and consolidate the same. I shall also ask that Senate Bill No. 654 go over in its order also, as the bill was split in two parts.

Mr. TALLMAN Mr. President, I regret very much the gentleman from Lawrence feels the way he does about this situation and I merely want to say I resent very much the implication of plagiarism on my part with relation to these bills.

Mr. President, I want to advise the Senator from Lawrence in 1939 I introduced a civil service bill which was very similar to the one which has been introduced by me now, except that this one is extended to additional departments.

I want to advise the gentleman from Lawrence that I too have given this matter serious study, over the period of the last two years, and this bill is partially a result of that study. As far as a conference with the gentleman from Lawrence is concerned, Mr. President, he did ask for it and I told him I thought we would be able to sit down but unfortunately neither his time nor mine has permitted that possibility. I will say to the gentleman now if he desires to sit down with me tonight I will be very happy to sit down with him. I do fear, however, Mr. President, there are some fundamental differences between this bill and the bill of which the gentleman from Lawrence spoke, on which we will not be able to see eye to eye.

Mr. McQUIDDY. I assure the gentleman from Lehigh I will be glad to sit down with him, because there are fundamental differences in the bills; the bill I propose covers the subject in a more thorough manner than the bill under discussion.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I do not know why the gentleman from Lawrence should make a statement on the Senate floor with reference to two-thirds of the wording of these two bills being similar, because the Senator from Lawrence, Mr. McQuiddy, agreed with me last week that in any civil service bill which would be prepared the wording would be taken from the usual wording supplied by the civil service merit rating and similar associations. At that time, Mr. President, I discussed that with the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. McQuiddy and I told him if he would look at the civil service bill which I introduced in the 1939 Session, as well as the bill introduced by the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Tallman, he would probably find that two-thirds or three-quarters of the language of his bill looked like it had been taken from previous bills, so that he knew that well before he made that statement here on the floor, and I think the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Tallman, is perfectly right in resenting the inference made in this chamber

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong the argument between two gentlemen of the Senate, lest it launch the gentlemen of the press into singing one ditty of that popular verse, "Somebody Stole My Bill."

Mr. President, I think the best answer, is that the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Tallman, and the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. McQuiddy, both thought of the same bill about the same time, which is an exemplification of the old adage about great minds running in the same channel.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 654, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two hundred two and four hundred fifty-two of the act, approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for the reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges, abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards and commissions, defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers, providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards and commissions and precribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," as amended, in order to establish the State Civil Service Commission as a departmental administrative commission in the Executive Department.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 663, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relating to honest mistakes published in newspaper and periodicals; defining the same; prohibiting punitive damages in actions of libel arising out of such publications; and fixing the burden of proof in reference thereto.

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further consideration.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 683, (House Bill No. 1228, entitled:

MOTION THAT SENATE BILL 705 (HOUSE BILL 897) GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I now move that Senate Bill 705 (House Bill 897) go over in its order.

Mr. GELTZ. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

Mr. COX. Roll call, Mr. President.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise on a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BARR. A vote "aye" on the motion is a vote that the bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. BARR. I vote "no," Mr. President.

And the question recurring

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COX, and were as follows, viz:

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I vated "aye."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 691, (House Bill No. 1093), on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee on the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the secand reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 734, (House Bill No. 1373), entitled:

An Act to amend part of section two of the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (Appropriation Acts of one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, page sixty), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine; and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine," by making the appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs for the use of the Pennsylvania National Guard also available for the use of the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 752, (House Bill No. 580), on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-four of the act, approved the sixteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred thirty-six (P. L. 784), entitled "An act relating to the jurisdictions and powers of courts," by further defining the power of courts to punish summarily for contempt, and setting up a period of limitations.

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further consideration.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 784, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section four hundred three of the act, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 565), entitled "An act relating to the powers and duties of the Department of Banking and the Secretary of Banking in exercising supervision over, and taking possession of and conducting or liquidating the business and property of, corporations, associations, and person receiving deposits or otherwise transacting a banking business, corporations acting as fiduciaries, and building and loan associations; providing for the payment of the expenses of the Department of Banking by supervised corporations, associations, or persons, and appropriating the Banking Department Fund; authorizing the Department of Banking, under certain circumstances, to examine corporations, associationsfi or persons affiliated, or having business transactions with supervised corporations, associations or persons; authorizing appeal to the Supreme Court, and prescribing and limiting the powers and duties of certain other courts and their prothonotaries, registers of wills, recorders of deeds, and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; authorizing certain local public officers and State departments to collect fees for services rendered under this act; providing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts," further regulating the publication of advertisements and notices required under the provision of said act.

go over in its order because of mistakes in printing.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Before that happens, Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOMSHER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. This bill started out as a simple bill providing for the advertising of certain notices where there was no paper of general circulation in the county. As I looked at the bill yesterday and this morning I found three pages of amendments. Can the gentleman from Lancaster tell me the purpose of this amendment which is being introduced now?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, the bill as originally introduced was erroneously drawn and referred to the wrong section of the banking code. Subsequently amendments were drawn and I introduced them without comparing them and I now find the bill is pretty well muddled up in its present shape.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I suggest, Mr. President, as I read these amendments that they change the purpose of the original amendments. The original bill was for the purpose of dealing with the question of advertising. This new amendment deals with the form of reports or information to be contained in certain information to be furnished to the departments. It strikes me this means a new bill; if there is any real merit in the purpose of the new amendments there ought to be a new bill because it seems to me this bill is now entirely different from what it was.

Mr. President, I renew my motion that Senate Bill No. 784 go over in its order, because I should like to study it tonight, and if it is wrong I shall ask that it be recommitted tomorrow.

It was agreed to.

Which was committed to the Committee on Aeronautics.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GELTZ. In the Session of 1939, Mr. President, there seemed to be considerable concern on the part of a great number of Senators with the fact that there were not sufficient facilities to take care of all those persons who needed care, who were suffering from tuberculosis. Because of the great interest shown at that time, particularly by our colleagues on the other side, I am sure they will be interested in a report from the State Department of Health which I shall now read.

The State Department of Health announces that on and after the 15th of May, 1941, all waiting lists of tuberculosis sufferers for admission to the State sanatoria are absorbed, not only making it possible for every sufferer with tuberculosis to be admitted just as soon as the diagnosis is made and the application filed through the Department's Tuberculosis Clinics, but leaving approximately 800 beds open and empty awaiting the admission of patients.

This is the first time in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania since the establishment of the Department of Health in 1906, when there was not a waiting list. In the last twenty years the waiting list ran anywhere from 700 to 1600 patients waiting for admission to the various sanatoria.

The tuberculosis control program of the State of Pennsylvania with necessary sanatorium care, now compares favorably with any State in the Nation. This can rightfully be described as the first gesture of the Department of Health and the medical profession of this State as their contribution towards better public health to the Defense Council and the defense program of the State of Pennsylvania.

This has been made possible first because of the tuberculosis program of the State of Pennsylvania, instituted by the Department of Health with the establishment of a Bureau of Tuberculosis Control on January 1, 1940, and so ably managed by the Director of that Bureau in the person of former Surgeon General Charles R. Reynolds, and second because of the united support of the medical profession and the various volunteer agencies throughout the State, together with the fact that the tuberculosis clinics throughout the State have been so ably managed and scientifically brought up to date with newer methods of diagnosis and X-ray studies.

Finding an empty bed for an infectious case of tuberculosis certainly removes the danger of further infection of the various contacts of that particular infectious case.

This has also been made possible because for the last two years the Department of Health and its personnel have worked long hours towards the completion of the extensions at Mont Alto and Hamburg Sanatoria and also have worked diligently for the completion of the equipment of these extensions.

A drive is now being instituted by the Department of Health to find cases of tuberculosis in its early stages which will be a great saving to the State and to the individual and will remove sources of further infection as well as get the cases completely cured within a much shorter time.

Pneumothoraxtations will also be doubled during the next biennium to take care of the cases after leaving the sanatoria and to rehabilitate them for further usefulness in their various occupations.

With the removal of the waiting list, with the programs being instituted for control of tuberculosis, it will be only a short while until Pennsylvania will lead the Nation.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to add a word on behalf of myself and those of us who have been interested in tuberculosis for many years to say just this, that up until 1940, in previous administrations, for five years I have been endeavoring to get the Health Department of Pennsylvania to adopt a procedure which existed in Philadelphia and many other places for a number of years. I do not know how many of our citizens know it, but in Philadelphia for the last five years any person suffering from tuberculosis in any incipient stage and one who could be called ambulatory, was able to walk into a clinic which exists in Philadelphia and get pneumonthorax treatments, rest for a half an hour and go back to work.

Mr. President, there are many ways in which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was lacking in its management of the Health Department, particultrly with respect to tuberculosis, which could have resulted in what we do today five years earlier. In other words, the same kind of situation which exists in mental hospitals, the deficiency in mental hospitals in some districts, is the same as exists here. What we call the admission department is the department which functions in segregating cases, those which are ambulatory from those which have to be bedridden, and when you segregate those cases and find the ones that can receive ambulatory treatment you then make room, take them out of beds and make room for those who can not get immediate treatment until they are brought back to the ambulatory stage.

There has been a development in tuberculosis during the last fifteen years which has been known and which has been in operation in many states other than Pennsylvania, which I want to say, to his credit, Dr. Shaw began in 1940 to install and that is a clinic which gives these diagnoses and gives treatment by pneumothorax and this diagnosis even goes to the point of phrenic operations or thorocaplastic operations, and as a result of the installation of that surgical treatment and diagnosis, there has been this taking up of cases that were on the waiting list.

Mr. President, there still remains one more thing to be done, and I recall having discussed the matter with Doctor Shaw and the chairman of the Appropriation Committee, the gentleman from Warren, Doctor Chapman, only three weeks ago, and that is an important function that must be done by the State and if it will make a real effort it can eliminate tuberculosis.

Now, Mr. President, that sounds fantastic but it is not, because in other states it is being done and it has been accomplished. That means the segregation, the searching out, of all tubercular incipients and the segregation of those particular cases from the rest of the family and once that program is inaugurated, while it may cost a few millions of dollars in the beginning, it will save millions of dollars to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I am in hopes this budget can afford to give Dr. Shaw and his department sufficient money to enable him to do what they have done in Chicago, which is to subsidize doctors and give them so much for x-rays of every child and every adult in every family that they visit, so that those x-rays may be submitted to the state department for an investigation. He is doing that in a measure but he is doing it with limited funds and unless a drive is started on that it does not mean anything. This business of doing it piece meal and in a half hearted fashion gets nowhere and I am in hopes, Mr. President, that the rest of the members of this Senate, when it comes to the question of the budget of the Health Department, will be willing to transfer some of the funds for the purpose suggested by Dr. Shaw and which I would like to emphasize.

I want to say in closing, Mr. President, I think Dr. Shaw has done a splendid job. I do not hesitate to criticize any member of the cabinet when I find I cannot agree with him, but I have said to Dr. Shaw personally and publicly and now I want to say on the floor of the Senate—I do not know what he is doing in the rest of his department—but I do happen to know what he has been doing and is doing in the tubercular section of the Department of Health.

I should also like to suggest the doing of something of equal importance and which should be considered now also, and that is making a drive on penumonia cases and I think in doing that kind of work, he will also accomplish another real result for the state.

I wish all the other departments were as progressive in their important functions as Dr. Shaw was in this one respect. His association with a retired army officer is one of the finest things for the benefit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that has occurred in the Health Department in years. That gentleman is thoroughly competent, has real vision and knows what he is doing and what he is driving at, and for myself I want to say publicly I shall make every effort to try to encourage the work he is doing.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Warren will state his question of personal privilege.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH U. S.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, Blood, sweat and tears have engulfed the world. Homes have been wrecked, firesides have been turned from the happy gathering places of mothers and children into fire stained heaps of rubbish. Children have been torn from the arms of their mothers and tossed into refugee camps while the mothers seek places at the bench in munition plants. The whole scheme of life for millions upon millions of the people of the world has been changed [and thrown awry.] The old order has passed and the new order of the minions of the dictators has been imposed on 19 countries. Like the tentacles of an octopus the armies of the ruthless warlords have pinioned free peoples. And still the rampant conquerors march on. Lives, property, and morals have been erased from whole sections of the globe.

Treaties have become worthless. Solemn pacts are cast aside; efforts of statesmen have come to naught and the murderous clique of Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, and Japan's Son of Heaven has become know as a quartet of liars and thieves. No treaty, pact, or agreement is sacred to them. There is no oath to which they would subscribe which is binding. And yet in our land there are men who are pleading for a negotiated peace. They are asking that we save America by becoming a party to a move for peace with the unleashed beasts of mankind. Lindbergh, Nye, Wheeler, LaFollette, Kathrine Norris and others are taking the rostrum and urging that the people of the land wire or write their legislators to halt America's program for defense and all-out aid to Britain and take the lead for peace.

But what a peace they would have! Imagine Hitler with undisputed Atlantic bases and islands; a legal claim on Dutch and British possessions; mastery of Africa; control of the greatest fleets in the world and 150,000,000 slaves to do his bidding. And if we should withdraw our help and England should fall, it would give Hitler possession of the great navies of England and France and the shipbuilding, armament, and aircraft factories of Great Britain, France, Holland, and Czecho-Slovakia, enough to assure the Axis permanent advantage over the United States.

And should we withdraw our help and Britain fall, Japan would have final victory over China; could conquer Singapore and the East Indies and the United States rubber supply; a position to conquer Australia and the Philippines.

Think men what it would mean leaving only the Western hemisphere open to a free way of life! Think you that we would not soon be strangled by an economic drive and eventually by naval and military forces and we would fall. Is it a pleasant picture? Take a minds-eye view of the map of the world if England should perish and think of what chance your sons would have in an Axis dominated sphere.

I tell you, men of this Senate, that the United States must speed up and cease bickering and stalling and get down to work to speed the day when Great Britain will have air supremacy over the Axis. Our secretary of war has pointed out our needs in no mincing words and the appeals of Churchill have resounded in no uncertain terms.

There was never a time in all of the history of our land when the outlook was so dark. There has never been a time when unity was so necessary.

But in all of this gloom there is a ray of light. It is the runout on Hitler by the No 3 Nazi, Rudolph Hess. It is the great enigma of the war. Is Hess a traitor or a decoy; sane or insane?

Hess, at the beginning of the war when Hitler called his group together and named his heirs in event of his death, was placed as his No. 3 man. Hess had gone to prison with Hitler; there made the notes of the barking speeches that Hitler inflicted on his fellow prisoners and laid the foundation for the writing of Mein Kampf. Hess was the leader in the campaigns that led to the Jew baiting in Germany, and to the confiscation of their properties and the raping of their daughters. Like Hitler, he is at heart a beast, a liar, and a rapist.

His sensational flight of 800 miles to England's shores and his dropping in a parachute from the skies has furnished speculation in every newspaper in the land. Possibly the true story of his flight will not be known until after the war.

I expect him to tell the British Hitler's war secrets. Like Admiral Darlang of France, he will talk. Darlang, after the battle of Oran, whispered into the Hitler ear all of the British naval secrets that he knew and had learned while an ally of the British. I think Hess will become known as one of the outstanding traitors of history.

The prime traitor of the United States, of course, was Benedict Arnold. His story is known to every school boy. Washington tried to send Arnold's wife to him under the British flag, but I don't expect Hitler to forward the wife and son of Hess to England. History's pages are filled with traitors.

Alcibiades the Athenian general who, facing criminal charges at home, joined the Spartans [and Syracusians] and fought his native Athens and Athens lost the decision. Then Alcibiades again double crossed his friends and turned against the Spartans and led the Athenians' fleet against them. He was finally murdered by the Spartans. But like all traitors, every time he flopped to a new ally, he gave away his old ally's secrets. It seems like an old traitor's custom to betray the secrets of his old pals to his new gang.

Hess must know the German warlord's plans; he must know what is going on inside of Germany and I take it that he will talk, and talk long and loud. I can't think that the Germans are so dumb as to try to send him to England as a decoy. England's secret service has had too much experience with decoys.

And somehow I feel that inside of Germany there is a seething group that feels England cannot be beaten. They have seen their cities blasted by the bombs from the ever growing air force of John Bull; they have seen their homes burn and their wives and children die and they know that the efforts of the United States are not yet in full gear. To that end I feel that Hess, with a keen realization of final defeat for Germany, tried to instill that feeling into the Germans and aroused the ire of Hitler. I cannot but believe that it was life in England or death in Germany for Hess, and he took a chance on England.

For a time I felt that Hess would not neglect his wife and son but I have learned that his married life was unhappy; he did not care for his wife and she had been shoved into the background. His son is too young to be punished except for the effect it would have on Hess. But I feel these things were weighed by the Nazi No. 3.

So I take it the flight of Hess is a straw showing that the zephyrs that have been wafted through Germany are becoming gentle breezes, that some of these days, under the pounding of Germany by the RAF will grow into a gale. Pray God that day may be hastened.

Pray, too, that the men and women of America will get behind their government and make haste with all possible aid to Britain and will turn a deaf ear to the Tories and copperheads who are endeavoring to obstruct the plans of our nation to be strong. Rumania tried a negotiated peace but the efforts broke down and they were engulfed and now Turkey is facing the honeyed smiles of Von Ribbontrop, and will soon be under the iron heel of the Nazi goose-steppers.

Negotiated peace cannot be made with any person who is devoid of honor, devoid of a sense of decency; devoid of a sense of the righteousness of mankind. Let us not make the mistake of following a will o' the wisp that will eventually lead us into chaos and the loss of the things which we hold dear.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, May 20, 1941, at 1:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 6:05 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, May 20, 1941, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, May 19, 1941

The House met at 8 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, at the opening of this legislative session, we pause to express our thanks to Thee for another week-end of rest and relaxation; of communion and meditation within Thy House. May we have returned better fitted to carry on the work of State. May each hand that holds the instrument whereby acts become laws be dedicated to the best interests of the people within this Great Commonwealth. Keep before each Representative not only the honor which is his to represent his State, but more so the privilege that comes to him to assist in the enactment of such laws that will vouch safe the democracy of the State and Nation of tomorrow.

Pour out Thy blessing of wisdom and understanding upon the President of these United States and those in authority with him; upon the Governors of the States; upon the legislative bodies; yea, even upon the least of those who endeavor to preserve peace. In Thy name we pray. Amen

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Thursday, May 15, 1941.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Thursday, May 15, 1941, when, on motion of Mr. ROONEY, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

REPORT OF CAPITOL GROUNDS EXTENSION PLANNING COMMITTEE

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
State Planning Board, Room 129, Capitol,

Harrisburg, May 19, 1941.

Hon. Elmer Kilroy, Speaker
House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Speaker:

The Capitol Grounds Extension Planning Committee, a Sub-Committee of the Pennsylvania State Planning Board, respectfully submits to the General Assembly its report on "The Proposed Extension of the State Capitol Grounds at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania," a copy of which is attached hereto.

Very truly yours,

(S) F. A. PITKIN,
Executive Director

The SPEAKER. The communication will be noted upon the Journals of the House and the report will be printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

COMMUNICATION

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Headquarters 28th Division,
Indiantown Gap Military Reservation,
Pennsylvania, May 19, 1941.
02/b

Members of the General Assembly,
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

My dear Sirs:

May I express the gratitude of all of the officers and men of the 28th division and of the 104th Cavalry now in training at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation for your action in making an appropriation of $125,000.00 for the construction of an auditorium at the Reservation.

There has been evident through these early months of the training year of the troops now at the Reservation a great need for such a building. Its construction will permit the assembly of an entire brigade in one place in any kind of weather for instructional or recreational purposes. It will as well permit the assembly for similar purposes of all officers or of all non-commissioned officers on duty at the Reservation. When this building is completed it will be an ornament to the Reservation, a facility of great service to the troops, and a credit to the Commonwealth.

Most sincerely,

(signed) EDWARD MARTIN,
Major General, Commanding.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House this evening a former member from Washington County, Mr. John L. Post.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BROWN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in the many years that I have had the pleasure of serving here, I do not believe once the record will show that I have taken the time of the House to make a statement.

However, I do appreciate the fact that the Speaker has accorded me the consent of the House at this time to make a brief statement, something which I think is important to the people of this nation.

We are celebrating throughout the nation this week what is known as "I am An American Day", and yesterday we were called upon to re-dedicate and re-consecrate our lives to the principles of our democratic form of government, that form of government which we believe to be right and which we think should be perpetuated; that form of government which is based upon laws and not upon men. I believe it was the philosopher Rousseau who said that the greatest thing in politics is to have a form of government which is based on laws and not upon men. He compared that task to the test of squaring the circle in geometry.

George Washington, the first President of this Country, as he presided over the constitutional convention answered Rousseau when he said "Ours is a Country of laws rather than a Country of men." And so it is fitting and proper that we should just for a brief moment stop and pay our respects to the country dedicated to law rather than to men, as I am sure all of us want to see it preserved.

It has been said by many writers of history that our republic is the only form of government that originated with freedom as the fundamental principal upon which the government rests. They tell us that behind our government was no feudal state, no aristocracy, no wealth, but that it was formed of freedom, something little known in the history of other countries in the past. And we cherish that freedom, we want to see it preserved. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask you to let me say something that is on the hearts of thirteen million people of my race who form a great part of this country born of freedom.

May I call your attention to the fact that this country, having its birth in freedom has always defended freedom. It is remarkable to note that even in our country the greate struggles have been for freedom. We have always challenged the invasion of freedom. The thirteenth, the fourteenth and the fifteenth amendments to the constitution of the United States came as an answer to those who desired freedom for the members of my race, but still we were not free.

During the last twenty years we have still had a struggle for freedom, freedom for the worker, freedom for the wage earner, freedom from the sweatshops, from starvation wages, the struggle for economic freedom. Today all that we have worked for is in danger. It is in danger not only from threats from without but likewise in danger from thrats from within, and it is on the question of threats from within that I wish to address you.

As I said I am speaking on behalf of thirteen million American Negro people whose loyalty cannot be questioned. The thing that moves me to make these remarks is something that happened in one of our sister States on last weef, a lynching which occurred in the State of Florida, and I want to read to you a report printed in the Pittsburgh Press on Saturday. The report reads as follows and is found on the first page of the second edition of that paper.

> "According to the newspaper accounts the lynching of a Negro in a little town in northern Florida a few nights ago was an episode which for beastiality, could be matched only in cultural exercises of the super race of Adolph Hitler.
> Suspected but not yet formally accused of criminal assault on a white child, the victim was roped to a tree shot and left for dead, but crawled to a refuge and was there recaptured by a law officer. He then apparently was surrendered without a struggle to a mob which finished him off.
> It should be easy to catch and convict all the murderers but any serious attempt to do so would probably result in either local revolution or such a farce as would further discredit the law and civilization."

Here in parts of this country we are not only denied the equal protection of the law, but apparently we are afraid to even invoke that law after such an outrage has happened for fear, as this article says, "any serious attempt to do so probably would result in either local revolution or such a farce as would further discredit the law and civilization."

I read an article from the Kansas City Star, where the president of one of the largest concerns in the country, a subsidiary of the General Motors which has received a contract of $683,000,000 from the Federal Government for defense equipment has this to say of the Negro:

> "Applications for jobs in the plants where he will employ upwards of ten thousand persons will be received . . ."
> "However, Negroes will be considered only as janitors and in other similar capacities."
> He emphasizes that, "under no circumstances would Negroes be employed as aircraft workers or mechanics in the plant. While we are in complete sympathy with the Negro, it is against the company policy to employ them as mechanics or aicraft workers."

In one section of our country we witness a complete denial of the equal processes of the law, and in another section of the country a complete denial of the right to work to make the equipment that is supposed to protect the democracy under which we live.

You may say the lynching was in Florida, and the other instance was in Kansas, and therefore are of no concern to Pennsylvania. However, we have just passed on second reading a number of appropriation bills. I say to you, Mr. Speaker, it is a travesty on justice, it is absolutely an affront to the members of this House, that institutions whose name appear on our calendar should receive appropriations from the taxpayers' money and deny to the citizens of this State the right to participate in benefits resulting from the use of that money. My colleagues and I intend to vote for these appropriation bills, but it hurts us deeply when we know the law says we should participate, but those who have arrogated to themselves to be above the law say, that we shall not participate.

I want to ask every member of this House whether or not we are entitled to be accorded this treatment in this land of liberty, in this land of freedom, this land which is perhaps the last citadel of freedom left in the world today. Are we entitled to it?

Another thing which brings this so forcibly to my attention is that a few weeks ago in the city of Philadelphia a Negro woman, Marion Anderson, was awarded the Bok award, symbolic of the most distinguished citizen of that great city. We read in the papers today of a Negro by the name of George Washington Carver, of Tuskegee Institute, who received the highest award for humanitarian service from the variety clubs of America, voted by many newspaper editors, magazine publishers, radio commentators and authors acting for the variety clubs.

I could go on into the field of art, into the field of music, into the field of science to tell you that we have come a long way when a man like Dr. Carver, whose autobiography says that he was "traded for a mule"; as a slave his master traded him for a mule, and he finally got some education, went to the institution founded by Booker T. Washington, another son of a slave, and is singled out as the greatest scientist of this country today by this great organization of variety clubs.

In the field of military service we believe we have distinguished ourselves and that our record will match the record of any race in any part of the world. From the time the first shot was fired on Boston Commons, the Negro has played his part in defending our country; throughout the war of 1812 and throughout the Civil War and throughout the Spanish-American War and the last war, we have given the last full measure of our devotion in favor of democracy, and what we have done in the past we still intend to do in the future.

In the field of religion I believe we have made a rich contribution to the spiritual development of this country, because I feel that my people above everything that they may have accomplished, have a conviction in their hearts that they will abide by the Golden Rule, that principle set down for men by the greatest of all law-givers: "do unto others as you would that others should do unto you."

Here in Pennsylvania over a billion dollars have been spent in national defense, yet, we have those in this State who say to us "we have no place for you to work; we have no place for you simply because you are Negroes." On this calendar you will find bills appropriating money to various Military departments of our State, and yet not a single Negro that I know of anywhere in Pennsylvania has been permitted to enlist in the units set up for the defense of this country by these acts. We are called upon to make our contribution, to make Pennsylvania the Arsenal of Democracy, and yet are denied in many instances a right to work, to protect ourselves, and to proect this citadel.

I wish to place this upon the hearts of the gentlemen of this Assembly as it is an indication that things are not right when democracy says to the world "Take our form of government" and yet thirteen million people are accorded the treatment that I have indicated to you tonight.

But we still believe in this country, we still believe that there is time that these wrongs may be corrected, and in that connection may I lay upon your hearts the fact that we cannot put these things off into the future. We used to live from month to month, we used to live from day to day, but the ingenuity of man made it possible that we now live from broadcast to broadcast, and no one knows what will occur in the next broadcast; the world may be made over anew, so we do not have time to look to the future. The present is the future and the future is the present.

We still believe in our country, we are still going to defend our country, but I call upon you gentlemen whom we know are friends of democracy, whom we know are friends of every American citizen, to see that these things are eradicated, if not from our sister states, at least from our beloved State of Pennsylvania so that we will have the one thing that sets us aside from totalitarianism, from Nazism and from Facism, the one thing that sustains us as a democracy, equality of the law and equal protection and equal opportunity under that law.

USE OF HALL OF HOUSE GRANTED

Mr. D'ORTONA asked and obtained consent to use the Hall of the House on Monday, May 26 at seven o'clock p.m. Eastern Standard time to show to the Members of the House and Senate moving pictures of the gas explosion which was investigated by a committee of the House.

Section 410 Computation of License Fees Milk sold and distributed outside of this Commonwealth in any state which charges milk dealers or handlers a license fee may be deducted in the determination of the amount of the license fee required by this act Provided That such quantity of milk is actually computed in determining the amount of such license fee in such other state in computing the license fee to be charged by the commission the fluid milk equivalent of milk other than fluid milk shall be ascertained and fixed in such manner as the commission shall prescribe except in the case of farm-separated sour cream used exclusively in making butter in which case the daily average total quantity of such milk shall be computed according to pounds of sour cream rather than the fluid milk equivalent thereof Nothing herein is to be construed as requiring in the computation of the license fee the inclusion of milk which is received by the applicant milk dealer or handler from another milk dealer or handler subject to license hereunder which milk has been included in the computation of such other dealer's fee or milk which is produced by the applicant dealer or handler and not sold by him to stores or consumers Applicant milk dealers or handlers other than subdealers or subhandlers receiving their entire supply from milk dealers or handlers who have paid a license fee thereon to this commission shall pay the license fee of ten dollars ($10.00)

Section 501 Milk Dealers or Handlers Required to File Bonds It shall be unlawful for a milk dealer or handler to purchase acquire or receive on consignment or otherwise milk from producers unless the milk dealer or handler shall file with the commission a corporate surety individual surety or collateral bond approved by the commission Except as otherwise herein provided the bond shall be in a sum equal to the value of the highest aggregate amount of milk purchased acquired or received by the dealer or handler from producers in any one month during the preceding calendar year which value shall be computed according to lawful prices and shall not in any event exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,0000.00) The bond shall be upon a form prescribed by the commission conditioned for the payment by the milk dealer or handler of all amounts due including amounts due under this act and the orders of the commission for milk [sold by such producers to] purchased or otherwise acquired from producers by the milk dealer or handler during the license year upon such terms and conditions as the commission may prescribe

In the case of a milk dealer or handler who pays producers in full each week for milk purchased acquired or received by him from such producers the bond shall be in the sum equal to fifty per centum of the value of the highest aggregate amount of milk purchased acquired or received by the dealer or handler from producers in any one month during the preceding calendar year which value shall be computed according to lawful prices and shall not in any event exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50-000.00)

Section 502 Computation of Amount of Certain Bonds Milk purchased acquired or received by a milk dealer or handler from producers outside the Commonwealth and sold or distributed by such dealers or handlers as fluid milk within the Commonwealth shall be included in computing the amount of such dealer's or handler's bond except where such dealer or handler has filed a bond for the protection of such producers with the state wherein the milk is purchased acquired or received or with such producers In such computation the amount due for such milk shall be determined according to any applicable official prices or any lawful contract price

A milk dealer purchasing or handler purchasing acquiring or receiving or intending to purchase acquire or receive milk from producers but not so engaged during any month of the preceding calendar year shall file a bond in a reasonable sum to be fixed by the commission and within the time for filing his application such dealer or handler shall request the commission to fix such sum

Section 503 Time of Filing Effective Period of Bond The bond herein required shall be filed with the dealer's or handler's application for a license and shall be filed within the time for filing such application The bond shall become effective upon its being filed with the commission for the entire license year or for that part of the license year in which the milk dealer or handler became engaged in the milk business Any bond filed with the commission shall become effective upon being filed whether or not it is approved by the commission and shall no longer be of effect during the license year only when it has been replaced by a bond approved by the commission to be substituted therefor The bond herein required shall be an obligation independent of the granting of a license and shall remain in full force and effect for and during the license year designated as long as the dealer or handler purchases or receives milk from producers or is indebted to pay producers for any milk delivered during said license year whether or not a license is granted the milk dealer or handler or a license granted the milk dealer or handler remains in force The commission shall determine within a reasonable time after the close of a license year which milk dealers or handlers have paid all amounts protected by their bonds filed with the commission and if the commission finds that all amounts protected by the bond of a milk dealer or handler have been paid it shall thereafter return the bond for said past license year to each such milk dealer or handler

Section 505 Financial Statement A milk dealer or handler shall from time to time when required by the commission make and file with the commission a verified statement of his disbursements or of any other facts in connection with his business during a period to be prescribed by the commission which financial statement shall contain the names of the producers from whom milk was purchased acquired received or handled on consignment or otherwise the amount due to the producers and any other relevant facts required by the commission pertinent to the dealer or handler or the dealer's or handler's surety or sureties

Section 506 Increase or Decrease of Bond If it shall appear from the dealer's or handler's financial statement or from facts otherwise ascertained by the commission that the bond afforded to producers selling supplying or making available on consignment or otherwise milk to such milk dealer or handler does not adequately protect such producers the commission may require such milk dealer or handler to procure an additional surety or to give an additional bond or additional security for the collateral bond in a sum to be determined by the commission which (1) shall not exceed more than fifty per centum of the value of the highest aggregate amount of milk purchased acquired or received on consignment or otherwise by the dealer or handler from producers in any one month during the preceding or current year which value shall be computed according to the prices applicable [and] or which (2) shall be a sum not exceeding by more than fifty per centum the amount found to be due and owing producers by such dealer on a particular date determined by the commission whichever sum is greater but the total increase shall not in any event exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) In the case of a milk dealer or handler who pays producers in full each week for milk purchased acquired or received or handled on consignment or otherwise by him from such producers any increase required hereunder shall not exceed more than twenty-five per centum of such value [and] or amount but the total increase in any event shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00)

The commission may grant a reduction of the bond or the collateral or release an additional surety if it shall appear that owing to a decrease in the milk [purchases of the milk dealer] purchased received or handled by the dealer or handler or to other causes a bond in a lesser amount or with fewer sureties will protect producers selling supplying or making available milk to such milk dealer or handler

Section 508 Interest or Dividends upon Securities The milk dealer or handler shall be entitled to all moneys received by the State Treasurer as interest or dividends upon any security or securities deposited by such milk dealer or handler with the commission and transmitted by the commission to the State Treasurer for safekeeping in accordance with the provisions of this act Provided however That the milk dealer or handler shall not be entitled to interest or dividends if there is on file with the commission a valid unpaid claim of a producer against the milk dealer or handler based on milk sold supplied or made available by such producer to the milk dealer or handler

Section 510 Effect of Order by Commission If by valid formal order refusing suspending or revoking a license after hearing with due notice to all those liable on the bond the commission has found a milk dealer or handler to be indebted thereunder such order and the findings of fact in support thereof shall be conclusive evidence of the amount due under such bond in a suit thereon by the commission unless an appeal therefrom is pending and a supersedeas granted

Section 511 Procedure for Disbursing Proceeds The commission [may] shall prescribe the procedure for the payment out of the proceeds of any bond or collateral required by this article of the amounts found due to producers or handlers or dealers based on sales or deliveries of milk by them to a milk dealer or handler who has posted a bond or collateral Provided however That if the proceeds of a bond or of collateral which has been posted by a milk dealer or handler shall be insufficient to pay in full the amounts due to producers who have sold or supplied milk to such milk dealer or handler the moneys available shall be divided pro rata among such producers

Section 512 Cooperatives A cooperative agricultural association or corporation organized under the laws of this Commonwealth or a similar association organized under the laws of this or any other state or any producers' or farmers' union or organization shall be deemed a producer within the provisions of this article and shall be entitled to its benefits Such an association or corporation if operated for the benefit of producers under contract with it and not conducted for profit shall not be required to file a bond under the provisions of this article

(2) Milk dealers or Handlers to consumers

(3) Milk dealers or Handlers to stores either for consumption [on the premises or resale] at the stores or sale to consumers

(4) Stores to consumers except for consumption [on the premises] at the store where sold

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to empower the commission to fix the price at which milk may be sold by any milk dealer or handler or producer to consumers for consumption on the premises of such milk dealer or handler or producer

The fixing of minimum wholesale or retail prices for skimmed milk condensed or concentrated whole or skimmed milk bulk cream handled between milk dealers or handlers other than stores and ice cream mix shall be discretionary with the commission

Section 803 Prices to Producers The commission shall fix by official order the minimum prices to be paid by milk dealers or handlers to producers for milk sold or delivered or made available on consignment or otherwise by producers to dealers or handlers Provided however That the fixing of prices to be paid by milk dealers or handlers to producers for milk to be used solely in manufacturing shall be discretionary with the commission

Section 804 Classification When pursuant to any statute or regulations or orders adopted thereunder or any ordinance or reasonable trade practice various grades of milk are specified orders of the commission fixing minimum or maximum prices may be applicable to each grade Orders of the commission fixing minimum or maximum prices may vary in different markets and shall designate the markets to which applicable Such orders may likewise classify milk and milk dealers or handlers in any reasonable manner which the commission deems advisable and may vary according to the classes to which they are applicable The orders of the commission with respect to the minimum prices to be paid to producers and others shall apply to the area in which the milk is produced or to the area in which the milk so produced is manufactured sold or distributed as the commission shall provide and may vary in different areas according to varying uses grades and conditions Each such order may classify such milk by forms classes grade or uses as the commission may deem advisable and may specify the minimum prices therefor Other reasonable methods of classification may be prescribed by the commission

Section 807 Violations After the commission shall have fixed prices to be charged or paid for milk whether by class grade use or otherwise it shall be unlawful for a milk dealer or handler or producer [to sell or buy or offer to sell or buy] knowingly or unknowingly or any other person knowingly by himself or through another to sell or deliver or make available on consignment or otherwise or buy or receive or handle on consignment or otherwise or offer to sell or deliver or make available on consignment or otherwise or buy or receive or handle on consignment or otherwise or advertise for sale delivery purchase or receipt or hold one's self out as willing to sell deliver buy or receive milk at any price below the minimum price or above the maximum price applicable to the particular transaction

No method or device shall be lawful whereby milk is bought [or sold or offered to be bought or sold] or received or handled on consignment or otherwise or sold or handled or delivered or made available on consignment or otherwise or offered to be bought or received or handled on consignment or otherwise or sold or handled or delivered or made available on consignment or otherwise at a price less than the minimum price applicable to the particular transaction whether by any discount premium rebate free service trading stamps advertising allowance or extension of credit or by a combined price for such milk together with another commodity or a service which is less or is represented to be less than the aggregate of the price of the milk and the price or value of such commodity or service when [sold or offered for sale] bought or received or handled on consignment or otherwise sold or delivered or made available on consignment or otherwise or offered for sale delivery purchase handling or receiving separately or otherwise

It shall be unlawful for any milk dealer or handler to store manufacture process sell or handle or deliver or make available on consignment or otherwise any milk for which he has paid or agreed to pay a price lower than that fixed by the commission for milk of that class or grade

It shall be unlawful for a milk dealer or handler [to sell or buy or offer to sell or buy] knowingly or unknowingly or any other person knowingly by himself or through another to store manufacture process sell or deliver or make available on consignment or otherwise or buy or receive or handle on consignment or otherwise or offer to sell or deliver or make available on consignment or otherwise or buy or receive or handle on consignment or otherwise milk at a price computed upon false or erroneous weight butterfat test grade or classification or at a price from which have been made deductions not authorized by law or in excess of any deductions so authorized whether such illegal deductions be in the form of excessive transportation charges or otherwise

The act of a director officer agent or other person acting for or employed by a milk dealer shall be deemed the act of such milk dealer

Section 808 Prices of Certain Milk It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that the instant (whenever that may be) that the handling by a milk dealer or handler of milk produced outside of the Commonwealth becomes a subject of regulation by the Commonwealth in the exercise of its police powers the restrictions set forth in this act respecting such milk so produced shall apply and the powers conferred on the commission by this act and particularly by this article shall attach but such restrictions shall not apply to condensed or concentrated whole milk contained in hermetically sealed cans

It is also hereby declared to be the legislative intent that the prices prescribed by the commission for milk produced in this Commonwealth and sold or delivered or made available on consignment or otherwise in this Commonwealth for shipment into and ultimate sale in another state shall not be destructive of the price structure of producers in such other state

Section 809 Cooperatives. It is her by declared to be the legislative intent that no provision of this act shall prevent and no provision contained herein shall be deemed or construed to prevent any cooperative agricultural association or corporation organized under the laws of this Commonwealth or a similar association or corporation organized under the laws of this or any other state and engaged in making collective sales or in the marketing of milk for the producers thereof from blending the net proceeds of its sales or consignments or deliveries in all its markets or of its sales or deliveries within any particular market in various classes and whether in fluid form or as manufactured products both within and without the Commonwealth and paying its producers such blended price with such deductions and differentials as may be authorized under contract between such association or corporation and its producers or from making collective sales of the milk of its members and other producers represented by it or from making such sales or deliveries at a blended price based upon sales or deliveries thereof in the various classes and whether in fluid form or as manufactured products both within and without the Commonwealth which price is to be paid either directly to the producers or to the cooperative agricultural association or corporation. Nothing herein contained shall prevent any milk dealer or handler from contracting for his milk with such cooperative agricultural association or corporation upon such basis but all such contracts shall be upon the basis of the prices fixed by the commision with the result that the net price received for milk by such cooperative association or corporation shall be commensurate with such prices. No milk [dealer] dealers or handlers or agents thereof shall receive from any producer or from such cooperative association or corporation directly or indirectly any discounts rebates free service or compensation through rentals extension of credit or otherwise for the purpose or with the effect of reducing the net cost to the dealer or handler for milk purchased or received by or through such cooperative association or corporation.

No provision of this act shall be deemed or construed to affect the contracts of such cooperative agricultural association or corporation with its producers except as hereinafter specifically provided nor to affect or abridge the rights and powers of such an association or any of its operations Provided however, that the powers of subpoena entry and inspection vested in the commission under this act shall apply for the purpose of examining and auditing books and records of any such cooperative agriculaural association or corporation at reasonable intervals for the purpose of administering this act. This section shall not however be construed to exempt such association or corporation from the jurisdiction of the commission over the prices at which it may sell milk to milk dealers or handlers, stores or consumers.

Any cooperative agricultural association or corporation organized after the effective date of this act or within ninety (90) days prior to the effective date hereof or which if organized over ninety (90) days prior to the effective date of this act was not marketing milk for producers upon the effective date of this act or ninety (90) consecutive days prior thereto shall not be entitled to avail itself of the benefits of this section if it pays or distributes to its producers a price which is more than one and one-half per centum (1½%) lower than the prices prescribed by the commission unless such association or corporation shall furnish reasonable proof to the commission that such one and one-half per centum (1½%) is insufficient to pay such lawful expenses and charges for its operations and maintenance as may be authorized under the contracts between the association or corporation and its producers.

Every cooperative agricultural association or corporation operating under the provisions of this section shall file with the commission a copy of its certificate of incorporation and by-laws and a copy of each form of contract employed in its relations with producers within sixty (60) days after the effective date of this act.

Section 904 Pleading and Service. The appeal provided by this article from action of the commission shall be by petition against the commission officially as defendant alleging therein in brief detail the action and decision complained of and praying for a reversal thereof. Such petition shall specify the petitioner's objections to the action and decision of the commission and shall state facts in support of such objections sufficient to constitute a prima facie case and any objection not so specified and supported by facts shall not be considered by the court. Every such petition reciting facts shall be supported by oath or affirmation and the petition shall include as part thereof under oath or affirmation an averment that the appeal is not filed merely for purposes of delay.

Upon service of a summons upon the commission returnable at least ten (10) days from the date of service the commission may on or before the return day file a motion to dismiss the appeal raising questions of law or attacking the form or sufficiency of the petition. If such motion is not sustained the commission shall be given leave to file an answer within not less than ten (10) days after the order of the court overruling the motion.

On or before the return day of such summons served upon the commission or within the time allowed in an order of the court denying a motion to dismiss an appeal the commission [shall] may file an answer which shall deny or admit the allegations of fact in the petition and which may also allege by way of defense the grounds for its action or decision. If no answer is filed by the commission the case shall be at issue without further pleadings as though an answer had been filed denying all the allegations of fact in the petition.

Upon the filing of an answer by the commission or if no answer is filed then on the return day or at the expiration of the time allowed for answer by an order of court the case shall be at issue without further pleadings and upon application of either party the case shall be advanced and heard without further delay.

Section 1003 Actions to Enforce Compliance. The commission or any person marketing committee union or association composed of persons affected by the orders, rules or regulations of the commission may institute such action at law or in equity as may appear necessary to enforce compliance with any provision of this act or to enforce compliance with any rule regulation or order of the commision made pursuant to the provisions of this act.

Section 1101 Milk Control Fund. All moneys collected or received by the commission arising from license fees penalties permits or any other source shall be paid by the commission into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue and shall by the State Treasurer be placed in a separate fund to be known as the "Milk Control Fund." Fines imposed under this act shall be payable to and collected by the commission and similarly placed in the Milk Control Fund.

Moneys collected or received by the commission that are not funds of the Commonwealth but are due to producers, dealers or handlers for or on account of milk acquired or received by dealers or handlers from producers or other dealers or handlers and placed in the Milk Control Fund shall be paid to the persons entitled thereto by the State Treasurer as directed by the commission.

Section 2. This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as this bill has been reported out of the Law and Order Committee, I would like to have the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, tell me why it is being referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, a bill similar to this, I believe introduced by Mr. Nagel and Mr. Gates,—incidentally introduced prior to this bill, was referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special. It happens to be an amendment to the Penal Code. The only difference between the other bill and this one is the amount of the fine. Since the penal code has in the past been handled by the Judiciary Special committee, I feel that this measure should be recommitted to the committee which considers that particular type of legislation. In that connection I understand that the parties interested in measures or bills involving this particular subject have requested a hearing before the Law and Order committee of the Senate, who have a measure of this nature and at the same time desired a hearing on the measure in the House. I believe in view of that fact it would be wise for the committee that is going to have a hearing in conjunction with the Senate to have all measures on the subject in order that they can act intelligently and expeditiously on the matter after the hearing.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, pointed out the fact that a certain bill which is not before this House, with an earlier number was submitted to the Judiciary Special committee. I assume from the fact it is not on the floor of the House that the Judiciary Special committee never even considered this particular bill. Further, the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, mentioned the fact that the Law and Order committee of the Senate was considering a similar bill to the bill which I sponsored. It seems rather strange to me that in the Senate of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, they should refer a bill dealing with the same problem to Law and Order committee, when House Bill 1188 was submitted to the Law and Order committee, and the Law and Order committee after due consideration submitted it to the floor of this House for a vote.

The Judiciary Special Committee from my knowledge has never acted on this bill referred to by the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, and I rise to oppose this bill being recommitted to Judiciary Special Committee, inasmuch as the Law and Order Committee of the House had considered this bill, and even should it be recommitted for the purpose of a public hearing, in due respect to the Law and Order Committee it should be recommitted to that committee for the purpose of a public hearing.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have just conferred with the Chairman of the Judiciary Special Committee of this House, and he advises me to the contrary. They had considered the particular legislation that I mentioned is similar to this bill except as to the amount of fine involved. As a matter of fact he has entered into an agreement with Chairman of the Law and Order Committee of the Senate, Mr. Letzler, who has made arrangements for a public hearing. It would therefore seem that the proper thing to do, would be to refer the bill to the committee that is going to have a public hearing on the subject.

As far as referring this particular bill to the Law and Order Committee of the House is concerned, I am not going to offer any excuse or explanation as to why this particular bill went to the Law and Order Committee instead of the Judiciary Special, except to point out one particular fact, that amendments to the penal code have been consistently sent to the Judiciary Special Committee. The gentleman thinks that this bill should be sent to the Committee on Law and Order. The Senate may follow a different procedure. That is of little moment to the Members of this House; the question is what is the procedure in this House, and my motion now is in confromity with the procedure in this House, and the committee that has made arrangements for the hearing is the committee that ought to receive this particular legislation for its study and for a public hearing, and I therefore ask the members to vote for the motion.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the opportunity of interrogating the Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary Special.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, permit himself to be interrogtaed?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr O'BRIEN Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman how and on whose authority the Chairman of the Judiciary Special Committee met with the Chairman of the Law and Order Committee of the Senate in order to arrange for a public hearing on a bill that was not submitted to his committee.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the question has four points, and I will endeavor to take them up separately. First, the bill was taken up with the committee, and upon the request of the Chairman of the Law and Order Committee of the Senate who sent word to me that he would like to have a public hearing. I then was requested to consult with Senator Letzler, which I did about a week ago, and gave him authority to set a time for interested people to come before the body, and asked him to advise when the meeting would be set and my committee would be delighted to sit with him.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, to explain how he could meet with the chairman of the Law and Order Committee of the Senate to discuss a public hearing on a bill that was not in his committee.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, we only discussed, as far as I was concerned, House Bill No. 792, which was in my committee, and when I received word that the gentleman wanted to speak with me, I went over to the Senate, and there he was, and we met.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, you know, I always wanted to be a lawyer. I always had great admiration for the Philadelphia lawyers, but I shudder to think that all I am asking is a simple question in relation to House Bill 1188, Printer's No. 511, which is No. 7 on page 41 of today's calendar. This is the bill that we are discussing. The gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, has pointed out the fact that the chairman of the Judiciary Special Committee has got together with the chairman of the Law and Order Committee of the Senate in relation to a bill that emanated from the Law and Order Committee of the House to hold a public hearing on that particular bill.

Now, there is no question in my mind that maybe I cannot follow the procedure of this House; it seems funny to me that a bill that is before the Law and Order Committee would be discussed by the chairman of the Judiciary Special Committee in relation to a public hearing, and it is for that reason that I oppose the motion of the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, to have this bill recommitted to the Judiciary Special Committee.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 543, as follows:

An Act authorizing cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships to abate certain interest charges and penalties added to municipal claims imposed or assessed for certain improvements prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of such claims for a certain period preserving the liens of such claims and providing for the extension thereof

Section 2 This act shall be construed to apply to all such claims whether or not liens for such claims have been filed in the office of the prothonotary of the county or proceedings for the collection of such claims have been instituted in any court in said county or where real property has been sold to a county city borough town township school district or poor district at a judicial sale for the nonpayment of such claim and the period of redemption has not expired but this act shall not be construed to apply to cases where real property has been sold other than to a county city borough town township school district or poor district at any such sale and where the period of redemption has not expired and the person liable for the payment of such claim shall be liable for the payment of all costs incurred in such proceedings except the solicitor's fees

Section 3 The benefits of this act shall extend to and accrue to any successful bidder or purchaser at sheriff's or other judicial sale grantee transferee mortgagee or other party in interest in the parcel or parcels of real estate against which the above-mentioned claims have been imposed or assessed and levied

Section 4 Any taxpayer shall have the right to pay the delinquent claims imposed or assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate without being required to pay the delinquent claims imposed or assessed and levied against any other parcel or parcels of real estate in the same ward district or other political subdivision

Upon application either in person or in writing by any person liable for the payment of any such delinquent claims the authorities imposing or assessing and levying such claims or the person or person charged with the collection of such delinquent claims or the person or persons in whose custody the records of such delinquent claims are kept shall furnish to the person liable for the payment of such claims a statement of the delinquent claims owed by him to such political subdivision showing the face amount the interest charges penalties expenses and fees and costs or other charges in detail against such real property as shown by the records in his custody

Section 5 In order to enable the taxpayer to receive the full benefits of this act no real property shall be sold for nonpayment of such municipal claims before January first one thousand nine hundred and forty-two and any such sale shall be adjourned or readjourned as often as may be necessary for this purpose If any sale is adjourned or readjourned after advertisement no additional advertisement or notice shall be necessary for the adjourned or readjourned sale No such adjournment or readjournment failure to advertise or hold any such sale shall invalidate the lien of any municipal claim due and unpaid but the lien of all such claims shall be fully preserved until February first one thousand nine hundred and forty-two in order to give the city borough incorporated town or township authorities an opportunity to revive any such liens when payment is not made under the provisions of this act Provided however That in every case where a person avails himself of the privileges or benefits of this act the period during which payment of the said delinquent claim is postponed or continued under this act shall not be included in computing and determining whether or not any right of the authority which imposed or assessed such claim has been barred or lost by reason of the provisions of any statute or statutes now existing or hereafter enacted limiting the right of the said authority to file preserve or maintain the lien of the said claim

Section 6 The provisions of this act shall not apply to or in any manner effect any assessments which are the sole basis of improvement bonds issued by any political subdivision and which are the security for the payment thereof or to any assessments which have heretofore been assigned by any political subdivision to any contractor in payment of the amount due him under terms of the contract for the improvement for which the assessment was levied

Section 7 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of the provisions hereof are held to be unconstitutional the decision shall not be construed to impair any other provisions of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included herein

Section 8 All acts and parts of acts general local and special inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby suspended during the time this act shall be in effect

Section 9 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

E To advance perpetuate and outline the work recommended by its conferences and to develop and propose new objectives and

(3) Whereas it is the purpose of the Commissions (or Committees) on Interstate Cooperation of said four states acting through said Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin to eliminate confusion and conflict among said States by the promotion and enactment of uniform laws in said states to preserve in a safe and sanitary condition the waters and watershed of said Delaware River Basin and to provide uniform concurrent regulations for the control and the enforcement of the elimination of pollution in the waters thereof in said states respectively and

(4) Whereas said Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin in cooperation with the state health departments of said states respectively has made a study for the purposes above cited of said Delaware River and its tributaries in said Delaware River Basin and has formulated proposals for the intergovernmental cooperation of said states in the correction and control of pollution of the waters thereof which have been formally approved ratified and accepted by the health departments of said states respectively in the following form

"A Reciprocal Agreement as drafted and negotiated by the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin with subsequent formal ratification by the State Departments of Health of Delaware New Jersey New York Pennsylvania For the Conservation and Control of Pollution of the Waters of the Interstate Delaware River

Whereas a substantial part of the territory of the States of New York New Jersey Pennsylvania and Delaware is situated within the Delaware River drainage basin and

Whereas the increase in population of the various municipal areas situated within the Delaware River Basin and the growth of industrial activity within the Basin have resulted in increasingly serious pollution of the waters of the Interstate Delaware River and its tributaries and

Whereas such pollution constitutes a grave menace to the health welfare and recreational facilities of the people living in the Delaware River Basin and occasions great economic loss and

Whereas the control of future pollution and the correction of existing pollution of the waters of the interstate Delaware River and its tributaries is of prime importance to the people living in the Delaware River Basin and can best be accomplished through the cooperation of the representatives of the people in the basin in the States of New York New Jersey Pennsylvania and Delaware

Now therefore the State of New York and the State of New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of Delaware agree and are bound as follows

Article I

Each of the signatory states pledges to each of the other signatory states faithful cooperation in the control of future pollution and in the correction of existing pollution of the waters of the interstate Delaware River and its West Branch from the New York-Pennsylvania boundary line down to the Atlantic Ocean In order to effect such objects each of the states agrees to enact adequate legislation if necessary to enable each such state so to require the treatment of sewage industrial waste or other artificial polluting matter as to place and maintain the waters of the aforesaid interstate Delaware River and of the tributaries thereof just above the confluence with the Delaware River in the clean and sanitary condition required by the provisions of this agreement Furthermore each such state agrees so to enforce the provisions of these requirements and other supplementary applicable legislation if any as to bring about the attainment of the objectives of pollution control and correction in accordance with such reasonable and effective programs as may be determined from time to time by the states in the manner prescribed herein

Article II

It is recognized by the signatory states that due to such variable factors as location size character and flow and of the many varied uses of the waters of the inter- in Zone 1 are expected to be for wate supply after such as water supply recreation navigation industrial developments maintenance of fish life, shell-fish culture agriculture and other purposes that no single standard of sewage and waste treatment and of quality of receiving waters is practical for all parts of the river Therefore in order to apply minimum requirements for the attainment of correction and control of pollution which will be appropriate to the varied factors including the existing and potential quality and uses of the waters the interstate Delaware River is hereby divided into four zones to wit

Zone I Zone 1 is that part of the Delaware River and its West Branch extending from the New York-Pennsylvania boundary line to the head of tidewater at Trenton New Jersey and Morrisville Pennsylvania

The drainage basin contributary to this zone excepting part of the Lehigh River Basin is relatively sparsely inhabited and contains few sewered communities and relatively few industrial establishments producing waste water The streams draining this area being in general relatively clean and of high elevation are well adapted as sources of public water supplies after treatment or purification

The principal uses of the waters of the Delaware River in Zone 1 are expected to be for water supply after such treatment or purification as may be necessary and for recreation bathing maintenance of fish and acquatic life agriculture and for other related purposes

Zone II Zone 2 is that part of the Delaware River extending from the head of tidewater at Trenton New Jersey and Morrisville Pennsylvania to a line drawn perpendicular to the channel of the Delaware River from the mouth of Pennypack Creek in Philadelphia Pennsylvania to the corresponding point on the New Jersey shore

The drainage basin contributary to this zone is somewhat more densely populated than that of Zone 1 and it contains more sewered communities and industrial establishments

The principal uses of the waters of the Delaware River in Zone 2 are expected to be for water supply after treatment or purification and for recreation navigation maintenance of fish and aquatic life agricultural industrial and other purposes

Zone III Zone 3 is that part of the Delaware River extending from the aforesaid line connecting the mouth of Pennypack Creek in Philadelphia and the corresponding point in New Jersey to the Pennsylvania-Delaware boundary line

The drainage basin contributary to this zone contains populous metropolitan areas including Philadelphia Pennsylvania and Camden New Jersey

The principle uses of the waters of the Delaware River in Zone 3 are expected to be for navigation industrial water supply and other purposes

The water in this zone however should be of such sanitary quality that it will not be unfit for use as sources of water supply will not be harmful to fish life and will not adversely affect the quality of the waters of the tidal tributaries

Zone IV Zone 4 is that part of the Delaware River extending from the Pennsylvania-Delaware boundary line to the Atlantic Ocean

The principal uses of the waters of the Delaware River in Zone 4 are expected to be for navigation industrial water supplies commercial fishing shell-fish culture recreation and other purposes

In order to attain conditions of cleanliness and sanitation of the waters of the Delaware River which will be consistent with the appropriate existing and future quality and uses of such waters the following minimum requirements shall apply to the several zones herein provided It is the purpose and intent of such requirements to apply to artificial (not natural) causes of pollution

Article III

In order to put and maintain the waters of the interstate Delaware River and its West Branch as aforesaid in a clean and sanitary condition no sewage industrial wastes or other polluting matter shall be discharged into or be permitted to flow or fall into or be placed in any respective zone of the interstate Delaware River as herein established unless such sewage industrial waste or other artificial polluting matter shall first have been so treated as to produce an effluent which will meet the following minimum requirements

Zone 1 (1) Such effluent shall be free of noticeable floating solids color oil grease or sleek and practically free of suspended solids

(2) Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of turbidity that it will not cause noticeable turbidity in the water of the Delaware River

(3) Such effluent shall show a reduction of organic substances of at least eighty-five (85) per cent as measured by the bio-chemical oxygen demand and furthermore such effluent in no case shall exceed a bio-chemical oxygen demand of fifty (50) part per million and furthermore the discharge of such effluent after dispersion in the water of the river shall not cause a reduction of the dissolved oxygen content of such water of more than five (5) per cent The aforesaid reduction in dissolved oxygen content shall be determined by the average results obtained from dissolved oxygen tests made upon samples collected on not less than six (6) consecutive days from points in the river above and below the point or points of effluent discharge

(4) Such effluent shall be of such quality that the most probable number of organisms of the Coli Aerogenes group shall not exceed one (1) per milliliter in more than ten (10) per cent of the samples of sewage effluent tested by the confirmed test and provided further that no single sample shall contain more than one hundred (100) organisms of the Coli Aerogenes group in one (1) milliliter

(5) Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of acids alkalis and other toxic or deleterious substances that it will not create a menace to the public health through the use of waters of the Delaware River for public water supplies for recreation bathing agriculture and other purposes nor be inimical to fish animal or aquatic life

(6) Such effluent shall be free of offensive odors and also be free of substances capable of producing offensive tastes or odors in public water supplies derived from the Delaware River at any place below the discharge of such effluent

Zone 2 (1) Such effluent shall be free of noticeable floating solids color oil or grease and practically free of both suspended solids and sleek

(2) Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of turbidity that it will not cause noticeable turbidity in the water of the Delaware River

(3) Such effluent shall show a reduction of organic substance of at least eighty-five (85) per cent as measured by the bio-chemical oxygen demand and furthermore such effluent in no case shall exceed a bio-chemical and furthermore the discharge of such effluent after dispersion in the water of the river shall not cause a reoxygen demand of one hundred (100) parts per million duction of the dissolved oxygen content of such water of more than ten (10) per cent The aforesaid reduction in dissolved oxygen content shall be determined by the average results obtained by dissolved oxygen tests made upon samples collected on not less than six (6) consecutive days from points in the river above and below the point or points of effluent discharge

(4) Such effluent shall be of such quality that the most probable number of organisms of the Coli Aerogenes groups shall not exceed one (1) per milliliter in more than twenty-five (25) per cent of the samples of sewage effluent tested by the confirmed test and provided further that no single sample shall contain more than one hundred (100) organisms of the Coli Aerogenes group in one (1) milliliter

(5) Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of acids alkalis and other toxic or deleterious substances that it will not create a menace to the public health through the use of the water of the Delaware River for public water supplies [for recreation industrial and other purposes nor be mimical to fish animal or aquatic life

(6) Such effluent shall be free of offensive odors and also be free of substances capable of producing offensive tastes and odors in public water supplies derived from the Delaware River at any place above or below the discharge of such effluent

Zone 3 (1) Such effluent shall be free of noticeable floating solids oil or grease and substantially free of both settleable solids and sleek

(2) Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of turbidity that it will not cause substantial turbidity in the water of the Delaware River after dispersion in the water of the river

(3) Such effluent shall show a reduction of at least fifty-five (55) per cent of the total suspended solids and a reduction of not less than thirty-five (35) per cent of the bio-chemical oxygen demand (It is the intent of this requirement to restore the dissolved oxygen content of the river water in this zone to at least fifty (50) per cent saturation To accomplish this it may be necessary in the case of certain wastes to obtain reductions greater than those required under this item)

(4) Such effluent if it be discharged within two miles of a public water works intake or within prejudicial influence thereof shall at all times be effectively treated with a germicide

(5) Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of acids alkalis and other toxic or deleterious substances that it will not create a menace to the public health through the use of the waters of the Delaware River for public water supplies or render such waters unfit for industrial and other purposes or cause the water of the Delaware River to be harmful to fish life

(6) Such effluent shall be practically free of substances capable of producing offensive tastes or odors in public water supplies derived from the Delaware River

Zone 4 (1) Such effluent shall be free of noticeable floating solids oil or grease and substantially free of both settleable solids and sleek

(2) Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of turbidity that it will not cause substantial turbidity in the waters of the Delaware River after disperson in the water of the river

(3) Such effluent shall show a reduction of at least fifty-five (55) per cent of the total suspended solids and shall be subject to such further treatment as may be needed to prevent a nuisance

(4) Such effluent if it be discharge within prejudicial influence of a public water works intake or of recreational areas or of shellfish grounds shall at all times be effectively treated with a germicide except that in the case of recreational area influence such treatment need not be provided during the period from October 15 to May 15 of each year

(5) Such effluent shall be sufficiently free of acids alkalis and other toxic or deleterious substances that it will not create a menace to the public health through the use of the waters of the Delaware River for public water supplies or render such waters unfit for commercial fishing shell-fish culture recreational industrial or other purposes

(6) Such effluent shall be practically free of substances capable of producing offensive tastes or odors in public water supplies derived from the Delaware River

It is further recognized by the signatory states that the quality of the waters of the intrastate tributaries of the Delaware River and its aforesaid West Branch are of interstate concern at their points of confluence with the Delaware River and its West Branch Therefore it is also agreed that sewage industrial waste or other artificial polluting matter discharged into or permitted to flow or to fall into or be placed in any intrastate tributary of the aforesaid Delaware River shall be treated to that degree if any necessary to maintain the waters of such intrastate tributary immediately above its confluence with the aforesaid Delaware River in a condition at least equal to the clean and sanitary condition of the waters of the Delaware River immediately above the confluence of such tributary

Analyses and tests regarding the minimum requirements herein prescribed shall be determined in accordance with the provisions contained in the American Public Health Association's latest edition on "Standard Methods for the Examination of Water and Sewage"

The aforesaid requirements as to treatment of sewage industrial wastes or other artificial polluting matter and as to the sanitary quality of receiving waters are minima It is the intent and the purpose of these requirements to accomplish reasonable and adequate control and correction of pollution Due to the many variable factors involved however and to the responsibility of forecasting future developments with certainty it may be necessary in the future to impose additional requirements particularly in Zones 2 and 3

The minima herein prescribed therefore shall be considered the first steps toward attaining the objectives sought and if necessary may be required to be supplemented in the case that the general application of such minimum requirements does not adequately improve and maintain the sanitary quality of the waters of the Delaware River

Section 1 That part of the area of the Delaware River Basin lying within this state is hereby established and declared to be a component part of an interstate region for intergovernmental cooperation by said states in the conservation protection and development of the water resources thereof by means of integrated plans and said Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin is hereby recognized as the duly established regional commission or agency of this state for intergovernmental cooperation in effectuating the purposes described in paragraph (2) of the above preamble with the full and complete authority to exercise for the accomplishment of said purposes the governmental machinery powers and duties conferred by this state upon the Pennsylvania Commission on Interstate Cooperation

Section 2 The reciprocal agreement set forth in paragraph (4) of the above preamble is hereby ratified and applied to the waters and watershed of said Delaware River Basin within the territorial limits of this State Provided That said agreement shall not be construed so as to prohibit acid mine drainage or silt from coal mines from being discharged into or permitted to flow or fall into or to be placed in the interstate Delaware River or its tributaries unless the Sanitary Water Board shall at any time find that practical means for the removal of the polluting properties of such drainage and silt shall have become known The terms and provisions of said agreement as so construed shall supersede the terms and provisions of any existing laws and regulations applicable to that area to the extent only that the terms and provisions of such existing laws and regulations are inconsistent with the terms and provisions set forth in said reciprocal agreement

Section 3 The Sanitary Water Board is hereby empowered and directed to apply and carry into effect the proposals terms and provisions of said reciprocal agreement in the several zones therein prescribed respectively within the territorial limits of this state and to enforce the same by the exercise of such administrative and legal authority and the institution and prosecution of such actions suits or other proceedings as may be necessary or appropriate as are now or may hereafter be provided under the laws and practice of this state

Section 4 The Sanitary Water Board is hereby authorized and directed to cooperate with said Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin in the further study of the sanitary condition of the waters of Delaware River and its tributaries in said Delaware River Basin and to improve adopt and enforce within this state such reasonable modifications changes or alterations in the zones or standards of quality of water in said river and tributaries as may from time to time be recommended by said Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin and approved by the departments of health of the other states constituent to the Delaware River Basin

Section 5 The terms and provisions of said reciprocal agreement shall become effective upon receipt by the Secretary of the Commonwealth of a certificate from the Executive Secretary of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin that an act in substantially the same form as this act has been passed by the legislature and approved by the Governor of one of the other three states constituent to said Delaware River Basin together with a certified copy of said act of said state and thereupon the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall advise the Department of Health of this State accordingly

Section 6 This act shall take effect immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 744, as follows:

An Act to further amend section seventeen of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" authorizing payment by the board to a credit union where rights have been assigned and the note is unpaid and empowering the board to make additional deductions from member's salary for the repayment of such amounts into the member's accumulated deductions

Section 1 Section seventeen of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as last amended by section one of the act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 49) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Exemption From Execution

Section 17 The right of a person to a member's annuity a State annuity or retirement allowance to the return of contributions any benefit or right accrued or accruing to any person under the provisions of this act and the moneys in the fund created under this act are hereby exempt from any State or municipal tax and exempt from levy and sale garnishment attachment or any other process whatsoever except as hereafter otherwise provided in this section and shall be unassignable except as in this act specifically otherwise provided and with the further exception that the assignment of any or all such rights as security for a loan not in excess of three hundred dollars ($300) the interest on which loan shall not exceed six per centum per annum discounted by a person to a credit union now or hereafter organized and incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth the membership of which credit union is limited soley to officers and employes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall be valid In any case where a member of a credit union which is organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the membership of which credit union is limited solely to officers and employes of the Commonwealth has assigned any or all such rights in the Retirement Fund not exceeding however three hundred dollars ($300) for a loan from such a credit union and whose note to such a credit union or payments on account thereof is in default and payable for a period of ninety days or more then in such a case the officers of such a credit union shall certify to the State Employes' Retirement Board the amount owing on such note After the receipt by the board of such certification from the credit union the board shall make payment to the credit union from said member's accumulated deductions the amount so certified The amount so paid out of the member's accumulated deductions shall be restored thereto by the member or the board may collect the same by payroll deductions in the same manner as contributions to the fund are collected under the provisions of this act The amount of such additional payroll deductions shall not be greater than the amount of the regular payroll deductions unless the member agrees to the deduction of a greater amount Said deduction increase shall be credited to the repayment of the amount paid to such credit union and shall be continued until the amount thereof shall be repaid in full unless said member is retired or leaves the service of the Commonwealth under the provisions of this act before such amount has been liquidated

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1406, Senate Bill No. 588, Printer's No. 260, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1139, as follows:

An Act to amend section one hundred twenty of the act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred thirty-four (P. L. 333) entitled "An act relative to the organization of the Courts of Justice" prescribing procedure permitting the service of jurors as petit jurors or general jurors or both except in counties of the second class

Section 1 Section one hundred twenty of the act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred thirty-four (P. L. 333) entitled "An act relative to the organization of the Courts of Justice" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 120 Whenever writs of venire for a grand jury and petit jury in the court of Quarter Sessions and also a writ of venire from the court of Common Pleas in any county except the county of Philadelphia shall be in the hands of the sheriff and commissioners at the same time for execution the required number of names first drawn shall be annexed in a panel to the venire for a grand jury and the required number of names next drawn shall be annexed in a panel to the venire for a petit jury in the court of Quarter Sessions and thereupon the said sheriff and commissioners shall proceed to draw and annex the panel required to be returned into the court of Common Pleas Provided however That it shall be lawful for the judges of the courts of Common Pleas Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of any county other than a county of the second class by agreement at any time to direct the sheriff and the commissioners of any such county to annex and return one and the same panel of names to the venires issuing as aforesaid for the summoning and returning of petit and general jurors in the said courts and said jurors may thereupon serve as petit or general jurors or both as the need for such services may arise

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 892, as follows:

An Act authorizing a commission to study recreational facilities available in first class cities imposing powers and duties on said commission and making an appropriation

Whereas The City of Philadelphia has various agencies administering recreation and

Whereas The present national emergency requires a recreation program and

Whereas It is deemed desirable to make a thorough study of the recreational facilities available in said city and county in order to ascertain where new facilities can be secured if the same becomes necessary at a minimum cost therefore

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 A commission is hereby created which shall be composed of five members two of which are to be appointed by the President of the Senate and three of which are to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives The two members selected by the President of the Senate shall consist of a member of the Senate and a citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to be selected by the President of the Senate from a list of eligibles furnished him by the board of education of such first class city The three members appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall consist of two members of the House of Representatives and a citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania selected by the Speaker of the House of Representatives from a list of eligibles furnished him by the mayor of such first class city The speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint the Chairman It shall be the duty of the commission to make a careful thorough and impartial study of each and every agency expending public moneys raised by taxation for recreational purposes to ascertain the business and activities of the various governmental agencies and the present allocation of such business among such agencies in such first class cities and to ascertain whether such present facilities are sufficient to take care of a recreation program and further to devise ways and means and methods of raising revenue and of effecting savings in cost of government to carry out a recreation program under a unified system

Section 2 The said commission if it deems necessary and proper is hereby authorized to employ a staff to secure the necessary information statistics and data on this subject

Section 3 The said commission shall have the power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions concerning matters properly being inquired into by the commission and to produce such books papers records and documents as the commission may deem necessary such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth Each member of said commission shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the commission Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said commission or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases

Section 4 The sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the commission for the expenses of said commission in carrying out the provisions of this act

Section 5 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 726, as follows:

An Act authorizing and directing the Department of Highways to erect construct and maintain a free bridge over the Susquehanna River in or near the Borough of Plymouth Luzerne County and to provide the necessary approaches and connections with state highways providing for the acceptance of Federal aid empowering counties to pay certain damages and making an appropriation

Section 1 The Department of Highways is hereby authorized and directed to erect and construct a three lane bridge over the Susquehanna River at a convenient point in or near the Borough of Plymouth in Luzerne County to a point on the opposite side of said river in the said County of Luzerne to connect the state highways on both sides of said river and to acquire the necessary land for approaches thereto

In the construction of said bridge and the approaches thereto and connections with existing state highways the Department of Highways shall have all of the powers and authority conferred with respect to the relocation widening or construction of state highways Any damages sustained by reason of taking property in the relocation widening or construction of any such bridge the approaches thereto and connections with state highways shall be ascertained in accordance with laws applicable to the ascertainment of damages in relocating widening or constructing state highways and such damages when ascertained shall be paid by the Commonwealth or county or counties as may be agreed upon in accordance with the laws relating to state highways

Section 2 The Department of Highways is hereby authorized to accept grants of funds from any Federal agency for the construction of such bridge and the approaches thereto and connections with state highways Any such moneys shall be held by the State Treasurer as custodian for the Department of Highways and the same shall be paid out on requisition of the department without further appropriation

Section 3 If such bridge is to be constructed under contract and to be paid for wholly or in part from Federal funds and the project involves additional work to be contracted and paid for by a county or counties the advertisement by the Department of Highways shall be the only advertising necessary any other acts or requirements to the contrary nowithstanding

Section 4 The Department of Highways shall have authority to make and carry out contracts and to do every other act necessary to carry out the project herein authorized and is authorized to conform to the requirements and rules and regulations of the proper Federal authorities with respect to such projects if Federal moneys are advanced for such project Nothing herein contained shall in anywise diminish any authority or powers now or hereafter conferred on the Department of Highways by any other act of Assembly

Section 5 The Department of Highways shall after the completion of such bridge maintain the same free of tolls for the use of the public

Section 6 The sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated out of the Motor License Fund in the State Treasury to the Department of Highways for the construction of such bridge the approaches thereto the connections with state highways and for the payment of damages for property taken injured or destroyed

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentleman whether he is willing to make an estimate of the amount of revenue that will be realized by the end of the biennium by this bill.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I am, Mr. Speaker.

The estimated revenue under this bill, the gross receipts tax, is $11,900,000.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Monroe repeat that amount?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, $11,900,000. I have reference to just the emergency tax.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please advice the House how he arrives at that estimate?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. The amount, Mr. Speaker, is arrived at by determining the amount of business anticipated for the biennium. We have ascertained what the average percentage of income is in Pennsylvania in relation to the national income. We have ascertained from accurate figures that the national income for 1940 is, $73,800,000,000.

Using our percentage in Pennsylvania we ascertained the income for Pennsylvania for 1940 at $6,036,000,000. The national income for 1941 has been estimated at $90,000,000,000. I am speaking of the United States, which would make the amount, if the percentage remains the same in Pennsylvania as the average percentage over the last ten years, of $7,300,000,000 which indicates an increase in Pennsylvania income for 1941 of some twenty odd per cent.

We have used as our figure a basis of twenty per cent. Now, Mr. Speaker, in connection therewith, we have ascertained the amount for the last year under this particular tax. I mean on a basis of the last payment, which would be $9,942,760. That is on the basis of the last quarterly payment, and twenty per cent would be $1,988,552.

It would therefore make, Mr. Speaker, an income for the coming biennium, assuming that the rate remains the same during the two-year period, as a matter of fact, I think we are modest and conservative in that, for I believe that the increase will be greater over 1941 and 1942 than it has been in 1940, which makes it $11,900,000 plus.

May I state in conjunction therewith that we have also checked with the various companies paying gross receipts tax, and we find, their increase in business is in excess of twenty per cent, and their increase in tax payments is over twenty per cent, which would seem to verify and confirm the figures used by the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman from Monroe state the amount of revenue that has been realized out of this tax during the present biennium, if he has it.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I do have it, Mr. Speaker. I will give it to him in a moment, if he will bear with me.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the gentleman will agree that the amount received up until the first of this month was $9,534,225?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I do agree with that particular amount.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Monroe expect any substantial amount to be realized during the month of May?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. No substantial amount, Mr. Speaker I point out however that the average realized in the last quarter has been $2,485,690.

If I may complete my answer Mr. Speaker, I desire to point out that the increase due to the national defense is now first being felt in Pennsylvania, as a matter of fact, in the last six months, as every one knows, it has helped business, it has increased income, has increased transportation has increased general income of all companies of the particular type that pays this tax.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is talking about quarterly payments. He realizes these payments are made semi-annually and not quarterly, does he not?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. True, Mr. Speaker, but in the biennium we have quarterly payments, that is four payments in the biennium.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman realizes, I think, that the amount paid in during April was only $4,625, that the payments are made on the first of February and the first of August, and that between those dates there are practically no payments so that therefore, comparatively there will be no income received during the month of May. We can then figure that during the biennium at the very outset there will be realized the sum of $9,550,000. I think the gentleman will agree with that, will he not?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have already agreed with that amount. The amount to date is $9,534,225, according to my figures. I do point out to the gentleman from Dauphin, however, that in the last quarter, in other words, in the last six months period, the amount of payment was $2,485,690.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, for the entire year 1940-1941, the amount is $4,900,000. Therefore, that does not show any substantial increase, and as a matter of fact, it shows that the quarterly payment is about in balance with the other quarterly payments, is that not correct?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I disagree with that. It is materially more by some four or five hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the amount realized during the biennium 1939-1940, which represents the first two payments of this biennium, was $4,655,185; the amount estimated for the second year of the biennium at the present time, which represents practically the total amount received during the biennium, is $4,900,000. The total amount received and expected for this biennium is, roughly $9,550,000; actually the figure would be $9,534,225, with practically no hope of any aditional amount being received during this biennium. But assuming there will be some small dribbles coming in during the month of May, we can figure as the outside amount to be realized during this biennium the sum of $9,550,000. The amount during the last biennium showed $8,707,000, and there was an increase during the biennium of $843,000, which is an increase during this biennium of approximately 9 per cent.

Mr. Speaker, if you take that increase that was realized during the past biennium and use [illegible] the present amount received you will find that it will be a sum less than the $10,500,000 which is estimated in the budget. The gentleman, therefore, has not only taken the normal increase that has occurred during the last two years but he has more than doubled the normal increase which has taken place in the last two years.

May I call the attention of the gentleman from Monroe to the fact that there is a considerable difference in the amount of business which was in existence during the two years prior to this biennium and the two years of this biennium, and to take the total amount received in this biennium and the increase that occurred between the last biennium and this biennium would certainly be a reasonable and fair method of measuring the amount of increase to be expected during the next biennium.

May I also call the gentleman's attention to the fact that it is notoriously true that public utilities go up more slowly in days of an up-market and go down more slowly in days of a bear market than other businesses. Therefore, the gentleman is not right in assuming that public utilities would go up as fast as some of the other businesses would, nor in the days of depression go down as rapidly and as far as some other businesse would.

I think it is interesting to note that in 1939-1940 there was $4,655,185 realized; that in 1940-1941, with all the supposed increase in business, there was only $4,900,000 realized.

May I call the gentleman's attention to the fact that the revenues at the present time are falling below the estimates. As a matter of fact, the gross receipts tax on the thirtieth day of April according to the budget was estimated to bring in $10,204,685, whereas the actual collections amounted to $9,534,225, or there was an amount realized under the estimate of $670,460. In other words, the department that has made the estimates for the coming biennium of $10,500,000 was too optimistic in making the estimates for this biennium. Now the gentleman says, in spite of the fact that we are $670,000 plus short in the estimates of the present biennium, the estimate for the coming biennium, made by the same department and using practically the same method, is one hundred per centum too low in its estimated increase. I think that the gentleman's reasoning is not very good in connection with these figures as backed up by the figures as presented by the Department of Revenue.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the minority floor leader, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the particular tax collected on the gross receipts tax for this biennium was on 1940 business, was it not?

Mr. WOODSIDE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. In other words, Mr. Speaker, the emergency taxes cease at the end of the year, or did cease at the end of the year?

Mr. WOODSIDE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, the emergency tax.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. We are speaking of the emergency tax only?

Mr. WOODSIDE. That is right.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Now, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman just mentioned that the increase was only nine per centum. Bearing in mind he is talking about 1940 taxes, let me point out how the method used by the Appropriations Committee sustained that particular nine per centum that he is talking about. This is not guess work, but the income in Pennsylvania in 1939 was $5,678,000,000; in the 1940 biennium the figures are not available but we used our average income in Pennsylvania as applied to the national income of $7,380,000,000 that I spoke about. That made the income in Pennsylvania $6,036,000,000, if you please, an increase of eight per centum; and with the increase of income of eight per centum, the income of taxes as stated by Mr. Woodside, really should be nine per centum. Now then projecting further into the field of anticipated income, I point out to you that with the national income of ninety billion dollars, and with our income of $7,380,000,000, and assuming the percentage of increase to be just as it was in 1940, then your twenty per centum will apply to the figure I have submitted to you of $11,900,000 which is modest and is not over estimated. In other words, the gentleman from Dauphin has given you the proof that the Appropriations Committee is correct in its estimate, and I thank the gentleman.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is assuming, of course, that his estimate of national income for the next biennium is sound, but Mr. Speaker there is no way of determining and comfirming an estimate of national income during the next biennium or during the next year. There is nothing in the past that we can well base it on, but on the question of a specific tax in which you have had specific experience you certainly can have some basis upon which to estimate the amount of income which will be received from that tax.

The gentleman from Monroe is very optimistic as to what the amount of income will be during the next biennium. He says that the income during the next biennium will be increased twenty per cent; that is the total income of all people, and therefore the public utilities' income is going to increase about twenty per cent also. Of course, the stock market does not bear that out. I do not believe that any of the people buying stocks will give credit to that story. The gentleman says the increase in business for the next biennium or for the next two years is going to be twenty per cent over the increase of business during the past two years. Again I call the gentleman's attention to his famous faith, hope, and charity speech made just a few months ago on the floor of the House, in which he called the attention of the Members of this House to the fact that this budget was a budget full of hope. What was he refering to when he made that remark about hope in the budget? The hope that the revenue would be far in excess of what he thought it would be. In other words, he said that the Governor's budget was full of hope. What hope? The hope of increased revenue which was not justified. He made a long speech on the floor of the House about the hope shown in this budget particularly in the estimates. Now, two months later, he comes before this House and says, "Oh, no, this is not hope, this is all pessimistic in the estimates of revenue, the increase is not going to be normal, the increase is not going to be just the increase over what it was in the prior biennium, but it is going to be more than twice what it was the last biennium, and what that biennium was over the biennium before, a one hundred per cent increase, even in spite of the fact that the estimates of the department have not been realized by $670,000. It is interesting to note, Mr.

Speaker, how the gentleman changes his tune to support a situation which he desires to bring about.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. We do not just happen to use fanciful figures nor do they happen to be our own. When I speak of the national income for the coming year as being ninety billion dollars I have not picked it out of thin air; it happens to represent figures now estimated by federal authorities, and I assume that the federal authorities are in a position to make an estimate. They are the same authorities that must of necessity estimate the revenues of the United States just as the Revenue Department of the state of Pennsylvania is supposed to make estimates. Now then am I in error about the percentage? As a matter of fact, the percentage of increase that I have used has been substantiated not by me, but by the actual revenue collectors, according to the gentleman's own figures, as told to the Members of the House by the minority floor leader. The percentage, it seems to me, for some unknown reason, figures out accurately, although the figures were given in the first instance for the purpose of having you believe that we were in error. When we come back to the money involved at the time it was paid, covering the business period, you will find that the figures are substantiating the results of the study of the Appropriations Committee. I know of no other manner by which I can submit to the Members of the House with certainty and accuracy the method under which your comittee has proceeded in determining these revenues, and I submit to the Members of this House and to the Republican minority that the taxes in the next two years will justify the figures which we are now giving to the Members of the House. The fact that the Revenue Department in the past two years was in error in its efforts to estimate, is of little moment to me. Apparently, they did not know how to approach the subject and I am saying that the figures we have used have conclusively shown to the Members of the House that we are proceeding on safe and sound ground.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 235, as follows:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six—P. L. 13) entitled "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board" as previously reenacted and amended by extending the provisions thereof for a further limited period of time

Section 1 The title and all the sections of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six—P. L. 13) entitled "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board" as last reenacted and amended by the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 46) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows

An Act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same That the following words terms and phrases used in this act are for the purposes hereof defined as follows

'Liquor' Any alcoholic spirituous vinous fermented or other alcoholic beverage or combination of liquors and mixed liquor a part of which is spirituous vinous fermented or otherwise alcoholic and all drink or drinkable liquids preparations or mixtures intended for beverage purposes which contain more than one-half of one per centum of alcohol by volume except alcohol and malt or brewed beverages

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth.

"Board" The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board of this Commonwealth

"Fiscal Month" The monthly period established from time to time by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board for the purpose of conducting its business

Section 2 Until the first day of June one thousand nine hundred [forty-one] "forty-three" an emergency State tax is hereby imposed and assessed at the rate of ten per centum of the net price of all liquors sold by the board The tax herein imposed shall be collected by the board from the purchasers of the liquor from the board The amount of such ten per centum so collected by the board under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the State Treasury through the department in the manner and within the times herein specified and shall be credited to the General Fund

Section 3 It shall be the duty of the board to transmit to the department on or before the fifteenth day of each calendar month a statement of its receipts from sales of liquor and taxes collected during the preceding fiscal month and such other information as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this act at which time it shall also be the duty of the board to pay to the department the tax imposed upon such liquor by the provisions of this act Provided however That the board may in its discretion add the tax imposed by this act to the wholesale and retail price at which liquors are sold and eliminate any accounting of such tax separate from sale prices and in such case the amount of the tax for any calendar month shall be ascertained by dividing the entire gross receipts derived from sales at Pennsylvania liquor stores during such month by eleven and the quotient thus obtained shall be deemed the amount of the tax for such month payable over under this section.

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. I would like to know, Mr. Speaker, whether this estimate as it was made by the Department of Revenue is full of hope or full of pessimism.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I presume the gentleman is serious in his question and is not facetious. I have no doubt that the Republican administration is hoping that we might accept these figures, with the thought in mind that perhaps sometime in the future they might be able to make political capital out of them, in the hope, Mr Speaker, that we would swallow it hook, line and sinker. I presume now it is full of pessimism, since they have learned we have not allowed that hope to materialize.

Mr WOODSIDE. Mr Speaker, will the gentleman state whether the figures are too high or too low today? I know now what the gentleman thought about it the day the budget was given out, but I would like to know what the gentleman thinks about it today?

Mr ACHTERMAN. Too low, Mr Speaker.

Mr WOODSIDE. Mr Speaker, will the gentleman tell us what he thinks today it ought to be?

Mr ACHTERMAN. Will the gentleman make up his mind, Mr Speaker? Will he repeat the question?

Mr WOODSIDE. Will the secretary read the question as it was put the second time? Will the gentleman state today what he thinks the estimate will be?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Our estimate, Mr. Speaker, is $18,260,000.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, one million over the estimated revenue. Will the gentleman please advise the House how he arrived at that figure?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, that again brings up the problem of the income or profits derived from the liquor stores. May I point out to the gentleman that we differ very materially in the estimates of the liquor store profits. It is a subject on page 40 of the green book; we differ very materially from those estimates. As a matter of fact, Mr. Speaker, I see that the Governor's office estimates those profits for the coming biennium at $36,000,000. Our estimates are about $40,800,000. Now, Mr. Speaker, the business of the liquor stores in the last year has indicated a profit of $18,730,716. Incidentally, in the preceding year there is an increase of $3,377,979. The preceding year showed a profit of $15,352,737, thereby showing a twenty-two per cent increase.

Our figures would indicate that as a matter of fact we used only a twenty per cent increase, and that our computation of the profits of the liquor stores would be considerably in excess of the approximately $40,800,000 that I mentioned. Projecting that into the tax yield, it will give to you the amount that the tax would yield on the necessary sales to produce that profit.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean that he bases his estimates of the emergency liquor tax on the profits of the State stores?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Oh no, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is mistaken. I am referring to sales.

Mr. WOODSIDE. The gentleman referred to profits, as I understood him, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman misunderstood me. I was trying to point out what the sales were in the past and what contemplated sales we expect in the future in relation to profits and in relation to general business. General business will be reflected in the amount of taxes to be collected. In other words, Mr. Speaker, I have disclosed to the gentleman not one item, but two items on the increase in the budget as we figure it.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentleman's advising me of those figures, but I may have misunderstood him. It is sometimes difficult to hear what he says. It seems the sound goes right over the top of you and it is often difficult to hear what is said over the loud speaker, but I had understood that the gentleman was giving the figures on profits made by the stores during the last year and the last biennium. If I was wrong about that I am going to ask the gentleman whether he will not repeat the figures of business done by the Liquor stores during the last year and the last biennium or whatever he gave before.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, I will have to ask the gentleman to repeat his question, as part of it I was unable to hear.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I want to know what figures the gentleman quoted and whether he would kindly repeat them; not those of profits but those relating either to taxes or gross sales.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. The gross sales in 1940, Mr. Speaker? I think I gave the gentleman those figures. The gross sales in 1940 amounted to $83,977,305.

Mr. WOODSIDE. May I interrupt, Mr. Speaker, to ask whether that is the calendar year?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. This is the calendar year, Mr. Speaker. It represents, however, the most available figures against the preceding year 1939, of $74,572,241. That represented an increase in gross sales of twelve and one half per cent. Your profit, however, was the twenty-two per cent that I mentioned.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the liquor tax of ten per cent ought to reflect rather accurately your sales during the biennium, and we find there that for the biennium of 1937-1939 there was $15,147,718.94, which of course would have made the sales $151,000,000 plus. In the present biennium up to and including April 30, 1941 the total receipts were $15,027,863.

Now, assuming that during the Month of May the amount realized would be $700,000 which was larger than that received during April and March of 1941 and larger than March, April and May of 1940, but reasonably close to the figure, that would make the total amount during this biennium of $16,443,609.98. That means that the increase of this biennium over the last biennium would be approximately eight per cent. I am wrong about that. The present amount really is $15,027,863. The total expected for the biennium would be $15,677,863, or an increase of $530,000 over the figure of the last biennium. That would be an increase of only four and six tenths per cent over the last biennium.

The estimate of revenues made for the next biennium by the Department is $17,260,000. Assuming the actual and estimated revenue for this biennium to arrive at the sum of $15,677,000 by the end of the biennium would mean that the next biennium would be $1,583,000 or over ten per cent. It seems to me that is a pretty optimistic estimate, inasmuch as it is considerably larger than the increase estimated for the past biennium. In spite of that the gentlemen is optimistic about the revenues to estimate an additional million dollars on top of it. I think that is not warranted.

On the question recurring.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No 849, Printer's No. 639, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr SHEPARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr Speaker, I just want to call the attention of the Members of the House to something that was related by Mr. Brown in his fine speech a few minutes ago, and I call your attention to two specific instances that should claim our attention for the moment. We are going to vote for an appropriation to the Jefferson Hospital and Medical College of Philadelphia in the sum of $395,000 for the biennium. A young negro physician called me the other day and told me of his experiences in trying to enter the Jefferson Medical College and said that he was told frankly that he could not be admitted because of his race.

Mr. Speaker, I think that is a betrayal of the trust of the people of this Commonwealth when a great medical institution will take State money and then at the same time refuse to admit the citizens of the state on account of race, creed, or color.

Some few sessions ago, the Legislature passed a bill that became a law, authorizing the establishment of a separate batallion of negro soldiers in the National Guard of Pennsylvania. That is a law in this Commonwealth, and yet the Governor of this Commonwealth refuses to exercise that right and permit negroes to join the National Guard of Pennsylvania, either in a separate batallion or as members of the regular National Guard.

We are in a great campaign engaged in a program of national defense. We are told that there are not enough doctors graduated from our medical schools to meet the needs of this nation in this time of emergency, and yet here is a hospital and medical college receiving State funds and refusing to admit negroes to their training courses to enable them to serve their nation at a time like this. Here in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania State moneys are being appropriated for the National Guard of Pennsylvania, and the Governor of this state refuses absolutely to turn his hand in any way to accord negroes equal opportunities in the defense forces as related to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I here and now call upon the Governor of this Commonwealth to exercise his power as the chief executive of this state to insure negroes an opportunity to participate and join the National Guard forces of Pennsylvania, that this democracy may not be a farce, but so far as Pennsylvania is concerned, it may be for all the people alike, regardless of race, creed, or color. I thank you.

MR. ACHTERMAN IN THE CHAIR

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1094

Mr. MARSHALL M. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1094, Printer's No. 559, entitled:

"An Act to protect the public health and safety by requiring registration with and the securing of permits from the State Board of Pharmacy by persons, copartnerships, associations and corporations engaged in the manufacture, producing and dealing in drugs and medical supplies, regulating the manufacture of drugs and medical supplies, prescribing permit, providing for inspections and the suspension and revocation of permits, conferring powers on the State Board of Pharmacy; and courts and providing penalties", was defeated on final passage on May 14, 1941, be reconsidered.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. How did the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Cohen, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. MARSHALL M. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Shaw, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER pro tempore declared the "nays" appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for eighty-eight members having voted in the affirmative and sixty-eight in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. MARSHALL M. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, for presiding.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE HOUSE

Mr McKINNEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr Speaker, in view of the very able remarks made this evening by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard, I would like to call to the attention of the Rules Committee a resolution introduced by me on April 22, 1941, Resolution No. 86, Serial No. 158. This resolution had the indorsement of the American Legion and the Veterans Organizations, and I would ask that the Rules Committee give that resolution consideration.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Reverend Shepard, made a statement on the floor of the House to the effect that Governor James had made no effort whatsoever to obtain a colored unit in the National Guard, and as a matter of fact I think he made it even stronger than that and said that the Governor had refused to attempt to establish a colored unit in the National Guard.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to set the gentleman straight on the facts of the matter. As a matter of fact, after a delegation had called upon the Governor he sent for General Martin, and after a conference with General Martin he wrote to Washington asking for permission to establish such a unit. He was referred to a letter which had previously been written to this Commonwealth by the President of the United States in which he had refused definitely to establish such a unit in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and said that such a unit could not be established in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Thereafter General Martin had four other conferences with the delegation concerning the establishing of such a unit, and on three separate occasions at the request of the Governor made trips to Washington in order to attempt to establish such a unit and each time he was told by the army officials and the officials of the Federal Government in Washington that no such unit could be established.

I think the record should be straightened out on that matter, so that it will show that an effort was made on the part of the Governor to establish such a unite and that he was prevented from doing so by the Federal Government in Washington.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SHEPARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I hope that the gentleman from Dauphin is correct in the information that he has received, but I received some information from that conference also, that when this committee waited on the Governor and called his attention to this failure to include negroes in the National Guard of Pennsylvania and called his attention to the fact that it was against the law of the Commonwealth, that the Governor replied there were some customs that were so time honored that they were above the law. That was the statement he gave out to the newspapers at the time, and members of the same committee told me that was what the Governor said. Anyway I know that no negro has been admitted to the National Guard of Pennsylvania, and whose fault it is is a matter between the Governor and the officials in Washington, but the fact remains.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. FINESTONE.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1254, as follows:

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Mr. GERARD offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 19, 1941.

Whereas, The House of Representatives often pauses in its deliberations to note with sorrow of the passing of one of the distinguished citizens of this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, One of the flower of its young manhood was cut down suddenly on Friday, May 16, 1941, when Lieutenant James Criswell was killed in the crash of his plane; and

Whereas, The family of Lieutenant Criswell are well known and universally respected in their community and in the City of Pittsburgh; and

Whereas, Lieutenant James Criswell died in line of duty, exhibiting to the end those traits of character and manhood which go so much into making up our true American tradition; and

Whereas, It is fitting that the House of Representatives salute one of our Commonwealth's peace time heroes; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives mourns the passing of Lieutenant James Criswell and directs the Clerk of the House of Representatives to mail a copy of this resolution to the parents of the deceased, as a token of the House of Representative's heartfelt and sincere sympathy to them in their great bereavement.

JOINT LEGISLATIVE INDUSTRIAL TAX STUDY COMMISSION CONTINUED

Mr. STIEFEL, from the Committee on State Government, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. DENT, on February 18, 1941, reported the same without amendment as follows:

In the Senate, February 18, 1941.

Whereas, Pursuant to a Concurrent Resolution adopted by the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania on March 8, 1937, and concurred in by the House of Representatives on March 15, 1937, a Joint Legislative Committee was created to ascertain the tenability of then prevalent assertions pertaining to migratory trends of Pennsylvania's industries and to survey the industrial taxes of this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, Said Joint Legislative Committee, also known as the Industrial Tax Survey Committee, completed after two years of continuous and arduous work only one phase of its two-fold task, namely, the ascertainment of existence or non-existence of migratory industrial trends, but was prevented from undertaking the survey of Pennsylvania's industrial taxes because of the expiration of its term; and

Whereas, Both the Dent Report submitted by the Joint Legislative Committee to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania in March of 1939, and the Supplemental Report submitted on May 25, 1939, recommended the creation of a State Tax Commission conducive to a further study of our State Tax System and an eventual revision thereof; and

Whereas, Said recommendation about the creation of a State Tax Commission has not been heretofore carried out by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, thus leaving the archaic status quo in Pennsylvania's State taxation and the study thereof undisturbed and menacing; and

Whereas, The leading position of Pennsylvania among the States in the use of industrial taxes indicates the importance of these taxes to business and to the community, and clearly establish the urgent need for a scientific approach in the study thereof; and

Whereas, In the absence of any attempts to undertake a thorough, exhaustive and scientific survey and study of Pennsylvania's industrial taxes, it would be to the advantage of our Commonwealth to recreate the Joint Legislative Industrial Survey Committee, in order to thus enable it to complete the second phase of its work, namely, to prepare a survey of the industrial taxes of Pennsylvania, possibly in the form of several monographs containing multifaceted studies of the origin of said taxes, their role in the revenue system of Pennsylvania as compared to other States and the Federal Government, the revenue potentialities, thereof and future outlook therefor from view-points of bases of taxation, tax rates, incidence, equality or inequality of their distribution and above all, the possibility of their elimination, together with formulae aiming at the development of a tax system which will strive to attain the objective of obtaining maximum revenues with the minimum disturbance and costs to industry and the community; now be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that the General Assembly of Pennsylvania recreate the Joint Legislative Industrial Tax Study Committee, in order that same may complete the above-stated second phase of its two-fold task heretofore assigned thereto; and be it further

Resolved, That the said Joint Legislative Industrial Tax Study Commission be and same is hereby authorized and empowered to apply the balance of the fund formerly appropriated thereto toward the completion of the survey and studies above mentioned.

Resolution will lie over one day.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Law and Order, reported, amended, Senate Bill No. 658, (House Bill No. 510), entitled:

An Act to amend section five of the act, approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 599), entitled "An act relating to motion picture exhibitions and sound, motion picture exhibitions, together with orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment, prelude playing, or selection in connection with or incidental thereto on Sunday; prohibiting motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions, and orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment, prelude, playing, or selection incidental thereto on Sunday during certain hours, and also during other hours, unless the electors of a municipality approve thereof; regulating the employment of persons in conducting such exhibitions on Sunday; providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors; and providing penalties; and repealing inconsistent laws" by changing the method and time whereby future referendums be initiated and held.

RESOLUTION URGING APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO INQUIRE INTO PROVISION GOVERNING MID-WIFERY

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am about to introduce a resolution but I think I owe it to the Chair and the members of this body to make a short statement in order that I may ask unanimous consent for its adoption.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the gentleman from Fayette may proceed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, some time during the early part of this year there was brought to my attention a situation that prevails in the set up of the Department of Public Assistance. The situation is merely this: we have here in the State of Pennsylvania duly licensed and registered nurses who are also licensed by the State of Pennsylvania to practice mid-wifery. In the Department of Public Assistance there is an appropriation made every year to the medical program of the Department of Public Assistance.

This case that I have in mind, of this duly licensed and registered nurse, with also a license to practice mid-wifery, arose in my county; but there are many such cases throughout this state. It seems that the Department of Public Assistance in this set-up of its medical program excludes these nurses from practicing mid-wifery, or to participate in the program. The situation seems rather odd, that here in this State of Pennsylvania, we will give one of these duly licensed and registered nurses a license to practice mid-wifery and yet we will not permit them to participate in the program of the Department of Public Assistance on that subject.

Now, Mr. President, I do not know why they are excluded but I think it is a very unfair situation and it seems to me since the state itself grants licenses to nurses of this kind to practice mid-wifery on all the other citizens of this Commonwealth, that they should be permitted to participate in the program which is set up by the Department of Public Assistance. I am offering this resolution in order to obtain some light.

Mr. CAVALCANTE offered the following resolution which was twice read:

Whereas, The duly licensed and registered nurses who are also by law licensed to practice mid-wifery in this Commonwealth are now excluded from participating in the Medical Program of the Department of Public Assistance; and

Whereas, It appears unjust to exclude such duly licensed and registered mid-wives from participation in the art of mid-wifery set up by such Medical Program of the Department of Public Assistance; now be it

Resolved, That the President pro tempore of the Senate do now appoint a committee consisting of three members of the Senate to inquire into this premise and as soon as possible report their findings to the Senate at this present session.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 39

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Public Health.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. CHAPMAN. I object, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. There has been objection and the resolution is referred to the Committee on Public Health.

Section 7 If the provisions of this act conflict with any other law of this State this act shall control

Section 8 This act shall take effect immediately upon final enactment and shall apply to the settlement of disputes among states with respect to death taxes without regard to whether the decedent died before or after the enactment of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, with reference to Senate Bill No. 374, I would like to say a few words in the hope of commending this bill to my colleagues. This bill deals with a question that was made very evident at the time of settlement of the John Dorrance Estate. The question arises that there may be two or three or more states claiming that the decedent had domicile in that state and hence domiciliary death taxes are payable among one, two, three or more states as the case may be.

Now, at that time, Mr. President, it will be recalled, the State of Pennsylvania presented its claim and secured a decision from its own Supreme Court that Doctor Dorrance was a resident of Pennsylvania and that the death duties were all due to this State. Later on the State of New Jersey presented a claim to its Supreme Court and that Supreme Court decided that Doctor Dorrance was a resident of New Jersey and therefore the taxes were properly payable to New Jersey.

There was an attempt made to make an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, but the Supreme Court of the United States refused jurisdiction and therefore there were two sets of death duties in the full amount. In the case of Pennsylvania I think it amounted to eighteen millions of dollars, and in the case of New Jersey it amounted to about sixteen millions of dollars, which were paid from the one estate.

Now, Mr. President, that of course is an offense against any ideal of justice we might hold, and the question has been up for a long time as to what could be done to prevent this jeopardy of a double assessment of death duties against an estate. It particularly arises at a time when people are apt to have homes in more than one state. If a man lives in Philadelphia and has a summer home in Atlantic City or on the Atlantic coast, or if a man has a home in New York and has a summer home in Connecticut, or if he should live in either of those states and have a summer home in Rhode Island—there are infinite possibilities for a disturbance of this kind affecting the orderly disposition of the estate.

Last year, Mr. President, when the National Tax Association met at New York there was a conference called by the Tax Commissioner of New York which was attended by representatives from New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Pennsylvania and by representatives from several other states, and at that time they agreed some plan ought to be devised that would equitably settle the question of double domicile, if that question came up, inasmuch as it seemed to be the kind of a question for which there was no assurance that there could be an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. Eventually that conference agreed upon a reciprocal statute and that statute, as adapted to the Pennsylvania forms, is now before you for consideration and your vote.

The idea, Mr. President, is this: the Department of Revenue is given authority to confer with another state in case there is a dispute over double domicile and to make a settlement which can be carried into effect with the approval of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth; or if the two states cannot agree, then there is a provision for a Board of Arbitration which will settle the matter as to where a man was properly domiciled and to which state it may be the death taxes are properly due.

Now, Mr. President, that is all that is involved in this provision. Pennsylvania was the original home of reciprocal legislation, beginning in 1925, when we passed the first of our reciprocal acts relating to death taxes upon intangible personal property, such as stocks and bonds, of non-resident decedents, and from that time down to this Pennsylvania has had an honorable priority in the working out of these plans.

Here is a plan which was considered and framed in a large measure by our own taxing group. It has been considered with other states; in other states a statute has been introduced; I have no information at the present time as to how many have enacted it but I think that in New York, Connecticut and New Jersey there is similar or corresponding legislation already on its way.

It seems to me it is clear and I do hope very much the same spirit which made Pennsylvania the pioneer in the original reciprocal movement may make it become the pioneer in this movement as well.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, with reference to this bill, let me say that the history of Valley Forge Park shows that from time to time the Legislature has adopted laws which have changed the status of the park. The act of May 30, 1893 was an act to acquire title to not more than two hundred and fifty acres; the act of 1903 raised that to five hundred acres; the act of 1905 increased it to one thousand acres; by the act of 1917 it was increased to fifteen hundred acres and in 1925 it was increased to five thousand acres and that is the law at the present time.

Now, Mr. President, of course everybody is agreed that all of the Revolutionary encampment ought to be included in Valley Forge Park and there has been every disposition made to see to it the properties that we know were part of the Revolutionary encampment have been taken in.

Today there are about sixteen hundred acres in the Park which have been paid for by the state. There were four hundred acres more taken under condemnation in the Earle administration, on which the values have just been computed by Juries of View and for which an appropriation will be asked at this time, but we have asked the Park Commission whether they could not fix a more moderate ceiling than five thousand acres for the work they were to do and the commission itself has suggested to us if we could cut that ceiling down to three thousand acres, they can make it a complete piece of work.

The object of this bill now, Mr. President, is to cut the five thousand acres down to three thousand acres in order that there may be a ceiling which is a reasonable ceiling for the work.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in order to clear up an item in the budget concerning Valley Forge Park, I should like the gentleman from Montgomery to answer the question whether it is not true that this bill does not affect the budgetary requirements as contained in the present request of the Governor for Valley Forge Park.

Mr. EDMONDS. It does not, Mr. President, all it affects will be future condemnations that have not yet been made.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 653, entitled:

An Act regulating and improving the civil service departments and agencies of the Commonwealth, vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing for classification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls, imposing duties upon certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth, authorizing service to political sub-divisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making an appropriation and repealing certain acts and parts thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to present amendments.

Mr. TALLMAN. I object, Mr. President.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may we first hear the amendments before we vote?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, may I ask to what the Senator from Lehigh objects?

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Luzerne desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh?

Mr. MUNDY. Yes, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TALLMAN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator, Senator Tallman, to what he is objecting?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I object to the request of the gentleman from Luzerne for unanimous consent to introduce amendments.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the gentleman from Luzerne may proceed.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, does the Senator from Lehigh know what is contained in these amendments?

Mr. TALLMAN. I do not, Mr. President. I want to voice my objection to the Chair.

Mr. MUNDY. Then, Mr. President, the objection of the gentleman from Lehigh is general to any amendments, regardless of what those amendments might be.

Mr. TALLMAN. Yes, Mr. President. This bill has been on the Calendar for a considerable length of time and if the gentleman from Luzerne had wanted to offer any amendments he might have done so while the bill was on second reading.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, this bill in article 1, page 5, line 5, says very definitely—I will read from the bill—"Purpose. Greater efficiency and economy in the administration of the government of this Commonwealth is the primary purpose of this act. The establishment of conditions of service which will attract to the service of the Commonwealth qualified persons of character and ability and their appointment and promotion on the basis of merit and fitness are means to this end." Are those the words of the bill, I inquire of the gentleman from Lehigh?

Mr. TALLMAN. I am sorry, Mr. President, I did not follow the gentleman from Luzerne.

Mr. MUNDY. Well, Mr. President, for the benefit of the gentleman from Lehigh I might say I read from page 5, line 5 to line 11, inclusive, of the bill as printed, and I want to know if those are the words in the bill.

Mr. TALLMAN. I did not follow the gentleman in his reading but I presume he read the language as contained in the bill.

Mr. MUNDY. And that is the interpretation of the purpose of this bill; is that correct?

Mr. TALLMAN. It is, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. President

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the gentleman from Luzerne may proceed.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, on page 33, line 9, section 607 it says "Status of Employes Holding Positions When Act Takes Effect." I presume the Senate from Lehigh approved this portion of the bill and that he is familiar with the phraseology and the words and the interpretation of this section. Does this section in the Senator's opinion really carry out his statement of the purpose of this bill?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, the gentleman's inquiry, I think, is one that becomes a little bit difficult to answer. Certainly this much is true about it—I think the gentleman's purpose in asking the question is to find out whether it would not be better to provide in an act of this kind that there should be a competitive examination for all classes of employment at the time the act takes effect. I think the gentleman raises a question which is a debatable question in the minds of a great many people interested in civil service.

I might say, Mr. President, there are proponents of the idea that there should be a competitive examination for all persons at the time such legislation takes effect. There are other persons who believe the method by which persons who are presently employed in various services may become employes in the service by taking a non-competitive examination.

I want to say to the gentleman in further answer, and I think he knows and is cognizant of the fact there has been civil service established in this Commonwealth and that there are two ways of treating the subject, one, undoubtedly the way he has in mind and the other is in this fashion, and I think the gentleman full well knows that even though a bill of this nature may require that all persons take a competitive examination, that there are a thousand and one ways of conducting the examination in an improper manner, to give improper credit, and allowing persons in effect to be frozen in and I want to say the reason for putting the matter in this light in this bill is to deal with it honestly and not to put something in the bill which no one ever intends to follow.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TALLMAN. Certainly, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Does the Senator from Lehigh know of any such board now in existence in the State of Pennsylvania that conducts an examination as he sets forth in his last statement?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, for the past two years, since 1939, I have been a member of a Joint Legislative Commission which has been investigating civil service in the Department of Unemployment Compensation. The report of that committee is not yet ready, but is being prepared. I do not believe, in fairness to the members of that committee and in fairness to the subject matter of that entire inquiry, that it would be appropriate for me at this time to go into all matters or any matters of abuse that have occurred in the matter of establishment of and the selection of employees in civil service, in unemployment compensation, but I would like to say to the gentleman from Luzerne that there is evidence, and sufficiently good evidence, to indicate that in that Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, in the establishment of civil service, there certainly was not strict adherence to the act and there was not complete, fair dealing in the matter of appointments that were made in the Division of Unemployment Compensation of the Department of Labor and Industry.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair assumes unless there is objection this dialogue will be permitted to continue.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, am I to presume or am I to think the Senator from Lehigh really believes that in this State of Pennsylvania the Governor or the powers that be can not find a board of men sufficiently honest to conduct a real civil service examination?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I certainly do believe such a board can be found and that is the reason I have introduced these bills.

Mr. MUNDY. Does the gentleman from Lehigh believe this is a civil service bill?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, my honest and very humble opinion is this is a civil service bill.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, in the original purpose of the law it says that this bill will attract to the service of the Commonwealth certain individuals of high calibre and high intellect for office. Now, Mr. President, will the Senator from Lehigh explain to the Senators if he is going to freeze in employes in their present positions, what positions are going to be vacant for competitive examinations.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Luzerne either deliberately or perhaps by accident phrases his question in connection with this matter so that it may be answered in any number of ways. I do not know, but I have a feeling that in view of the questions that have been asked, that he does not choose to understand the bill. The bill, Mr. President, provides that persons who are now employed in departments which do not presently have civil service shall have an opportunity of becoming civil service employes upon the taking of a non-competitive examination.

In the first place, Mr. President, if the gentleman from Luzerne feels that this is going to be productive of freezing in, which is a term usually used in connection with civil service, that this bill will freeze in a tremendously large number of incompetent persons, he assumes, he must assume, first, that all people who are now in the service of the Commonwealth are completely incompetent. In the next instance, he must necessarily also assume that the persons who are going to administer the bill are going to be deliberately dishonest in their conduct in giving these non-competitive examinations. I do not believe that is a fair assumption in either case.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, it does not require any great stretch of memory on the part of anybody present to recall that the Senator himself stated the present system was anything but honest and that situation existed; I certainly did not make the charge. I simply followed up the statement as he indicated, that there were discrepancies and that there was dishonesty in the present set-up, and taking that as a statement coming from the Senator, I asked him how he is going to improve that situation and he does not answer me directly. He says I do not want to understand the bill. I disagree with him. I am certainly open to conviction and if the gentleman from Lehigh will interpret for the benefit of the members of the Senate, section 607, and explain to us why it is not a freezing in of employes, I would be willing to be enlightened.

Mr. TALLMAN. First, Mr. President, let me say to the gentleman from Luzerne, I do not want to be tricked into a misinterpretation of what I have said on the floor, nor do I want the gentleman now to twist his own language to suit his purpose.

In the first place, Mr. President, he asked me a question concerning what was the fault, whether I had any knowledge of any abuses in the present civil service. My answer to that is what he has just referred to. I would like the gentleman from Luzerne to remember, if he pleases, and I would like the Senate to bear in mind, please, my answer to the question was a direct answer and one that applied to those departments which now have civil service. The gentlemen from Luzerne will realize that whether this bill passes or not. that because of the existence of civil service in the Department of Public Assistance, in the Liquor Control Board and in the Department of Unemployment Compensation, the employes who are now under civil service, will remain under civil service, and stay there whether this bill passes or not.

When the gentleman from Luzerne talks about section 607 and discusses the matter of freezing in, I would remind him that section 607 can apply only to those departments which it is proposed shall come under civil service under the provisions of this bill.

The two things are entirely different, Mr. President, and I would like the gentleman from Luzerne to bear that in mind.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I repeat my interrogations; why does the Senator, if he is for civil service, object to striking out of section 607, page 34, beginning with line 3, after the word "shall" the words "become a," all of lines 4 to 10, both inclusive, and inserting after the word "service" a real honest-to-goodness civil service phrase which says "retain his or her position only until such time as an appropriate eligible list shall have been prepared and established for the position so occupied by such present employe but in no event for a longer period than two years?" Why does the gentleman object to that?

Mr. TALLMAN. My reason for objecting to that, Mr. President, is I feel exactly as I have stated to the gentleman from Luzerne some time past in the course of this interrogation. In the first place, the matter that he raises is a debatable point. My honest opinion and my firm conviction is that the proposal of the amendment to which the gentleman is now insisting is the very kind of a thing which opens the door to a lot of trickery, a lot of intrigue and a lot of dishonesty in the management of civil service.

I believe, Mr. President, that a fair, open, honest approach to a problem of this kind is to do it this way. I might say, Mr. President, I have a great regard for the gentleman's opinion, I have no quarrel with him personally about his opinion, except that I object to the introduction of his amendments for the reason I do not believe that manner of doing it is the right way of accomplishing the thing and because I believe with a situation like this out in the open, so that the whole world may know just exactly what the situation is, it makes for greater honesty in the whole business.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, how does the Senator from Lehigh propose to make those appointments now under his bill?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I am sorry, I do not understand what the gentleman means when he asks me how I propose to make appointments under the bill.

Mr. MUNDY. The gentleman from Lehigh says these are going to be non-competitive examinations; given by whom and after they are given who makes the appointments?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, the non-competitive examination would be given under the direction of the Civil Service Commission and under the direction of the Civil Service Director; the type of examination would be in the nature of a qualifying examination for the type and kind and classification of position the person is in and the appointment would then follow by the supporting authority, as is provided in the bill.

Mr. MUNDY. But, Mr. President, the gentleman is suspicious of a written examination properly conducted. He has said he feels it would be unfair and probably not honest, but he does not have any qualm of conscience about a non-competitive examination: is that correct?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I do not mean to say on the floor of this Senate I believe such an examination is unfair. I do not mean to say that those things are not right. The gentleman has asked me what my reason is, what my reason has been for objecting to the kind of amendments he proposes. I have stated my reason. I believe this to be a fair approach to that kind of a situation because I believe it will do away with the temptations, involved in a situation in administering civil service that will not properly function, and I firmly am of the opinion in the next instance that to approach it in this way gives persons who are in the employ of the state an opportunity to at least qualify themselves for positions and make themselves available for them.

Mr. MUNDY. Is not the Senator going to insist that he is going to have a very, very high type, honest commission appointed under this bill?

Mr. TALLMAN. I am, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Well then, Mr. President, why does the gentleman from Lehigh fear there will be any dishonesty or irregularity in this examination if the board is a high type, honest and real board? Why does the gentleman from Lehigh have a fear of any dishonesty?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I have not any fears and I am not going to take the attitude the gentleman from Luzerne wants to force me into; I am not going to claim everybody is dishonest. I simply would like to point out to the gentleman that there is a difference of opinion between himself and me and it is one that simply goes to the method, and I feel this is a fair and decent approach to this kind of a problem.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I certainly am either very dizzy or else greatly confused or cannot interpret the language. I certainly understood the Senator to say that he did not favor civil service because of the opportunity that might arise in a competitive examination to do something irregular. Now, Mr. President, if I understood that incorrectly, I certainly want to be corrected, but corrected in a proper manner, and that was my interpretation of what the gentleman said—in real straightforward English language.

Now, Mr. President, I contend this bill is not a civil service bill; this bill is obviously a bill to freeze into office a lot of present office holders and as I stated relative to the bill the other day, nobody will regret this half as much as the Republican Senators on the other side because they are not in a position to have experienced the situation that we had on the other side. We, the Democrats when we were in power, retained a lot of employes that came over from the other side, and I repeat, they carried the flag of democracy and waved it high, they were out at meetings and frankly they contributed to our cause, as they will contribute to yours now, and I say that you have in your employ some honest people, nobody doubts that, but you have in your offices a lot of Hessian soldiers to follow any leadership which is in power and if you want to blanket them into position; I say that is going to come up in the future as a nightmare to haunt all of you.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE BY WHICH SENATE BILL NO. 653 PASSED SECOND READING

Mr. MUNDY. Now. Mr. President, as I am frank about what I want, I now move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 653 passed second reading be reconsidered. I do that so that I may put myself on record.

Mr. COLEMAN. I second the motion, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll.)

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, as the roll was called I understood the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Crowe, voted "aye"; I do not see him in his seat.

The PRESIDENT. How did the gentleman from Monroe vote?

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no".

The PRESIDENT. The vote of the gentleman from Monroe will be so recorded.

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, I desire to change vote from "aye" to "no".

The PRESIDENT. The vote of the gentleman from Northumberland will be so recorded.

Are there any other corrections? The Chair hears none.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15

So the question was determined in the negative.

The PRESIDENT. The vote on the motion to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill 653 passed second reading was 15 ayes and 30 nays; having received less than a majority the motion falls.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Tallman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TALLMAN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, on page 49 of this bill I notice the employment board is abolished, that is, the employment board in the Department of Public Assistance. Is that correct; is that the intention?

Mr. TALLMAN. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I also notice, Mr. President, there is an appropriation of $450,000 provided for in this act. Is that correct?

Mr. TALLMAN. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Is it true that without an appropriation of $450,000 this bill would be ineffective?

Mr. TALLMAN. I would say, yes, Mr. President, because there would not be sufficient money for the board and the commission to function.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I direct the attention of the gentleman from Lehigh to page 51, of the repealer section of the act, which repeals section 2504-A and section 2505-A of the administrative code, relating to the executive department, including trustees of state normal schools. Will the gentleman explain the repealer?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, if the gentleman from Philadelphia will look at the act I believe he will find this portion to which he refers is merely a citation of the title of the act of 1929, P. L. 177.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Is it not true this bill repeals certain sections of the administrative code which refer to state normal schools, teachers colleges and the trustees of those state colleges.

Mr. TALLMAN. I do not understand it to be so, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Now, Mr. President, I should like to say with respect to this bill that sooner or later we will come to a position where we will have to act on a civil service bill, we will have to determine whether or not we want civil service in this Commonwealth, and when we reach that point we will have to come to the conclusion we are dealing with a subject that should be real, as the gentleman has stated, and approached frankly and honestly.

I do not question the motives of the sponsor of this bill, when I say that this bill does not approach it in the proper manner. No bill, in my opinion, which freezes in a group of employes whose tenure of office is at least questionable, even under the civil service provisions of the department in which they are employed, can be said to be a real civil service bill.

Let me say to you what I mean. The Department of Public Assistance is under civil service now. There are certain employes, most of the employes passed civil service examination, and under the provisions of this bill they will be kept in office. Now, Mr. President, I have had some experience with that and I have found when these public assistance employes were examined the board which had charge of the work of examining them used questions which were prepared by a group known as the social service group, whose business it was to prepare examination for department which were engaged in the business of public assistance and other social problems.

I recall distinctly the questions which were asked; many of them, when we read them over—I examined hundreds of copies of examinations—and when we read them over we all agreed that they were ridiculous in their character; many of them were framed so that only persons who attended a certain school for social service workers could possibly have passed the examination. As I understand, questions were asked regarding who wrote certain books and those books were only discussed and the contents taught in a certain school which dealt with social service work. Some of the questions asked visitors the most ridiculous questions I ever heard.

Now, Mr. President, this bill would put into office permanently those persons whose tenure in my opinion is questionable, because those who lost out in those examinations did not have a fair opportunity to qualify for the particular work they did. Visitors were asked questions registered nurses should have been asked. People who were qualifying for positions as mechanics were asked questions that mechanics would not know, and it is my firm belief, which I honestly state on this floor, if those examinations were properly held, that twenty-five to thirty per cent of the persons now holding positions would not hold them and others who had been deprived of them would have held the appointments.

In the Unemployment Compensation Division there is no doubt in my mind, no matter which political group will be in power or was in power, that there have been abuses even under civil service provisions and we have heard a great deal even today—very recently we have heard a great deal concerning the present employes on the payroll. This bill would not only freeze in the persons who are now appointed properly under the civil service provisions, but it would also freeze in persons who are improperly appointed but who now hold office, the appointments to which has been questioned by the federal government.

Now, Mr. President, it seems to me a bill which undertakes to call this a civil service bill and freeze into office the tenure of every single employe who now occupies a position in that department is not a civil service bill.

You can talk about honesty and decency and practicability, but you must face the one fact that under the provisions of this bill every employe in every department covered by this bill, civil service or not, will be frozen in, because they do not have to take a competitive examination and when you talk about civil service in the same breath with that kind of a situation, then I say you are using inconsistent language.

Unless I am mistaken in my interpretation of the section on page 34 to which the gentleman from Luzerne has referred, and unless I misunderstand the answers to the questions made by the gentleman from Lehigh, I am of the opinion and make the statement that the effect of this bill is that every individual employed in any manner by a department affected by the provisions of this bill will be frozen in, will have his appointment and will not have to take a civil service examination.

Now, Mr. President, what kind of a civil service bill is that?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I have always been an advocate of civil service and the merit system and I do not care much whether it comes from the Republican Party or the Democratic Party; one of the few good things about the New Deal is that it forced upon a somewhat backward Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a merit system and I would like to laud that act.

Dr. Mundy sometimes become historical and I would like to be a little historical myself and say that President Garfield was shot by a disappointed office seeker and that was the beginning of civil service, as his death caused the enactment of the first civil service law in this country.

Our neighboring State of New Jersey promptly enacted a merit system, in 1883, and we sat back and admired the system but we have been very very tardy in doing anything in Pennsylvania. I would like to acquaint my friend from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy, with the fact that there are at least twenty-five states which have adopted a merit system and so far as my knowledge goes they have always pursued this custom or procedure of not giving competitive examinations to people already in their positions. I know you can call it freezing in, but if you are a member of one party or the other, it depends a lot on who is going to be frozen in and if you are asking whether the purpose is political then I say it is, but the fact is it is not a novel procedure, it is a well known procedure to retain the people already in the positions, so that I hope even if we have to resort to partisan measures to put this bill through it will go through and we will get some kind of civil service.

I would like to say this, Mr. President, I had a visit about two weeks ago from five visitors in the Department of Public Assistance who asked me to raise their salaries—which I agreed to do—and all five of those visitors were Democrats, so I do not believe Dr. Mundy should be shocked in his boots quite so much, because I know those five were Democrats.

Mr. President, the civil service method of examinations in the Liquor Control Stores has been excellent; I never heard a stone thrown at it; my friend Shippen Lewis was at the head of these examinations for the Department of Public Assistance and I think he did pretty well. I believe my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, said he did not do so well but I think he did very well. The only complaint was in the positions in what I call the unemployment insurance and there were many complaints.

Thank you very much for your very undivided attention.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I should like to direct the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, to the fact that when he talks about the people in employment now under civil service, in the Department of Public Assistance, the passage or the failure of passage of this bill is not going to change that situation at all, because all persons who are employed under civil service at the time this act takes effect, in connection with section 607, retain the status they have under the present civil service set up.

If there is any good ground for removing persons presently under civil service in any department that ground would attach to them just as well under this act as it would under the present law.

In addition, Mr. President, I would like to point out just one other thing and that is as far as the gentleman being concerned about freezing people in is concerned, if I remember correctly he voted for freezing in, giving tenure to school teachers and he has done that on some other occasions, and it seems to me that he ought not to object so strongly about it now.

It seems to me, Mr. President, the matter of freezing in becomes a paramount issue only when it concerns itself with which side is doing the freezing in.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, when I came to the Senate six years ago, there was not a single person in Pennsylvania under civil service, but during the Earle Administration fifteen thousand were put under civil service. I have had a chance to observe civil service for a great many years, and I feel we ought to go a little slow.

I think it would be a fine plan to watch these fifteen thousand that are under civil service in Pennsylvania now and compare them with the employes of Pennsylvania who are not under civil service, and I will guarantee to you that you can go into any office here in the Capitol that is not under civil service today, and get more efficient treatment, more courteous treatment, than you will in the civil service offices.

I am thoroughly convinced of this, too, the longer you leave a group in civil service, the lazier they become, the more sarcastic they become, and when the bell rings at five o'clock, they run out like sheep, whereas in the other offices you will find many an office where the employes stay there until midnight to make a record for their department.

Mr. President, I am thoroughly convinced that civil service has never worked successfully, except in the postal department of the United States, and even there I submit, the employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and the Lehigh are just as efficient, just as loyal as the postal employes in the postal department, and so it may not be the result of civil service, it may be the result of discipline and good management.

We have had civil service for a year in the Bureau of Assistance, and we hear that civil service makes for stability and security. On the first page here it shows that last year 2,593 people were cut off the payroll in the Bureau of Assistance, 894 were released, 1,224 resigned under pressure.

As one of the Senators said, because I know something about payrolls—I am the Democratic County Chairman in Allegheny County, and we cannot get anybody off the payroll with a team of Perchon horses, and yet here in this Department of Public Assistance last year 1,224 resigned. Do you know why they resigned? Why, it was rumored around the office, and they saw other people being shoved out, or squeezed out, and they said, we better get out. So they quit. This statement shows further that the leaves of absence were 135; furloughed, 181; discharged, 139; suspended, 1; deceased 19.

Mr. President, 2,593 employes were separated from the payroll in one year, after being put under civil service, so according to that record it certainly does not make for stability or security, so that I feel that after putting fifteen thousand under civil service in this state, we ought to go slow and compare their services right alongside of the others.

You know, in Allegheny County, we have in our City-County Building, that is our city government, we have had employed under civil service for a quarter of a century, and right across the street in the court house are the county employes, and I have had a chance to watch both the City-County Building and the Court House, and I say to you today you can get more efficient service, more courteous service and better service in the Court House, where the employes are hired and fired on merit, or on the whim of the boss, if you say so, rather than over in the City-County Building where they are not, and after they have been in there ten or twelve years, you can hardly ever get them to look up when you go into their offices.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Tallman, the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TALLMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, do I understand that the gentleman from Lehigh introduced a bill similar to this in 1939?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, there was a bill similar to this, except the bill which I introduced in 1939, was a bill which affected only the three departments which then had civil service, public assistance, unemployment compensation division of the Department of Labor and Industry, and the Liquor Control Board.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, can the gentleman from Lehigh tell me what happened to the bill?

Mr. TALLMAN. That bill was vetoed by the Governor, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. I thank the gentleman from Lehigh.

Mr. President, as I look at civil service bills, I start looking around to see what politics are behind them, and after analyzing this bill, I think I can see the politics in it very clearly. The Republican Senate is going to pass a civil service bill over to the Democratic House, hoping that the Democratic House kills it, because if they do not it will go to the Governor and in all probability he will have sense enough to veto it.

Mr. President, I am not so much against civil srevice. I think it is very good, and I think it should be extended to Legislators and Senators. You know, Mr. President, the very persons who come in here in favor of civil service are the very ones who will oppose closed shop unions. If you talk to them about closed shop unions, check-offs and so forth, wage contracts, they are against them, but here they come in and want to take a group of persons, and want their jobs for political maneuvering and political patronage. They want to freeze them into a closed shop proposition; the very persons who will take public employes, public servants and give them full-fledged unionism and closed shop contracts would be the very ones who would condemn John L. Lewis and Bill Green, who are fighting for the same thing for the common workman.

You build a civil service machine in this state build it up strong enough, and you will have the efficiency that they have over in Germany. At least, that is the claim of proponents of civil service. They claim it gives us efficiency. Well, perhaps, the luxury of having a democracy calls for high waste and extravagance, but I would much rather have waste or extravagance in a democracy with all its politics, than the efficiency of your fascist governments of Europe.

You know even the liberties that we have under this great democracy of ours can be considered a waste and a luxury, because in the totalitarian idea and scheme of things, a wasted moment or any wasted time is a waste, and therefore those of you who take time off in the afternoon to play golf would be deliberately wasting some of the things that a totalitarian government does not allow. These youngsters of about fourteen or sixteen years of age, that go out along a little stream and take their shoes off and let their feet dangle in the water and while away a nice summer afternoon, are deliberately wasting time, and if you get civil service in all departments eventually your civil service will extend down to the very liberties that you enjoy in private life, because I want to say to the members of the Senate, that Senator McGinnis and Senator Mundy laid their fingers right on the core of the whole situation, and that is if they do no have any responsibility to any person or group of persons, under no circumstances can you get from them the type of service the people are entitled to in a representative form of government.

I want to say to you the minute you cut politics out of the picture, in this particular state or in this nation, then you can kiss goodbye to the democracy which we now enjoy. I mean that for the simple reason that it depends upon the patronage system. This is a political government—we are in a political government, run by political parties which exist upon political patronage, and our politicians when they can not get patronage resign from their office.

For instance, Mr. President, I read in the paper that Frank Harris has resigned as chairman of the Republican Party in Allegheny County, and I have heard that Frank quit because he could not get any patronage from Jim Torrance.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am a New Dealer and also an Andrew Jackson Democrat, and I believe in the spoils system.

I have been around Harrisburg for quite a number of years. I was here when the Republican Governor Pinchot had to come to the Democratic Party in order to get the right kind of a liquor control act, and civil service for the Liquor Control Board. I was here when he wrote the civil service act, for public assistance and unemployment compensation.

I am opposed to this bill. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Woodward said he has not heard of a stone thrown at the Liquor Control Board, civil service. Well, if he remembers in the fall of last year, the Governor threw a lot of big boulders in there, he fired some of the highest people under civil service in the high salary brackets.

Now, Mr. President, if they are going to bracket people in under this thing, I am going to insist that more people in Allegheny County get jobs. I am led to believe that Frank Harris had to quit because Jim Torrance would not give him any patronage and not because he is in bad physical condition. If I am wrong about that I wish someone else would correct me.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President—

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President—

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President—

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, since the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, wants to keep the record straight for Allegheny County I will yield only to him.

Mr. WALKER. Thank you. Mr. President, I deeply appreciate the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis; that was a very forthright and honest statement he made. I think perhaps if I were Chairman of the Democratic County Committee in Allegheny County and had all the worries of patronage he had heaped on his shoulders, I might be a little prejudiced against Civil service.

Regarding the comments of the gentleman from Westmoreland regarding our County Chairman who has just resigned, and dragging in views of a Jackson New Dealer, which is kind of hard to visualize for the average man, who believes in the spoils system, as I said once before the mere fact he is secretary of the organization of which Senator McGinnis is chairman does not influence his position of this bill one iota. I Just want to say this: that I think in all fairness such a statement is due the members of this Senate. It is true the Republican Chairman of Allegheny County has resigned but it was not due to any differences of opinion between Chairman Frank Harris, who at one time was a member of this august body on the Republican side, and Chairman Jim Torrance. It may be, perhaps, in their philosophy of government they have not seen eye to eye, but that did not effect the resignation of Frank Harris, and I think the gentlemen who suggested that, even in jest, are dragging partisan politics into what a while ago was a clean statesmanlike bill.

I want to say the reason Frank Harris resigned as county chairman is because of ill health. In fact when he took the job of county chairman—I might say, Mr. President, I was deeply interested in having him elected county chairman, because you couldn't get the average Republican to take that job for love nor money, because at that time a lot of people who are today marching very proudly in the Republican ranks figured in Allegheny County and in the City of Pittsburgh before the election that the Republican Party was dead and they made a lot of jokes in Allegheny County over the fact that our coroner was the county chairman of the Republican Party in Allegheny County.

Senator Harris took that job not because of any promises of patronage that might be on the horizon, but he took that job because he believed in the philosophy of government of the Republican Party; he took that job because he was determined that with the will and enthusiasm of the people who still believed in the Republican philosophy of government, we would come back, and he built a headquarters on one of the most prominent streets in the City of Pittsburgh, and he furnished the building and there the Republican Party has a permanent headquarters, something that they have been shy of for years, and he built the Republican Party up so that in Allegheny County today we once more are blessed with an active militant two-party system, and that speaks well not only for the City of Pittsburgh, that houses some of my colleagues here in the Senate, but it speaks well for the County of Allegheny, and I am proud to have played a part in Allegheny County under Frank Harris and in view of the comments we have heard here today, I think it is only fair to state that it is his physical condition which is such that it prohibits him from continuing in office for which I am sorry, because for the success of the Republican Party in Allegheny County, not only in the City of Pittsburgh but in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, looking toward victory for 1944, I hope that the Republican Party in the County of Allegheny will be able to acquire a man of Frank Harris' courage, initiative and ability.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, too many of us who have been in this body since the date that the statesman from Allegheny, Sentor McGinnis came here, it is very amusing to observe the change of attitude that time will work upon the minds of men. If we were asked to hold up our hands in this body of the question of how many of us here voted for civil service in 1937, we might be amazed, when we will place that against their present attitude. If I am not mistaken, when the first civil service matter came before the Assembly 1937, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, voted in favor of it but now he has changed his attitude. There were but a few of us during that session of 1937, who, in spite of threatened political ostracism and everything else, had the courage of their own convictions and voted against that civil service set up.

Now, Mr. President, we voted against it not because of partisanship at all, but because deeply within us we felt that under the form of government that we cherish and enjoy, it is inconsistent to ask an administration, put in office by the people upon a stated platform, to expect that administration to put its platform into practice at the hands of probably eighty per cent of those in office against that very platform.

Now, Mr. President, here is the reason and I trust that, despite the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Woodward, that this is a partisan matter, that we can divorce ourselves from that thought and just bear this in mind: how many of you are engaged in business of any character and how long would any of you keep in your business an employe who is honest, who is efficient, but who disagrees with the policies of your business? Now, gentlemen, this is just common sense and I truly believe that one of the greatest evils in our political structure here, our governmental structure in this country, is this, that we refuse to adopt common sense, for after all we must admit that the judgment used by politicians, ninety-five out of one hundred, is not judgment based on common sense but merely based on political expediency. Now, if the gentleman wants to be sincere in this civil service proposition, then we would have to draw that parity of analysis here with your business and try to reason out how it would be possible, let us say, to be specific, a Democratic Governor or let us say, a Republican Governor elected at the hands of the people upon a stated written platform, to put that platform into actual practice in every department of this state with employes in it believing in the philosophy of the Democratic platform? It is impossible, gentlemen; common sense should tell you that.

Now, Mr. President, during 1937—my mind has become slightly cloudy on whether or not this civil service might not be a good proposition but it only took the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Woodward, to completely solidify my mind that civil service is not good.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Woodward, states that he can appeal to the partisan spirit here to pass this bill. Now, gentlemen, let us act like gentlemen, like men; if that is the standard by which you are going to determine whether this bill ought to pass or not, what can you expect from the House if it determines the same question on a partisan vote? So, you see, we are wasting a lot of time and though the sponsor of this bill may be as sincere as any man can be in sponsoring this bill and insisting upon its passage, many of us who must contribute our votes to the passage of this bill are not sincere at all because we refuse to be governed by the principles of common sense, the same kind of common sense that you use in your ordinary every-day lives and your every-day businesses, but insist upon casting a vote consistent with your political philosophy, your partisanship, your partisan spirit based on no reason but merely political expediency.

Now, Mr. President, as I said, I was in hopes, in hearing the arguments on this bill, that I might be moved to decide that it would permit me to vote for the bill, but I repeat again that the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Woodward, have satisfied me that this is merely a partisan matter as far as he is concerned, and many of his colleagues, and I do not approve of anything like that.

I voted against civil service in 1937 and I will vote against it today, but I was hoping that my colleagues on the other side could have convinced me that they were not politically motivated but were sincere in their efforts to establish some sort of civil service that would be consistent with our idea of government and would be a vehicle by which the platform approved by the people at the ballot boxes might be given light, might be put into action, and if it is right might not be belittled by those whom the people elected to public office.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, much has been said about this bill and I have no intention of discussing the merits or demerits of this bill, but through the courtesy of the Presiding Officer we are having a field day, as we do every once in a while, and this is one of them, so I think it wise to say a few words at this time.

First, Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, for telling us just what is wrong with the Republicans in Allegheny County. I have often wondered what was wrong and he has explained undoubtedly what has taken place in Allegheny County, for which we Democrats are thankful enough.

Secondly, Mr. President, my good friend from Philadelphia, Doctor Woodward, pointed out that there are twenty-five other states which have legislation of this type and that might be the reason he is supporting this bill. Several weeks ago a number of my colleagues, among them, my colleague from Blair, Senator Mallery, the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Bartlett, suggested that they were voting for a certain bill because twelve other states had the same type of legislation. At the same time I pointed out many, many states in this union had old age pension laws and I was told at the same time that my bill had no preference—it was not dead but was peacefully sleeping in committee.

Now, Mr. President, I am wondering—I almost gave up hope, Mr. President, but I find by the papers this morning in our neighboring state of New Jersey, the Governor has signed a pari-mutual horse racing bill and that gives me hope that possibly, pointing to other states I might have an opportunity to have my bill brought out of committee and get it acted upon, and since my colleagues are guided by legislation approved in other states I once again have hopes my bill for obtaining old age benefits, the sixty at sixty plan, will now come out of committee and we will be able to say we in Pennsylvania are showing the way, and let other states point to us for once because all we have been doing in the last four or five weeks has been that we are pointing to other states.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Woodward, gave me an idea and I am certain now that I can point out to him the action which has been taken by other states, he will vote for my bill.

RULING BY THE CHAIR

Mr. GELTZ. Question, Mr. President.

Mr. EDMONDS. I move the question, Mr. President.

Mr. HEYBURN. I move the question.

The PRESIDENT. If any members of the Senate wish to move the previous question it should be reduced to writing and signed by four members. That is one of the rules of the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have been charged with being against this bill because it intended to freeze Republicans in. I am sorry the gentleman from Lehigh made that statement; it is not usual with him, as he usually debates a bill on its merit.

My objection to this bill, very sincerely, is that it is not a civil service bill. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Woodward, and I introduced in the Republican administration a bill for civil service which we both, after very careful study, considered one of the best civil service bills that has so far been developed. I have incorporated most of the provisions of that bill in a bill known as the city charter bill for Philadelphia, which I presented here. The city charter bill which was introduced in 1939 was sent to a Republican Committee and did not come out; it was not an attempt to freeze in any Republicans or Democrats.

This bill is not a civil service bill for the reason I have stated, and to answer the gentleman from Lehigh, it is true that those people who are under civil service rightfully will be under civil service whether this bill is passed or not, but those people who are not in that department properly under civil service, who have not completed their probationary period, under this bill, section 704, will be frozen in.

Now, Mr. President, I should like to call your attention to one very significant part of this bill. You will remember in 1939 the Republicans amended, I think it was the Liquor Control Board bill, by giving the Governor the right, notwithstanding civil service provisions, to dismiss anyobdy that he wanted to dismiss, and you will remember that he dismissed some men who had spent almost seven years of service in that department and were doing a very fine job.

Now, looking at this bill and reading page 42 of this so-called civil service bill, you find it sets up a board to determine whether or not a man should be appointed or fired, and I ask you to listen to this language, which appears at the top of page 42: "Notwithstanding the provisions of this act the Governor may upon recommendation of the appointing authority suspend or remove the director and any employe if he deems such action to the best interests of the public service." Reenactment of provisions of 1939 which gave the Governor of this Commonwealth the right to dismiss any employe who has passed his examination and has shown himself eminently suited for the position.

Now, Mr. President, I viewed with very much concern and with a feeling of chagrin and with a feeling of sympathy when, in 1935, employes who for four years had made this place their home, had to move out to give their places to Democrats who came in, and I viewed with the same feeling of sympathy the same situation when the Democrats moved out and the Republicans came in, I would be very glad to do anything that would assure public servants just as much tenure in office as teachers have.

Do not forget when I voted for the teachers tenure bill I voted for people trained and skilled in a specific kind of work and voted they should be retained there and not dismissed without cause. That is a little different than voting for a bill which freezes into place people who may or may not be efficient, and who are subject to the dismissal at the will of the Governor, in spite of this elaborate set up, of any person who is employed by the department.

That is why I say that I will not vote for this bill. I will vote, if it is ever presented, for an out and out clear cut civil service bill, because I believe that the policy making heads of departments should not come under civil service, and therefore, if they do not agree with the administrative policy they ought to go out, but the underlings and subordinates of those departments should not be dismissed as long as they perform their duties properly and are able to do them. This does not convince me this bill is a civil service bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

(During the calling of the roll:)

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I ask that the roll be verified.

The PRESIDENT. Verification of the roll has been requested by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro.

The clerk will call the names of those listed as having voted in the affimative.

The clerk read the following names as having voted in the affirmative:

Bartlett,	Ealy,	Kephart,	Snowden,
Becker,	Edmonds,	Letzler,	Tallman,
Carr,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Tyler,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Miller,	Walker,
Crider,	Haluska,	Ruth,	Watkins,
Crowe,	Heyburn,	Scarlett,	Woodward,
			Ziesenheim,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

REQUEST THAT AFFIRMATIVE VOTE BE DECLARED VERIFIED

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I now ask that the affirmative vote be verified as read.

The PRESIDENT. The affirmative vote as verified will stand.

The Clerk will now read the names of those listed as having voted in the negative.

The Clerk read those listed as having voted in the negative as follows:

Barr,	Dent,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Cavalcante,	DiSilvestro,	McQuiddy,	Taylor,
Coleman,	Frey,	Mundy,	Thomas,
Cox,	Homsher,	Shapiro,	Wade,
Deitrick,	McCreesh,	Stevenson,	Wilson, H. I.,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I did not hear my name called. I desire to be recorded as voting "No."

The PRESIDENT. It is so recorded. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

REQUEST THAT NEGATIVE VOTE AS VERIFIED BE DECLARED TO STAND

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that the negative vote be verified and declared to stand.

The PRESIDENT. The negative vote as verified will stand.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I wish to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

OBJECTION TO CHANGE IN VOTE

Mr. SHAPIRO. I object, Mr. President. The vote has been verified and declared to stand. The Chair declared the vote, on my motion, as verified to stand.

Mr. GELTZ. The vote has not been announced, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. It is not announced until after the verification. No vote is ever announced until after verification, and since the Chair has already verified the negative vote and declared it to stand, there can be no change in the votes.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia show the Chair the authority to support his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. We do not have it in our rules, Mr. President, but I will suggest to the Chair nothing is in order until the vote has been counted, and there is nothing before the Chair except an announcement of the vote. Anything else that comes up now, after the vote has been verified, is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. If the Chair would rule to sustain or uphold the point of order just raised a great deal of legislation previously passed would have been illegally enacted, for the reason that not only during the incumbency of the present Presiding officer, but also during that of previous presiding officers of the Senate, Senators had the right to and were accorded the privilege of and did change their vote, up to the time the votes were finally announced by the Chair.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Before verification, Mr. President. Not after the vote has been verified. That is the difference.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

Mr. SHAPIRO. I object, Mr. President. There has been no ruling on this.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, may I explain why I voted "aye"?

The PRESIDENT. If the gentleman from Cambria so wishes.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I object, Mr. President. There is nothing before the Senate excepting the announcement of the vote.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I have no intention of changing my vote. I wish to state my position.

RULING DEFERRED

The PRESIDENT. The Chair at the present time is of the opinion that any Senator may change his vote before the vote is finally announced. He will however, take possession of the bill and the roll tally sheet until he makes a final ruling on the pending point of order, which will be as soon as he can examine parliamentary authorities bearing on the point of order on question.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 654, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two hundred two and four hundred fifty-two of the act, approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges, abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards and commissions, defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers, providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," as amended, in order to establish the State Civil Service Commission as a departmental administrative commission in the Executive Department go over in its order because of the ruling of the Chair in connection with Senate Bill No. 653.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARR. I object, Mr. President.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I suggest to the Chair there is nothing before the Senate but the announcement of the roll call on the preceding bill.

The PRESIDENT. A point of order always takes precedent. A point of order has been raised and the Chair declares the point of order of the gentleman is not well taken.

Mr. WALKER. Did you say not well taken, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. A point of order was raised on that vote and the Chair has a perfect right to reserve his ruling on that point of order, and therefore there is nothing before the Senate now.

The bill remains in its present status, as it was at the time the vote was verified.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I respectfully suggest to the Chair my point of order is that there is nothing before the Senate except the announcement of the roll call on that bill.

May I respectfully suggest to the Chair we are now confronted with an ideal example of what happens when there is deferment of announcement of the result of the roll call.

I call to the attention of the Chair that the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Tallman, has requested that due to what happened in connection with Senate Bill No. 653, that Senate Bill No. 654 go over in its order. Now, I respectfully suggest, Mr. President, that nothing has happened yet to Senate Bill No. 653 and I think the Senate is entitled to know the disposition on Senate Bill No. 653 before we are asked to decide on Senate Bill No. 654.

I press my point of order, Mr. President, although I hesitate to differ with the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair must rule again the point of order of the gentleman from Allegheny is not well taken, for the reason the Chair has no official knowledge of what the vote was. The vote was verified, of those who voted in the affirmative and those who voted in the negative, but the Chair does not know the result, as to the number of votes on each side, and until he receives that information the bill stays in his possession.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the point of order I am raising is simply that the vote on Senate Bill No. 653 has not been announced and under our rules there is nothing in order except the announcement of the result of that roll call and nothing can take priority over that.

I respectful suggest to the Chair, that the Senate is entitled to know the result of that roll call, and if there is a delay in arriving at that, I suggest that the Senate recess until a tabulation of this can be taken.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has during his incumbency of this office always wanted to be fair and that is what he is going to continue to do. The Chair does not purpose to be heckled by points or order or anything else. The Chair will render a decision, which, in accordance with his views and conscience, he believes to be correct. The Chair however, will not rule at this time. If the Chair were to rule at this time it is probable those who are insisting on a ruling now would be very much disappointed.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, do I understand I still have the floor?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest that in rising to a point of order, that was done in all seriousness and with all sincerity.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair knows that.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am not attempting to heckle the Chair. I firmly believe the point of order I raised is well taken and I do not want to jeopardize action on bills which will follow by having a question raised on this vote, and that is why I suggested to the Chair that we are not prepared at this time to proceed with consideration of the Calendar and that we should recess until we are ready to proceed.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. For the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, the Chair did not refer to him as a heckler. There were about a dozen who arose at one time.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I can not control the other eleven.

MOTION THAT SENATE RECESS

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that we recess until 4:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my parliamentary inquiry is that I should like to call to the attention of the Chair, Page 730 of the Manual, and Page 729. Page 729, Decision 117, reads as follows:

"The yeas and nays having been called on the passage of a resolution, the names of senators voting for and against it having been read by the clerk, the result announced by the President Pro Tempore, a senator demanded that his vote, which he alleged had been cast but not recorded, should be recorded and counted. The President Pro Tempore—"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order. There is a motion before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. It was not seconded.

Mr. SHAPIRO. It was not seconded.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I second the motion that we recess.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, sir—

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has the floor. The Chair is the presiding officer and is going to do his duty, irrespective of what or whom it might hurt.

The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, moved that the Senate recess; there was no seconder; then the gentleman from Philadelphia rose to a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. "The President Pro Tempore decided that the Senator—"

The PRESIDENT. What is that?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Page 729, Rule 117.

"The yeas and nays having been called on the passage of a resolution, the names of senators voting for and against it having been read by the Clerk, the result announced by the President Pro Tempore, a senator demanded, that his vote which he alleged had been cast but not recorded—"

The PRESIDENT. That is not an analogous case.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is the first rule. Now, Mr. President, the second rule, 118, I say, applies.

"The President Pro Tempore decided that the call of the yeas and nays having been completed in calling the name of the President Pro Tempore and recording his vote, the vote of the Senator from Cambria (Mr. Boggs) could not be recorded without the consent of the Senate."

That was after the roll had been called and all parties had voted, and that was before it was announced. This vote was verified and I raise a point whether that does not end the action before the Senate.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President—

Mr. SHAPIRO. I am waiting for a decision, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, raised a point of order which will be decided and no one will be recognized until that time. No one can force the Chair to make a ruling to please him, the ruling of the Chair will be in accordance with the Acts of Assembly, the Constitution and the rules.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. The Chair awaits the pleasure of the Senate. The gentleman does not wish to make a motion.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL 654 RESUMED

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Tallman, moved that Senate Bill No. 654, go over in its order. Is there objection?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I second the motion, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Before the roll is called, Mr. President, I should like to call the attention of my colleagues to the fact that there is no use voting on this bill if the other bill has not passed, because this bill is an amendment to the administrative code; I do not think we should be foolish about it. I suggest to my colleague that he withdraw his objection that Senate Bill No. 654 go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection to the request of the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Tallman, Senate Bill No. 654 will go over in its order.

It was agreed to.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, may I explain my position and my vote.

The PRESIDENT. In connection with what bill?

Mr. HALUSKA. Senate Bill No. 653, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the gentleman from Cambria may explain his vote.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I voted "aye" on this bill because back in 1939 my colleagues told me at that time I should vote "aye" and the records show I voted "aye" upon the same type of legislation in 1939. Therefore, to be consistent, I once again voted "aye".

be recommitted to the Committee on Agriculture for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 576, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the clause defining Motor Vehicles of section one hundred and two of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refund," by including trackless trolley omnibuses within the definition of Motor Vehicles.

be recommitted to the Committee on Highways for the purpose of further study.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Luzerne?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, in asking that such action be taken the Senator from Luzerne must have a good reason. I ask the Senator to give the Senate one good reason why this bill should be recommitted.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy, I state that I feel this bill is ill-timed. I request further consideration of the bill in order that a study of the present tax load affecting these particular trackless trolleys may be made.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MILLER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, is the Senator from Luzerne aware of the fact that motorists pay a license for operating cars in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. MILLER. I am, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Is the gentleman from Luzerne also aware of the fact that motorbuses pay a license fee for operating buses in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, there is a question in my mind as to wether or not these can be described as motorbuses. Let me make this statement for the benefit of the members of the Senate; when I say that I believe in Luzerne County we are at the present time the only community operating the so-called trackless trolleys, but I have reason to believe there is now under consideration in the City of Philadelphia and perhaps in Pittsburgh preliminary construction for this type of trackless trolleys.

Now, Mr. President, to my mind there is also a question as to whether or not the act will stand, on its constitutionality. I have tried before never to convey the idea that I am of the legal fraternity; I am of the laity, I say that the source of power in operating a trackless trolley is derived from an outside source. There may be a motor in the particular trolley in question but the motivating power comes from a plant not located in the bus itself, and I want to further state I feel this is just a little bit unreasonable due to the fact—and the Senator from Luzerne is well aware of this—that many so-called traction companies in recent years have been in financial straits and this company in Wilkes-Barre or in Kingston, to be explicit, has gone to an enormous expense in constructing these trolley wires and purchasing these buses in order to give the people of that community rapid and convenient transportation and inasmuch as it only affects at the present moment Luzerne County, I feel, as I stated before, the bill is just a little ill-timed.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, as the Senator from Luzerne is aware, perhaps, I introduced in the 1937 Session the original bill which permitted re-organization of the traction companies and the use of the trackless trolley in the State of Pennsylvania. I think the Senator is aware of that.

Mr. MILLER. I will agree with that, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. And in that bill the traction companies were relieved of the cost of maintenance of their trackage, which was approximately 18 feet of paving all over their systems, which was a very, very considerable saving of money and thereafter they did surrender franchise rights under the provisions of this bill and the state took over and reconstructed the roads and also paid the traction company for the rails and material and these reconstructions were made by funds provided by the state and supplemented by funds gotten from the W.P.A., that is, the transformation from the old system of railways to this trackless trolley system, the cost was very insignificant and the saving tremendous.

As a matter of fact this bill took the traction companies out of the red and put them back in the field of competition with other forms of transportation and I say that there is nothing untimely about this bill in my opinion inasmuch as the state and the Legislature have done a great deal up to this time for private corporations in the way of re-establishing them in the field of competition.

Now, may I just ask the Senator this: did the Senator have any objection from any outstanding citizens in the community on this bill.

Mr. MILLER. The answer is in the negative, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Did the Senator have any objections from any of the heads of city government or any officials in the county against this bill.

Mr. MILLER. Again the answer is in the negative, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Did the gentleman from Luzerne have any objections from any individual in Luzerne County on this bill.

Mr. MILLER. I have before me a letter from the Wilkes-Barre Railroad Corporation setting forth some of the facts which I have related here.

Mr. MUNDY. Then the objection is entirely as presented by a corporation directly affected by this bill?

Mr. MILLER. Coupled with my personal objection, yes.

Mr. MUNDY. And no other citizen, no other official or no other individual of Luzerne County has objected to this bill at all?

Mr. MILLER. The question is answered in the negative.

Mr. MUNDY. Then we take it the Senator is acting entirely because of corporate influence and the influence of the traction company in his objection to consideration of this bill.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I do not wish to be construed in that light. I simply stated in answer to the question of the Senator from Luzerne that I have on my desk a letter from the Wilkes-Barre Railroad Corporation, and after reading the letter and forming my own opinion I feel, as I stated before, the measure is ill-timed.

May I elaborate further, and say that at the present time, where these trackless trolleys operate through municipalities, these particular municipalities are now receiving a fee from the present traction company for the trolley itself, for the wires and the poles necessary in holding up the wires.

I think, Mr. President, for that reason alone to take further revenue, if it is to be taken away or additional tax is raised, it might be the medium of increasing the fare and that is one issue I am going to fight on the floor of this Senate. They are now giving excellent service to the people. The residents of that community are not all as fortunate as some and do not all have automobiles to transport them and they are the people who rely, in order to make a livelihood, on buses and trackless trolleys and if this measure is passed, which might be the means of increasing the fare, thereby affecting them, for that reason alone I object to the bill.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I take pride in authorship of the original bill and the Senator has lauded me in my consideration and philosophy, that we want to give real service, and I believe we have been giving real service with these trackless trolleys, but the point that I ask is this: does the Senator want to be in a position to tax the private owner of an automobile, a truck owner or an omnibus, tax them by the state and exempt a single corporation of the State of Pennsylvania. If that is so, Mr. President, to ask the members of the Senate on his side, and on my side to vote merely because one corporation, one individual, one situation is affected in one county in the State of Pennsylvania, if that is the position the Senator wants to be put in, I want to know that.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I believe the Senator from Luzerne has misconstrued some of my statements. I am not of the legal profession, but I still have an idea in my mind these trackless trolleys cannot be construed as motor vehicles.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator—not as a lawyer but from a commonsense standpoint—why they are not construed as such.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, as I attempted to point out—whether I was successful or not I have my doubts—the source of supply of electricity comes from the wires which run the trackless trolley, which is electrically generated at a plant not in the bus itself.

Mr. MUNDY. May I ask the Senator does he know that motors sometime operate in mines and thrashers and machines on farm land and that they get their power from some distant plant when they operate?

Mr. MILLER. No, if gasoline propelled, I do not believe, Mr. President.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, there are many electric motors on farms, such as saws that operate by electricity, in the same method from the same plant. Would the gentleman from Luzerne consider they should be relieved of tax also.

Mr. MILLER. May I correct the Senator from Luzerne in assuming those motors operating on farms are subjects of taxation.

Mr. MUNDY. No, Mr. President, but that is the point I want to make; they are not because they do not use the highways. The only reason we are taxing them is because these electric buses use the highways of Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania state maintains the right of way and I say that the State of Pennsylvania should be reimbursed for the wear and tear of these highways.

May I ask the Senator from Luzerne if he knows only Sunday last in Luzerne County one of those electric buses struck a machine and that five persons were seriously injured, with fractured skulls and one with a fractured spine, who are confined to the hospital.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I happened to be out of the city Saturday and Sunday last and I did not know that.

Mr. MUNDY. Will the gentleman from Luzerne agree that Warren Street in Kingston and Market Street is maintained by the state?

Mr. MILLER. I believe the Senator from Luzerne is right.

Mr. MUNDY. If that was the point of the accident then will the gentleman from Luzerne agree this accident did occur on a state highway?

Mr. MILLER. If the gentleman from Luzerne says so, Mr. President, I agree.

Mr. MUNDY. Does the gentleman from Luzerne know that those trolleys operate between the cities of Wilkes-Barre and the City of Pittston, which is on the state highway.

Mr. MILLER. I believe the gentleman from Luzerne is correct.

Mr. MUNDY. Does the gentleman from Luzerne know that this traction company does not contribute one cent to the maintenance of that highway?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I do not know whether they do one cent's worth of maintenance of highway or not.

Mr. MUNDY. Am I correct, Senator, in stating that in the original bill they waived any maintenance of their right of way and the boroughs took over that eighteen feet of railroad track, that is to say fourteen feet, two feet on either side, that that was given back to the boroughs and the boroughs and the state got a project together and furnished the money, say forty per cent, and the Federal Government the rest, to rebuild this old roadway and in addition to that the traction company was reimbursed for the trackage by private concerns and that money was given back to them, and one thing the traction company got in return was the right to operate these trackless trolleys along the same lines but with no cost of maintenance. Now, does that change the Senator's opinion about them paying something?

Mr. MILLER. It does not, Mr. President. I base my statement on the fact—and the Senator from Luzerne knows right well the financial condition of our local traction company—and I say that to have this company go out and expend money in this costly installation, and they are still endeavoring to continue this trackless trolley service to other communities in close proximity to the territory of the Senator from Luzerne County, namely, Wilkes-Barre, and I would at least think the gentleman from Luzerne, inasmuch as it only affects our county, would certainly be fair enough in his legislation to at least give this traction company an opportunity to gain back some of the heavy expenditures they had been compelled to lay out on this service to the people of that community.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, the Senator wishes me to be in anomalous position of saying I want to make a grant of state funds to the Wilkes-Barre and Wyoming Valley Traction Company for their maintenance, and I am rather not inclined to go along with him, but does the Senator know how many electric buses they have in operation on that line.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I am very glad the gentleman from Luzerne asked me that question; they have exactly twenty buses which in effect would amount to, as far as revenue to the Commonwealth is concerned, of roughly four thousand dollars.

Mr. MUNDY. In one year, sir?

Mr. MILLER. I would say yes, in one year. I understand the average cost of a bus is about one hundred fifty or two hundred dollars and they have exactly twenty of them, and I hope they will have twenty more before this bill is passed.

Mr. MUNDY. Does the Senator from Luzerne want to be placed in this position, namely, that they have twenty buses, from which the state realizes four thousand dollars a year, and they contemplate twenty more buses and then twenty more, and then I understand they are being contemplated in the City of Philadelphia and the City of Allentown and in several other western cities, and if we establish a precedent now by going on record by voting to help one single corporation in one city, I am going to ask how you can consistently later on, when you have forty or fifty thousand of these electric tramways working in the State of Pennsylvania, how you gentlemen are going to come into the Senate and say you are going to vote against those people; you cannot consistently do it. I want to ask the Senator how he will consistently do it.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, that is rather problematical, whether or not after these various buses are installed in the western part of the state and in Philadelphia, whether I will be privileged to serve as a member of this Senate. I will say this very definitely: that in the event service of that nature, the trackless trolley bus, is inaugurated in other cities, after they have operated a sufficient time in which to allow them the privilege of receiving some of the money they have been forced to outlay, I will vote for taxes, provided it is constitutional.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, in conclusion I want to say this for the record. I was placed in the unfortunate and unhappy position today of coming up on the elevator to the Senate and meeting a gentleman from one of the power lobbies who informed me before I came into the Senate, "I am sorry, Doctor, but we have to put your bill back on the postponed Calendar," and as the vote will be recorded here today, I will decide whether that gentleman knew what he was talking about, what action was to occur, and what the members of the Republican Caucus had agreed to.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I have no knowledge of the statement made by the gentleman who was privileged to ride in the elevator with the gentleman from Luzerne. I simply said that upon receipt of this letter and after digesting the letter in my mind, I feel this bill is ill-timed and I will ask my Republican Colleagues and those on the other side who so see fit to vote to recommit this bill to the Committee on Highways.

Now, Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUNDY. If the Senator from Luzerne will just let me add one more interrogation first.

Does the Senator wish me on the Senate floor to give the name of the individual who spoke to me coming up in the elevator?

Mr. MILLER. I do not think, Mr. President, that is necessary; I do not think personalities should enter into this legislation. I think everyone here appreciates the fact we are trying to argue this out on a reasonable basis, and the bringing in of names to me is not necessary, but if the gentleman from Luzerne so desires there is nothing I can do to stop him.

Mr. MUNDY. The Senator has no desire to do that unless the gentleman questions the fact that there was a member of the power lobby who spoke to me but I am very willing to give his name if the Senator so requests.

Mr. MILLER. I do not so request, Mr. President. I have no reason to doubt the word of the gentleman from Luzerne. I merely stated I knew nothing of the incident.

Mr. MUNDY. I regret, Mr. President, that a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania should have to be informed outside of the halls of this Senate that a bill which he presented in an orderly fashion—that he should be told by a member of the power lobby that the Republican Caucus—and he mentioned the gentleman's name who was going to ask that the bill be recommitted—he had the information perfectly, so that I was fully prepared to take the floor, and if the gentleman wants to take the anomalous position of sending out emissaries of the power trust to tell other Senators that bills will be recommitted, you can put yourself in that position.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I merely say to this Senate that out of courtesy to the Senator from Luzerne I went to him and advised him I was going to ask that this bill be recommitted. If some one else went to him it was not by my instigation; I merely did it out of fairness, out of my respect for him, and I do not hold him in high respect, because he comes from the great county of Luzerne.

Now, Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUNDY. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I would like to direct the Senator's attention to page 1264 of the Legislative Journal, at the time he introduced this bill; I quote from the reason he gave for the introduction:

"Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, on behalf of the gentleman from Northumberland, Doctor Deitrick, and the gentleman from Warren, Dr. Chapman, and myself, I am about to present to the Chair a bill affecting trackless trolleys." I will end the quotation. Mr. President, I fail to see the names of either one of the gentlemen on the bill as it is on my desk and I just wondered the reason for the statement.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, there must be some very grave error in there somewhere. The gentleman has gotten off on the wrong track. The bill to which he refers, which was presented by Doctor Chapman, was a bill with reference to licensing of internes in hospitals and I do not see how it possibly could be confused with this bill. Certainly there is a grave clerical error somewhere.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, after listening to these illuminating interrogations I have come to the conclusion now that the trackless trolley is off the track.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I hope the two gentlemen from Luzerne County will forgive us for getting into this; I understand it is a public discussion and not private. I would like to suggest to the gentleman from Luzerne, Doctor Mundy, that I was one of the members of the Republican Caucus who was interested in a further study of this bill and I think that the gentleman, being the sponsor of the bill, is entitled to some observation as to why I would like to have more time. I am not interested so much in the financial status of any of the companies that might be involved, but I would like to direct the Senator's attention to the fact that when he amends the vehicle code, as I understand Senate Bill No. 576 does, under the definition of motor vehicles, he brings trackless trolleys, which up to this time have been classified as street cars, into the definition of a motor vehicle.

Now, Mr. President, those of us who are indirectly interested in the public utility phase of the definition of motor vehicles, I would like to suggest to the gentleman perhaps in bringing these street cars in under the definition of motor vehicles, there may be a question raised as to whether or not an omnibus company or a street car company operating trackless trolleys, and having that trolley defined not as a street car but as a motor vehicle, might be required to turn around and obtain a certificate of public convenience to operate motor vehicles to transport passengers for hire.

I say to the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Mundy, in all seriousness that the objection I voiced to Senator Miller was not captious nor facetious but I was deeply interested in that problem and I for one suggested perhaps we should have an opportunity to look further at the bill.

Now, Mr. President, if Doctor Mundy is fearful the bill is going back to be pickled—of course I know nothing of any arrangement he may have made with the power lobbyists to have the bill pickled; I was not part or parcel to that arrangement, I was interested in having the bill go back so that I could study it and satisfy myself on that score—and may I suggest to the good Senator from Luzerne, Doctor Mundy, that even if his worst fears are realized I have some bills back there in that vat and I know mine will enjoy having company.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I am very seriously concerned about this bill because it is the only bill that I have been able to get out of committee thus far, with my name attached to it, and I do want to have the pride of authorship in this Senate Session.

I might say the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Woodward, offered to re-educate me today along certain lines but I just want to say to the Senator from Philadelphia that he is just a little late—about twenty years too late—because he has reached maturity and I am fast reaching a mature age, and our philosophy of life is probably too divergent, by incident of birth, so widely removed and our social status so varying, at such variance, that perhaps I would not make such an apt pupil and would not reflect great credit on such a masterful teacher but I do suggest to the Senator from Philadelphia—if he will listen to me a minute—I do suggest to the Senator from Philadelphia instead of re-educating me he devote his time to re-educating the surging new generation of the Republican party, this obstreperous youthful group that has cropped up with new philosophies and new ideas, that are going to crowd out the old leadership in the Republican party with its new ideals and its new philosophy.

I was very interested, the other night, Senator, to read in the paper the very stirring address of the Senator from Pittsburgh, Senator Walker, which was given I believe before the young Republicans, and I am informed there was a great deal of enthusiasm, a great deal of oratory and I think in discussing Dr. Woodward and his group, the gentleman from Allegheny strenuously advised that they put these old gentlemen with money out of the party, thrown them out of the party, but by all means to retain their money.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not like to get into this private fight, but the principles involved in this issue before us today affect the whole State of Pennsylvania. Predictions have been made freely here that the use of trackless trolleys will probably be extended to Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and other cities. The question involved is whether or not the highways are public property and whether or not we tax for the use of the surface of the road or for the motive power that may be in the vehicle that is using the road.

You do not need to stretch your imagination to realize that many vehicles upon the roads of Pennsylvania today have no automotive power whatsoever. Take private home trailers, go-carts and other similar vehicles that are used in transporting hunting equipment and so forth, horse trailer cars and vehicles of that nature, they are taxed by the Highway Department and they are classified as motor vehicles; they do not have any motor whatsoever in them, then realize this too, whether the power comes from an electric wire line attachment or whether it comes from gasoline or steam or diesel oil or whatever it may come from, it still has a motor in it; these trackless trolleys do not run just because a little bit of juice is squirted into a switch, they have a motor underneath them that runs. There is nothing in the law that they must be gasoline motors and the question is one which is serious to the people of Pennsylvania.

Are we going to allow traction companies to get rid of the traction lines, as they now exist, and put in buses? They are only buses; the only difference is in the automotive power used.

I think this bill is too serious a bill to be sent back to be pickled, because that is where it is going—what is the use of kidding yourselves about things like that? Everybody knows it is going back to be pickled and I think the trackless trolley is going back to be pickled in committee.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, in connection with the statement of the gentleman from Luzerne, Doctor Mundy, to the effect that this is the only Mundy bill that has escaped from the supervision of committees and which has come out on the Calendar I would suggest this epitah: "Sic trackless trasit gloria Mundi."

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, perhaps I may be permitted to contribute a little poetry just for a few seconds, which I would like to read.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the gentleman from Luzerne may proceed.

Mr. MUNDY: It is as follows:

THE KING'S JESTER

How comes our noble, nobby Nestor,
With dignity of riches,
To play the role of just a jester
And banter in his breeches?

When windy Woody whines, with wobble,
About our Senate forum,
We wonder whether bells and bauble
Doth entertain this quorum.

Of course, 'tis true, we favor funnies,
Our kiddies' comic thrillers,
But chestnuts are for squirred-bunnies,
Though cracked by Chestnut Hillers.

Beware! His gag, and gab, and gammon,
As wit, our Woody passes
To camouflage his master—Mammon,
That menaces our masses.

With bells and bauble let him bellow,
Though statesmen he may pester;
This prancing, fancy, fawning fellow
Is just King Arthur's Jester.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MUNDY and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—27

Bartlett,	Ealy,	Miller,	Wade,
Becker,	Edmonds,	Scarlett,	Walker,
Carr,	Farrell,	Stevenson,	Watkins,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Tallman,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crider,	Kephart,	Taylor,	Woodward,
Crowe,	Letzler,	Thomas,	Ziesenheim,
Dent,	Mallery,	Tyler,

NAYS—12

Barr,	Cox,	McCreesh,	Mundy,
Cavalcante,	DiSilvestro,	McGinnis,	Ruth,
Coleman,	Frey,	McQuiddy,	Stiefel,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The PRESIDENT. On the motion to recommit the vote shows 27 yeas and 12 nays; the question being decided in the affirmative, the bill is recommitted to the Committee on Highways.

RULING ON POINT OF ORDER: SENATE BILL No. 653

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is now ready to rule on the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, in connection with Senate Bill No. 653, on page five of today's Calendar.

The Chair fails to find any Senate rule which applied to this particular point of order raised by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

Senate rule No. 34, page 19, Pennsylvania Legislative Directory, 1941-1942, reads as follows:

> "The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Jefferson's Manual shall govern the Senate in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the Senate and the joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives."

In the absence of a Senate rule or a joint House and Senate rule, the Chair quotes from the House rules and Manual of the Seventy-sixth Congress, rule 15, paragraph 766, page 349, which reads as follows:

> "Before the result of a vote has been finally and conclusively pronounced by the Chair, but not thereafter, a Member may change his vote."

Rule 15, paragraph 767, page 350, reads as follows:

> "Incidental questions arising during the roll call, such as the refusal of a Member to vote, are considered after the completion of the call and before the announcement of the vote."

Page 193, Roberts Rules of Order, in part, reads as follows:

> "A member has the right to change his vote up to the time the vote is finally announced."

The Chair now rules that the point of order raised by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is not well taken.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, do I understand your ruling is that there is the right in the members to change their votes?

The PRESIDENT. Yes.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The Chair will remember the question before the Senate was the verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair remembers that very well, and the Chair takes the position, and the Chair so ruled, that the vote at the time it was verified stood, but there is nothing to prevent a change of the vote up until it is finally announced by the Chair.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the gentleman who wishes to change his vote will make the statement to the Chair he voted under a misapprehension, having in mind, Mr. President, my point of order—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair knows of no rule which requires a Senator to make such a statement. It is, however, a statement which is usually resorted to when a Senator dseires to change his vote.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, after the vote is verified it indicates the gentleman's vote is properly recorded. Now, if the gentleman wants to change his vote, I cannot question the ruling of the Chair now, because the Chair having ruled, I am bound and must accept the ruling of the Chair, but I suggest, Mr. President, the vote having been verified, the gentleman was properly recorded, and if he now wants to change his vote it must be by a statement that he voted under a misapprehension.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I voted under a misapprehension; I voted under the apprehension we had twenty-six votes.

I desire, Mr. President, to change my vote from "Aye" to "No."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is the excuse I gave two years ago, with the same result. Still, Mr. President, if any gentleman wishes to change his vote on that ground, I have a right to interrogate him and if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, asks to change his vote on that ground, I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, to state what was his misapprehension.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I counted the votes, the "aye" votes, in the Caucus and I thought there was a majority of this side, and therefore I voted "aye", under the apprehension there was a majority; it turned out the other way and therefore I voted under a misapprehension.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object to the gentleman changing his vote on that ground, because that is not a misapprehension in voting; that is a misapprehension of the result of the vote and on that ground I ask the Chair to rule the gentleman has no right to change his vote.

Mr. WOODWARD. Well, Mr. President, I voted in error.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no".

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have raised a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia is not well taken.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, am I to understand the vote of our colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Woodward, as well as my vote, has been changed from "aye" to "no?"

Mr. SHAPIRO. There is only one question before the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. It has not been changed yet. A point of order was raised at that time.

Mr. GELTZ. I press my request that my vote be changed from "aye" to "no".

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces he herewith returns Senate Bill No. 653, together with the roll call which he took in custody.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Now, Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Allegheny state why he wants to change his vote?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, to be perfectly frank, I was engaged at the time of the verification of the roll in trying to get one more vote to make certain the passage of this bill and therefore I did not rise in time to ask that my vote be changed before the verification.

Mr. SHAPIRO. And, Mr. President, now that the gentleman from Allegheny has asked permission to change his vote will he state why he wants to change his vote?

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President; I want to be recorded as having voted the other way.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman from Allegheny state his reason for wanting to vote the other way.

Mr. GELTZ. I refuse to answer that question, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The gentleman has a perfect right to answer the question and I am glad to have the record show the reason.

MOTION TO DROP BILL FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I now move that Senate Bill No. 653 be dropped from the calendar of this Senate.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

RULING BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the request of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Woodward, to change his vote from "aye" to "no" and also the request of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, to change his vote from "aye" to "no" are now formally recorded as having been granted.

Are there any other changes? The Chair hears none.

The vote will stand as recorded.

POINT OF ORDER RENEWED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I renew my point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the point of order is that the motion made by the gentleman from Fayette—I understand the Chair has more or less ignored the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The vote determines that. The only thing now in order is the vote.

The Chair now has the roll call before him for the first time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Bartlett,	Ealy,	Letzler,	Tallman,
Becker,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Tyler,
Carr,	Farrell,	Miller,	Walker,
Chapman,	Haluska,	Ruth,	Watkins,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Scarlett,	Ziesenheim,
Crowe,	Kephart,	Snowden,

NAYS—22

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	McQuiddy,	Taylor,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	Mundy,	Thomas,
Coleman,	Geltz,	Shapiro,	Wade,
Cox,	Homsher,	Stevenson,	Wilson, H. I.,
Deitrick,	McCreesh,	Stiefel,	Woodward,
Dent,	McGinnis,

Less than a Constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

The PRESIDENT. The result shows 23 ayes and 22 nays; the bill having failed to receive a Constitutional majority, falls.

MOTION THAT SENATE BILL No. 653 BE DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR RENEWED

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I made a motion and I insist upon my motion being honored. I moved that Senate Bill No. 653 be now dropped from further Calendars of this Senate.

The PRESIDENT. It is dropped; you can not drop something that has already been dropped. The bill was defeated and so it falls. It is not on the Calendar now.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 614, (House Bill No. 1126), on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend part of section three hundred and two to amend section three hundred and seven and part of section fifteen hundred and one of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 343) entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government providing for the settlement assessment collection and lien of taxes bonus and all other accounts due the Commonwealth the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties affecting every department board commission and officer of the State government every political subdivision of the State and certain officers of such subdivisions every person association and corporation required to pay assess or collect taxes or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth" establishing the Surplus Commodities Stamp Fund and authorizing the State Treasurer to disburse money from said fund upon requisition of the Secretary of Public Assistance go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS POSTPONED

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 629, (House Bill No. 764), on second reading, entitled:

An Act to add section nine hundred thirty-eight to the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225), entitled "An act concernnig game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto, providing for the establishment, regulation and use of special dog training areas be postponed for the present.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 650, (House Bill No. 1022), on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section thirteen and to further amend section eighteen of the act, approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 522), entitled as amended "An act relating to dogs, and the protection of live stock, poultry, and game birds raised in captivity from damage by dogs; providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture; providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors; regulating the keeping of dogs, and authorizing their destruction in certain cases; providing for the protection of licensed dogs, and for dogs temporarily imported for trial, show, and breeding purposes; prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners; providing for the assessment of damages done to live stock, poultry, and game birds by dogs, and for live stock killed by, or dying from, rabies, and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs, and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth; imposing powers and duties on certain State, county, city, borough, town, and township officers and employes, directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury; and providing penalties," permitting certain dogs to be brought into the Commonwealth for hunting purposes, by holders of non-resident hunting licenses, without securing a Pennsylvania dog license where the home states of such non-residents afford a similar exemption to residents of Pennsylvania be postponed for the present.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 655, entitled:

An Act to amend the first paragraph of section one of the act, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 570), entitled "An act fixing the salaries and providing for the expenses of county commissioners in the counties of this Commonwealth," by increasing the salary of county commissioners in eighth class counties.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HENRY I. WILSON. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 691, (House Bill No. 1093), on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the eighth day of July, one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. L. 764), entitled, "An act authorizing suits brought to recover in case of accidents in this Commonwealth in courts of common pleas to be certified to the Workmen's Compensation Board when discovered that suit has been brought wrongfully," extending said act to cases heretofore or hereafter so brought in any court of record; and defining the legal effect of such certifications be recommitted to the Committee on Workmen's Compensation, as an amendment has just been received and they need a little further consideration.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 693, (House Bill No. 1173), on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend the fourth paragraph of section five hundred and six of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," allowing further deductions from gross indebtedness in order to determine indebtedness of any school district be postponed for the present.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 705, (House Bill No. 897), entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating the appointment promotion and reduction in rank suspension and removal of paid members of the police force in boroughs incorporated towns and townships of the first class maintaining a police force of not less than three members creating a civil service commission in each borough incorporated town and townships of the first class defining the duties of such civil service commission imposing certain duties and expenses on boroughs incorporated towns and townships of the first class imposing penalties and repealing inconsistent laws.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I should like to call to attention of the members of the Senate the fact that Senate Bill No. 705 is another civil service bill, such as caused such a furor in the chamber a little while ago.

There is a clause in there, which as I read section 22, page 15, freezes in the present police force of the municipalities involved.

All of the Senators who were so terrified over freezing in of some so-called Republicans in office had better look with horror at section 22, which freezes our policemen in.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 724, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section four hundred one of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by providing for the length of the terms and the method of appointing and removing the members of the boards of trustees of various State Schools and Teachers Colleges enumerated

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 740, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one thousand four hundred sixteen of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws general, special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith," changing the qualifications of certain children for exemption from compulsory attendance provisions, and imposing certain duties upon the juvenile court go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I am about to present to the Chair a bill and I wish to make a short explanation concerning this bill.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Butler will proceed.

Mr. CARR. For some time past, Mr. President, it has been customary for the Senator from Butler County to talk loud and long about milk control.

All of you who were here in the previous Session know that was a continuous subject of discussion by my predecessor.

There have been two bills introduced, one in the Senate and one in the House, proposing to alter the present milk control act. There are some people in the state who believe neither one of these bills will do the job as it ought to be done, and in order that there might be effective publicity given to another attitude of mind which has to do with the elimination of the price control feature, I have been requested to introduce this bill.

Mr. President, there has been some opinion among a great many of the farm people that the provision in the original milk control act, which provided that the farmer receive a profit on the cost of production, has been sort of set aside and that the operation of the milk control act has been that the price to the consumer was set and then the cost of operation of milk delivery was set and then, if there was anything left, it accrued to the farmer.

This bill proposes the elimination of price fixing entirely and I present it for the purpose of getting it before the public, to get a reaction from them in connection with it.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CARR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 936, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one hundred three, three hundred one, three hundred four, three hundred five, three hundred seven, three hundred eight, three hundred ten, three hundred eleven, four hundred one, four hundred two, four hundred four, four hundred five, four hundred ten, five hundred one, five hundred two, five hundred three, five hundred five, five hundred six, five hundred eight, five hundred ten, five hundred eleven, five hundred thirteen, all of article eight and section nine hundred four, to add sections one thousand seven, one thousand eight and one thousand nine to the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of April, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 417), entitled "An act relating to milk and the products thereof; creating a Milk Control Commission; establishing its jurisdiction, powers and duties; regulating the production, transportation, manufacturing, processing, storage, distribution, delivery and sale of milk and certain products thereof; providing for the licensing of milk dealers and the payment of fees therefor; requiring milk dealers to file bonds to secure payment for milk to producers and certain milk dealers; authorizing the holding of hearings and the issuance of subpoenas by the commission; conferring jurisdiction upon courts to punish contempts and to prohibit violations of this act and of rules, regulations and orders of the commission; authorizing the commission to adopt rules, regulations and orders, and to enter into interstate and Federal compacts; requiring persons who weigh, measure, sample or test milk to procure permits or certificates, to take examinations, to pay fees therefor, to furnish certain notices, records and statements, and to use certain methods of weighing, measuring, sampling and testing; authorizing the commission to examine the business, papers and premises of milk dealers and producers, requiring the keeping of records and the filing of reports by milk dealers, and permitting, with limitations, the use of information obtained thereby; authorizing the commission to fix prices for milk and certain milk products subject to the approval of the Governor, and conferring certain powers upon the Governor with respect thereto; providing for appeals to the courts from decisions of the commission, and for the burden of proof upon such appeals; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for violations of this act and rules, regulations and orders of the commission; defining perjury; defining remedies; repealing legislation supplied and superseded by this act and saving rights, duties and proceedings thereunder; and making appropriations." by providing that milk delivered or made available or handled or received on consignment or otherwise shall be subject to all the provisions of said act including price-fixing and bonding; enabling the ratification of the act or order of one commissioner by another member of the commission; authorizing special agents or examiners to conduct hearings on behalf of the commission; enabling certain officers, employes and agents to administer oaths; enabling commissioners to issue appropriate process beyond the Commonwealth; providing the method and effect of service of certain orders and the posting of rules, regulations and certain orders; enabling employes of the commission to mark or stamp for identification books and papers that they have inspected; providing for action with milk control agencies of other states and of the United States in holding hearings and promulgating and enforcing orders; requiring milk dealers to be licensed; stating grounds for refusal, suspension, revocation or refusal or transfer of licenses; stating the effect of service by registered mail when the addressee refuses to accept or receive such mail; enlarging requirements of milk dealers to file bonds to secure payment to producers and certain milk dealers; prescribing the effective date and term of such bonds and providing for their release; providing for the increase or decrease of the amounts of bonds; prescribing the effect of orders of the commission relating to licenses in suits on bonds; providing equalization of prices.

Which was committed to the Committee on Agriculture.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BECKER, from the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 628, (House Bill No. 762), entitled:

An Act to further amend sections eleven and twelve of the act, approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 522), entitled "An act relating to dogs, and the protection of live stock, poultry, and game birds raised in captivity from damage by dogs; providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture; providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors; regulating the keeping of dogs, and authorizing their destruction in certain cases; providing for the protection of licensed dogs, and for dogs temporarily imported for trial, show, and breeding purposes; prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners; providing for the assessment of damages done to live stock, poultry, and game birds by dogs, and for live stock killed by, or dying from, rabies, and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs, and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth; imposing powers and duties on certain State, county, city, borough, town, and township officers and employes, directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury; and providing penalties" by providing for the issuance of metal tags with kennel certificates, requiring such tags to be kept on dogs kept in kennels permitting dogs kept in a kennel to be taken out for hunting training exercise or entry in field trials and dog shows and requiring keepers of kennels to maintain certain records.

Mr. CRIDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CRIDER, from the Committee on Aeronautics, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 913, entitled:

An Act authorizing and directing the Department of Revenue, to prepare airport approach plans for publicly owned airports; empowering and directing such department and also counties, municipalities and other political subdivisions to promulgate, administer and enforce airport zoning regulations, limiting the height of structures and objects of natural growth, and otherwise regulating the use of property in the vicinity of such airports; providing for the granting of zoning permits and variances and for appeals from zoning regulations; authorizing the acquisition by purchase, grant or condemnation of air rights and other interests in land; and providing penalties and remedies for violations of this act or of any ordinance or regulation made under the authority conferred thereby.

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Samuel S. Lewis) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 232, entitled:

An Act to validate and quiet the title to lands and buildings heretofore sold by boards of school directors at public auction without full compliance with provisions of law authorizing such sales.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, MAY 20, 1941

The House met at 12 m.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father, Thou art not far from any one of us, for in Thee we live, and move, and have our being. When we stretch out our hands of faith unto Thee, Thou art ever ready to meet us, and to touch our hands in response. We pray Thee this day for a real sense of Thy presence. Help us to know that we are never alone. Thou art our great companion, our silent and unseen friend. Help us to live in that consciousness each day.

We ask Thy blessing this day upon all those for whom we have concern—our family and our loved ones, our friends, both near and far, yea, God, upon mankind everywhere. Give us a sense of Thy abiding presence when the shadows fall. Hear us, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. OWENS, unaminously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 266, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to The Glen Mills School situate in Delaware County Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 The sum of two hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars ($285,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to The Glen Mills School situate in Delaware County Pennsylvania for the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one for the purpose of maintenance

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the bill before us provides for an appropriation for the Glen Mills School situate in Delaware County. I would like to say that since the school is situated in the second legislative district of Delaware County, represented by the gentleman from Delaware Mr. James, the gentleman from Dalaware, Mr. Bretherick and myself, it has always been the custom in all the years that I can remember that the representative from the second district of Delaware County has introduced the bill for the appropriation for the Glen Mills School. It has been the custom for the representative of the Glen Mills School to contact one of the members, and up until the time that I was Speaker of the House they contacted me, and again this year they contacted me for their appropriation. The bill was introduced for their appropriation, but I notice the bill now before the House is a bill introduced by Mr. Rush from the first legislative district of Delaware County, in which district the school is not located.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 305, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Elwyn Training School at Elwyn in the County of Delaware Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and prescribing certain conditions upon which the appropriation will be available to the school.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the reason for placing this bill on the postponed calendar.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. A group representing the Elwyn Training School, Mr. Speaker, called my office today and advised me of their request to the Department of Welfare for an appropriation. They had overlooked a request for articles of clothing for the inmates and for the purpose of checking and a possible amendment, I am asking for the postponement of this bill.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1065, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the National Farm School at Doylestown Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the National Farm School at Doylestown Pennsylvania for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and forty-one for the purpose of maintenance to be paid according to law.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, the situation that applies to Delaware County applies also to this bill. Mr. Yeakel has always sponsored this measure for an appropriation to the National Farm School. The Farm School is in Mr. Yeakels district, and even back in the administration of Governor Earle, I believe he too was the sponsor. I want to say for Bucks County, it is one of the grandest counties in the Commonwealth. I do not believe it is worth five grand for anybody to sponsor this bill. However, we urge passage of it along with all of the other measures, as it is a worthy institution and it deserves the support of the Commonwealth.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1083, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of Temple University at Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of one million two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,250,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Trustees of Temple University at Philadelphia for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and forty-one for the general maintenance of the university and the purchase of such apparatus and equipment as the Trustees may deem necessary for the best interests of the university.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SAMUEL ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Finestone, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FINESTONE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SAMUEL ROSE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me what the tuition is at Temple University Medical College.

Mr. FINESTONE. Two hundred fifty dollars, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SAMUEL ROSE. Will the gentleman also tell me the additional cost that the student will have to pay?

Mr. FINESTONE. I am informed, Mr. Speaker, it is one hundred fifty dollars beside the two hundred fifty dollars, making a total of four hundred dollars a year.

Mr. SAMUEL ROSE. That will be all, Mr. Speaker.

NAYS—1

Rose, S.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. SAMUEL ROSE filed the following reasons for his vote:

I voted "No" on this bill making an appropriation to the Trustee's of Temple University at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, not because I am opposed to an adequate appropriation to this institution since, as an alumnus of this School, I am always interested in the further development of the school and its securing sufficient funds to aid in this development.

However, I had written several letters to the Dean of the Medical School in the interest of one of my constituents, and I was not even granted the courtesy of a reply. As a member of this House, who to-gether with my colleagues appropriate money to certain schools and colleges, I felt that I could not consciencously vote for the amount appropriated by this bill until I had further investigated and ascertained the attitude of responsible officials of the University toward those of us who, studying the needs of our institutions, are called upon to act with respect to those needs.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1106, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania located at East Falls Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of one hundred eighty thousand dollars ($180,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania located at East Falls Philadelphia Pennsylvania for the support and promotion of medical education for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one payment to be made according to law

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1203, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia Pennsylvania for medical education

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia Pennsylvania for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one for the support and promotion of medical education

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. VOLDOW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rosenfeld.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROSENFELD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VOLDOW. I would like to know, Mr. Speaker, the reason for recommitting this bill.

Mr. ROSENFELD. In answer to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, I might say that the dissertation given to us by Mr. Brown and Mr. Marshall Shepard indicates to my mind, since I am sponsor of this measure, that something is wrong at Jefferson, and I would like to know what it is.

Mr. VOLDOW. Mr. Speaker, I should like to know a specific reason for this sudden desire to recommit.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I have already answered that.

Mr. VOLDOW. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

On the question, recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "nays" appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for seventy-three members having voted in the affirmative and fifty-five in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, this bill makes practically a retailer out of a wholesale beer distributor. It allows him to sell six bottles or seventy-two ounces of beer off the premises. Mr. Speaker, what bill are we on?

Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Mullen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman who sponsored the bill, to explain the bill, please.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Blair, I might say that the bill provides for the distributor in Pennsylvania to sell seventy-two ounces of beer or six bottles off the premises.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. May I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LEVY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Will this allow more distributors or rather, will it interfere with our limitation of one for each thousand population?

Mr. LEVY. No, Mr. Speaker, it will not; it has no bearing on the quota law.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. That is all, Mr. Speaker. This bill has some good points, but it has a lot of very bad points and one is this, to allow a wholesaler to really be a retailer of beer in being able to sell six bottles. Now, we have plenty of retailers; I believe everybody in this House agrees that we have more retailers than we need in Pennsylvania, and here is something that opens it up real wide and allows the wholesaler to sell six bottles of beer.

What will happen if this bill goes into effect? We will have a lot of beer selling like we had some time ago, selling bottles around the corner and every place else. I think this is a very unfair bill and we ought to vote it down.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Jones.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GEORGE E JONES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Blair know the law prior to the passage of the 1937 liquor control amendment relative to distributors?

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, when the gentleman talks about the loose practice of selling beer, may I ask the gentleman whether or not he is acquainted with the practice of selling beer prior to 1937?

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I am very much.

Mr. LEVY. Then, Mr. Speaker, what does the gentleman mean by the loose practice of selling beer under this bill if it were enacted into law?

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, it will just mean it will make more retailers out of the wholesalers. That is all.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Blair know the definition of a distributor under the act?

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Well, Mr. Speaker, I think I do, yes, but it still allows them to sell six bottles of beer. You can not get away from that.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from

Blair know that a distributor at the present time sells beer?

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, he sells beer, yes; he sells twenty-four bottles.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 870, is a bill that permits the distributor to break a package, in the common parlance of his business, and permit him to sell as little as 72 ounces of beer to a customer. I understand this bill has not much significance in the large cities because in the large cities the selling of beer is confined principally to a taproom and to the beverage licensee. However, it has been brought to the attention of the sponsor of this bill that in the rural communities where they have beer distributors who are permitted to sell merely a case and nothing less, that they do have the housewife who desires at times to purchase beer in small quantities and she cannot do so unless she purchases it in a taproom.. As you gentlemen know, many of the housewives do not wish to walk inside a taproom during the day or night and purchase beer in bottles for use in her house. I say, this is not the only provision; the fact remains that the distributors in attempting to get legislation of this kind are attempting to cleanse not only their own business, but the business in relation to their employees. Practically every distributor in Pennsylvania has one employee or more whom they use for the driving of their various trucks in their particular business. This bill provides that they close at a certain hour each evening of the week and at a certain hour on Fridays and Saturdays.

I say to the men of the House that this bill has merit, as Mr. Jones from Blair has pointed out, but I fail to see where the demerits lies in the bill, in view of the fact that the bill permits the consuming public to purchase a small quantity of beer where they would ordinarily be compelled to purchase a case.

I say to the Members of the House that House Bill 870 has merits and I ask the membership to vote for the bill.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative, and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1454, as follows:

An Act to further amend section four hundred eleven of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of November one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 15 1933-34) entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale manufacture possession transportation importation traffic in and use of alcohol and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents the Department of Public Instruction other officers of the State government courts and district attorneys authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises and the granting of licenses subject to local option to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided prohibiting certain sales or practices in connection with and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others providing for the forfeiture of certain property making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees and imposing penalties" prohibiting sales of liquor and malt or brewed beverages during certain hours unless the legislative body of a city borough town or township is in favor of the same

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Section four hundred eleven of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of November one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, in relation to House Bill 1454 and also House Bill 1455, one dealing with the retail liquor dealers and the other with the malt beverage act, I want to say it has been erroneously reported in the newspapers to the effect that these two bills permit sales during week days until four o'clock, and sales on Saturday night until two o'clock Sunday morning. Such is not the case. I believe these two bills are simply a wee little bit of home rule. It is only, Mr. Speaker, through the legislative branches of city municipalities if they so desire to extend this time. Now the reason for the week-day extension is that possibly many of us have had the experience of New Year's Eve falling on Wednesday or Thursday with the result that if we do not extend the time the business is chased to other states. I honestly feel this is an opportunity for those city members who have not had the opportunity during this session to be given any legislation that would be in keeping with the majority of the people. It is safe to say that no council or no legislative branch of any municipality will extend these hours unless the majority of the people want them extended and I ask for your support on both these bills.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this bill, speaking for small towns such as the town I come from, Kittanning, where the councilmen are elected by the people without any remuneration, but rather serving from a patriotic sense of duty to the community. This bill would result in every election becoming a wet and dry fight in every small community in the state of Pennsylvania; men would not be elected according to their efficiency of service, but they would be elected to council according to whether they were wet or dry. It would be a continued wet and dry fight in every small town in the state of Pennsylvania and I think it would do away with what we now have. That is all I have to say.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker, this bill and the one following it on the Calendar seems to be the same old bitter dose of medicine done up in a paper of different color.

The inevitable result of this bill is to desecrate the Sabbath day. Simply drinking liquor on that day does not desecrate it. The vice in this bill is the creating of a liquor business for Sunday. A business that is degrading and unworthy, a business that will turn Sunday morning into a time of sin and debauchery. Our jurisprudence is founded on the Ten Commandments. The Supreme Court has ruled that the United States is a Christian nation. This bill challenges both the Holy Bible and the Supreme Court. I call your attention to the Fourth Commandment which has become inherent in the American people. It admonishes you to "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it Holy because it is the day of the Lord thy God, who made it and blessed it and hallowed it." The desecration of the Sabbath day is morally wrong and whatever is morally wrong cannot be made legally right. This bill is false is principle. It is fraught with bad results. It should be defeated.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, in rising to oppose these bills, I am rather surprised, you might say, at the nerve of the gentleman in bringing such bills to the House under the guise of home rule. Whether it is a little wee bit or a great lot, the liquor business, now, I believe, is on a pretty firm and well regulated basis under the State Liquor Control Board. These two bills, if passed, will throw the entire liquor supervision and regulation into hodge-podge. It would extend the provision possibly in some municipalities to close to two o'clock, some to three and some to four. Just how the Liquor Board is going to enforce the regulations in every municipality with the different closing hours is more than I am able to say.

Further, Mr. Speaker, I firmly believe if these bills are passed, it will open up our legislative bodies in our various cities and counties to political corruption such as this State has never seen. I am really surprised that the Liquor dealers come in and try to extend their business under such methods. I have warned them back home and I warn them publicly now, if they continue to pursue these methods they will find themselves out on a limb and the limb will be sawed off, and they will wonder why their business was taken away from them. These bills are no good, they can serve no useful purpose, and for that reason I trust the Members of the House will vote against these bills, and I ask my colleagues to do so.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, prior to the setting up of the Liquor Control Board there was a variance of closing hours in all municipalities, cities, boroughs, townships, and so forth.

Mr. Speaker, this bill was introduced by me, it was not at the request of any retail liquor dealers, and I honestly feel and sincerely feel, being a city member that there are many many violations on Saturday night closing time in the city of Philadelphia. It is a matter of record and many of the Members from Philadelphia can testify to that fact. This simply will permit the legislative bodies of those municipalities that are in favor of later closing hours, to extend the closing time. I am honestly astounded to hear any opposition to this bill, because I sincerely believe that the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, will be for this bill, inasmuch as this is the first bill that gives a little of the home rule we have heard so much about in this session.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I thought the Member of the House understood my position on the question on home rule, but I certainly would not be for this bill with this wee little bit of home rule.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1524, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-one (Act No. 17) entitled "An act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county (except counties of the second class) city (except cities of the first and second class) borough town township school districts (except school districts of the first class) poor district (except in counties of the second class) and county institution district (except in counties of the second class) taxes prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof" eliminating the provision authorizing the rejection of the provisions of the act

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-one (Act No. 17) entitled "An act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county (except counties of the second class) city (except cities of the first and second class) borough town township school district (except school districts of the first class) poor district (except in counties of the second class) and county institution district (except in counties of the second class) taxes prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 All penalties and interest imposed on unpaid delinquent county (except counties of the second class) city (except cities of the first and second class) borough town township school district (except school districts of the first class) poor district (except in counties of the second class) and county institution district (except counties of the second class) taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and forty and all previous years assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate are hereby abated without the necessity of further action by the authority levying the tax if the unpaid delinquent taxes are paid as hereinafter provided [unless the authority levying the tax shall have notified the county treasurer within thirty days after this act becomes effective that the taxing authority has rejected by a majority vote the provisions of this act]

In order to receive the benefits of the installment system of payment provided by this act twenty per centum or more of the unpaid delinquent taxes due for the year one thousand nine hundred and forty and for all previous years shall be paid on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-one twenty per centum or more on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-two twenty per centum or more on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-three twenty per centum or more on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-four and the unpaid balance on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-five Provided That the taxes on such parcel or parcels of real estate levied for the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-one together with any interest and penalties due thereon shall be paid on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-one And provided further That the respective current taxes on such parcel or parcels of real estate levied for the years subsequent to the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-one during such installment periods assessed and levied by such taxing authority shall be paid before they become delinquent For the purpose of this act a tax shall be deemed to become delinquent on the date when a penalty attaches to the tax If and whenever any of the said current taxes or any of the said installments are not paid when due and payable as herein provided then and in that event the total amount of the abated penalties and interest shall be revived and added to the unpaid taxes with the same force and effect as if such abated penalties and interest or portion thereof had never been abated and the taxpayer shall not thereafter be entitled to any further benefits or privileges under this act

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry that this bill has reached the floor of the House. This bill merely amends the bill that was recently passed by both Houses and signed by the Governor, allowing various municipalities of the State to say whether or not they will abate the penalties and interest on unpaid taxes. That bill passed the House and passed the Senate without any opposition, because it left to the various municipalities to say whether or not they would come under the provisions of the act. In other words, each municipality in the State knows best its own economic condition. They know best whether the people in each local tax division can or have been able to pay their taxes, and vice versa; other municipalities in the Commonwealth know best whether or not due to economic conditions the people have been able to pay their taxes. It was due to that fact, I think, more than anything else, that the previous act was a "may" measure that it passed this House without much trouble. Now we come along with another bill two weeks after that bill became law and amend it and say we must do it. It is against every home rule principal that can possibly be imagined, and I think it is a very bad breach of faith when we come along with this amendment and try to force it down the throats of the various municipalities. It is very bad law and we have no right as I said before to sit here as legislators and pass mandatory laws saying to the various municipalities of Pennsylvania, "You don't know anything about your local economic conditions. We know better down here and we are going to tell you what you must do." If we are going to persist in this kind of legislation, we might as well do away with all the municipal and local government of Pennsylvania, and just throw the whole thing into a State wide government. I, therefore, ask the Members of the House to vote down this bill as being a bad piece of legislaion.

Mr. ACHTERMAN IN THE CHAIR

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, I wish to say it was very necessary that the bill was passed the way it was that particular time in order to save many of the homes in the local communities. That bill was not as good a bill as we wanted to pass in the first place, but half a loaf at the time was better than none at all, and in order to save all those homes we passed such a law.

We believe the taxpayers and the home owners all over the state of Pennsylvania are entitled to justice from legislative bodies of different types in the various counties who take it upon themselves without finding out the economic conditions of the various taxpayers and say to them "You shall not take advantage of this tax abatement." Should you ask any of these home owners whether or not they were in favor of this abatement, I venture to say that practically every one of them would be in favor of this mandatory provision of tax abatement.

To show you, Members of the House this is not confined solely to this side of the House I wish to read a letter I have received from a very strong Republican in Grove City, an attorney by the name of Mr. McBride. Mr. McBride writes as follows:

"I am pleased to note that you are sponsoring a bill making the tax abatement provisions in the Dent Tax Abatement Act compulsory.

'I know of two municipalities that, without waiting for a copy of the act itself and without giving any persons opportunity to be heard, passed resolutions rejecting the optional provision of the Dent act. Tax collectors apparently don't like the provisions and fail to realize the immense good these Tax Abatement Acts have done in the past. I firmly believe that the taxables of the state are entitled to at least one more Tax Abatement Act which will give them ample opportunity to make payment by November 1st. Such ample opportunity was not given, as I recall, at the last Tax Abatement Act.

"I am a Republican and am sorry to see the sentiment of the Republican members opposed to tax abatement legislation. Apparently they just don't understand. Representing lenders and borrowers alike, I know that tax abatement legislation as set forth in the Dent Bill is wise and I think it should even be compulsory this time.

"If your time will permit, I would appreciate advice from you of the chances of passage of the bill sponsored by you and Representative Munley of Lackawanna County."

Mr. Speaker, this is not the only letter I have received. I have also received a number of letters from strong Republican districts in which they say they would like to see this particular act made mandatory, and if there ever was a time for the various taxpayers and small home owners to save the various penalties and interest, this is the time. As I have previously mentioned, due to the National Defense program, money is coming into the hands of a lot of home owners who never before had as good an opportunity to take advantage of this provision as they do now. Now that this money is coming into their hands, they are willing and would be glad to pay the taxes, but the shortsighted councilmen tell them, "No, you cannot take advantage of this particular thing." I think it is high time that we tell these shortsighted councilmen or school board members or county commissioners, if you please, "You must do this for the benefit of the small home owners."

I, therefore, ask the members of the House to support this bill.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to be put into the position by the previous speaker of being called on to oppose tax abatement legislation. I was a co-sponsor of a bill in the 1939 session which was similar to the one passed earlier in this session, allowing the option to the various municiplaities of rejecting the act. I also voted for these bills as we had them before, but I am not in favor of this bill for this reason; It is all right to say that a number of people now have money to pay taxes, which they could not pay before; it is all right to say that we are happy to help these people out, but a number of these municipalities are finding out that is not so. People who are taking advantage of this tax abatement act now, are in a number of instances monied people who come in and buy the homes which people have had to give up on account of their overburdening taxes. You might call them scavengers or vultures. They have lain back until the people lose their homes and then come in under the tax abatement act and attempt to pay less on the face of the tax and the penalties as they stand. They are not persons who are handicapped by inability to pay, but they are people who have deliberately lain back and have bought these homes when the peope had to give them up. These vultures are not entitled to the advantages of the tax abatement act, and if any municipality has rejected or intends to reject the provisions of the present act, we should uphold them in their power to do so. I think this act making it mandatory is a bad step, and is a backward step from the progressive legislation we have had. I oppose the bill and I ask the other Members of the House to oppose it.

THE SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, for presiding.

28TH WARD DEMOCRATIC ASSOCIATION OF PHILADELPHIA WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House today the Ladies Auxiliary of the 28th Ward Democratic Association of Philadephia. The ladies are the guest of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rooney.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WOODSIDE, asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the Legislative Journal has been filled with remarks by the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, and the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, and a lot of others who have made a lot of remarks in this House, which I do not think will be of much benefit to anybody in the future nor that anybody will get very much pleasure in reading. There have also been a number of bills introduced which are printed in the Legislative Journal, many of which were introduced by the gentlemen on the other side, as well as by gentlemen from this side, which we complain about, and many of which were introduced by the gentlemen on the other side, which we are very glad were not introduced from this side.

I think today something has been done which is well worth putting in the Journal that those few people who refer to it will find entertaining, amusing and beneficial. I received something in my mail box this morning which I would like to present to the Chair for printing in the Legislative Journal in about the form it is her. I am referring to House Bill 1275½, Printers No. 463½ by Ben James. I think it would be a good idea if the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. James, would sing the song or at least recite the poem for the benefit of the House. I at least might send to the desk with the request that the Chair direct it to be printed at length in the Legislative Journal.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from Delaware refuses to sing the song the Chair would request the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, to sing it. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. James, sing the song?

Session of 1941

The General Assembly of Pennsylvania

HOUSE BILL 1275½, PRINTERS NO. 463½

By Ben James

We sing a song of our rolling hills,
—of sylvan dells and tumbling rills,
—of buckwheat bloom in the evening zephyr
And the milk prospects of a Woodring heifer.

CHORUS

Sing to the Senate, sing to the House,
Sing to the circumspect, sing to the 'souse';
Sing to the prophets, sing by heck!
Sing for the day of that last pay check!

We sing a song of our gorgeous skies,
—of birds and bees and butterflies,
—of the charm of moonlit rural lands,
And the unfair labor of schoolboy bands!

(Repeat Chorus)

We sing of the wilds where dwells the bear,
—of lush low meadows—of the timid hare,
—of the dove at morn and his mating wail,
And the Duke of Montgomery's horse's tail!

(Repeat Chorus)

We sing of the brook and the wary trout,
—of trees and flowers and wild life about,
—of deer in the stills and frogs in the cane,
And a long demonstration of Dix, of Wayne!

(Repeat Chorus)

We sing of our mines and farms and mills,
—of heroes and statesmen and authors of Bills,
—of patriots, school teachers, distillers and such,
And the fabulous wisdom of Sarge (spoke in Dutch).
(Repeat Chorus)

We sing of our homes in a State so blest
—of the helpmeet bidding us come—and rest,
—of the dreamy bliss of the old fireside,
And the value and worth of a floor-leader's hide!
(Repeat Chorus)

We sing of our votes—unbossed and true,
—of matters pertaining to State revenue,
—of Budgets and other political confections,
And how we'll be tagged in future elections!
(Don't Repeat Chorus)

(There may not be any more checks)

This Act shall become effective as soon as a co-sponsor can be found who can contribute a tune and 50 cents to cover expenses.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, if those of you who have House Bill 1275½, will refer to the last line of the sheet, you will find there is a very good reason why I or nobody else has sung the song up to the present time. That line reads as follows:

"This act shall become effective as soon as a co-sponsor can be found who can contribute a tune and fifty cents to cover expenses."

However, Mr. Speaker, I feel very much flattered and pleased with the notice that has been given this little effort. I am particularly pleased that since these sheets have been out, there has not been a single case that has come to my notice where any person or any Member has taken umbrage, or has been hurt in any single line in my effort. I am pleased to think that the House, particularly the Chair, was willing to interrupt the regular order of business to take notice of this poor little effort of mine. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. Is there a singer in the House?

Mr. OWENS. Mr. Speaker, Mr. James' poem or song was fine, but I do disagree with him, in fact very vitally, because I am a Union printer and this does not have on it a union label.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hates to interrupt the gentleman from Philadelphia in his slumber, but the Chair would like to have the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Shepard, sing the song.

Mr. SHEPARD. I thought I heard the Speaker sing in my sleep. That is the thing that aroused me. I will agree to sing the song if the Speaker will join in with me.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. James, will waive that fifty cent item, I think we may be able to prevail upon the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Munley, to provide the music because he is a celebrated musician.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I did not intend to add anything to the amusement of the House, but last night after receiving this little effort of the gentleman from Delaware, I sat down and replied to the gentleman from Delaware, and with your permission I would just like to read a few lines in reply. I had no intention of doing this until Mr. Woodside opened up this situation. My little effort in reply to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. James, is as follows

SESSION OF 1941½

The General Assembly of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg

No. 23 Skidoo HOUSE BILL Printer's No. 0000

(A Parody, not a Plagiarization, for Imitation is the Sincerest Flattery. With Apologies to Benjamin James, Gentlem n from Delaware)

(By Irving Sidney Dix. Poet of the Poconos).

We sing a song of our rolling Bills —that the Legislative hopper fills —that clog the Senate and clog the House.
Till some are dead as an old church mouse.

CHORUS

Sing to the Speaker, sing to the Chair,
Sing to the Governor and the old gray mare;
Sing to the prophet of the Pocono,
Gentleman Leo, the man from Monroe.

We sing a song of the good and wise,
—of laws and legislative lies
—of the harm committed in these Halls
When Legislature stalls and stalls.

We sing of the pretty dancing dames
—of the poetry of Benjamin James,
—of freedom by our Homer Brown,
That brings the Assembly much renoun.
(Don't repeat Chorus)

We sing to the wisdom of Editor Trout,
—of Philadelphia's Levy, who likes to shout,
—of Woodside, the man with the iron will,
And the Democrat "who stole my Bill."

We sing of the rural Legislator
—of Elwood Turner, the great debater,
—of liquor control, of trade and barter,
Of Home Rule and the City Charter.
(Don't repeat Chorus)

We sing the song of the wonderful State,
—of the liberties of which we prate,
—of teachers' pay and minimum wages,
And maximum labor for the House pages.

We sing of our ancient right to vote,
—of Bills and Budgets of various note.
—of all these matters of State we sing,
For songs in the House will forever ring.

Note: This act and song should not be effective until read in the Hall of the House Three Times on Three Different Days, Passed by the House and Senate and Vetoed By the Governor.

The SPEAKER. I do not believe the gentleman had anything in his contribution about the singing of the wood burner.

Mr. LEVY. I move that the able remarks of the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, be spread upon the Journal.

The SPEAKER. They are already on the Journal.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I have always had a great deal of respect for the Speaker as being a good Irishman who would not take a dare or a challenge. Now, he has been given a dare and a challange to sing this song, by Reverend Shepard. I am just wondering if the Speaker of the House is going to fall from grace and let that dare and challenge go uncontested.

The SPEAKER. Down goes the Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, at this point somebody ought to say what the parson sometimes says, "God save the Commonwealth".

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, what City No. 8½ has to say about the poem?

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. SHAFFER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Congressional and Judicial Apportionment to meet during the session of the House.

PROCEEDINGS EXPUNGED

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to the House to make a motion at this time.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Monroe asks unanimous consent of the House to make a motion at this time. The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that all of the proceedings under Senate Bill No. 507 be expunged from the record and the bill returned to Committee.

The motion was agreed to.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Walter E. Rose for Mr. O'CONNOR for today's session on account of illness.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1459, as follows:

An Act to enable the county commissioners of counties of the first second and third classes to establish by resolution the requirements of responsible bdiders for county printing and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The commissioners of any county of the first second and third classes may by proper resolution require that printing firms who are desirous of presenting bids for county printing shall be required to establish consideration as responsible bidders as follows

(a) That the printing shall be done within the county

(b) That the printing firms shall file with the chief clerk of the county commissioners a sworn statement to the effect that employes in the employ of the firm or firms which are to produce such printing are receiving the prevailing wage rate and are working under conditions prevalent in the locality in which the work is produced

(c) That a collective bargaining agreement shall be in effect between an employer and employes who are represented by a responsible organization which is in no way influenced or controlled by the management

(d) That in case any dispute arises as to what is the prevailing rate of wages for such work applicable to the contract which cannot be adjusted by the county commissioners the matter shall be referred to the county salary board and its decision thereon shall be conclusive

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I dislike to appear to disagree with the reason that underlies this bill. We have had before us, I believe legislation of a similar character pertaining especially to printing in the state or border states and printing for cities, and with those ideas I am in hearty accord. I am in hearty accord too, with the situation that has been written into these measures which provide that the printing done at public expense shall be done under agreements, where a part of the provision is that the contractor shall have a collective bargaining agreement with employes. I wish not to be misunderstood in this matter. I have no objections whatever to the labor feature that is written into these bills which requires that the contract shall be made with those printing concerns who have collective bargaining agreements.

However, in the case of counties the situation differs very materially from what it is in the matter of state-wide printing or in municipalities for municipal printing. In the first place, the printing industry, except in large centers, is a very small industry indeed. I have no doubt that there are counties within the Commonwealth requiring printing, and in those counties by reasons of the small demand for printing, the local printer may be what we commonly call a "one man shop." In other words, it is not uncommon in small counties, and indeed in some fairly large centers, to find that the only printer has but one employe besides himself. I feel if this measure went through, it would very seriously handicap the counties in arranging for their printing because on the one hand, the bill tries to induce the placing of the county business within the county, which is highly proper, but on the other hand it would probably exclude the only printer in the county from sharing in that business if he happened to have a small one man plant. I believe honestly the sponsors of this bill had a very meritorious thought concerning the provisions in connection with this bill, and I think the bill is very well meant. However, I do believe in the case of the counties it would work greater harm than good. If it was found, that the only printer in the county, a man, who by all measurements is entitled to the work of the county, did not provide for collective bargaining agreement, or complied with labor requirements of the act then there would be no alternative but that the county commissioners make a contract with some printing concern outside of that community. I believe with the measure approved with respect to state-wide printing, with which I am in hearty accord, and with the printing of municipalities, we have gone as far as we can go to carry out the purpose of the broad underlying purpose of this measure. I regretfully will have to vote against this bill.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. James.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware, how he voted on House Bill 1458.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I voted "aye" on House Bill 1458.

Mr. LEONARD. The gentleman voted in favor of that bill?

Mr. JAMES. Oh, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEONARD. That is all. I thank the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. Speaker, this is a companion bill to House Bill 1458 which was passed by this House and sent over to the Senate. Both of these bills come from the printing industry. The Allied Printing Trades of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Harrisburg endorsed; endorsed by the Pittsburgh Central Labor Unions and the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor. That represents the side of the workers who are responsible for the introduction of these bills.

Now, for the employer's side I want to read to you a resolution sent to me by the Union Employing Printer's Association of Pittsburgh. This resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, House Bills 1458 and 1459, now before the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, would authorize the City of Pittsburgh and the County of Allegheny to require that all printing ordered by the City and County shall be done by printers located within Allegheny County who pay "the prevailing wage rate" and who operate under collective bargaining agreements with their employes; and,

"Whereas, A deplorable situation now exists among the printers in the City of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County, by reason of the fact that out-of-town concerns, sometimes located in far distant cities, are coming into said City and County and carrying away printing orders at cut-throat prices with resultant injury to the local printing concerns who support the City of Pittsburgh and County of Allegheny through the payment of tax moneys into the City and County treasuries; therefore,

"Be It Resolved, That the officers of the Union Employing Printers' Association of Pittsburgh, at a meeting held this sixth day of May, 1941, do hereby endorse House Bills 1458 and 1459, and urge the members of the General Assembly to enact this legislation; and,

"Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be sent to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and to the members of the several committees to which said Bills were referred, with the request that the Bills be favorably reported, and that suitable action be taken to place them upon the statute books of the Commonwealth."

Mr. Speaker, all concerned, who are affected by these bills, are for the bills. This is one time that the employers and the employes, through their union, are agreeable for their own preservation that bills of this kind should become law. I cannot understand why we should oppose measures that would protect our own community. Pittsburgh or Philadelphia or Harrisburg or any other community in my opinion should be privileged to let their printing in the way they want it done, to people who pay taxes in that community and not go out of the county or city, and especially out of the State, where wages are low and they are able to underbid the scale agreement that the union printers have in their agreements in their respective cities where this printing is to be done and for whom the printing is being done.

That is my reason for supporting this bill and I ask the House to support this bill the same as they supported House Bill 1458.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid that my previous argument on this bill has been misunderstood. Mr. Leonard, the last speaker, has just indicated he believes we should enact laws here that will protect communities and the people in those communities who pay taxes to the community, and in all that I heartily agree.

The remark made by the gentleman from the city of Pittsburgh simply reiterates what I said a little while ago, to the effect that in the big centers this sort of measure is fine, and I heartily agree with it. My contention is, however, that this bill relating as it does to counties, will definitely change the county work of some of the small counties and put it out of the hands of perhaps of the one little printer in that county, because if that printer cannot comply with all the provisions of the act, he cannot be the successful bidder for the printing of that county.

I believe thoroughly we should take measures to keep every bit of printing that originates in the state of Pennsylvania within the geographical limits of this state, and that all of this printing should go to the printers within this state. With all those things I am in hearty accord. I am in hearty accord with the labor side of this question. On personal privilege I happen to be a printer. I have no interest in state or county printing. I do not do that kind of printing. I don't want to do it. But I do know that there are quite a bit of chiseling tactics employed in the printing industry that we should do something to abolish. All of those things are with me matters of the heart, and I agree with them thoroughly, but I do not want to see legislation enacted here that will defeat one of the principal purposes that the people who have this legislation in mind must have thought of and that is keeping the printing requirements within the subdivision in which they originate. They could not be kept within the small county if within that county there was but one little printer who could not qualify with all of the provisions of this act.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I think that this bill relating to counties defeats the very purpose and the larger aspects of the whole question.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. James.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware explain to the House the difference between House Bill 1458 and House Bill 1459?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker they relate to two different types of political divisions.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware interpret the first two lines of section one.——

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will permit me to look at the bill, I will.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I will read it for the gentleman.

Mr. JAMES. No, Mr. Speaker, I have the bill here. "The Commissioners of any counties of the first, second or third class may by proper resolution——"

Mr. LEONARD. That is enough Mr. Speaker, how does the gentleman interpret that?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I interpret that this is a "may" bill and they may or may not.

Mr. LEONARD. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 11, as follows:

An Act to create a uniform and exclusive system for the administration of parole in this Commonwealth establishing the "Pennsylvania Board of Parole" conferring and defining its jurisdiction duties powers and functions including the supervision of persons placed upon probation in certain designated cases providing for the method of appointment of its members regulating the appointment removal and discharge of its officers clerks and employes dividing the Commonwealth into administrative districts for purposes of parole fixing the salaries of members of the board and of certain other officers and employes thereof making violations of certain provisions of this act misdemeanors providing penalties therefor and for other cognate purposes and making an appropriation

Section 1 The value of parole as a disciplinary and corrective influence and process is hereby recognized and it is declared to be the public policy of this Commonwealth that persons subject or sentenced to imprisonment for crime shall on release therefrom be subjected to a period of parole during which their rehabilitation adjustment and restoration to social and economic life and activities shall be aided and facilitated by guidance and supervision under a competent and efficient parole administration and to that end it is the intent of this act to create a uniform and exclusive system for the administration of parole in this Commonwealth

Section 2 There shall be and there is hereby established an independent administrative board for the administration of the parole laws of this Commonwealth which shall be known as the "Pennsylvania Board of Parole" and which is hereinafter referred to as the "board" Said board shall consist of five members who shall be appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate and each of whom shall hold office for a term of four years or until his successor shall have been duly appointed and qualified Provided however That in making the first appointments to said board two members shall be appointed for terms of two years each and three members shall be appointed for terms of four years each Vacancies occurring in an office of member of the board by expiration of term death resignation removal or for any other reason shall be filled in the manner aforesaid for a full term of four years Provided however That in filling vacancies on said board if the appointment of such person or persons for four years will result in the terms of more than three of the members expiring in the same calendar year then the Governor by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate shall make such appointment for an additional period of one year

Subject to the provisions of this act the board shall have all the powers and shall perform the duties generaly vested in and imposed upon independent administrative boards and commissions by the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) designated as "The Administrative Code of 1929" and its amendments and shall be subject to all the provisions of such code which apply generaly to independent administrative boards and commissions

Section 3 The Governor shall from time to time as the occasion may arise designate one of the members of the board to be its chairman who shall preside at all meetings of the board and perform all the duties and functions of chairman thereof The board may designate one of its members to act as chairman during the absence or incapacity of the chairman and when so acting the member so designated shall have and perform all the powers and duties of chairman of the board but shall not receive any additional compensation for so acting

Section 4 A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for transacting business and except as hereinafter otherwise provided a majority vote of those present at any meeting shall be sufficient for any official action taken by the board No person shall be paroled discharged from parole or the parole of any person revoked except by a majority of the entire membership of the board

Section 5 The chairman of the board shall receive a salary of ten thousand five hundred dollars ($10,500) per annum and each of the other members of the board shall receive a salary of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per annum

Section 6 The members of the board shall not hold any other public office or employment nor engage in any business profession or employment during their terms of service as members thereof and shall hold their offices during the terms for which they shall have been appointed if they shall so long behave themselves well A member of the board may be removed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of two thirds of all the members of the Senate During a recess of the Senate the Governor may suspend a member of the board for cause and before suspension he shall furnish to such member a statement in writing of the reasons for his proposed suspension and such suspension shall operate and be effective only until the adjournment of the next session of the Senate following such suspension.

Section 7 As soon as may be convenient after their appointment the members of the Board of Parole shall meet and organize They shall appoint a secretary who shall not be a member of the board who shall hold office at their pleasure who shall have such powers and perform such duties not inconsistent with any law of this Commonwealth as the board shall prescribe and who shall receive such compensation as the board shall determine In the absence or incapacity of the secretary to act the board may designate such other person as it may choose to perform temporarily the duties of secretary

Section 8 The board shall adopt an official seal by which its acts and proceedings shall be authenticated and of which the courts shall take judicial notice The certificate of the chairman of the board under the seal of the board and attested by the secretary shall be accepted in evidence in any judicial proceeding in any court of this Commonwealth as adequate and sufficient proof of the acts and proceedings of the board therein certified to

Section 9 There shall be a General Director of Parole who shall be appointed by and hold office during the pleasure of the board The General Director of Parole shall receive a salary to be fixed by the board not exceeding seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) per annum together with such necessary expenses actually incurred by him in the discharge of his duties and as may be authorized and approved by the board The said General Director of Parole shall subject to the direction and approval of the board have supervision and control of all district parole offices supervisors and agents and generally be the executive head and director of the administration of parole in this Commonwealth

Section 10 The principal office of the board and of the General Director of Parole shall be in Harrisburg and the board shall appoint and employ therein such number and character of officers agents clerks stenographers and employes as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act The salaries of persons so appointed and employed by the board shall be fixed by the board The board shall divide the Commonwealth for administrative purposes into a suitable number of districts not to exceed ten in each of which there shall be a district office which shall have immediate charge of the supervision of cases of parole arising in the courts of the judicial districts embraced within its territorial limits but as occasion may require the supervision of particular parolees may be transferred by the board to other appropriate parole districts

The board shall fix and determine the location of the various district offices within their respective districts having regard to local conditions in each district and to the most convenient and efficient functioning of the office therein established and at each of the locations so fixed and determined shall provide such office accommodations furniture equipment and supplies as may be reasonably suitable and adequate for the proper handling and dispatch of the parole business of the district and to this end the board is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into contracts on behalf of the Commonwealth for such office accommodations furniture equipment and supplies aforesaid through the Department of Property and Supplies

Section 11 Each district parole office shall be in charge of a district supervisor who shall be appointed by the board as hereinafter provided and who shall receive such annual salary not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) as the board shall determine Said district supervisor shall be the executive head of the district office to which he shall be appointed and shall have the control management and direction of all employes of the board assigned to said district subject to the supervision of the Director General of Parole as aforesaid

Section 12 The board shall appoint in the various district offices a sufficient number of parole officers clerks stenographers and other agents and employes to fully and efficiently administer the parole laws of this Commonwealth but no employe of the board other than its secretary and its General Director of Parole shall be appointed by the board except in the manner hereinafter provided The salaries of such appointees as aforesaid shall be fixed by the board It shall be the duty of the board from time to time by appropriate rule or regulation to prescribe the qualifications to be possessed by its appointees Said qualifications shall be such as will best promote the efficient operations of parole

Section 13 The board shall from time to time as may be necessary prepare and conduct or cause to be prepared and conducted free competitive examinations for all positions to which it shall have power to appoint except that of the General Director of Parole and of the secretary of the board Said examinations shall be practical in character and so far as may be possible shall fairly test the relative capacity and fitness of the applicants to discharge the duties of the service into which they seek to be appointed but no applicant for appointment shall be excluded from the examinations conducted by the board for political racial or religious reasons or because of a lack of previous scholastic education or special training or experience Provided however That in grading applicants the board may give fair credit for previous education training and experience Written examinations shall be so conducted that the identity of those taking the same shall be unknown to the examiners

Section 14 From the examinations conducted as hereinbefore provided the board shall compile lists of eligibles from which it shall make its appointments to the positions for which the examination shall have been held A list shall not remain in existence for a longer period than two years and at the expiration of said period or the exhaustion of a list a new list shall be compiled by the board before another appointment may be made to a position for which the expired or exhausted list was applicable Provided however That in an emergency the board may provisionally appoint to a position for which no eligible list is available but no such provisional appointment shall be for a longer period than three months and successive provisional appointments shall not be made by the board The persons taking an examination shall take rank upon the eligible list compiled therefrom in the order of their relative fitness as determined by the examination without reference to priority of time of examination In making appointments from an eligible list compiled in the manner aforesaid the board shall select for its first appointment from the names of the three persons standing highest on said list Thereafter as each appointment is made by the board the next selection shall be made in the same manner from the three names then standing highest on said list and so on until the expiration of said list or the exhaustion thereof If any name has been three times rejected by the board the said name shall be stricken from the eligible list and shall not thereafter be considered by the board in making an appointment therefrom All appointments made from an eligible list shall be for a probationary period of not more than six months and during such probationary period the appointee may be dismissed at the pleasure of the board

At its inception the board may in its discretion provisionally appoint and employ its officers clerks and employes from among the officers clerks and employes of the various parole departments operating in this Commonwealth at the effective date of this act without requiring such persons initially to submit themselves to and to pass competitive examinations as herein provided for but no such employment shall continue after the preparation and establishment of an appropriate eligible list for the position occupied by such appointee and in no event for a longer period than two years

Section 15 No employe of the board except the Secretary and General Director of Parole shall be removed discharged or reduced in pay or position except for cause and only after giving him the reasons therefor in writing and affording him an opportunity to be heard in answer thereto Provided however That an employe may be suspended without pay and without hearing for a period not exceeding thirty days but the reason or reasons for such suspension shall be given to the employe by the board in writing And provided further That successive suspensions of the same employe under the power hereby granted shall not be made

Section 16 No member of the board or officer clerk or employe thereof or any person officially connected therewith shall take any active part in politics or be a member of or delegate or alternate to any political convention or be present at such convention except in the performance of his official duties hereunder No member of the board officer clerk or employe thereof or any person officially connected therewith shall serve as a member of or attend the meetings of any committee of any political party or take any part in political management or political campaigns or use his office to influence political movements or to influence the action of any other officer clerk or employe of said board No member of the board officer clerk or employe thereof or any person officially connected therewith shall in any way or manner interfere with or participate in the conduct of any election or the preparation therefor at the polling place or with the election officers while counting the votes or returning the ballot boxes books papers election paraphernalia and machinery to the place provided by law or be within any polling place save only for the purpose of voting as speedily as it reasonably can be done or be otherwise within fifty feet thereof except for purposes of ordinary travel or residence during the period of time beginning with one hour preceding the opening of the polls for holding the election and ending with the time when the election officers shall have finished counting the votes and have left the polling place No member of the board officer clerk or empoye thereof or any person officially connected therewith shall directly or indirectly make or give demand or solicit or be in any manner concerned in making giving demanding soliciting or receiving any assessments subscriptions or contributions whether voluntary or involuntary to any political party or for any political purpose whatsoever Any person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) and imprisonment not exceeding one year either or both in the discretion of the court and in addition thereto shall forfeit his office or employment as the case may be and shall not thereafter be appointed or employed by the board in any position or capacity whatsoever It shall be the duty of the board to dismiss from his office or employment any officer clerk or employe thereof who shall violate this section

Section 17 The board shall have exclusive power to parole and reparole commit and recommit for violations of parole and to discharge from parole all persons heretofore or hereafter sentenced by any court in this Commonwealth to imprisonment in any prison or penal institution thereof whether the same be a state or county penitentiary prison or penal institution as hereinafter provided however That the powers and duties herein conferred shall not extend to persons sentenced for a period of less than one year and nothing herein contained shall prevent any court of this Commonwealth from paroling any person sentenced by it for a period of less than one year And provided further That the period of one year herein referred to shall mean the entire continuous term of sentence to which a person is subject whether the same be by one or more sentences either to simple imprisonment or to an indeterminate imprisonment at hard labor as now or hereafter authorized by law to be imposed for criminal offenses

Section 18 It shall be the duty of the court sentencing any person for a term as to which power to parole is herein given to the board to transmit to the said board within thirty days after the imposition of such sentence a full and complete copy of the record upon which sentence is imposed including any notes of testimoy which may have been filed of record in the case together with copies of any criminal identification records secured from the Federal Bureau of Investigation copies of presentence investigation reports and of behavior clinic reports if any were submitted to the court the last two of which records being confidential records of the court are to be treated confidentially by the members of the board who shall not permit examination of the same by any one other than its duly appointed agents or representatives except upon court order A judge in his discretion may make at any time any recommendation he may desire to the board respecting the person sentenced and the term of imprisonment said judge believes such person should be required to serve before a parole is granted to him but a recommendation made by a judge as aforesaid respecting the parole or terms of parole of such person shall be advisory only and no order in respect thereto made or attempted to be made as a part of a sentence shall be binding upon the board in performing the duties and functions herein conferred upon it

Section 19 It shall be the duty of the Board of Parole upon the commitment to prison of any person whom said board is herein given the power to parole to investigate and inform itself respecting the circumstances of the offense for which said person shall have been sentenced and in addition thereto it shall procure information as full and complete as may be obtainable with regard to the character mental characteristics habits antecedents connections and environment of such person The board shall further procure the stenographic record if any of the trial conviction and sentence together with such additional information regarding the crime for which sentence was imposed as may be available The board shall further cause the conduct of the person while in prison and his physical mental and behavior condition and history and his complete criminal record as far as the same may be known to be investigated and reported All public officials having possession of such records or information are hereby required and directed to furnish the same to the board upon its request and without charge therefor Said investigation shall be made by the board so far as may be practicable while the case is recent and in granting paroles the board shall consider the nature and character of the offense committed and any recommendation made by the trial judge as well as the general character and history of the prisoner

Section 20 It shall be the duty of all prison officials at all reasonable times to grant access to any prisoner whom the board has power to parole to the members of said board or its properly accredited representatives and all prison officials shall at all reasonable times provide for the board or its properly accredited representatives facilities for communicating with and observing such prisoner while imprisoned and shall furnish to the board from time to time such reports concerning the conduct of prisoners in their custody as the board shall by general rule or special order require together with any other facts deemed pertinent in aiding the board to determine whether such prisoners shall be paroled

Section 21 The board is hereby authorized to release on parole any convict confined in any penal institution of this Commonwealth as to whom power to parole is herein granted to said board except convicts condemned to death or serving life imprisonment whenever in its opinion the best interests of the convict justify or require his being paroled and it does not appear that the interests of the Commonwealth will be injured thereby If at the time a person is paroled he has been imprisoned for a period in excess of the minimum term of imprisonment to which he shall have been sentenced the period of parole may be extended by the board beyond the maximum term imposed but in no case in excess of the maximum sentence provided by law for the offense for which he shall have been sentenced The power to parole herein granted to the Board of Parole may be exercised in its discretion at any time after sentence is imposed regardless of any minimum term of imprisonment fixed by the court in its sentence Said board shall have the power during the period for which a person shall have been sentenced to recommit one paroled for violation of the terms and conditions of his parole and from time to time to reparole and recommit in the same manner and with the same procedure as in the case of an original parole or recommitment if in the judgment of the said board there is a reasonable probability that the convict will be benefited by again according him liberty and it does not appear that the interests of the Commonwealth will be injured thereby

It is further provided that the parole board in its discretion in any case where after complete study the board is of the opinion that the minimum term imposed was in excess of that needed to protect the public interest that insistence upon the prisoner's serving the minimum term imposed would be against the best interests of the prisoner and would mitigate against the possibilities of his successful rehabilitation may petition the sentencing judge or court for a modification of the said minimum term imposed and the court shall have authority upon presentation of the petition and after public hearing notwithstanding the term having passed to make such modification as the court shall deem proper in the protection of the public interest and in consideration of the prisoner's probable rehabilitation which decision of the court upon the board's petition shall be final The court in the exercise of sound discretion may upon presentation of such a petition by the board order a public hearing thereon not later than ten days after the filing of the said petition

Section 22 The board shall have the power to grant paroles of its own motion whenever in its judgment the interests of justice require the granting of the same In addition thereto the board shall have the power and it shall be its duty to consider applications for parole by a prisoner or by his attorney relatives or friends or by any person properly interested in the matter Hearings of applications shall be held by the board whenever in its judgment hearings are necessary Reasonable rules and regulations shall be adopted by the board for the presentation and hearing of applications for parole Provided however That whenever any prisoner is paroled by the board whether of its own motion or after hearing of an application therefor a brief statement of the reasons for the board's action shall be filed of record in the offices of the board and shall be at all reasonable times open to public inspection Applications shall be disposed of by the board within six months of the filing thereof

In granting and revoking paroles and in discharging from parole the members of the board acting thereon shall not be required to personally hear or see all the witnesses and evidence submitted to them for their action but they may act on report submitted to them by their agents and employes together with any pertinent and adequate information furnished to them by fellow members of the board or by others

At least ten days before paroling a prisoner on its own motion the board shall give written notice of such contemplated parole to the district attorney of the county wherein the prisoner shall have been sentenced and in cases of hearings on applications for parole as herein provided for at least ten days written notice of the time and place fixed for such hearing shall be given either by the board or by the applicant as the board shall direct to the court and district attorney of the county wherein the applicant shall have been sentenced

Section 23 The board shall have the power and it shall be its duty to make general rules for the conduct and supervision of persons heretofore or hereafter placed upon parole In addition to the power to make general rules and reguations hereby granted the board may in particular cases as it deems necessary to effectuate the purpose of parole prescribe special regulations for particular parolees

Section 24 The board shall have power to discharge from parole at any time prior to the expiration of his parole period any parolee if the interests of the Commonwealth will not be injured thereby and if the board is of the opinion that the parolee will be benefited by such discharge

Section 25 Whenever any person shall be found guilty of any criminal offense by verdict of a jury plea or otherwise except murder in the first degree in any court of this Commonwealth the court shall have the power in its discretion if it believes the character of the person and the circumstances of the case to be such that he is not likely again to engage in a course of criminal conduct and that the public good does not demand or require the imposition of a sentence to imprisonment instead of imposing such sentence to place the person on probation for such definite period as the court shall direct not exceeding the maximum period of imprisonment allowed by law for the offense for which such sentence might be imposed

Section 26 Paroles from imprisonment for less than one year shall be granted by the sentencing court and shall together with all probations except probation as to which supervision is specially ordered by the court as provided for in section seventeen of this act be without supervision by the board

Section 27 Parole officers appointed by the board are hereby declared to be peace officers and are hereby given police power and authority throughout the Commonwealth to arrest without warrant writ rule or process any parolee or probationer under the supervision of the board for failing to report as required by the terms of his probation or parole or for any other violation thereof

Section 28 The board shall appoint and employ a sufficient number of women as parole officers and supervisors to act as such for the women over whom it shall have power and jurisdiction and no person of one sex shall be paroled in charge of a parole officer of the opposite sex

Section 29 In fixing compensation for its officers clerks and employes under the provisions of this act the board shall have regard to the kind grade or class of service to be rendered and whenever any standard compensation has been fixed by the executive board of the Commonwealth for any kind grade or class of service or employment the compensation of all persons appointed or employed by the board in the same kind grade or class shall be fixed by it in accordance with such standard

Section 30 Wherever in this act the masculine is used it shall include the feminine

Section 31 Anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding this act shall not apply to persons sentenced to imprisonment in the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon the Pennsylvania Training School houses of refuge for boys or girls institutions for the discipline or correction of juveniles as defined by existing laws or persons imprisoned in any county jail workhouse or other penal or correctional institution under sentence by an alderman justice of the peace or magistrate or committed in default of payment of any fine or of bail Provided however That the board herein created shall supervise the parole of all persons sentenced to imprisonment in the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon when paroled or reparoled as now provided by law

Section 32 The provisions of this act are hereby extended to all persons who at the effective date hereof may be on parole or liable to be placed on parole under existing laws with the same force and effect as if this act had been in operation at the time such persons were placed on parole or became liable to be placed thereon as the case may be

Section 33 The act of the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1182) entitled "An act providing the procedure and the powers of the State Board of Pardons and boards of trustees of penitentiaries where prisoners released on parole violate the terms of such parole and fixing the penalty for such violation" and the act of the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1184) entitled "An act conferring and imposing certain powers and duties upon the State Board of Pardons with respect to inmates of State penal and correctional institutions released on parole" and the act of the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 1059) entitled "An act extending the powers of judges of courts of quarter sessions and of oyer and terminer in relation to releasing prisoners in jails and workhouses on parole" and all amendments and supplements to said acts in so far as the same relate to persons over whom exclusive jurisdiction to parole is hereby vested upon the Board of Parole herein established are hereby repealed All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed manner heretofore provided in this act to appoint the members of the board on or before the first day of October one thousand nine hundred and forty-one The board as so constituted shall immediately thereafter set up the system herein provided for and make the necessary appointments of its officers clerks and employes To this extent this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment but in all respects it shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-one

Section 35 The sum of four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the board for the fiscal biennium ending the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-three for the payment of the compensation and expenses of the members officers and employes of the board for postage telegraph and telephone charges for the use of automobiles for witness fees allowed by the board for supplies and printing and for all other expenses deemed necessary and proper by the board

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1167, as follows:

An Act to amend section three hundred seventeen of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1225), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" changing the provisions of said act as to the right of residents to hunt and trap without a license

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section three hundred seventeen of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1225), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 317 Legal Hearing or Trapping by Residents Without License [Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent any citizen of the United States residing within this Commonwealth from having a gun in his home or from using such gun in defense of either person or property or from shooting at targets or to prevent any bona fide owner or any bona fide lessee of lands within this Commonwealth or any member of the family or household or regularly hired help of such owner or lessee if such person is a citizen of the United States actually residing upon and cultivating such lands from hunting or trapping thereon or by and with the consent of the owner thereof from hunting or trapping upon the lands immediately adjacent and connected with his own lands without securing the license provided for by this article unless the Commission has denied or this act does deny to such person the right to hunt or trap anywhere] Unless the right to procure a license or to hunt or trap anywhere within the Commonwealth has been denied under the provisions of this act any citizen of the United States residing within this Commonwealth who is regularly and continuously engaged in cultivating the soil for general farm crop purposes commercial truck growing commercial orchards or commercial nurseries as either the owner or lessee or tenant of said lands or as a member of the family or household or regularly hired help of such owner or lessee or tenant shall be eligible to hunt and trap on said lands including the woodlands connected therewith and operated as a part thereof without a resident hunter's license if such owner lessee tenant member of the family or household or hired help resides in a dwelling situated upon the property so being cultivated and shall have continuously resided thereon and assisted in the cultivation of said land for a period of sixty or more days prior to the general open hunting or trapping season

Any of the persons enumerated above who shall be eligible to hunt or trap on certain lands without securing a resident hunter's license also may by and with the written consent of the owner or lessee thereof hunt or trap upon any lands other than those publicly-owned which lie immediately adjacent and are connected with the lands upon which such persons may lawfully hunt or trap without securing a license

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered nad agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1230, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one and to amend section three of the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 730), entitled "An act for the protection of the public health in the manufacture and sale of carbonated beverages and still drinks providing for the registration thereof prohibiting the sale offering or exposing for sale exchange or giving away thereof in certain cases unless registered regulating the manufacture bottling preparating mixing and compounding of carbonated beverages or still drinks and the sale and dispensing thereof creating a special fund in the State Treasury and providing penalties" by excluding certain juices and combinations of juices from the operation of the act and requiring separate registration for each bottling or manufacturing plant

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 730) entitled "An act for the protection of the public health in the manufacture and sale of carbonated beverages and still drinks providing for the registration thereof prohibiting the sale offering or exposing for sale exchange or giving away thereof in certain cases unless registered regulating the manufacture bottling preparation mixing and compounding of carbonated beverages or still drinks and the sale and dispensing thereof creating a special fund in the State Treasury and providing penalties" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2140) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the term "carbonated beverages" or "still drinks" as used in this act shall include all carbonated beverages or still drinks fruit juices and mineral waters when ready for use as a beverage whether still or carbonated and whether simple mixed or compounded The term shall not include undiluted fruit juice unsweetened or sweetened undiluted vegetable juice unseasoned or seasoned with salt or spices or any combination of two or more of the foregoing provided such juice or juices are pasteurized or sterilized at the time of preparation and are packed in air-tight sealed non-returnable containers provided further the term shall not include natural apple cider unfermented grape juice cereal beverages or carbonated beverages or still drinks made in imitation of beer bitter drinks or other similar beverages

The term "fruit juices" shall mean the natural juices of fruits sweetened or unsweetened which are marketed in bottles cans or other containers

The word "person" shall include individuals associations copartnerships and corporations

The singular shall include the plural the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter

Section 2 Section three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 Any person whether a resident or nonresident of this Commonwealth manufacturing or bottling any carbonated beverages or still drinks shall register such beverages with the Department of Agriculture by filing an application for such purpose on a form to be prescribed by the Department of Agriculture Such application shall state (a) the name and address of the applicant (b) the location of his manufacturing or bottling plant (c) the name of each beverage to be registered and (d) such other information as may be required by the Department of Agriculture The application shall be accompanied by a fee of fifty dollars The Department of Agriculture shall issue to each applicant a certificate of registration for all carbonated beverages or still drinks manufactured or bottled by him Where the applicant manufactures or bottles in more than one plant separate application shall be made for each plant Such registration shall expire one year from the issuance thereof unless renewed annually by the payment of a fee of fifty dollars

The Department of Agriculture may revoke any registration whenever it is determined by it that any of the provisions of this act or of any other act relating to carbonated beverages or still drinks have been violated

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate either of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny kindly explain to the House the provisions of this bill?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will be kind enough, I will yield to the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Van Allsburg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Van Allsburg permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

In response to the request of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy I wish to say that the purpose of this bill is to exclude from some of the provisions of the carbonated beverage law which has been on the statute books for some years fruit juices, sweetened or unsweetened, natural fruit juices undiluted or unadulterated which are pasteurized or sterilized at the time of preparation and are packed in air tight, sealed containers, which is different from the products put up by the carbonated beverage manufacturing plants.

I might say I am glad the question was asked because I would like you all to note this point: the products of the carbonated beverage manufacturing plants are put up for the most part, if not entirely, in bottles that are returnable, which involves a lot of work if inspection by the Department of Agriculture to control the method of sanitation. However, if the fruit juices or vegetable juice, as the case may be, are put up in sealed, air tight containers it does not involve any more inspection than is necessary in the processing plants where they are manufactured.

I might say in this connection that the advantage on the part of the producers of the undiluted fruit juices which it is planned to exempt by this bill, is that the carbonated people are required, of course, because of a lot of inspection, to pay an annual permit fee of fifty dollars. That is saved, of course, to the processers of these other fruit juices.

I might say further that this bill was sponsored by the gentleman from Allegheny, Dr. Sarraf and myself, at the request not only of the canners of Pennsylvania but also at the request of the Wholesale Grocer's Association. I think the bill is very simple and I hope that there will be no objections to it I cannot see that there are any objections.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Erie.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Provided however that no part or portion of any street hereinbefore described shall be taken over as a State highway under the provisions of this act until after such part or portion shall have been legally opened by the city authorities in the same manner as other streets are now opened which form a part of the same route as herein described "or an agreement shall have been entered into between the Commonwealth and city for such opening."

Section 3 The city streets of sections thereof hereinbefore described shall be taken over by the Commonwealth through the Department of Highways not later than the first day of January [one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight] "one thousand nine hundred forty-two" subject however to the following exceptions

(a) No city street or part thereof described in section two of this act shall be taken over by the Commonwealth if an order or decree for the improvement thereof has been issued until there has been full compliance with the terms of such order or decree

(b) No city street or part thereof described in section two of this act shall be taken over by the Commonwealth if a contract for the improvement thereof has been entered into between a contractor and the Commonwealth or the city authorities or both until the contract has been completed

(c) No city street or part thereof described in section two of this act shall be taken over if an agreement has been entered into between the city authorities and "any party other than" the Commonwealth [or any other party] for the maintenance or construction of such street even though no formal contract has been executed pursuant to such agreement and no work has been done until the terms of the agreement have been fulfilled

Section 4 This act is not intended and shall not be construed

(a) To place upon the Commonwealth any duty to regulate traffic or police the streets herein taken over by the Commonwealth but such duty shall be and remain the obligation of the cities

[(b) To place upon the Commonwealth any obligation for the maintenance construction reconstruction or resurfacing of said streets other than the base or surface courses

(c) To place upon the Commonwealth through the Department of Highways any obligation to maintain construct] lor reconstruct any structure of any kind or character whatsoever situate upon or forming part of any city street or section thereof described in section two of this act except that the Secretary of Highways may assume the obligation to maintain construct or reconstruct drainage structures with a total spanned length not exceeding ten feet measured along the center line of the street other than storm or sanitary sewers and which were the sole obligation of the city prior to the passage of this act Responsibility for the construction reconstruction and maintenance of any other structures shall remain with the city person association or corporation responsible therefor at the date of the approval of this act

(d) To authorize any assessment to be made against the Commonwealth by reason of or to assist in the elimination of any grade crossing or the alteration or reconstruction of an existing overhead or under grade crossing on any street described and designated in section two of this act and no such assessment shall hereafter be made under any act of Assembly heretofore enacted

(e) To place upon the Commonwealth any obligation under any franchise or franchises heretofore or hereafter granted by the city to any public utility company nor to transfer to the Commonwealth from the city any rights under any such franchise or franchises heretofore granted]

[(f)] "(b)" To place upon the Department of Highways any authority to regulate traffic parking or the general use by the traveling public of the streets or sections thereof taken over by the Commonwealth for maintenance or improvement under the provisions of this act Provided however That the Department of Highways shall be and is hereby authorized to close to traffic all of the streets or sections thereof described in section two of this act during such time as improvements are being made thereon and in such case the city shall establish and maintain a suitable detour in accordance with the provisions of section ten of this act

Section 5 After the streets described in section two of this act shall have been taken over by the Commonwealth they shall be maintained constructed reconstructed [and] resurfaced "and repaired" by the Department of Highways at the expense of the Commonwealth and such construction reconstruction and resurfacing shall be of such type as shall be determined by the Secretary of Highways with the approval of the Governor and repairs and maintenance shall be of such type as shall be determined by the Secretary of Highways [The obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction reconstruction resurfacing or maintenance as hereinbefore provided shall be limited to that part of the street or section thereof between curb lines as established at the time of passage of this act but shall not include the portions of such streets which are or may be used and occupied by the structures or surface facilities of any public utility company] Provided "however That nothing in this section shall be construed to place upon the Commonwealth any obligation to repair and maintain the curbing and footways of any such street And provided further" That it shall nevertheless be lawful for the Department of Highways to enter into agreements in the discretion of the Secretary of Highways with the cities or with persons associations or corporations for the sharing with the Commonwealth of the cost of construction reconstruction or resurfacing of the streets or sections thereof taken over by the Commonwealth under this act "The Secretary of Highways is authorized prior to and for the purpose of the construction reconstruction or improvement of any such street or section thereof to enter into agreements with any city of the first class for the revision or change of the lines widths and grades thereof as hereinafter provided"

Section 6 The maintenance of said streets authorized under the provisions of this act shall not include snow removal or street cleaning [and shall be limited to the portions of the street between existing curb lines available to vehicular traffic]

Section 7 [The Department of Highways shall not change the width lines or grades of the streets taken over under the provisions of this act or any section thereof but such changes as may be approved or recommended by the Secretary of Highways shall be made by the city as heretofore by an ordinance duly passed in accordance with laws applicable thereto and in the event of any change of width lines or grades in accordance with the provisions of this section the city shall be responsible for the payment of any damages which may be occasioned] [thereby in the manner provided by law such damages to be ascertained and paid in accordance with the laws applicable thereto] "Whenever the Secretary of Highways shall deem it necessary or desirable that the lines widths or grades of any such street or section thereof be revised or changed prior to and for the purpose of facilitating the construction reconstruction or improvement of any such street the Secretary of Highways may with the approval of the Governor enter into agreements with any such city within the limits of which such streets or section thereof to be constructed reconstructed or improved are located for the revision and change of lines widths and grades of such street or section thereof and such revision and changes shall be made by such city on the city plan in accordance with the law and procedure applicable thereto"

Section 2 That after Section 15 of the said act the following new sections are hereby added

"Section 16 The type of improvement shall include opening widening and change of grade on any street or section thereof clearing grading demolition removal of existing paving repaving surfacing the construction of traffic islands circle or other traffic channelizations the construction of storm water conduits drains and gutters culverts bridges viaducts and retaining walls curbing and recurbing the paving and repaving of sidewalks the planting of trees and shrubs seeding and sodding street and traffic signs traffic signals and conduits and lighting fixtures for same and such other work excepting water pipe and sanitary sewers as may be necessary fully and satisfactorily to complete such improvement

Section 17 The Secretary of Highways with the approval of the Governor and any such city of the first class are hereby authorized to enter into agreements for the taking opening relocation widening or change of grade by the Commonwealth of any State highway or section thereof within the limits of such city Such agreements may provide inter alia for the payment by the city of all or part of the property damages resulting by reason of the taking opening relocation widening or change of grade by the Commonwealth of such highway or section thereof

The amount of damages payable for such taking opening relocation widening or change of grade by the Commonwealth shall be ascertained in accordance with existing laws relating to the payment of damages for the taking opening relocation widening or change of grade of State highway routes Each city of the first class is hereby appointed and constituted the agent of the Commonwealth in the taking opening relocation widening or change of grade of any such highway or section thereof within its limits and in the determination of property damages payable therefor under the provisions of this act The city as agent for and on behalf of the Commonwealth shall determine by amicable settlement legal proceedings or otherwise all claims for damages in accordance with the procedure established by law for the determination of damages resulting from the exercise of eminent domain by cities of the first class provided however that no agreement for the settlement of any claim for damages shall become effective until approved by the Secretary of Highways and the Secretary of Highways shall at the expense of the Commonwealth have the right to be represented by counsel and witnesses in any judicial proceedings to ascertain the damages payable but all other expenses of such judicial proceedings exclusive of damages shall be paid by the city The damages resulting from such taking opening relocation widening or change of grade of any such street or section thereof when finally ascertained whether by settlement award judgment or otherwise shall be paid out of moneys in the Motor License Fund and all sums if any due by such city as its share thereof under any such an agreement with the Commonwealth shall be paid by such city to the Commonwealth and shall be credited in the Motor License Fund"

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 861, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" by further regulating the affairs of boroughs and revising amending and changing the law relating thereto

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section nine hundred two of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 902 When Court to Fill Vacancies If the council of any borough shall refuse fail or neglect or be unable for any reason whatsoever to fill any vacancy within thirty days after the vacancy happens as provided by the preceding section then the court of quarter sessions shall upon petition of the burgess or council or five citizens fill the vacancy in such office by the appointment of a qualified resident of the borough for the unexpired term of the office "Provided That if no petition be filed within ten days after the expiration of the said thirty days then council shall again have power to fill the vacancy"

Section 2 Section nine hundred five of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 689) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 905 Right of Council to Declare Seat of Councilman Vacant for Failure to Attend Meetings If any person having qualified as a member of council shall neglect or refuse to attend two successive regular meetings unless detained by sickness or "temporarily" prevented by [necessary absence from the borough] "fortuitous circumstances of a serious nature and beyond his control" or if in attendance at any meetings shall neglect or refuse to act in his official capacity as a member of council the borough council acting without such person may declare his office as a member of council vacant and may fill such vacancy as provided in section nine hundred one of this act For such actions a majority of the remaining members of the council shall constitute a quorum

Section 3 Sections one thousand one and one thousand three of said act are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1001 Organization of Council No Compensation Eligibility The borough council shall organize at eight o'clock post meridian on the first Monday [after the first day] of January of each even numbered year by electing a president treasurer and secretary which shall constitute the organization of council The council may at the organization meeting elect such other officers as may be provided for by law or ordinance "and may transact any other business properly coming before a general meeting" The president shall preside over the meetings of council and when absent his place shall be filled by a president pro tempore The councilmen shall not receive any compensation for their services as councilmen A school director shall not be eligible to the office of member of council

Section 1003 When the Burgess May Preside Over Council and Vote The burgess shall preside over the organization "meeting" of the council until [it is organized as provided in section one thousand one but he shall not vote thereat unless his vote shall for any reason whatsoever be required to effect the organization of council or to elect any officer elected at the organization meeting] "the president secretary and treasurer have been elected The burgess shall continue to preside unless and until a majority of the councilmen present adjourn the organization meeting after which the president shall preside" In case of the unavoidable absence of the burgess at the organization meeting one of the members of council chosen by the members present at the meeting shall preside

[In all cases where by reason of a tie vote the council of any borough shall be unable to enact or pass any ordinance or fill a vacancy in its membership or in any other borough office and such disagreement shall continue until the next regular meeting of council it shall be the duty of the burgess of such borough to attend said meeting and cast the deciding vote]

"Whenever at any meeting and for any purpose or on any question there be a tie vote or if the vote of the burgess will facilitate the transaction of business he shall cast the deciding vote if present and if he be not present he may cast the deciding vote at the next meeting and if no meeting be held within thirty-five days he may cast his vote by notifying the secretary to that effect Provided That his vote on the matter requiring the formalities of an ordinance shall not affect his right to either approve or veto the ordinance as heretofore And provided further That he shall not vote on any matter affecting himself or his office or affecting persons suspended or dismissed by him or on any question relating to the passage of an ordinance over his own veto

Section 4 The first paragraph and clauses eleven seventeen and eighteen of section one thousand six of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 761) and by the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1608) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1006 Duties "and Powers" of Council [It shall be the duty of the] "The borough" council a majority of whom shall be a quorum "shall have power and unless discretion is vested it shall be its duty"

XI [To] "In its discretion to mitigate or remit fines and forfeitures in reasonable cases"

* * * *

XVII [To] "In its discretion to" employ certified public accountants by a two-thirds vote of the entire number of councilmen elected

XVIII To adopt an annual budget [On or before the fifteenth day] During the month of January a proposed budget or annual estimate of revenues and expenditures shall be prepared in a manner designated by the council The budget shall be prepared on a uniform form prepared and furnished as hereafter provided

Upon the preparation of the proposed budget the council shall give public notice "in such manner as the council shall deem appropriate" of the fact that the proposed budget will be available for public inspection at the office of the borough secretary or such other place as may be designated in [a] "the public notice After the expiration of fifteen (15) days following the giving of such public notice council shall after making such revisions therein as appear advisable adopt the budget the tax ordinance and [the necessary appropriation measures required to put the budget into effect] "an annual appropriation resolution appropriating the amount needed for the conduct of each activity of the borough and for other purposes for the fiscal year in conformity with the budget" The total amount appropriated shall not exceed the receipts of the borough estimated as available for the fiscal year

In all boroughs the council shall [within fifteen (15) days] "on or before the first day of April and" after the adoption of the budget file a copy of the same with the Department of Internal Affairs "together with a copy of the tax ordinance and annual appropriation resolution"

The council shall have power to authorize by resolution the transfer of any unencumbered balance of an appropriation or any portion thereof from one purpose to another within the same fund but transfers to cover lawful deficits and surpluses may be made between the general borough fund and special funds Such action shall not be taken during the first three months of the fiscal year

The council may during any fiscal year [adopt] by resolution "make supplementary appropriations [but any reso-] [lution authorizing such supplementary appropriations shall provide for unencumbered receipts sufficient to cover such appropriations] "for any lawful purpose from any funds on hand or estimated to be received and not appropriated to any other purpose including the proceeds of any borrowing now or hereafter authorized by law"

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No 1193,

An Act to further amend section fifty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" further regulating the taking of eels

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section fifty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 801) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 50 Devices to Catch Game-fish Bait-fish and Fish-bait No person shall use any device means or method whatsoever except as in this article otherwise provided for taking fish from waters within this Commonwealth except the following that is to say for

(a) Game-fish two rods and two lines and one hand line with not more than three hooks attached to either line

(b) Bait-fish and fish-bait two rods and two lines with not more than three hooks attached to each line a dip-net or minnow seine not over four feet square or four feet in diameter a minnow trap with not more than one opening which shall not exceed one inch in diameter. The rods hooks and lines must be under the immediate control of the person using the same.

(c) Pickerel not more than five tip-ups when fishing only through holes in the ice.

(d) It shall be unlawful to take or attempt to take fish of any kind by the methods known as snatch-fishing foul hooking or snag-fishing or the taking or fishing for fish with hook or hooks baited or otherwise attached to rod or line or other device for the taking of or fishing for fish with any device whatsoever which may be used to capture any fish by engaging such device in to or with any part of the body of a fish.

(e) Eels in rivers of this Commonwealth in addition to such rods and lines eel chutes "and outlines" from the first day of August to the last day of November in each year Sundays excepted but only from four o'clock in the afternoon to eight o'clock in the morning on such days when a special license therefor in addition to the regular fishing license has been first secured. Eel chutes to be lawful shall not have any wings of netting of any kind or any cloth or wire netting but shall be constructed of wooden slats or lath which shall not be closer than one-half inch in the bottom. Eel chutes shall not be more than five feet long and the width of entrance of an eel chute shall not be more than ten feet. A metal tag issued at the time the special license is secured shall be securely fastened to "or near" the eel chute "or outline" in a conscicuous place. "Upon the making of an application by any person to the Department of Revenue for a special license to catch eels by the use and operation of outlines and the payment of a fee of one dollar ($1.00) for the use of the Commonwealth such person shall be entitled to a special eel outline license and a special metal tag which shall give him the right to use and operate an eel outline in the Susquehanna River below the boundary line of the city of Pittston and the Duryea borough line on the north branch below the bridge at the Northumberland-Lycoming County line on the west branch in the Juniata River below Mount Union and in the Delaware River below Easton in accordance with the provisions of this act"

No wing walls of stone or other material shall be constructed for more than three-fourths of the distance across any river. The heads of no two wing walls when constructed side by side shall be closer together than a distance of twenty feet. "Out lines may be placed the entire distance across any river"

All eel chutes must be kept free of rubbish and all game fish found therein must be immediately returned to the water of the river uninjured.

During the hours of each day and on Sunday when the operation and use of eel chutes is not legal under this section a portion of the bottoms of such chutes shall be removed to facilitate the unobstructed passage of fishes.

(f) It shall be unlawful to take or attempt to take fish of any kind by trolling from a moving boat electrically propelled or propelled by an internal combustion motor.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

MESSAGE AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that message together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1098 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. SARRAF offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 20, 1941.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 296, entitled "An act to amend section four hundred eight of article four of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 1449) entitled 'An act establishing a court of record in the county of Allegheny for control care guidance treatment trial placement and commitment of delinquent neglected and dependent children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging delinquency neglect or dependency of children defining the jurisdiction and powers of the court and regulating procedure therein providing for the transfer thereto of certain powers functions and duties from other courts providing for the election of judges thereof the appointment of probation officers other necessary staff officials and assistants providing for housing of same and providing for detention facilities making the contributing to or encouraging of the delinquency neglect or dependency of children a misdemeanor and providing penalties' to provide for the payment of the costs of maintenance of children under care of the Juvenile Court by the city or county institution district liability to be determined on the basis of the legal settlement of such child at the time of assumption of jurisdiction by the court", be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 94

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 94, Printer's No. 647.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 8, 1941.

Whereas, The Western Pennsylvania Hospital of Allegheny County is a Recipient of an appropriation from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Quotations of the officials of the Hospital in the local daily press indicate that services at the Hospital are being curtailed; and

Whereas, There is at present a dispute between the management and the employes of this Institution; and

Whereas, This controversy appears to be continuing without any signs of the parties envolved in this dispute in reaching a settlement in the near future; therefore

Be It Resolved, That in the interest of the citizens of this Commonwealth that the Speaker of the House appoint a Committee of five members of the House of Representatives to investigate this controversy at the Western Pennsylvania Hospital and report their findings to this Session of the House of Representatives.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE.

The SPEAKER. Pursant to House Resolution No. 94, just adopted by the House, the Chair appoints as a committee: Messrs. SARRAF, BAKER, MORAN, REYNOLDS and RHEA.

HOUSE RESOLUTION N. 89

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 89, Printer's No. 543.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 29, 1941.

Whereas, Newspapers have carried reports concerning the operation of certain state hospitals within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which, if true, show an extremely reprehensible situation existing in such state hospitals; and

Whereas, There have been charges made that certain trustees and supervisory officials have committed criminal acts; and

Whereas, Certain state hospitals have lost their official standing and rating with the American Medical Association; and

Whereas, The conduct of certain trustees of state hospitals has resulted in unfavorable criticism of the operation of said hospitals; and

Whereas, If these charges are true, the situation calls for immediate attention by the legislative branch of the government to remedy such a condition; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a committee of five members of the House, to act as a legislative committee to investigate the maintenance, operation and conduct of all state hospitals within this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person, and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee, because of the urgency of the situation, report to the House as speedily as possible, with appropriate recommendations.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, for some time I have heard the minority members of this House alleging and stating that someone has stolen their bills. Now then, Mr. Speaker, I rather find myself in the same position. Several months ago, we passed a similar resolution to this one except that it was a concurrent resolution and it was sent to the Senate. At the time it was sent to the Senate the Governor quite virtuously stated he was delighted and welcomed an investigation. The Members of the Senate also stated that they had no objection to an investigation as to the manner in which their party conducted the so called coal-hospitals in this state; they were just as pure as the driven snow. They reported that resolution out and later sent it back to committee and ever since then the resolution has been kicked around over in the Senate because, don't you know, pure people certainly would not have any objection to being investigated. That is why it was kicked around. Finally, Mr. Speaker, the Chairman of the committee that had this resolution over in the Senate, — you could scarcely believe it, — could not find the bill, it was lost. I suppose, Mr Speaker, "Somebody stole my bill".

May I say this, Mr. Speaker? I am convinced that even though the Governor maintains that he is virtuous and pure in so far as the operation of the hospitals is concerned, apparently the Republican party is not as pure as the Governor maintains he is. Apparently the Republican party does not desire an investigation of the manner in which they conduct, manage, control and operate these particular hospitals. Apparently they do not want the public of Pennsylvania to know what they have been doing in these particular hospitals. Apparently they can not maintain and claim the same virture that the Governor has maintained in so far as these hospitals are concerned. Apparently, they do not desire to join with this House for the purpose of seeing that the funds of this Commonwealth are used for the purpose for which we appropriate them. Apparently they are still interested in continuing the mismanagement and diversion of funds and the improper handling of the hospitals. Apparently they know it is a subject that is best left uninvestigated insofar as their party is concerned.

Mr. Speaker, I maintain and say to the Members of the House that this subject certainly deserves and requires the immediate attention of this House, and that the chicanery praticed by the Republicans in the Senate should not be left unchallenged. If the Senate is unwilling to perform the job with us then there is but one course left, and thtat is for this House to investigate, and I therefore ask the members of this House to support this resolution. May I add, that I am asking not only the Members on this side of the House but I am asking those Republican Members on the other side of the House, who at least have no fear of an investigation of their activities, to support this bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman made reference to the fear of investigation. Anybody that has any understanding of event the elementals of politics knows that the Democrats of the House could form their own committee to make an investigation if the Senate would not join in with them. The fact that the Republicans have no fear of even permitting a committee of the House to make an investigation, I think indicates they have nothing they are afraid of in connection with the investigation.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, just to determine the sincerity of the Members on the other side, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I trust after hearing the wild charges made by the very able majority leader, he won't get up next week and ask that the record be expunged from today's proceedings.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Achterman and Mr. Readinger.

NAYS—3

Hare,	Rank,	Voorhees,

So the question was determined in the affirmative, and the resolution was adopted.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I might have called up this resolution and then afterwards asked to have it go over in its order, but I do not believe that anybody except the sponsors should call it up.

I would like to address my remarks to Resolution No. 91, Printer's No. 623, which is the only remaining resolution on the calendar. I think it is typical of the type of resolutions which have been introduced in this session particularly in the unfortunate type of language in the "whereas" clauses. The resolution states that:

> "Whereas the Banking Board and Building and Loan Board were created by the Legislature in the Department of Banking for the purpose of having such board supervise the activities" and so forth.

The resolution also states:

> "Whereas vacancies have existed in both boards for a considerable length of time".

Now, as a matter of fact, there is no vacancy on the Banking Board whatsoever, nor has there been any vacancy for a considerable length of time because the last appointment was made October 2nd of last year, and since that time there has been no vacancy on the board.

On the Building and Loan Asosciation Board there is one vacancy which occurred in January of this year Under the law the Building and Loan Association must make a recommendation for that Board and then the Governor must pick from the recommendations made to him a member for that Board. As a matter of fact there are no recommendations now before the Governor.

So, in spite of the fact that on the one Board there are no vacancies and there have been no vacancies for a long period of time, and in spite of the fact that on the other Board with eight members there is only one vacancy, we have inroduced in the House by Democrats a resolution in which it is stated that vacancies have existed in both Boards for a considerable length of time.

The resolution was considered by the Committee and reported from that committee, containing the "whereas" clauses to which I have referred. The fact of the matter is, Mr. Speaker, there is no such situation as suggested in the resolution at all, and there is no purpose for the introducing the resolution.

The resolution goes on to say: "Whereas it is in the best interest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and all of its financial institutions that these vacancies be filled as quickly as possible"—vacancies that do not exist. In spite of that situation, Mr. Speaker, the resolution was introduced, referred to committee, reported out and it is on the calendar of the House, and day after day it is printed on our calendar to be before this House. It seems to me that the majority ought to investigate their facts before they introduce these resolutions, furthermore the House calendar should not be cluttered with resolutions of this type and be printed and reprinted on the calendar.

Therefore I think, Mr. Speaker, it is incumbent on the majority of this House to remove this resolution from the calendar so that it will not continue to be there day after day.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 232.

An Act to validate and quiet the title to lands and buildings heretofore sold by boards of school directors at public auction without full compliance with provisions of law authorizing such sales.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER in the presence of the House signed the same.

SENATE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILLS CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bills from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1228.

An Act to amend sections three and four of the act, approved the fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 266) entitled "An act to protect trade-mark owners, distributors, and the public against injuries and uneconomic practices in the distribution of articles of standard quality under a distinguished trademark, brand or name," exempting the sale of books to libraries from the provisions of said act.

HOUSE BILL No. 1373.

An Act to amend part of section two of the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (Appropriation Acts of 1939, page 60), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine; and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine," by making the appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs for the use of the Pennsylvania National Guard also available for the use of the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MODELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in answer to the remarks made by the minority floor-leader, Mr. Woodside, I just checked, with the secretary of the Banking Committee, and it might be interesting to note that on the day Resolution No. 91 was reported out, there was a majority of Republicans present at that meeting.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE HOUSE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I think what took place in committee should not be made public. I was present at that committee meeting and I certainly do take issue with the gentleman from Philadelphia.
